Reports of District Superintendents

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

J. M. Canse, Superintendent

The intricacies of the year are portentous, although difficult of analysis. There is a spiritual tide setting in since the ebbing ocean of the war, yet there is an involved financial puzzle by no means solved. This, Bishop Shepard and brethren, has been a confused year, requiring vigilance that would never be taken off guard.

Twelve months seems too long a period for the appointments to hold throughout a district. Soon after last Conference W. L. Airheart accepted a professorship at Wesley College, N. D., and upon his going from Sequim, E. J. Bates was taken from Ferndale for that hopeful field. J. W. Moles has filled in well at Ferndale and a young man, A. Herman Carlson, was assigned to North Bellingham. Arlington has been ministered to by J. F. Smith, and Eureka, Bellingham, by R. G. Pike. A. Robertson has wrought well at Langley and, for the last few months, J. W. Kern at Sultan and Goldbar.

The new appointments read last year by Bishop Shepard have proved exceptionally blessed of God. J. C. Harrison has brought forward the ark of the Lord at Garden Street, Bellingham, and is already a factor in that fair city. C. E. Todd and E. D. White, always successful, have graced their Skagit Churches at Mt. Vernon and Sedro-Woolley and have started pastorates of rare import.

By the dissolution of the Olympic District, this superintendent fell heir to a few hopeful charges and much wonderful scenery. After two quarterly visitations it seemed expedient to invite the head of the Area to make a personal tour of these places. Our indefatigable Bishop set the date for the latter part of May and suggested a cabinet party. So it came about that all of us except Dr. Hill, who was kept at home by personal sickness, together with our wives spent ten days among our people of the upper Olympic Peninsula. Dr. A. L. Howarth accompanied us throughout and R. C. Hartley and J. M. Weaver were with us part of the time and proved very helpful with the knowledge of their respective activities.

Following this the bishop spent two days on Whidby Island, at historic Coupeville, and at Oak Harbor, where he dedicated the fine new church on June 5. During the year he has also visited us at Bellingham, Burlington, Mt. Vernon, Everett, Anacortes, and Edmonds and everywhere spoke with great acceptability.

Our spiritual achievements have been far greater than can be answered in the tabular inquiry of the Department of Evangelism. Revivals have quickened most of the churches but we are unable to bring to you the full answer of our heart's desire with which we closed the last session of the Annual Conference. Our Conference Evangelist, W. E. Cox, has labored in fully a dozen places and always with good results, just closing the year with a lifting time at Edmonds. Evangelist Mingledorff has been well used of the Spirit, as at Mt. Vernon and the Ferndale Camp Meeting. The last day of this Camp was the greatest day of the Lord's presence I have witnessed in the Northwest. After Classmeeting there was such a conviction for sin and salvation and sanctification that there was no time for a sermon, as scores of souls came under the power of the Spirit, and kept coming for two hours. In the afternoon the long altar was filled on both sides by young people dedicating themselves to life service as God and his church might call them. Fully 125 earnest souls got through to God during that one day.

Centenary book-keepers will put us in the red in places, partly for the loss of members, as at Blaine which has suffered from the wiles of Seattle. The shutting down of industries has hurt such places as Anacortes and the lack of agricultural markets has impoverished Ferndale and several naturally rich communities. But we have been hurt most by the seeming inability of many good people to grasp the Christian's sacred trust of property.

However, the Home Missions half of our district giving greatly exceeds the returns from the Board. While we may take courage and congratulate ourselves that we are not as needy as some other people in the estimate of the Philadelphia offices, yet we are today desperately in need of the Centenary rescue aid. Our Churches at Anacortes and Grace, Everett, are jeopardized by repeated delays. We must appeal to this session of conference for a substantial gift to help start that worthy project at Edmonds, the Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes Memorial.

Garden Street, Bellingham, has paid another $4,000.00 on her debt to the Board and $2,000.00 for improvements thought necessary in the unfinished basement. Avon has moved its church out onto the highway and greatly improved it by a wise expenditure of about $1,500.00 of local cash. Grace Church, Everett, has gathered up about $1,000.00 for its needed new church, and First Church has just been frescoed to close the successful pastorate of Dr. E. M. Randall. Sumas has been greatly beautified in its Methodist Auditorium by the federated services, and Snohomish, having broken from its federation, has put a like sum into the old church to clear up a long standing debt; each amounted to fully $500.00. A like amount has been expended on and in the Burlington parsonage that seems to require the services of the Shultzes for another year, and the church at Mt. Vernon has received as much to beautify the exterior of that sanctuary for the continued ministrations of the Todds.

Lesser sums have been expended in repairs at Custer, North Bellingham, Fairhaven, Lyman, Marysville, LaConner. Street improvements have gone in at Lynden and at Stanwood. Good slices have been whittled from the parsonage debts at Edmonds, Eureka, Ferndale and Hamilton. At Oso an ample corner lot has been donated by F. L. Bloxham and a shed improved into a chapel, known as Asbury. This was made possible through the efforts of R. L. Wolfe, who also forsees a church at Fortson. We shall need a strong man for this field recently vacated by the transfer of Brother Wolfe to the California Conference to do Sunday School work around Hollister. At Monroe the swelling Sunday School made it necessary to expand again, and the camp fire girls have been appropriately quartered in a new tent. Here a new church must soon be built and the people greatly desire the return of F. M. Bushong and his efficient wife.

Our people are looking more carefully toward the home comforts of their ministers' families, and it seems good here to express heart-felt appreciation. We are also often astonished at the multiplying of the loaves and fishes, the clothes and every necessity out of the meagre income in many a parsonage. Though time and chance may happen to us as to all, they are better met than by the world. Two parsonage weddings beautify this year: W. O. Benadom, at holiday time, brought home a bride from Kansas City, Mrs. Lela King Dye; and on September 6, Lennice, daughter of Brother and Sister T. H. Jorgenson became the bride of Paul Sorenson of Everett. The Galbraith, Story, and Cottrell homes have been blessed again by the safe arrival of an heir in each.

Hastening home from our last Annual Conference, I found my mother still waiting outside the crystal gates to see her preacher son again before she should fall asleep. Her crossing came that night. On May Day we laid to rest the tired body of our sister, Florence Reed Quall; memorial tribute appears elsewhere. The faithful father of our brother, J. F. Long, was called home, and the aged mother of C. B. Sears, and last Saturday a telegram tells of the release of the wife of our retired brother, E. S. Chappell, who went through much suffering to be at rest with her Savior. Let us here and now pray for this greatly bereaved brother as he tarries at the home of his daughter in Hot Springs, S. D.

The Endowment Campaign for our College of Puget Sound is too well known to here receive extended mention. We greatly rejoice for the future of Methodism and thank God for President Todd and his untiring co-workers. We are indebted to certain generous friends whose hearts responded toward the Christian education of the youth of the coming ages. We had assurance borne to us in the first large gift, which came from Father D. F. Saxon and wife of Snohomish. I am disposed to credit this remarkable educational victory, at least in part, with a new incentive among our young people for definite preparation for life work. Four or more choice young men are now offering themselves for work this year, they are worthy of appointments though in every case their educational equipment has been retarded and they desire to preach as they plow through their courses and seed down their souls with evangelical education.

This superintendent has greatly appreciated the co-operation of Dr. A. L. Howarth, our Area Executive officer; R. C. Hartley, our logger man, and J. M. Weaver, so diligent in Sunday School work. We are all agreed that we ought to revive that old Methodist idea of the circuit in newly opening sections. The south end of Whidby Island and Chima-cum valley are good examples, as also West Port Angeles and half a dozen growing agricultural districts. Some of these will be attempted from certain appointments now brewing. And we devoutly pray that every pastor "who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven" shall, as when Christ spoke, be "like the householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure," both the new things of our modern needs and the old foundations of abiding Christian success.

I have sought to preach the word and to be instant in season and out; but whether with proper reproof and exhortation we must refer all inquiries to the patient pastors and the most hospitable people all over the district. While no man has asked if I did not think my work done on the Bellingham District, I have expressed a personal joy were release now coming from the over-care of so many churches. But a truly militant Methodist minister takes his appointment with strong prayers that his people may be given grace for the trial. So I make this single request of all most interested: If some Timothy should come to the best rural district "see that he may be with you without fear, for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do."

SEATTLE DISTRICT

George A. Landen, Superintendent

It is with gratitude to God for His unfailing goodness and with deep appreciation of the kindness of my brethren that I present this my seventh annual report of the work on Seattle District.

A District Superintendent can suggest plans and programs but it remains for pastor and church officials to put them into successful operation and this has been done the past year.

There have been a number of pastoral changes during the year but I will not take the time of this Conference to mention them all in detail. I do feel, however, that I ought to speak of the change at First Church. Dr. Crowther felt compelled by his physical condition to ask release from the pastorate for a time and therefore resigned as pastor of First church, to take effect December 31st. It was with profound regret that his resignation was accepted. His successor, Dr. J. Ralph Magee, has found a place in the hearts of the people and is doing a splendid piece of work at First church. We extend to him the hand of fellowship and brotherly love.

The Issaquah charge has been united with the Baptist in the formation of a Community Church under the control of the Baptist denomination.

Rev. N. M. Temple, who has supplied the Kirkland charge the latter part of the year, has united the Congregational church and the Methodist into a Community church under the control of our own denomination.

The task of supplying charges is becoming more difficult and unsatisfactory every year. We certainly need more young men entering the ranks of the ministry. I had hopes and prospects early in the year of three young men for admission on trial but at the last I have but one.

Dr. J. O. Foster a Retired member of the Rock River Conference, widely known and highly respected, passed to his reward in the early part of the year. Though 86 years of age he was vigorous to the end. He taught his class in Theology in the College of Puget Sound less than two weeks prior to his death.

We spoke in our report a year ago of the serious illness of Mrs. Spicker, the wife of Rev. V. A. Spicker, assistant pastor at First church. Her health did not improve as we had all hoped and on March 23rd she entered into rest. She was a devoted wife and mother and a true help-mate as a minister's wife.

R. Z. Fahs, an honored retired member of this conference was sorely bereaved in the death of his wife on May 27th in Los Angeles. She was a tireless worker in the churches where her husband served as pastor and was a woman greatly beloved by the people in every charge.

May the God of all comfort and grace be the abiding companion of these Brethren.

By the aid of the Centenary the new church at Bremerton is nearing completion. About $60,000.00 has been expended on the building this year. The entire cost will exceed $100,000.00. It is a gem of beauty and convenience. Bro. LaViolette and his people have done heroic service and the outlook for the coming year is very hopeful. W. M. Forsyth, as assistant pastor and Miss Bertie Sawtelle as Deaconess, have been efficient helpers.

A new site has been secured and more than $9,000.00 subscribed toward a new building enterprise at Woodland Park church the first unit of which will be built early in the new year. $200 in improvements have been made on the old church and a furnace installed in the parsonage at a cost of $125.00.

The Hillman charge purchased a house and lot for a parsonage in the sum of $2,000. $500 was given by the Board of Church Extension, and the church has raised $1,000 so that only $500 debt remains and that will be paid off next Conference year.

By a gift from the Centenary Renton has been able to make improvements on church and parsonage of approximately $3,000.

Lakeside church has a new roof, fresh paint, outside and inside decorations costing $500.

Improvements at Madison St. amounted to about $500.

Rainier Beach put a new furnace in the church and made other improvements at a total cost of $1,600.

62nd Street finished up the basement of the church for social and Sunday School purposes with an expenditure of $500.

The church building and grounds at Bothell have been greatly improved in every way with an outlay of about $1,500.

Gilman Park has spent about $400 on improvements.

Yes, we still have some debts but some have been paid the present year. Gilman Park has cancelled the last of an old indebtedness that has been a burden on the church for years.

62nd. St. is also among the free from debt class.

Green Lake has paid $600 on the debt this year.

First church has paid $3,000.

Some day these old debts will all be paid off but in the mean time new ones will be contracted. If a debt means progress for the Kingdom then it may be a blessing.

The spirit of evangelism has prevailed and most of the charges held some special meetings during the year with fair results in conversions and accessions to the church, and in the quickening of the spiritual life of the churches. Just what the net increase will be I cannot say for I have not the latest reports of the result of the use of the pruning knife but I do know some church records have been severely dealt with by pastor and committees. I wish we had some better follow-up method by which we could keep track of removals from our charges and stop the leakage. I fear our report will not show ten per cent increase.

Up to last conference Seattle District reported 100.1 per cent payment on the Centenary quota. This year the district will not reach 100 per cent but will I am sure go beyond 90 per cent. There is some slackness in payment of pledges and occasionally one who repudiates or refuses to pay his or her pledge.

Somehow a consciousness of the sacredness of the Centenary pledge does not seem to have gripped some of our people. In some cases possibly there has not been due diligence used in making the collections. A few things are evident to me if the Centenary program is to be successfully carried out.

The yearly recanvass must be faithfully carried out in every charge and diligence must be exercised in the matter of making the collections. I fear there has been a letting down on the part of pastors in the matter of education. The Centenary spirit cannot be kept up unless the needed information as to what the needs are and what is being done is given the people. The idea and spirit of Stewardship must be promoted in every church.

The campaign for the C. P. S. for $225,000 from Seattle District was a success, the total being a little over $229,000. Much credit is due Dr. Empey for his organizing ability, Dr. Todd for his untiring efforts, Bro. Sprague, as our minute man, ready to respond to any call, H. R. King chairman of the Executive Committee for his wise counsel and inspiring faith, E. L. Blaine who was always on the job, to the pastors for their faithful co-operation, but especially to Dr. Enoch Perry of Milwaukee, who was the leader of our campaign. It has never been my privilege to work with a man of finer Christian spirit. He toiled day and night with a faith and spirit of hopefulness that was inspiring to us all.

We all rejoice in the success of the million dollar campaign and congratulate Dr. Todd whose faith and optimism and wise management brought it to pass.

The Ladies Aid Societies have raised approximately $10,000, visited in thousands of homes, ministered to the needy and greatly strengthened our church work.

The W. H. and F. M. Societies have done much to cultivate the missionary spirit and make possible larger missionary endeavor by the large sum raised for work at home and in the foreign fields.

The Epworth League is a potent factor in our church life. A winter Institute held at the Y. W. C. A. last winter was well attended and very helpful to our young people. The Institute at Epworth Heights in July was from the reports of the young people who attended, one of the best.

The Sunday Schools will show an increase in enrollment over last year and I am quite certain the best average attendance in recent years. Two hundred and twenty accessions to the church are reported to me. The report of the pastors to Conference will no doubt increase this number. Better organization is being secured and more satisfactory work is being done in nearly all our schools. Rev. J. M. Weaver, our Conference Secretary has been abundant in labors and of valuable assistance not only in organizing new Sunday Schools but in encouraging and strengthening the old ones.

Seattle has shown its interest in and loyalty to the College of Puget Sound by its pledge of over $229,000 to the endowment.

We have over seven hundred Methodist young people in the State University. The pastor of the University Church, Bro. Tremayne, and Student Pastor Bro. Gambill, have sought in every possible way to minister to these young people socially and religiously and I feel good work has been done. I believe the time has come when we should take steps to organize the Wesley Foundation.

The Northwest Training School has had a good year. Six excellent young women were graduated at commencement time and have all found places of service. Miss Clara D. Kortemeyer as Principal did good service but feeling called to Foreign Missionary work resigned June first and Miss Ruth A. Fogle was elected to fill the vacancy. She is a University graduate and an experienced teacher and gives promise of splendid leadership. The outlook for the coming year is for the largest student body we have ever had. Dr. Randolph has been very successful in securing pledges for the support of the school but collections have been a little slow this year owing to the financial stringency.

The Seattle General Hospital under the expert management of Miss Hall has continued its work of mercy and helpfulness to the sick.

The Hospital Commission appointed last Conference has effected an organization and will make its report to this Conference and ask for the appointment of an Executive Secretary.

The Deaconess Settlement has conducted services every Sunday evening a Sunday School with an enrollment of about 150, a vocational Bible School with an enrollment of 48, sewing classes, a baby clinic, visited the sick and assisted the needy and made a place for itself in the life of the community. Miss Charlotte Howland is the efficient Superintendent.

Our City Methodist Union under the wise supervision of its Executive Secretary, W. H. Leech, has been extending the work of the kingdom. A site has been secured for a new church in what is known as the Haller Lake neighborhood and an appropriation made for the building which will soon be erected.

I should be glad to speak of each pastor and charge but time will not permit. Suffice it to say that the pastors have been abundant in labors and our people have been devoted and loyal in service. Some of our laymen have been without steady employment during most of the year but have stood by the church in a way that is truly commendable.

Industrially the outlook for the winter is not encouraging but we are hoping and praying for better conditions.

In our forward look we have in mind certain goals that ought to be our aim for the coming year:

- 1.—One hundred per cent collection of Centenary pledges.
- 2.—A revival in every charge and at least ten per cent increase in our membership.
- 3.—One hundred per cent efficiency in Sunday School, Epworth League, Ladies Aid and the Missionary Societies.
- 4.—The proper care and needed improvement of church and parsonage property.
- 5.—An average of at least 1000 pastoral visits by each pastor. There are pastors on Seattle District that have not made an average of one visit per day for the 313 working days of the year.
- 6.—Faithful observance of the Centenary re-canvass.
- 7.—The faithful presentation of Stewardship and the organization of a Tithers League in every church. Unless this matter has careful and prayerful consideration we are going to lose out.
- 8.—Daily prayer for each other and the success of the kingdom.
- 9.—A Pacific Advocate in every Methodist home.

TACOMA DISTRICT

D. Roland Martin, Superintendent

For the innumerable blessings of another year I desire to express devout thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father. The messenger of death has entered no parsonage home on the district during the year. The only shadow to fall across any of our pastor's homes was the death of the aged father of Dr. Geo. F. Hopkins in Chicago, September 1, as the result of an automobile accident.

To say that every pastor of the Tacoma District is a "plumed knight" might be an exaggerated statement which the facts would scarcely warrant, but it has never been my privilege to know a more faithful and consecrated body of pastors. Our problems are many and the forces working against the Church of Christ are so large that some good folks have lost heart and say we are hopeless in our program of the conquest of the world for Christ. I would not minimize the forces of evil or the appalling indifference of great masses of people to the program and ideals of Jesus. Commercialism and materialism have gripped the multitudes. The Sabbath is desecrated to an alarming extent. The home is threatened through the iniquitous divorce evil. Many are pleasure mad, sacrificing every high ideal for sensuous pleasure. Our task is not an easy one. If we look alone at the forces against us our hearts may fail us. If we remember that God is on our side, that the gospel from the days of Paul to the present hour has won gloriously over all obstacles when adequately tried; then we shall take courage and thank God that it is our high privilege to help make the kingdoms of the world the Kingdom of Christ. We are glad to report some real progress on the Tacoma District during the year just closing.

We have had less changes in the personnel of the pastors than in any of the past years. April 1, W. P. Rutledge, pastor of the Yelm-McKenna charge, asked to be relieved on account of the health of his wife. He has indicated a desire to locate at this conference. Rev. James Pascoe was secured to supply this charge which he has done with great acceptability to the people.

Early in the year the Olympia Church installed a new Robert Morton pipe organ costing $5,300. The people are greatly pleased with this addition to the equipment of their church and feel that it is a fine investment. Centralia purchased a parsonage costing $6,500. This will make a fine home for the pastor's family. The Centralia church had a fire which caused a damage of something like $4,000. The improvements necessary because of the fire were a new roof, replastering and tinting the walls, varnishing all woodwork inside, new carpets, and painting outside. The church looks much better than before the fire. This church also installed a small organ in the early part of the year. Eatonville purchased a nine-room parsonage which was greatly needed. The Centenary helped with a donation of $800. Algonia has a new five-room parsonage. The Centenary gave $400. A new church was dedicated at Bucoda August 28, costing about $4,000. This was a wonderful victory, when we remember that this church had but fifteen members in the beginning of the year, and they represented very limited financial resources. The Centenary made a donation of $700. Central church, Tacoma, was condemned by the City Building Inspector in June. What to do was a serious problem. The membership have very meager financial resources, quite a percentage of the men were out of work, the Home Board was unable to give the assistance that was promised in the survey, because of the failure of churches to make good their pledges. After considerable time we secured a pledge of $7,000 from the Home Board, the larger churches in Tacoma came to the rescue with pledges of $2,200. The corner stone of the new building was laid Aug. 1, the address being made by Bishop Shepard. This church has begun a Goodwill Industry which promises well. A great deal of favorable comment has been heard concerning this worthy work. A new church costing about $2,100 was built at Ruston an appointment on the City Missions. No Centenary aid was asked. This church was dedicated by the District Superintendent July 17. A new Community Hall at Bethany Church, Tacoma, will be ready for dedication within the next three weeks. This will be equipped to supply some much needed Sunday School rooms, a fine gymnasium, and a center for the social life of the Community. This building and equipment will cost $5,000. No application was made to the Home Board for assistance knowing there was nothing left to the credit of the district. The pastor has secured every subscription and collected every dollar which has been raised. These new projects have been made possible in every case by the splendid leadership and arduous labor of the pastors. An addition was made to the church at Yelm for Sunday School purposes. The churches at South Prairie and Buckley have been painted, and the parsonage much improved. An addition was made to the Arlington Park Church costing $300.

The following amounts have been paid on indebtedness: First Church, Tacoma, $2900; Trinity, $1000; Mason, $1050; St. Paul, $1000; Auburn, $462; Sumner, $289

We rejoice in the victory of the campaign of the College of Puget Sound for $500,000, which completed the one million dollar campaign, one half of which was raised in Tacoma and Pierce county last year. Also the offer of the Rockefeller Foundation to give $250,000 on condition that the College secure another $250,000. We must not lose this generous offer of help. Under the splendid leadership of President Todd we shall not fail.

The salaries of the pastors were increased $4,600, which means an increase of over $5,500 on ministerial support. Because of the financial stringency which has struck the country, it has taken a heroic effort in a number of charges to meet all the obligations in full.

According to reports from the Chicago office the Tacoma District leads all the English speaking Districts of the Portland Area in the percentage paid to the Centenary for the first two years, eighty-seven per cent. First Church and St. Paul, Tacoma, Orting, Puyallup, Shelton, Algona and Pacific have collected 100 per cent or over for the first two years and three months of the Centenary period. Asbury has raised 98 per cent and several other churches have closely approached the goal.

In most cases the pastor has very faithfully looked after the Centenary interests. In possibly a few churches there would have been a larger percentage paid had the matter of collections been given more diligent attention. In quite a few cases it has been utterly impossible for people to meet their pledges. Men have been out of employment for almost half the year. Some have said that just as soon as possible they will pay their pledges in full. In a few cases people have treated their covenant with God and His Church very lightly and have made little effort to pay. Then in every charge in the District there has been considerable loss by removals. Not in a single church have the new people who have come from other churches anything like made up in Centenary pledges for those who had moved elsewhere.

From the reports given at the Fourth quarterly conference the Sunday Schools will show a fine increase in average attendance. Epworth Church conducted a week day school of religious education with an enrollment of 110 and an average attendance of about 90. We are planning several week day religious schools for the coming year. Trinity, Epworth and the Tacoma Community House conducted daily Vacation Bible Schools. The School of Religious Education conducted at the College of Puget Sound by the Board of Sunday Schools presented an exceptional opportunity for our Sunday School workers to better prepare themselves for the great work to which they have been called. The faculty was composed of some of the leading teachers in America. This conference ought to stand solidly behind this school for another year.

The Epworth League has been a vital factor in most of our churches. The Tacoma District received the pennant for the largest attendance at Epworth Institute.

Twenty-six pastors responded to the special requests for a pre-conference report. Seventeen charges report a gain in membership of 427. Four report the same number as last year, and four report loss of 64, making a net gain of 333. This will probably be increased some by the charges not reporting to me.

R. C. Hartley, Supervisor of Logger Activities, served the men in the camps of the Simpson Logging Company in Mason county and also preached in the Kamilchie Valley during the summer.

Many people these days are decrying programs. It seems to be the favorite sport of some people to ridicule programs handed down to us. Every pastor and every church need a real program. But our outstanding need is a fresh contact with Jesus Christ which shall give us a passion for Him. It was this that won glorious victories in the early church, that gave birth to Methodism, that has been the secret of every great achievement of the Church of Christ. We have an adequate gospel. His passion will make a triumphant church.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

Everett M. Hill, Superintendent

The ancient Greeks had a fable of a god bearing gifts who knocked but once at the door of the human soul, and having knocked, he fled. The tragic result followed. The inert inmate of the human abode was not able to capture his unexpected caller no matter how swiftly he might pursue him. If he caught up with him the agile god would slip through his fingers since there was nothing for the hand to grasp by which to hold him, the fugitive being bald at the back of the head. If, however, the human inhabitant chanced to be alert and saw the god approaching he would open the door in the face of his elusive guest and siezing him by the single lock of hair that hung down over his forehead, force him to surrender the coveted prize.

As our race, notwithstanding its dreams and great expectations, is by nature so universally lacking in initiative and the wide awake mind, it is no marvel, with opportunity thus characterized, in that age when humanity was so cheap that failure rode horseback in something the way that Habakkuk pictures the Chaldeans ruthlessly marching through the land: "Their horses are swifter than leopards and are more fierce than the evening wolves." It was into such a bankrupt world that the Master came. And because He came with glad tidings that set a child in the midst and instituted that most wonderful thing, the Christian home, we have a new and better symbol for opportunity and that is the open door. It was our risen Lord who commissioned John on Patmos to write to the Philadelphia church: "Behold I have set before thee a door, opened, which none can shut." As ancient Philadelphia, by its very position on civilization's frontier, was the gateway by which Greek language and learning penetrated into the dark and mysterious Phrygian lands to the east, a door through which Hellenic culture eagerly crowded, so always and everywhere a Methodist Church is designed as a Philadelphia, beautiful for situation, through which the glad evangel of Christ should far more eagerly crowd to the regions and peoples beyond.

It this be true, then this Annual Conference is but a survey of those dark and forbidding Phrygian fields of sin, glorified by the coming of the Gospel, since the citizens thereof have renounced the hidden things of darkness and now gladly "keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

There are nineteen counties in the territory of the Puget Sound Conference and Vancouver District covers six and a half of these in the extreme southwestern section of the state of Washington. That there is some extent here may be judged by making a trip with the Superintendent from Carson in Skamania County, up where the gentle black bear revels in the luscious huckleberry, down the Columbia over two hundred miles to Ocean Park and Oysterville where they go down to sea in ships and troll for the king salmon.

Vancouver District has forty charges and sixty preaching points. After two years' effort it is a pleasure to report that every charge has a pastor. Whether this same statement can be made at the close of the Conference is another question. J. Fred Smith, appointed to Simpson Avenue, Hoquiam, finding it impossible to accept this pastorate, Rev. M. R. Brown, a retired member of the Columbia River Conference and heroic pioneer preacher residing with his son, A. W. Brown, pastor of East Vancouver church, accepted the charge and entered the work with great enthusiasm. But within a month he had been called to his reward. It could most truly be said of him, "the zeal of God's house had eaten him up." The following December E. W. Anacker, a young local preacher, lately from the middlewest, came with his bride to this work and has succeeded in building it up very materially. P. H. Davies, an ordained minister of the Baptist denomination, who is thoroughly in sympathy with our doctrines and policy, accepted the pastorate of the South Bend Church soon after the close of the Conference and as casual supply has wrought faithfully and been blessed with the hearty co-operation of the church. Pe Ell, after being without a pastor for the greater part of last year, has enjoyed having a resident minister in the person of Lorenzo Johnson, a transfer from Minnesota, who arrived on the field within a month after the adjournment of the Conference and has given a good account of himself. Earl Hanna from Idaho, has been very successfully supplying Ridgefield since January. Ilwaco and McCleary have had their resident pastors only since summer opened; Fred L. Pedersen, a 1921 graduate of Drew, and whose last appointment in this conference, according to my predecessor, was on the Vancouver District, going to Ilwaco, and Geo. W. Cooper from North Dakota, becoming pastor at McCleary. R. C. Hartley, superintendent of Loggers' and Lumbermen's activities of Aberdeen, had been able to provide nourishing theological pabulum once on Sunday at McCleary until the arrival of the new pastor, and J. Thos. Cowley, of Ocean Park, has not only done as much for Ilwaco but led the way in the general renovation of the church and parsonage in preparation for the new administration.

A few special achievements should be recorded. Ilwaco has painted and renovated the entire church property. Montesano has eliminated the church tower and made the building attractive by means of a good grade of paint. Lebam, PeEll and Salmon Creek have added commodious Sunday School rooms, the first by the tireless work of the pastor and the last by the activity and earning capacity of the Ladies' Aid Society. At Stevenson, by the careful engineering of the preacher in charge, a good parsonage has been purchased and a better site secured preparatory to the new church which is so greatly needed. Chehalis, by the indefatigable labor of the pastor and a few laymen, has secured about twenty-five thousand dollars in pledges toward a new church building. In this thriving community, with over a million dollars in industrial plants inside the city, not to mention those contiguous to it, a fifty thousand dollar plant is indispensable, but without help it seems an impossibility to this heroic church. A real achievement was accomplished in the union of the East Mill Plain and Harmony churches, less than two miles apart, with the first named house of worship as the meeting place. This being the natural community center, with the high school in close proximity, the logic of the move is apparent. A very successful revival meeting with Miss Anna McGhie assisting the pastor, made the union possible. The Japanese work at Walville, under the leadership of the pastor's wife, Mrs. F. C. Thompson, is most encouraging. Some of the many conversions reported have incidents connected with them that read like romance.

The Sunday School enrollment for the District will show somewhere near a ten per cent increase though the church membership unfortunately will fall below this. A few churches show a decrease in membership. In some cases this is because of incorrect reports in the minutes. For example: one pastor has taken in 87 members and given letters to but 23 and yet must report a decrease because 60 non-resident members were not only reported in that column but also included in the list of full members; an error that is most unfortunate. In the industrial centers, with mills closed, there has been a real exodus, which explains the decrease in several cases. Stevenson holds the banner for gain in membership, reporting September 5th an increase of 84 or 200 per cent. Of the other charges reporting, the following twelve have an increase of more than ten per cent, in the order named: Walville, PeEll, South Bend, Napavine, Castle Rock, Cosmopolis, East Mill Plain, Hoquiam-First, Satsop, Elma, Chehalis, Lebam, Willapa.

Ladies' Aid Societies are organized on practically every charge and are doing really wonderful work. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Woman's Home Missionary Society are each in a little more than a third of the charges, and we all know the real advantage of having these organizations in a church. The Epworth League is in three-fourths of the charges and the Junior League is in about one-third of them and both organizations are doing good work.

The Superintendent of this District had the very great pleasure of giving two weeks to Epworth League Institute work. He was a member of the faculty of the Soda Springs Institute in the Walla Walla District in the Columbia River Conference and Dean and Manager of the Epworth Heights Institute in our own Conference. At both of these Institutes a splendid class of young men and women dedicated their lives to special Christian work. In his own field he has assisted in revival meetings, given a number of addresses at community gatherings, made three rounds on this mammoth District and attended to all the necessary routine and to cap the climax he allowed nature to play a gigantic joke upon him. He was forced to assume responsibility for a visitation of that consciousness contagion known as the Mumps. But let the curtain be drawn at this point. At least he is alive to tell the tale.

The Centenary will reach 75 per cent, possibly more. It goes without saying that everyone regrets that it is not 100 per cent. Perhaps, however, facing facts is good medicine and Liberty Bonds, paying four per cent interest, have been selling at $85.00. Certainly no one will be willing to allow this most sacred fund to go lower and all that have hearts that throb in sympathy with the Master's passion and the world's need will not rest until the cash is equal to the subscription. Six charges are 100 per cent or over. Walville, 200 per cent, leads the District, and Raymond, PeEll, Satsop, Montesano and First Vancouver are in the same good company.

The Pacific Christian Advocate, under the able management and editorship of Dr. Edward Laird Mills, is fast gaining in popularity. There are 364 subscribers, Raymond again leading with one subscription for less than four members.

The greatest victory of the year was the College Campaign for a million dollars. In this the men of Vancouver District fell not a whit behind any other group but gave of their toil, time and money without stint so that at the close $161,000.00 was rolled up toward the great goal. $50,000.00 of this was from the generous hand of E. S. Collins, a member of the board at Ostrander. Following the campaign C. B. Seely found himself so run down that he was forced to take a rest and with his wife spent nearly three months in California, returning in time to gather up the fragments before Conference. On his arrival he found several people rather surprised to see him as it had been reported that he had died. Like Mark Twain he was led to remark that the reports of his death had been greatly exaggerated.

The loggers in the camps of Grays Harbor County have been faithfully ministered to by R. C. Hartley, ably assisted by Geo. N. Magwood, recently appointed to this needy field.

While the angel of death has visited but one parsonage, as recorded early in this report, the angel of blessing has been gladly welcomed at five and the blessings are named respectively: John Thomas Cowley, Jr., Ocean Park, Phillip Walter Johnson, PeEll; Mary Louise Beall, Satsop, William Everett Lowther, Napavine, and Mabel Josie Hartley of Aberdeen. May they develop into three preachers and two preachers' wives.

The pastors of the District are all, but one, splendid Christian gentlemen. But there are extenuating circumstances. The exception is a splendid Christian lady, the pastor of that great missionary field, Trinity Church, Aberdeen. But leaving out the exception from purely chivalrous motives, the men are all different from each other, as it should be. Some are always going on high gear, and of course accomplishing something. Others travel the most of the time on low and doubtless get as much done. There is one element, however, that we could wish were in every pulpit, as it is in some, and it is that passionate earnestness that gave early Methodism its power.

It is with profound gratitude to Almighty God that we come to the close of this year. Generous Laymen on the District bore the Superintendent's entire expense on his trip east in search of preachers. These men have been especially kind but all laymen have been helpful. The brethren of the ministry have been splendid. The women of the parsonage have been great. Bishop Shepard has been the soul of courtesy and helpfulness and the other Superintendents have been forbearing over the inexperience of their younger colleague. May God make next year on this District, on all the Districts, a more triumphant year in His work and therefore a more glorious year for His workers.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Zeal for Christian education is our Methodist inheritance from our forbears. It is a wonderful heritage, but such blessings carry with them many responsibilities. We must not only maintain, but carry forward the standard given us. Our predecessors have made their sacrifices to establish our institutions. It develops upon us to firmly root them and broaden their field of service.

We rejoice in the growing resources available to our General Board of Education for extending its leadership. It is cheering to note the financial advancement for the quadrennium ending with 1920, namely: Invested Funds were increased from $445,816 to $1,087,578; Childrens Day Offerings from $84,660 to $148,611; The Centenary Guarantee has brought the public educational collection to $750,000 and the returned student loans have increased from $60,570 to $149,396. Such progress is surely worthy of note.

We heartily commend the choice of a Director for the Conference Course of Study and believe it is the forerunner of greater effectiveness in the schooling of our young ministers. We also express faith in the wisdom and loyalty of our Commission on the Course of Study and believe they have done their work nobly and well.

We all earnestly believe God works through human voice and personality empowered by His Holy Spirit, to win rebellious sinners to open obedience to His will. We know He can use those same agencies to win His children who rebel against His service and win them to a life of consecrated labor. We are glad to go on feeling we are called to search more diligently than ever for those who should hear the call to Christian service through us. We likewise feel our duty clear to stimulate those entering upon Christian service to secure proper training before undertaking so great and responsible a task.

We are glad to note in this connection that the Kimball school of Theology has adopted the standard set by the University Senate and are ready to operate upon the same. By this the school becomes more worthy of the sincere consideration of our young men. It is evidently being so considered by some as the enrollment this year is double that of last. We believe the time is here to study the questions of a unified School of Religious Education in the Northwest. We recommend therefore that the Conference Board of Education be authorized to name three of their number to act with similar committees from Idaho, Montana, and North Montana Conferences of the Helena Area, and the other Conferences of this Area to study this question and report to the next Annual Conference.

The Northwest Training School for Christian workers as one of our recognized schools is certainly worthy of notation on our records. Its graduates have done faithful service, its faculty are hard working, its Superintendent abundant labors, its Field representative, Dr. W. T. Randolph has been earnest and successful in securing subscriptions and all are well worthy of our esteem and help.

We recommend that the Secretary of the Conference be authorized to send the following resolution to the Senators and Representatives of the State of Washington in the United States Congress, and to Honorable Walter Brown, Chairman of the Committee on Re-organization of Executive Departments.

"The members of the Puget Sound Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, meeting in the city of Tacoma, Wn., and composed of 177 members desire to be placed on record with the hundreds of thousands of others who heartily support the Towner-Sterling bill H. R. 7, and are opposed to the Bureau of Education being left in its present status, or made sub-ordinate in a Welfare Department."

The University of Washington offers us at once a tremendous responsibility and a unique opportunity among approximately 700 Methodists enrolled. The time has doubtless come, in the judgment of your committee when some further definite step should be taken concerning this wonderful field. We recommend the appointment of a Commission to study the situation, gather information concerning the establishment of a Wesley Foundation, and report to the next Annual Conference specific suggestions as to the type of service to be rendered and the organization needed. We suggest the Commission to be composed of our Resident Bishop, the District Superintendents the President of the College of Puget Sound, the Pastor, Student Pastor and one layman from the University Church, Seattle, one Minister and one layman from each District.

Our own College of Puget Sound, of course has our special affection and the pledge of our unflinching service. The achievements of the officials, and the help brought to them from the outside bears testimony that prayer and consecrated organization brings God's power, not only upon men's hearts but their pocket books as well. It is with profound gratitude to God that we record here the securing of more than $500,000 to match the $500,000 previously pledged by the people of Tacoma and Pierce County. We have written promises, therefore, of more than $1,000,000 for equipment and endowment. But as is often the case, our successes become our embarrassment. Upon receipt of the news of the accomplishment of this herculean task, the Rockefeller Foundation offered $250,000 conditional upon our raising an additional $250,000 by January 1st, 1921. This is no task for cowards nor even for the faint hearted. It is a responsibility which calls for the faith and deeds of spiritual and intellectual giants. But, having put our hand to the plough, we cannot turn back. To fail to meet this challenge would be to stultify our own consciences and dwarf our own souls, besides the tremendous injustice it would be to the oncoming youth who are to be trained as our future lay and ministerial leaders. The way seems a little dark just now because of economic conditions, but progress is in courageous but judicious advance. As a conference, therefore, we gladly keep the doors open to President Todd and his co-laborers to proceed with a still hunt among our people in an attempt to reach this flattering offer from the Rockefeller Foundation.

J. RALPH MAGEE,
Chairman.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE COLLEGE OF PUGET SOUND

Some years ago there was a patient sick almost to death, emaciated, forlorn and hopeless. In its behalf a call was issued for those who would submit to the transfusion of blood that life might be saved. This call was answered and the glow of health again began to appear, when experts, upon being consulted, strongly advised a change of surroundings. Help was had to assure such a change and provide the support necessary until the patient recovered sufficient strength to permit of self support. Some of the offers of assistance were conditioned upon other support being secured in order that the desired ends might be guaranteed.

One year ago your body provided for a canvass to secure $500,000 for the College of Puget Sound and complete the first half of a fund of $2,000,000 for plant, equipment and endowment. No sooner had adjournment been taken than whisperings were heard to the effect that "the times are not opportune for such a canvas," "the financial conditions are very unpropitious," "with our people burdened as they are it simply can't be done." You have all heard of the man who tackled the job which "couldn't be done and did it." His name is E. H. Todd. In fact, if any of you have a piece of work you wish left undone pray don't place Dr. Todd in charge and tell him "it can't be done."

This canvas was successfully completed within schedule time, and the attention of the church at large was directed to this college. Some of the older and better known institutions have not yet completed their canvas, begun at about the same time. Not all the credit for the successful issue of this campaign is due to Dr. Todd, great as his mead of praise should be. The loyal and sympathetic support of nearly every member of your body, the most unusual yet very effective support and cooperation of our general superintendent, Bishop W. O. Shepard, the practical and experienced helpfulness of outside workers all contributed in large measure to the success of the campaign. Let me here and now record the praise which should be given to our own Board of Education. For the past eight years this Board has contributed of its funds to make possible the preservation of the credit of our college. The benefit of its counsel has been enjoyed on three separate occasions and to Dr. J. W. Hancher and his assistants is due no small amount of praise for the success of this campaign.

During the summer following the completion of our canvas our plant, equipment and management were inspected by the representatives of the General Education Board, Rockefeller Foundation, and from this inspection came a pledge from said Board for $250,000 to be added to the endowment of the College. But this pledge was conditioned that the College raise a like amount from other sources prior to January 1923.

In view of certain assurances given by some members of the Columbia River Annual Conference it was hoped and planned that the canvas for the other $250,000 might be made in that conference during the coming year, but the recent session of that conference took action which makes intensive campaigning in Eastern Washington during the coming year out of the question. It therefore remains for you, within whose boundaries the college is situated, to decide whether there is a way to be found for securing this sum of money and meet the conditions laid by the General Education Board or relinquish their pledge. The aforesaid pledge carries with it the pledge of $8,500.00 per annum during the next three years toward our current expenses.

There is some prospect of securing another pledge of like amount, which will meet the conditions of the pledge of the General Board, but which will itself require us to raise a like amount as required by the General Education Board. This would provide for us $500,000 upon our raising $250,000 more than we now have in pledges. It seems to the officers of the college that this is a condition calling for your earnest consideration, and while we well remember that the action of last year carried with it the inference that the college must give way to other interests during the coming year, it is not quite clear to us that you would desire to exclude the college from your consideration at this time if such action were to result in the loss to the college of $500,000

The year just closing has been one of victory not only in securing additional funds for the college, but also in all lines indicative of genuine academic growth. The attendance at the summer session of the college was the largest in its history and the registration for the fall term gives promise that the halls will be crowded and possibly the limit of capacity reached. It does not seem that this is the time to relinquish effort and turn back from the completion of a task so well begun.

It is becoming especially urgent that those who have subscribed toward the building funds should make their payments as promptly as possible so that building operations may be begun some time during this winter and the first buildings completed for occupancy next fall. If this cannot be accomplished the success of which we boast will be our embarrassment.

May the guidance of Infinite Wisdom be yours as you consider the Interests of the College of Puget Sound.

Respectfully submitted,

E. L. BLAINE,
Chairman of Board of Trustees.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

In accordance with the Conference Resolution of September 11, 1920, the Conference Board of Sunday Schools was organized November 15, 1920. Andrew Warner was elected Chairman and Roy L. Sprague Secretary-Treasurer. As a part of the Board organization there have been appointed Departmental Directors in each District to conduct the following Departments: Leadership Training; Young People's Work, Adult and Evangelism, Missionary Education and Elementary Work.

The Instruction for activities as given in Paragraph 472 of the Discipline have been followed. The program for Sunday School activities emphasized by the Conference Board has been placed in your hands.

The chief activity of the year was the promotion of the Summer School of Religious Education conducted at the College of Puget Sound by the Board of Sunday Schools under the direction of Dr. H. C. Wilson. The faculty of this school was composed of men who are the recognized authority in their lines throughout the United States. It was a rare privilege to be in their class rooms. The registration was 112. This was considerably below the expected number, and the continuation of the School in this Area is conditioned upon securing two hundred and fifty paid registrations for next summer. There must be guaranteed by January 1, 1922. We desire that the adoption of this report shall carry with it the guarantee of these registrations.

As follow-up work the Conference Board is planning to conduct a series of Group Institutes throughout the Conference shortly after this session. We urge that everything be done by the local churches to make these Group Institutes of service in the largest possible way.

We recommend:

1. The organization of all our Sunday Schools on the Departmental plan as the most efficient means of accomplishing the aims of the Church School.
2. The Graded Lessons, including the Senior and Young People's Departments.
3. That the Pastors study carefully the program of the Week Day Religious Instruction and Daily Vacation Bible Schools; and that where such schools are in operation, the Abingdon Series of Instruction be adopted.

We commend the College of Puget Sound for adding to its curriculum a course in Religious Education, and urge our students in that institution to take advantage of this course.

We request that the Conference Board of Sunday Schools be allowed to receive moneys as the voluntary offerings of persons especially interested in the program of the Conference Board.

We recommend that the Conference request the Bishop to continue the Rev. J. M. Weaver as Conference Superintendent of Sunday Schools; and that he be directed to devote his efforts to the intensive program of the Board, giving such time to the organization of new work as shall be requested by the Superintendent of the District in which the proposed work is located.

We request that the Executive Committee of the Board together with the District Superintendents be authorized to name the members of the Board for the ensuing year.

ANDREW WARNER,
Chairman.

ROY L. SPRAGUE,
Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

There have been several outstanding events in the Sunday School work of the Puget Sound Conference during the past year. Our Sunday Schools are emphasizing some of the more modern conceptions of the work and in consequence are becoming more active and efficient.

There are still a number of fine openings for our church in the undeveloped sections of Conference territory. But our possibilities are greatly limited because it seems to be almost impossible to find qualified men and the money to support them as pastors of these new circuits.

The men in charge of established churches seem to be too busy to pay much attention to the needy fields adjoining their own charges.

In view of this situation my aim has been to care for the work already established rather than to organize many new Sunday Schools.

I have tried to care for some of these needy fields by visiting the places myself as often as possible and by sending laymen to conduct services. In some instances a member of the Sunday School preaches, in others a sermon is read from the Christian Herald.

This method has been only partially successful for the following reasons:

1. These people need the sympathetic touch of a warm-hearted pastor rather than sermons.

2. Other denominations seem to be more successful in this type of work and are actually pushing into territory once occupied by us.

3. There are a number of self-constituted preachers and evangelists roaming at will and often succeed in leading after them a group of people having no regular pastor.

4. In some places a community consciousness is being developed, clubs are organized and halls erected. This always makes it harder for the church to assume leadership. The people are drifting away. Among them are children from Christian homes.

In God's name we dare not neglect them. Either we must put on a stronger Home Mission program or retreat before advancing opportunities.

Six new Sunday Schools were organized and two were reorganized adding a total of three hundred new scholars to the Sunday Schools of the Puget Sound Conference. These extension Sunday Schools held Christmas and Easter services which brought a total of over fifteen hundred people in these scattered communities within the sound of the Gospel.

The collection taken by these extension Sunday Schools for various benevolences will add one hundred dollars to the report of our Conference Treasurer.

Fourteen children were baptized and a number of people dedicated their lives to God.

I also visited twenty-three other communities and held services for these neglected people.

I also organized one class in Americanization. The church at Gold Bar was repaired when I organized the Sunday School at that place.

The most interesting feature of the Extension Work was an all day community rally held at the Ramapo Grange Hall in Western Clallam County. Here we gathered the people of nine different communities for an all day varied religious program with picnic dinner at noon.

Bishop Shepard preached in the afternoon to a very large audience. All the District Superintendents of the Conference were present except Dr. Hill, who was detained by illness.

Bro. Hartley, our logging evangelist, and Dr. Howarth of the Centenary Conservation Committee were also present. The people were pleased to have the preachers in their midst. They fully appreciated the fact that a man as busy as a Methodist Bishop should come to preach to them. It was an event in their lives not soon to be forgotten.

At Oak Harbor Bishop Shepard dedicated a fine new church. This charge grew from a Sunday School organized by Brother Sears.

Wilkeson, under the leadership of District Superintendent Martin, is doing as well as we could expect under the existing industrial situation there. The Woman's Home Missionary Society and the Board of Home Missions and church extension will assist in putting on a large program there next year.

At the request of the District Superintendents I visited a total of nine organized churches which were struggling for existence. This has been probably the hardest task of all. In most of the cases work was accomplished through the Sunday School which still abides.

I also represented the Board of Sunday Schools in six of our larger Churches and at one Annual Conference, and lectured at the Summer Schools for Pastors at Salem, Oregon, and Pullman, Washington.

To meet the requirements of the Discipline we organized the Conference Board of Sunday Schools. This Board had two general meetings during the year and appointed departmental directors of Sunday School efficiency.

One of the first acts of this board was the promotion of a series of four Institutes throughout the Conference last fall. The Chicago office sent a strong team of instructors. The interest and attendance were unusually good. A total of six hundred and twenty-five were enrolled in the day sessions and the evening meetings brought the total up to over fifteen hundred.

Brother L. C. Shultz, Conference Director of Leadership Training, was very active. We are rated as having one of the best departments of Leadership Training in the entire church.

During the year 45 classes were in operation with 404 students enrolled. The Correspondence Department had 11 students enrolled. There were 50 students enrolled in Community Training Schools and 725 in Institutes and Group Meetings and 112 at the Summer School of Religious Education. This makes a total of 1302 students enrolled in all departments of Leadership Training.

In three Sunday Schools classes have completed the entire three years' course and have passed their examination and received their diplomas. Best of all most of them went right to work as trained leaders in the Sunday School.

Without doubt the Summer School of Religious Education, conducted by the Board of Sunday Schools at the College of Puget Sound in August, was the greatest Sunday School achievement of the year. In the estimation of many it was the most significant event in the field of Religious Education in the Pacific Northwest.

Dr. Wilson pronounced it one of the finest student bodies he had ever seen in a similar school.

The enrollment reached one hundred and twelve and everyone was there for business. Most of them took the work for credit. Sixty-nine were successful in the final examination and received Certificates.

In proportion to our membership we had the largest enrollment of any of the schools conducted by the Board this year.

But the financial returns from one hundred and twelve registrations are not sufficient to warrant the Board in giving us a similar school next year. If we are to have a school next year we must guarantee at least two hundred and fifty registrations at four dollars each by January first.

At the close of the summer school we received eighty advance registrations for next year. If every Sunday School will guarantee at least one registration we will succeed.

The Sunday School workers of two sister denominations were so impressed with the program that they have asked the privilege of joining with us next year.

The College of Puget Sound proved a good place for successful work in such a school.

President Todd, Dean Cunningham and Field Secretary Sprague gave much valuable time. Brother Sprague is also the Secretary of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools and was very active in advertising.

Dr. Warner, President of the Conference Board, was one of our main stays not only during the school but throughout the year.

Last spring the Rev. Bert Edward Smith, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Adult Department, made a tour of our Conference, holding meetings with the workers of each district. He was well received and will be heartily welcomed any time he may return.

A program of evangelism was adopted at these meetings: first by all the District Superintendents of the Portland Area and laterly by the group meetings of the Puget Sound Conference. Later it was adopted for all the classes in the Sunday Schools of the Conference. The organized Bible Classes of all ages are to be the agencies in promoting the work. This will mean that the pastors must help.

The program is as follows:

1. Make Rally Day a time of increasing our class membership in order to have a large number to win for Christ.

2. Christmas to be approached with a great evangelistic campaign in the Sunday Schools.

3. February, 1922, to be made a "Go-to-Sunday-School-Month." The entire month to be devoted to increasing our enrollment.

4. Easter, 1922, to be the culmination of our great evangelistic campaign both in the church and Sunday School.

Summary—6 New Sunday Schools; 300 New Scholars; 1500 at Christmas and Easter Services; $100 for Benevolences; 14 Baptisms; 1 Class in Americanization; 23 Needy communities ministered to; 1 Community rally with 250 present; 9 Weak charges helped; 6 Churches visited; 1 Church repaired; 1 New Church erected, growing out of extension work; 8 Institutes and group meetings; 1 Summer School of Religious Education; 1302 Students enrolled in various classes and schools of Leadership Training; 160 Organized Bible Classes, enrolling 3500 members; 5 Lectures at Summer Schools for Pastors.

A fine program has been planned for next year and competent people are willing to help carry it out.

The hand of God has led us on to victory.

I want to thank the Bishop, District Superintendents, pastors and lay members for hearty co-operation and valued help.

Respectfully submitted,
J. M. WEAVER,

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON HOSPITALS AND HOMES

We have very carefully gone over all the papers of the Commission on Hospitals and of the newly incorporated Seattle General Hospital Association and have closely questioned Mr. F. N. Weyant, Secretary of said association and also Dr. Edwin M. Randall, Executive Secretary of the Association.

We recommend the Puget Sound Conference shall—

FIRST—Approve the articles of agreement and the by-laws of "The Seattle General Hospital Association."

SECOND—Confirm the election of the following persons as trustees of the Seattle General Hospital Association:

For a term of three years—T. S. Lippy, J. W. Efaw, H. R. King, J. Ralph Magee. For a term of two years—J. B. Murphy, W. E. Froude, F. N. Weyant, Mrs. G. F. Brawley, Ralph E. Stewart. For a term of one year—C. E. Downie, A. S. Alford, J. S. Long, Seth H. Morford, Robert J. Reid.

THIRD—Request The Seattle Deaconess Home Association in accordance with their own proposal to transfer the property and management of the Seattle General Hospital to the Seattle General Hospital Association as soon as practicable.

FOURTH—Approve the Seattle General Hospital Association as an institution operating under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church and commend it to the General Board of Hospitals and Homes for its recognition and approval.

FIFTH—Express its thanks to the commission on hospitals for their service, to T. S. Lippy for his help in acquiring and maintaining the Seattle General Hospital as a Christian institution under the direction of our church, to him and his associates J. W. Efaw, J. P. Murphy, S. H. Morford and Robt. J. Reid on hospital committee of the Seattle Deaconess Home Association, and to the Superintendent, Miss Evelyn H. Hall, for their faithful and efficient management in bringing the Seattle General Hospital to its present commanding position.

We recommend that a member of this Conference, to be approved by this Conference and the Board of Trustees of the Seattle General Hospital Association, be appointed annually by the Bishop to be the executive secretary of the Seattle General Hospital Association to represent this Conference in the Board of Trustees and to represent the hospital before the churches and to do such executive work as may be assigned to him by the trustees, and report annually to this Conference. We recommend that Edwin M. Randall shall be appointed to that position at the close of this conference. We recommend that the Conference appoint a standing committee on hospitals and homes.

We believe that we have an opportunity to make a great achievement in hospital service. The high standing of the Seattle General Hospital, the auspices launching the new management, the opportunities of the hour for inaugurating a larger enterprise, the willing co-operation of the members of other churches, with other favoring conditions indicate to us God's call to develop a great hospital in this section and to make it an expression of the Spirit of Christ and of His mission to the world. We recommend that we give this enterprise our loyal support, open our pulpits to it and urge our people to give it their patronage and liberal support.

CHAS. A. BOWEN,
E. W. ERICKSON,
JAS. E. MILLIGAN, Sec.
C. E. TODD.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

We recommend that the Conference Claimants Commission be continued with the following membership:

Bishop William O. Shepard, Honorary Chairman. T. W. Lane, Chairman. The District Superintendents, ex-officio. Ministers: F. L. Baldwin, B. F. Brooks, Thos. W. Lane, J. C. Dorwin, Geo. F. Hopkins, Wm. H. Leech, J. P. Marlatt, H. W. Michener, E. M. Randall. R. H.

Schuett. Laymen: E. L. Blaine, Arthur Corey, R. A. Davis, J. W. Efaw, Alfred Lister, H. R. King, W. O. Mumaw, M. Bennington, C. A. Robbins, G. W. Marsh, C. W. Miley, C. E. Campbell, H. E. Warren, John H. Neville.

We further recommend that a committee representing the Conference Claimants Commission be authorized to organize a corporation under the auspices of this Conference to solicit and receive moneys and properties and to act as a holding corporation for the administration of gifts and bequests for the support and relief of the Conference Claimants of the Puget Sound Annual Conference.

W. H. LEECH,
Secretary.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION

It has been the object of the Social Service Commission, during the past year, to justify its existence by undertaking some constructive work for the church and the Kingdom. To this end the executive committee has held regular meetings during the year and has formulated some plans for future work.

The Conference Industrial Evangelist, the Rev. O. H. McGill, has given his entire time during the past year to the promotion of the producing and of the co-operative movement of the workers of this state. We urge that the pastors and laymen of our church make a particular study of this feature of our work, with an end to extending it more widely throughout the various fields of industry.

The Commission has employed very successfully in the evangelistic field the Rev. M. H. Marvin of the Columbia River Conference. Under our direction he has conducted meetings in Seattle, Tacoma and in the mining district in and about Wilkeson and Burnette. Dr. Marvin has also conducted a series of study classes for us in the city of Seattle.

We are anxious to work out within the bounds of this Conference the complete program of the Methodist Federation of Social Service and to that end we hope to organize the Conference more extensively during the Coming year.

We heartily endorse the work accomplished under the leadership of Bro. Robt. C. Hartley among the loggers and lumbermen.

Resolutions

As the Social Service Commission of the Puget Sound Conference we most heartily endorse the pronouncement of Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam as containing the message of our Master most needed for our day of acquisitive strife, and recommend to our pastors everywhere to do their utmost to put the Social Principles of Jesus not only before their congregations but to call the attention of employers and men of leadership in labor to the will of Christ and the expectation of His Church concerning the Social and Industrial life of the world.

We wish to express our great appreciation of the action of Drs. Martin and Marlatt in securing Dr. Oxnam and giving him this prominent place on the Conference program.

Disarmament Resolution

"In a world of broken hearts and bankrupt pockets we still find ourselves as hopelessly divided as ever before. The World War, as has always been true of wars, did not solve our problems nor bind us together.

Nations can no more solve their problems by duels than can individuals. We, the members of the Puget Sound Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in session at Tacoma, Washington, September 17, 1921, do hereby record our judgment that the time has come to stop feuds between governments.

If the people of the world have actually grown up, we believe we should use the weapons of real men, namely brains, not the tendency of boys to fight.

We therefore, call upon His Excellency, the President of the United States, and the Commission appointed by him for the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments to use every right power within their reach to reduce the armaments until wars shall cease and the nation shall use their intelligence in meeting the world's need."

J. RALPH MAGEE,
R. H. SCHUETT,
J. C. HARRISON.

Unemployment

We would urge the attention of the Church to the serious unemployment situation which faces us and which threatens to become so tense in the coming winter months. We believe all this to be the result of preventable economic conditions and we believe that we have a real duty to perform in shaping the economic life of the world in conformity to the principles of the Gospel of Christ.

We present the following list of names for membership on the Commission and we request the Bishop to make the appointments:

Thomas J. Gambill, R. H. Schuett, W. W. Switzer, J. H. Geoghegan, R. J. Reid, O. H. McGill, J. E. Milligan, Andrew Warner, J. Ralph Magee, George W. Frame, Robt. C. Hartley, Clint Lee, Eilene French, Mrs. Frank L. Davis, W. D. Lane, John H. Neville, W. D. Pratt, Harry Brown and Howard Gregory.

Fraternal Delegates—To State Federation of Labor: J. H. Geoghegan, T. J. Gambill. To State Grange: K. L. Haga, J. H. Beall.

SUPERVISOR OF LOGGERS ACTIVITIES

On appointment to this work at our last Conference our first object was to make a survey of this new field of labor under the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of our Church.

To accomplish this, visits have been made to Whatcom, Skagit, Snohomish, King, Thurston, Lewis, Pacific, Clallam and Jefferson counties where approximate surveys of the logging situation have been made. Intensive and constructive work has been done in Grays Harbor and Mason counties where the workers now in the field have under their care twenty-two camps and logging centers.

Within the bounds of the Puget Sound Conference there are over 900 camps in operation in normal times and employed in and around these camps are 22,000 men. In prosperous times these figures will be increased.

The Presbyterian church has four workers now in this field. If these four missionaries should visit five camps each week it would take them 48 weeks to make the rounds. There are a few other workers giving partial service to the loggers but this part of God's vineyard is in great need of more workers.

Personally I have visited camps and lumber centers in eleven counties of Western Washington and have given regular service to eight other camps. For seven months I supplied the lumber center of McCleary, preaching each Sunday night. Also preached alternate Sundays during the summer at Kamille. Have also for relaxation supplied pulpits at Shelton, Satsop, Aberdeen, South Aberdeen, Hoquiam, Simpson Avenue and Montesano. Have made six addresses before students in Grays Harbor and Mason Counties.

Have visited each week on an average the three hospitals on Grays Harbor and have made 1528 sick calls in these institutions. The Epworth League of First Church, Aberdeen, under the leadership of Mrs. Tessie Wilmoth, has done splendid service in co-operating in this hospital vistration.

Books, magazines and flowers have been distributed, but better than all has been the personal interest and Christian sympathy herein expressed by these Epworthians, showing that somebody cares.

The men to whom we have ministered in the hospitals always attend our services when they return to the camps.

On August first, Rev. George N. Magwood was employed as a worker and has under his care at present eleven camps with thirty-nine families adjacent. Bro. Magwood has had four years' experience in the woods and is rendering splendid service in carrying out the program of our church.

We expect Rev. Harry E. Greening to be appointed at this Conference to be stationed at Raymond.

Rev. R. L. Wolfe efficiently served the many camps near Darrington and with sermons, slides and films carried the Gospel to hundreds of loggers.

Rev. A. C. Baer, of Hamilton, largely increased his congregations by personal visitations among the nearby camps.

Our purpose has been to concentrate our work rather than have it scattered and disconnected.

In our territory two Sunday Schools are in operation and others will be organized whenever possible.

Have preached oftener than in any year of my life and have found the men respectful and responsive. Visiting the hospitals where the injured loggers are taken has been fruitful in showing these men that somebody is interested in them. No logger who has been in the hospital for more than a week but what has been visited by a representative of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

These men need the Gospel of Jesus Christ. They need the gentleness of His friendship. Under rugged exteriors beat hearts that are big with noble impulses which have had no opportunity for expression. It is our task to minister to the whole life of these men. Week after week they live in the camps during the long winter nights. There is no sort of entertainment provided for them. They must perforce supply their own pleasures and they are pitifully and too often tragically inadequate. We must help them in this thing.

There has been a great improvement in the sanitary and physical conditions surrounding the camps these past few years. In many quarters there is still plenty of room for improvement. Among the camps I have visited I would especially mention in this respect the camps of the Simpson Logging Company. Here the conditions are conducive to the comfort and physical well-being of the men. Steam heat, hot and cold water in the bunkhouses, free towels and soap and clean bedding are much appreciated by the loggers and the result is that the turn-over of men in these camps is very small.

We have been treated courteously in every camp and the men ask for our return. We preach the Gospel to them, the whole Gospel, not only the Gospel of love to God but also that of love for our neighbor. The need is great for more workers. Many camps are totally without any religious services.

Have enjoyed and appreciated the hearty co-operation of the District Superintendents and Pastors during the year.

With three workers now in the field we expect to put in operation a program of Christian service to the end that these neglected men of the woods shall become Christ's men. We ask the prayers of the Church for this worthy task.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBT. C. HARTLEY,

CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

Eighty-one Conference Evangelists appointed by the Methodist Episcopal Church to special evangelism are presenting their first annual report to their several annual conferences. They are therefore more embarrassed than their District Superintendents; they have no copy.

After receiving the call of the Lord to devote my time wholly to evangelism, I waited four years in prayer and consecration, making sure that my convictions were abiding, before asking the church for this appointment. I have had one year to test my convictions and am sure the Lord has set me apart unto this work.

We have been engaged in seventeen evangelistic meetings, all but three of which have been held in the Bellingham District. More than three hundred have been converted, as many more entered joyfully the experience of entire sanctification. There have been special meetings for the children with evidence of good results; I have made no record of the responses in such meetings, indeed I am uncertain as to the extent of their value.

Larger results are secured among the youth where the Junior League and the Intermediate League is being maintained than elsewhere. Without these organizations it is difficult to evangelize the youth at all. A very large per cent of the Sunday School scholars under sixteen years of age seldom ever hear a sermon from pastor or evangelist except where they are especially organized to do so. Where the Boy Scouts or Campfire Girls are under Spirit filled leaders revival results are good, otherwise the reverse is manifest. One entire camp of girls was converted and some sanctified during one series of meetings; their leader was enjoying the fullness of the blessing.

We have found the best organization of the young where graduates of our Deaconess training school reside. It is worthy of notice that the work of our deaconess school is of such a high order that the services of the entire faculty is employed by one of the large interdenominational camp meetings to care for the youth that come there.

We have preached three hundred and eighty times during the year, have been continuously engaged in meetings, have entered every open door where it was possible to adjust the time.

The Lord has permitted no unfruitful meetings. His assurance: "I have chosen you and ordained you that you should go and bring forth fruit" has been universally verified.

We have received $1,450.00 for our support; this is less than that paid us when in the pastorate. At times we were fearful lest our necessities should not be supplied, but our fears were groundless. The Lord was our support. Our hope has been with the Psalmist: "Trust in the Lord and do good so shalt thou dwell in the land and verily thou shalt be fed."

The Gospel was preached from nearly every book in the Bible and the Holy Spirit certified to their credibility. Every promise has answered back to our trust, "we are all here; do thy self no harm."

We have felt the burden of souls, the distress of the Church and the sorrows of the Cross. The year has been one of toil and sacrifice; having no pulpit of our own, yet always preaching. No sheep, yet always feeding the flock. Ever homeless yet never without a home. Without salary yet always supported. We have gone on our way sharing the fine courtesies of the brethren, weeping with the sower and rejoicing with the reaper, filled with His glory and singing His praises.

Respectfully submitted,
W. E. COX.

AUDITING

We, the Auditing Committee, respectfully report that the books of the District Superintendents and the accounts of the Secretary, Treasurer and Registrar have been examined and found correct.

B. WADDINGTON, Chairman,
C. E. SANDERS, Secretary.

BENEVOLENCES

We recommend as a program on Centenary Conservation and Advance the following:

FIRST—We agree to give more careful attention to the list of subscribers and collection of money. At the beginning of the new year to check over the same and receive subscriptions from each family not represented on the list. This work should be given attention at the end of each quarter and statements sent out to those in arrears.

SECOND—That we observe the second Sunday in November as Centenary Sunday and present to the people the vital things already accomplished by the Centenary, together with the outstanding needs, and that this be followed up by instruction in the Sunday School and midweek meetings and an occasional sermon during the year on some phase of the Centenary program.

THIRD—That we put on a Stewardship Campaign at as early an hour in the fall as circumstances will permit, and endeavor to make a large increase in the number of tithers.

FIFTH—That the District Superintendent at the First Quarterly Conference of each charge inquire carefully concerning the status of the Centenary and do all in their power to stimulate the same.

SIXTH—That our goal during the year be 100 per cent payment on the amounts due on Centenary Subscriptions, and that an hour be set aside as "Centenary Hour" on the second forenoon of the Conference session next year.

SEVENTH—That we further recommend that we, the Ministers of the Puget Sound Conference, seek to place the Pacific Christian Advocate in every home, for the purpose of Missionary information and education.

EIGHTH—That we recognize the impossibility of achieving the largest results apart from special emphasis upon the spiritual program of the church, and that we unite in a common endeavor to make the coming Conference year the greatest we have ever known in real spiritualism and material achievement.

C. D. RAREY, Chairman,
F. L. BALDWIN, Secretary.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Epworth League is such an important branch of our church work that we believe it to be necessary to urge all our laymen, irrespective of age, to give hearty support to this organization in all our charges. There are two facts that we wish to call to their attention:

FIRST—We do not receive into active membership of the church as large a number of young people as of children, that are coming into the primary department of our Sunday Schools.

SECOND—It is from the League that a large percentage of the recruits for our official boards, Missionaries, Deaconess work and Ministry come. We therefore believe that this department should be greatly strengthened.

We desire to commend the leaders of our League work for the fine results that are being obtained in summer and mid-winter institutes, in the matter of life service volunteers and tithing. We are indeed gratified that so many of our young people are getting such splendid training.

We wish to make the following nominations for the Epworth League Institute Commission:

Term to Expire 1924—N. D. Pollom, D. W. Frame, P. H. Ashby, J. R. Magee, J. F. Long. Additional 1923—Raymond Rees.

F. C. THOMPSON, Chairman.

SPECIAL CHARITIES

The Washington Children's Home Society under the superintendency of Dr. George A. Sheafe has had a busy year caring for the homeless, dependent and abandoned children. Since its organization it has provided homes for 3820 such children and few days pass without calls for help from some burdened soul. The society co-operates closely with the Juvenile Courts of the State.

During the year great improvements have been made in the Tacoma Receiving Home for Boys and the new building on the Industrial Farm. In Spokane, also, approximately thirty children are housed in a new Receiving Home.

With the changing financial conditions of the country and the expenses entailed by these necessary improvements the year has been a hard one for the Society. We believe this work is worthy of our co-operation and support.

J. M. WILDER, Chairman.

TEMPERANCE, PROHIBITION AND PUBLIC MORALS

We thank God that we have lived to see the day of victory, when the liquor traffic stands convicted by every tribunal and is now an outlaw in the land. Nevertheless, "eternal vigilance" is still "the price of liberty." We, therefore, emphasize the imperative necessity for renewed activity and constant vigilance on the part of the friends of prohibition in State and Nation.

We protest against the use of the motion picture for poisoning the public mind by a fascinating display of crime and licentiousness. We will resist with all the power at our command, the forces that would turn our American Christian Sabbath into a day of business dissipation and commercialized recreation.

It has been unquestionably demonstrated by the rigid test of science that the use of tobacco, and especially cigarettes, brings serious injuries to the body, mind and morals of our youth, and we pledge ourselves to discourage vigorously this destructive habit.

We express our confidence in the leadership and activities of our Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals in the work of reform, and pledge our support to it in its ever widening activities; also to the Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U.

A. J. McKENZIE, Chairman.

RESOLUTIONS

FIRST—Resolved that the Conference express its gratitude to our Presiding Bishop, Wm. O. Shepard for his wise and careful administration of Conference affairs; his brotherly counsels and gracious spirit. We greatly appreciate his messages given during the pastors' hour.

SECOND—That we express our appreciation of the untiring efforts of the Conference Stenographer Mrs. W. M. Keck and Deaconess Clara E. Moore as they have looked after the comfort and welfare of the Conference and especially the work of the former in preparing reports of the Committees.

Our thanks are also due the press of Tacoma for the liberal space they have given in their daily issues to Conference news and particularly the timely articles by Dr. Tittle.

We express our gratitude to Messrs. W. M. Brown, leader of the choir, Mrs. H. V. Davis, church organist, and B. L. Aldrich, conductor of the orchestra for the high class music which has been one of the enjoyable features of the Conference.

To Pastor Marlatt and the members and friends of Mason Church for their generous hospitality shown us during our stay among them; also to Bro. Henwood, the church janitor who at great sacrifice of personal interest gave his entire time to looking after the comfort of the Conference; to Mr. Henry Baker for the use of typewriters, and to the Burroughs Adding Machine Company for office equipment.

We hereby express our appreciation of the presence at our Conference and the able addresses of Dr. G. Bromley Oxman; Dr. Chas. Vermilya of the Frontier Department of the Board of Home Missions; Dr. Edward Laird Mills, editor of our Pacific Christian Advocate; Dr. M. W. Ehnes, of the Board of Education for Negroes; Dr. F. A. Stafford, of the Board of Conference Claimants; Mrs. Matthew Simpson Hughes and Miss Alice Brethorst of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society; Mrs. Wm. O. Shepard, of the Women's Home Missionary Society; Dr. Bert E. Smith, of the Life Service Department; Dr. H. C. Jennings, of the Book Concern and Dr. E. C. Hickman, of the Kimball School of Theology.

EDWARD B. REESE,
Secretary.

Memoirs

ANDREW J. JOSLYN

In the death of Andrew J. Joslyn this Conference lost its last living link with the pioneer days of the Oregon country.

Born in Indiana in 1843 and coming to Oregon in 1850—the family making its home in the very heart of the early settlements, he personally had known the pioneer people and preachers as no one else now of our number.

For the early leaders of our Church in the Old Oregon he had a profound admiration. They were the heroes of his boyhood and their characters, teaching and lives were largely reproduced in him. Who of us that knew H. K. Hines, the silver-tongued evangel, could fail to note his impress on Brother Joslyn.

Entering the Oregon Conference in 1870, when twenty-seven years of age, he gave himself without reserve to the building up of the kingdom of our Lord for forty years. His labors lead him far afield from the sunny plains of Idaho to the frozen tundra of Nome, Alaska.

It stirs one's blood like a trumpet call to merely follow the trail blazed by this hero of the Cross over the Old Oregon and Alaska. Note the way it runs: Walla Walla Circuit, Baker City, Canyon City, Dayton, Boise City, Idaho City, Walla Walla Circuit, Ketchum and Hailey, Astoria, Shoshone, Vancouver, Centralia, Aberdeen, Olympia, Gilman Park, Madison St., Centralia, Montesano, Nome and six years on the Tacoma District when it covered Pierce, Thurston, Mason, Jefferson, Clallam and part of King County.

It will be seen that when Bro. Joslyn began his ministry the Oregon Conference covered Oregon, Washington and Idaho and by the division of territory he became a charter member of both the Columbia River and the Idaho Conference.

Fluent in sermon, faithful in pastoral service, warm in his friendships, zealous in winning men for his Master—who can measure the impact of this man's life for the good of his generation? Verily his works live after him and a multitude rise up to call him blessed.

In 1911 Dr. Joslyn's brethren voted him an honorable retirement and he returned to the scenes of his boyhood home to spend his remaining years. Here he has given much of his service in these recent years and has been greatly honored by pastors and people.

Last Thanksgiving he preached at Canby in the morning and in the afternoon he was badly burned by an explosion of coal oil, which resulted in his death on December 8th, 1920. His parting message was: "Tell the people that the Gospel that I have preached to others so long does not fail me now."

Brother Joslyn is survived by his wife, Mrs. Luella Joslyn, and four daughters: Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Spokane; Mrs. W. T. Sanborne, Ontario, Cal.; Mrs. Lou Evans, Vancouver, Washington; and Mrs. G. F. Johnson, Portland, Oregon.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church, Canby on Saturday, December 11th. The pastor of the Church, Rev. W. Boyd

Moore; preached the sermon, and addresses were made by Rev. E. E. Gilbert, Superintendent of the Salem District and Dr. C. R. Carlos, a former pastor. Other ministers present and taking part in the service were, Rev. Melville T. Wire, Rev. R. E. Myers, and Rev. J. Stanford Moore. The interment was in Lone Fir cemetery, Portland, Oregon.

"Servant of God, well done"
 Thy glorious warfare's past;
 The battle's fought, the race is won,
 And thou are crowned at last.
 With saints enthroned on high,
 Thou dost thy Lord proclaim,
 And still to God salvation cry,
 Salvation to the Lamb.

ELIZA MORRIS

Eliza McClements was born in Belfast, Ireland, August 20th, 1839, and came to the United States at the age of sixteen. On September 19, 1861, at Utica, N. Y., she was married to Rev. Dr. E. E. Morris. This union was blessed with six children, five sons and one daughter. Three of the sons died in their youth. Early in life she was converted and joined the church, and had always been an active and faithful worker. About fifteen years after her marriage she entered into the active work of a minister's wife and helpmate, serving in a number of charges in the states of New York and Pennsylvania. In 1891 she came to the State of Washington, settling in Tacoma. For thirty-one or more years she was queen in the parsonage, sharing in all the arduous tasks of that important place, ever endeavoring to make it home like and pleasant. This was not the limit of her interest, however, for she was in full accord with all the interests of her companion in the great work of the ministry. The Lord had blessed her with a strong constitution and rugged health, knowing very little of sickness for herself. But she had much sickness in her home, and how attentively and lovingly she nursed the afflicted. She survived her husband a little over seventeen months; and her distinguished son, the late Judge George Morris, two years and nine months. Her last sickness lasted little over six weeks. On Sunday morning, December 19, 1920, she slept away to her reward and the rest prepared for her, at the age of 81 years. She is survived by a son, Albert L. Morris, of Denver, Colo., and a daughter, Grace May Cooper, of Seattle; two grandsons, and twin brothers in New York; besides many relatives and a host of friends. A beautiful character, a loving and precious mother, a true friend, a conscientious and devoted Christian, a faithful member and worker of the church, a true sister in Israel has left us.

The funeral services were conducted from the Haven Methodist Church, Seattle, Wash., on Tuesday afternoon December 21st.

The undersigned had charge of the services and was assisted by Dr. George A. Landen, District Superintendent; Rev. B. F. Brooks, Rev. W. H. Leech, and Rev. William Park.

The interment was in the Washelli cemetery.

MARY HOUSTON FAHS

Mrs. R. Z. Fahs: Mary M. Houston was born September 26th, 1848, in a beautiful home on the Ohio river. Nature intended that some of the luxuries of life should be hers, but when deprived of these as a child through war and its resulting circumstances, her spirit was only sweetened and she valued all the more the real things of life. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church when eleven years of age and had served loyally for sixty years. December 27, 1870, she married Rev. R. Z. Fahs and lived to celebrate with him their golden anniversary last December. She entered into the work with him with all her strength, mind, body and soul, teaching in the Sunday School, working with the young people, assisting in the work of the Ladies' Aid and the Missionary Societies. Eight children are hers, five boys and three girls: Chas. H. Fahs, New York City; Mrs. Gertrude Fahs Thomas of Waukegan, Illinois; Mrs. Forrest Casey of Los Angeles; Frederic W. Fahs of Willowbrook, California, and Raymond Z. Fahs of New York City. Three others died in infancy. Two were buried in Illinois and George in Seattle, by whose side her body is resting. A sister Mrs. Anna H. Massey, resides in Tacoma, Washington, another sister Mrs. Helen Van Eman in Temple, Texas. Three brothers, Charles R. and George P. Houston reside in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Joseph G. Houston in Portland, Oregon.

She graduated in the Sunday School Normal Course in 1878 at Chautauqua, New York, and in the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle in its first class in the year 1882, afterwards adding six seals to her diploma.

She served with her husband in the Southern Illinois Conference eighteen years and in the Puget Sound Conference twenty-five years. Together they moved to Los Angeles eight years ago and purchased the home where she died May 27, at the age of seventy-two years, eight months and one day. She had not been able to attend church for the last year but always expected a bulletin of its services and kept a file of them. She believed in God, in the sacredness of the home, in the Bible, in family worship, in the church publications and in the final triumph of righteousness in the earth. Always true, loyal, devoted, self denying, self sacrificing, she gave her very life blood for her children that with their advantages they might serve their generation.

She longed for a few years of life's autumn but often said that May and June were beautiful months to go home. For the last few months she wanted the words of Jesus or of Paul read at family worship. With her "the evening time was light."

Services were held in her honor at Los Angeles. In the funeral services in the First Church Seattle, many former parishioners and friends participated with heartfelt sympathy and with confident assurance that for Sister Fahs there was an abundant entrance and welcome into the glorious company of the saints in light. Doctors George A. Landen, J. P. Marlatt and E. M. Randall, intimate friends through many years, paid fitting tributes to her life so rich and far reaching in genuine service.

W. H. LEECH.

ANNA KEITH SPICKER

Anna Viola Keith was born at Ellsworth, Wisconsin, August 4, 1878, and was taken to her Heavenly home March 23rd, 1921, at Seattle, Wash. She spent the early part of her life at Ellsworth and River Falls, Wis., and received her education at the River Falls State Normal School.

On February 22, 1898, she was married to Vern A. Spicker at Millbank, South Dakota, spending the first seven years of her married life in that state. On December 8, 1904, she was converted at White Rock, South Dakota, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In September, 1905, her husband entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church taking work in the North Dakota Conference. She graced the parsonage and assisted and counselled her husband at For-man, Walhalla, Taylor and Goodrich, North Dakota, at Riverside and Rustin Avenue Churches in Sioux City, Iowa, in the Northwest Iowa Conference, at Highland Park, Ill., in the Rock River Conference, and came to the Puget Sound Conference in the fall of 1915, living at Ilwaco, Washougal, Ridgefield, Snoqualmie and Seattle. She was a talented sweet-spirited and devoted pastor's wife, sharing her husband's joys, sorrows and disappointments, a kind and wise counsellor and an inspiring worker. She made a host of friends everywhere and a great company will arise and call her blessed. She became afflicted in the early spring of 1919, gradually failing in health and strength, losing the use of her lower limbs in December, 1920. She was operated on at the Seattle General Hospital on March 7, 1921, and was found to be suffering from a malignant tumor on the spinal cord, which could not be removed, and she never fully rallied from the operation.

She leaves to mourn her departure, her husband, Rev. Vern A. Spicker, a son, Vern Keith Spicker, both of Seattle, Washington; six brothers and two sisters, John W. Keith of St. Paul, Minn., A. C. Keith of Bruce, Wis., George Keith of Ellsworth, Wis., Will Keith of River Falls, Wis., Marion Keith of Hudson, Wis., Floyd Keith of Menominee, Wis., Mrs. Elmer Comer of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Walter Sturtevant of Minneapolis, Minn.

The world has been enriched by her life and she will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Heaven has been enriched by her entry there. She rests from her labors and her suffering but her work and her influence abide. She could not have chosen a more appropriate season for her departure than holy week, with all its sacred associations and promises of immortality.

The funeral service was held at Seattle on Friday afternoon, March 25th, and was in charge of Dr. Geo. A. Landen, superintendent of the Seattle District, Dr. James E. Crowther, former pastor of First Church, gave the address and Dr. Robert J. Reid, pastor of the Green Lake Church, represented the Seattle Methodist Preachers.

Agnes Nielson Skartvedt, soloist of the Temple Chorus of First Church, sang at the service. Her remains were laid to rest in Washelli cemetery.

FLORENCE REED QUALL

Florence Reed Quall, wife of our brother, Arnt O. Quall, was called to her Heavenly home about sunset April 28, last, at the age of thirty years, one month and 19 days. She was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, where as a girl she attended our old McKendree Sunday School, and was converted in her sixteenth year.

She was married to Rev. Arnt O. Quall when he was pastor at Napoleon, Ohio, and soon came with him to the state of Washington. Together they have served at Laurel, Acme, and, for seven years at Avon. Two years ago she was left an invalid from a very severe attack of influenza, so that she could neither walk or talk well. But when her release came from her last severe sickness she was radiant with a fond anticipation and requested that her funeral text should be from Isaiah 35:6: "Then shall the lame leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing." As the gloom of this great loss came over the home, the bereaved mother, that night, dreamed that she saw her daughter in Heaven, dressed in pure white, singing and walking about, and a great peace broke over the stricken home.

Together with our brother there remain the four children, Velnora, Elvin, Elda, and Florence, Jr., aged 10, 8, 4, and 3 years; also the parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Reed of Acma, Washington, and two sisters and three brothers. There remain many friends who call her blessed. Her great interest in foreign missions and her work in the Whatcom and Skagit County Holiness Associations that claimed her membership brought her enduring ties and abiding friendships.

She had lived at Avon into the seventh year, and after the church had been moved onto the highway and remodeled and beautified, she was the first to be taken there as a way station toward the Heavenly home. There was a very large congregation Sunday, May 1, where there were representatives from all the surrounding country and many of our ministers. The services were in charge of the District Superintendent, assisted by Revs. J. M. Wilder, E. D. White, L. C. Schultz, W. E. Cox, J. Willman, C. E. Todd, and the pallbearers were selected pastors. The interment was in the beautiful cemetery at Mt. Vernon, Washington.

Surely our great founder described the end of so devout a parsonage Methodist when he declared, "Our people die well." We are ever encouraged to hope on with high anticipations of our home in "the house, not made with hands of earth, eternal."

Proceedings of Puget Sound Lay Electoral Conference

Morning Session

The Puget Sound Lay Electoral Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church convened at Mason Church, Tacoma, Friday, September 16th, 1921.

Clint W. Lee of Seattle and E. C. Townsend of Olympia, were elected president and secretary of the temporary organization.

On motion a committee on permanent organization was appointed consisting of P. M. Snyder, of Puyallup; Mrs. Roy W. Glass of Raymond, and Dr. C. L. Holt of Bellingham.

The chair also appointed as Committee on Credentials, F. N. Weyant of Seattle; W. F. Izett of Oak Harbor, and Mrs. Bowman, of Seattle.

The Rev. J. P. Marlatt of the entertaining Church briefly welcomed the delegates on the part of the Church.

P. M. Snyder of the committee on permanent organization reported nominations as follows: For Chairman, Clint W. Lee; for Secretary, Mrs. Alta H. Kennard and the same were duly elected. The permanent officers then took charge of the meeting.

A motion was carried that we listen to the messages which several officers of the Church wished to bring us.

While waiting for the speakers, Arthur Corey of Chehalis, spoke on the need of publicity of the proceedings of the Laymen's Association.

A motion was carried that a Committee on Publicity be appointed. Arthur Corey and P. M. Snyder were named on this committee.

Dr. A. L. Howarth, the Area Secretary of the Centenary, outlined for us the national plan of organization of the Laymen.

The report of the Credentials Committee was accepted and the delegates seated. The seating of any delegates still to come was left in the hands of this committee.

Bishop Shepard then presented the three amendments sent down by the General Conference.

A motion was carried that the Bishop also present the substitute amendment proposed by the Laymen's Association of the Church.

Dr. Edward Laird Mills, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, was called to the front to answer any questions on the four amendments.

The amendments were then voted on with the following results:

On the changing of ratio of representation in the General Conference:

For the amendment.....34

Against the amendment.....35

To change the name of Quarterly Conference to Local Conference:

For the amendment.....62

Against the amendment.....7

On the admission of Laymen to the Annual Conference:

For the amendment.....0

Against the amendment.....61

Dr. Edward Laird Mills was then given the floor and he spoke briefly of the observance of November 6th as Universal Peace Day. He also urged the vital necessity of the increased circulation of the Pacific Christian Advocate.

On motion a Committee on Resolutions was appointed as follows: E. L. Blaine, E. C. Townsend, and Christian Solid.

A motion to adjourn till 1:30 p. m. was carried.

Afternoon Session

The President called the meeting to order promptly at 1:30.

The vote was then taken of the Amended Amendment on the admission of laymen to the General Conference as requested by the National Laymen's Association:

For the Amended Amendment.....	50
Against the Amended Amendment.....	4

Dr. Edward H. Todd, president of the College of Puget Sound, then spoke to us on the plans for that growing institution.

Dr. E. C. Hickman, president of the Kimball School of Theology, Salem, Oregon, made an earnest appeal for the support of this School of the Prophets.

A short session of Prayer led by E. L. Blaine and concluding with the Lord's Prayer was held to ask a special blessing on the work which these brethren were interested in.

Rev. C. E. Preston presented the subject of the Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes' Memorial Church at Edmonds, Washington.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions was adopted.

- 1.—We desire to commend President Harding and the members of our national congress for providing for a conference in Washington to consider the limitation of armament and we sincerely trust that such body will lessen no effort in its attempt to relieve the world from the crushing and un-Christian burden of militarism.

We request Bishop W. O. Shepard, on our behalf, to convey to the President and the senators and congressmen from this state our sentiments in this regard.

In this connection we heartily endorse the plan of the Pacific Christian Advocate for the effective and general observance of November 6, 1921, as Universal Peace Sunday.

- 2.—We report victory in the campaign of the College of Puget Sound for $1,000,000.00 with thankfulness to God and words of appreciation for all who assisted in its success.

We thank the General Education Board for its generous offer of $250,000.00 to the College and pledge our hearty, sympathetic and financial support in the effort to meet the conditions imposed on the College by said Board.

- 3.—We recommend that the second Sunday in November be observed as Centenary Sunday and that there be then presented to our people the vital things already accomplished by the Centenary, together with its outstanding needs; that an effort be made to secure subscriptions from each family not now represented among the contributors, and that this be followed up by instruction in Sunday School, mid-week services and the pulpit during the year on some phase of the Centenary program, especially Christian Stewardship, the needs of the Christian ministry and Life Service.

- 4.—We desire to express our appreciation for the courtesies extended to us by the officers of this church; for those who have appeared before us and addressed us so helplessly.

Respectfully submitted,

E. L. BLAINE.

E. C. TOWNSEND.

CHRISTIAN SOLID.

---

A motion was carried that these Minutes and Besolutions be published in the Journal of the Annual Conference and a collection was taken to defray the expenses of the same amounting to $15.02.

Dr. W. T. Randolph gave a brief message about the work of the Northwest Bible Training School.

A motion was carried that a committee of three of which the President shall be chairman, shall prepare a program for the next annual meeting of the Conference Laymen's Association and also present a request for a joint meeting with the ministers on Friday afternoon of Conference week. Arthur Corey and Professor Hanawalt were elected as the other two members of the committee.

A motion was carried that this committee draw on the treasury for any necessary expenses.

By common consent the Minutes were to be corrected by the chairman and published without reading.

A motion was carried that the action taken in regard to the organization of the Laymen's Association be laid before the Bishop at this Conference by the President.

The Lay Electoral Conference then adjourned.

ALTA H. KENNARD,
Secretary.

DREW THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY and COLLEGE OF MISSIONS

A graduate institution for the scientific study of all the theological disciplines in preparation for the Christian ministry.

For the professional training of men and women for Christian services in home and foreign fields, offering special opportunities to college and university graduates.

The charter granted by the State of New Jersey empowers it to exercise all the rights, prerogatives and powers of a University, and the Trustees and Faculty are now seeking to develop a THEOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY.

In connection with the Theological Seminary, and in cooperation with the Board of Foreign Missions and the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, a COLLEGE OF MISSIONS has been established with sixteen regular professors, instructors and lecturers.

In the Theological Seminary courses are offered leading to the Degrees of Bachelor of Divinity, Master of Theology, and Doctor of Theology.

In the College of Missions courses leading to the Degree of Master of Arts, and in affiliation with Columbia and New York Universities the most extensive courses in America leading to the Degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy.

The Trustees have entered upon a campaign for TWO MILLION DOLLARS, imperatively needed at once, and for an additional Three Millions for Development. Somebody must pay for what the Church expects Drew to give its students practically without cost to them.

Fifty-Sixth Year Begins September 27, 1922

Reports of District Superintendents

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

George W. Frame, Superintendent

This has been a new, strange year, and full of interest. For 27 years I have been coming up to this conference, meeting the brethren and singing, "And are we yet alive," but the familiar words have a new and deeper meaning now. I count myself happy to have had the high privilege of another year of service with you in the Church of Christ, and for which I give to God the gratitude of my heart.

By nature and training a pastor, never of my own choosing would I have made any change. However, I have come, through the experiences of the year, to appreciate as never before the polity, purpose and unprecedented opportunities of the great church in which we serve, and the joy of fellowship and team-work with the brethren of the district. There is an immense amount of high-class enjoyment in just living and being sacrificial co-laborers with the good God.

Owing to the efficient organization and kindly assistance of my worthy predecessor, Dr. Canse, the difficulties which naturally beset a stranger on the district were somewhat relieved. Every charge on the district was supplied with a pastor at the close of the last conference, and the personnel has remained the same, with two exceptions. Franklin Van Gorder, who was appointed to Wiser Lake and Laural gave up the work after a month's service, and the charge was supplied very acceptably by C. B. Sears, in addition to his work at Silver Beach, to which he had been appointed. A. H. Carlson asked to be relieved of the work at Langley at the end of the first quarter, desiring to go to the Swedish Conference. H. G. Schmid, former pastor of the First German Church, Seattle, was secured as supply. He has rendered good service, and we regret that the support is not sufficient to enable him to remain for another year.

Early in the year our pastor at Eureka, Bellingham, H. E. Bashor, took unto himself a wife, the wisdom of which is evidenced by the increased clamoring since that time for his return for another year. Most heartily do we welcome these noble wives to the fellowship of the Methodist ministry.

With the coming of the Spring there came to the Port Angeles parsonage a beautiful flower from Heaven to brighten the home of brother and sister J. H. Norton. A little girl, and the only baby coming to the parsonage homes of the district this year.

The Angel of Death has entered but one parsonage home. Willard Galbraith, a worthy son of our beloved and efficient assistant secretary, B. N. Galbraith, was drowned in the turbid waters of the Sauk river, while in the discharge of his duty as a forest ranger for the government. He was a favorite and leader among the young people of Oak Harbor, and the whole community was deeply shocked and grieved over his tragic and untimely death. Brother Galbraith and family have the sympathies of this entire conference in this trying hour of bereavement.

Under present financial conditions on the Bellingham District there could not well be a large improvement program, but despite adverse conditions, the total amount of building and improvements for the year is about $15,000. Blaine has erected a new nine-room home for its pastor, which when completed will be worth $3,500. A fine achievement for the people of Blaine at this time. Everett, under the wise direction and gracious ministrations of Dr. Reid, has purchased a beautiful modern home for the pastor, at a cost of $6,000, which is a credit to this important and growing church. Garden Street, Bellingham, has improved its fine, commodious plant to the amount of $1,000. When basement and gymnasium of this church are completed, there will be no more desirable church home in the Northwest. Other charges making material improvements are: Custer, $515; Arlington, $250; Blanchard, $200; Anacortess, $100; Hamilton, $100; LaConner, $125; Port Townsend, $250; Port Angeles, $50; Sequim, $400; Monroe, $75; Nooksack, $85; Snohomish, $112; Stanwood, $140; Sultan, $650; Mt. Vernon, $300; Avon, $100; Chimacum, $75; Lynden, $175.

The total indebtedness of the district is near $30,000. On this there has been paid during the year, something over $4,500.

Money on Centenary subscriptions has come in very slowly in most of the churches. The district is largely agricultural, with many poultry farms. These have been seriously affected by the long drouth and low prices. While financial conditions are very much more depressing than last year, we have been striving to prevent a decrease in payment of Centenary money. Whether we have succeeded or not, the statistics will show. On the 1st of August, 1922, 76½ per cent of the amount due on Centenary subscriptions was paid. Many churches are in desperate "straits betwixt two, having a desire to be loyal to their pledges and to the church, and pay 100 per cent of the Centenary subscriptions; yet, to save the local church and property from dismemberment and deterioration is more needful, perhaps, not only for their own sake, but for the sake of the whole church. They feel they cannot do both. The danger is that some may use this dilemma as an excuse for doing neither.

There are 45 Sunday Schools on the district, most of which have been doing good work. We have stressed the value and importance of this work in every quarterly conference. We are confident the pastors will report some gain. Thirty-one Epworth Leagues are valuable helpers to the pastors in interesting young people in the church, leading them to Christ and training them in Christian service. The Annual Epworth League District Convention was held at Burlington in June. It was well attended, and greatly heartened all present for further service. The young people of the Bellingham District have never gotten fully into the Institute game at Redondo, but we give warning now, look out for next year!

The women's organizations of the church have been zealous in good works. Thirty-six Ladies' Aid Societies have raised and disbursed over $9,000; being in several instances the deciding factor between the closing of the church, and the keeping open its doors for ministrations of mercy and salvation. Excellent as is this record, there is one thing better, viz. for every member of the church to practice and enjoy Christian stewardship.

Both of the womens' missionary societies are doing good work in assisting to carry out the Great Commission to take the Gospel to every creature in every land. It appears that the women learned long ago from Ruth how to glean. Hard times, or good times, they come up smiling with the money and the prayers.

Evangelism—personal, special and continuous—has been emphasized throughout the year. The vital element of Methodism, as well as Christianity itself, is in the "new creature in Christ Jesus." None too soon did the leaders of our church call for the evangelistic note to be sounded anew. Giving of money, and responding from a sense of duty to calls for service—commendable as these are—can never take the place of "the broken and contrite heart." It has been truly said, "The chief danger confronting the church today, is religion without the Holy Spirit, Christianity without Christ, peace without pardon, forgiveness without repentance, salvation without regeneration, government without God and Heaven without Hell." If Methodism should ever put more emphasis on a new church than on a new born soul, and display more interest in college degrees than in the degrees of Christian Grace possessed, "Ichabod" will be written over her doors. We must have both, but in proper order and emphasis.

A large number of the churches held special evangelistic services during the year, and some of them were greatly blessed of God. This was especially true of Burlington, where pastor and people conducted their own meetings; Oak Harbor and Port Townsend, where our District Superintendent of Alaska, J. T. McQueen, was the able evangelist in assisting the pastor; Sedro-Wooley, and Eureka, Bellingham, where gracious meetings were conducted by our Conference Evangelist, W. E. Cox. The Annual Camp Meeting at Ferndale was a source of great spiritual uplift to many of our families and the conversion of a number of precious souls. The preaching was of high order, and the meetings conducted in an excellent manner by the President, Rev. W. M. Dews.

Garden Street church, without a special series of meetings, received during Easter week a large number of preparatory members from the Sunday School and church constituency. The work was accomplished through personal efforts of Sunday School teachers, the special assistant, Mrs. Middleton, and the wise planning and the unwearied labors of the zealous and popular pastor. The membership of this church is now well over the thousand mark. Its situation in a growing city, near one of the largest normal schools in the West, with an attendance of over 1,300 students, makes it one of the great strategic churches of Methodism for the extension of the Kingdom of our Lord.

The increase of membership on the district—if pastors do not use the scalpel too freely on the records—should be near 300.

The Nooksack Indian Mission, under the faithful and wise administration of B. V. Bradshaw and wife, has enlarged its borders to include the Indian work of the whole district. A good work has been opened up at Deming and at Tulalip; the Government Indian School being located at the latter place, and where the Woman's Home Missionary Society are contemplating the erection of a substantial building for their work. Social phases of the work are being developed as never before. Brother Bradshaw is in great need of more assistance, which could be secured, if we had the money.

Six Group Conferences were held over the district just before Easter, carrying the messages of the Detroit and Northwest Conferences to the local churches. Our Conference Sunday School Superintendent, J. M. Weaver, with a staff of efficient helpers, co-operated in the program. This proved to be a happy combination, and the meetings were very enjoyable and helpful. Dr. Magee and Mr. Malone rendered invaluable service in these conferences.

In closing, I may add, I have tried, in the discharge of the duties of the office to keep all the interests of the church in mind, without making any a hobby. Our educational institutions, the church literature, and especially our splendid Pacific Christian Advocate, have been continuously kept before our people.

I have traveled over 10,000 miles, preached 132 sermons, held three quarterly conferences on every charge except two, making 110 in all, assisted pastors in three special evangelistic meetings, about ten days each, and written many hundreds of letters.

The district is large, comprising seven counties; all the territory North of the King county line to the Canadian border, and from the top of the Cascade Mountains to the sea. It has some of the richest farm lands in the world. A tract 45 miles long and 25 miles wide can be found within the bounds of the Bellingham district which has more productive power than all the Empire of Japan, 180 bushels of oats, 117 bushels of wheat, six tons of hay to the acre. Whatcom county is the banner county of the state for poultry. Many large saw mills are running night and day, cutting up the finest timber that ever grew in "God's Great Out-Doors." But what interests us is that in the midst of all this riches there are 24 little struggling churches which cannot support themselves without missionary money. Here lies the responsibility and opportunity of our great church. It must keep pace with this material development, or blessings will be turned to curses. While I have said nothing about plans for another year, be sure I have some deep convictions about this work, and a few plans for its execution, but I shall not proclaim them now. It has been said, "Young people tell what they are doing, old people tell what they have done, fools tell what they are going to do," so I desist.

These faithful men of the Bellingham District, every one of whom deserves personal mention, have kept courageously at their task; some of them at great sacrifice, led on by still more self-sacrificing wives. And the same can be truly said of many of the noble laymen among whom they labor. I could not ask, or ever hope to receive any finer courtesy, or considerate kindness than I have enjoyed from preachers and laity alike, for which I am profoundly thankful, both to them and the good Father of us all, by whose power, and in whose fellowship we live and love and labor.

SEATTLE DISTRICT

George A. Landen, Superintendent

In presenting this my eighth annual report of the work on the Seattle district, I desire to acknowledge the unflinching goodness of God for continued health and strength to do His work.

No very serious illness has visited the parsonage homes during the year. At this writing, Rev. James Clulow, our pastor at Lakeside, is seriously ill at the Seattle General Hospital with little hope of his recovery.

In the early part of the year a flower blossomed in the home of Brother and Sister Geoghegan for a day and then was transplanted to the Garden of God.

Rev. Nathan Evans, a retired member of the Columbia River conference, has supplied Sixty-second Street church for several years and was re-appointed last conference but declining health soon made it necessary for him to relinquish the work and after a few months of illness, he left us for the Heavenly home. Brother Evans was a good preacher, a quiet, faithful shepherd of the flock, a loyal brother, a true man of God and was greatly beloved by his brethren.

Rev. J. H. McIntosh, a retired member of the Detroit Conference, who has resided in Seattle for a number of years, went to his reward last October. He was a regular attendant upon our preachers' meeting and an active participant in its proceedings and very helpful in his criticisms and suggestions and we all enjoyed his fellowship. He was gentle and kind to every one and is greatly missed from our midst.

Redmond was left to be supplied and remained without a pastor till about the middle of the year when R. J. Allen, a local preacher, was placed in charge. He has labored so successfully that they are asking for his return for next year. We have a good Sunday School and Epworth League but very few Methodist members at this point.

Joseph Olsen was appointed as supply at Shaw Memorial but the first of March, for personal reasons, found it necessary to give up the charge and Earl Lee, a young local preacher, has supplied the latter half of the year.

R. W. Maulden, a student in the State University, was secured to take the place of Brother Evans at Sixty-second Street, and has done good service and the people desire his return.

The new church at Bremerton has been completed at a cost of $106,000, and is a magnificent church plant. It was formally dedicated by Bishop Shepard the second day in June.

Much credit is due the pastor, Dr. LaViolette, for the way he has handled this difficult task during the past year. We all appreciate the splendid help and cooperation of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, especially the sympathetic interest of Doctors Forsyth and McDowell and their prompt action in coming to our relief when a real crisis confronted the enterprise.

I wish the church generally could understand and appreciate our position and responsibility to the tens of thousands of sailor lads that come and go from this naval station. We must do our best to care for this situation.

Under the auspices of our City Union and the direct supervision and wise management of its Executive Secretary, W. H. Leech, a church has been erected in a growing community north of the city valued at $2,500.

A new parsonage is under construction at Snoqualmie to cost $2,600.

Madison Street has expended $700 in remodeling and decorating the basement of the church.

The first unit of the proposed new church at Woodland Park is under construction and if funds were available could soon be made ready for service. It will cost when completed about $18,000 and afford ample room for a larger and more efficient program. The pastor, R. S. Rees and the building committee are seeking to so manage the enterprise that no debt will be contracted that is not covered by good subscriptions.

The financial stringency and the unemployment situation has made it difficult to meet all our obligations and make any considerable advance this year.

Gilman Park has been embarrassed by debt for many years but by heroic efforts and some assistance from the other churches of the city, the debt has been paid and the mortgage burned amid the rejoicings of the people.

First church has paid $3,000 on its debt this year and Green Lake has paid a small amount.

Special meetings were conducted by most of the pastors during the pre-Easter period with very satisfactory results. First church led with 152 additions, Green Lake, 74, University, 58, Queen Anne, 34, while nearly all the churches in the district reported some additions.

Brother Cain of Haven church was assisted by Evangelist Cox in a two weeks' meeting which was helpful to the church membership and added a few members to the church.

Dr. Sulliger at Kent had the assistance of Evangelist Goff in a meeting that was fraught with good results in the way of conversions and additions to the church.

I do not have the latest reports from the charges but the indications are that if there is not more than the usual pruning of church records, that we will have a good increase in membership.

In view of the fact that a recent article in the Advocate might lead to some misunderstanding in regard to Seattle Methodism, I desire to give some figures for the past decade. In 1912 we reported a membership in the city of full members of 4,837 and in 1921, 6,499, a gain of 1,662, or nearly 33 1-3 per cent. In 1912 the Sunday School enrollment was 5,792 and in 1921 it was 7,253, an increase of 1,461. In 1912 the total for all Disciplinary Benevolences was $123,677, while in 1921 it was $40,950, an increase of $28,583. Seattle Methodism has not made as rapid progress as most of us would like to see but it has not been on the decline.

In August, Evangelist Robt. Brymer of the Oregon conference, assisted Pastor Beatty at Fall City in meetings with 25 professing conversion.

The Sunday Schools will not show large increase in enrollment, but I believe a better average attendance has been maintained, and am sure much more efficient work is being done. The summer school at Tacoma was not largely attended from our district, but those that availed themselves of the opportunity were greatly helped.

The Epworth and Junior Leagues may not show increase in membership, but under the leadership of the District Cabinet good work has been done. In order to bridge over the gap between the Senior and Junior leagues, High School leagues have been organized in several of the churches and they are proving very satisfactory. The Epworth League Institute was well attended and was one of the best we have ever had.

The Ladies' Aid societies have called on hundreds of families and relieved the needs of many and raised approximately $15,000 to aid in the financial support of the churches.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies have not only as usual raised their apportionments, but have disseminated missionary intelligence and intensified missionary zeal. These societies suffered a great loss this year in the death of Miss Alice Brown, of our First church, a woman of deep personal piety, holy zeal, untiring efforts and unusual gifts for personal service.

The Northwest Training School, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Fogle has had a prosperous year and graduated the largest class in the history of the school. We were favored at our commencement in having with us Dr. Howell, the General Secretary of the Deaconess Board, and several members of the Board and were highly favored in having as our speaker that evening, Bishop Burns.

The Seattle District is back of the College of Puget Sound and rejoices in its success and we desire to assure Dr. Todd that he can depend on us in the coming canvass for $250,000, to meet the challenge of the General Education Board.

The time may not have come for the organization of our Wesley Foundation, but to more adequately care for the Methodist students in the University we are remodeling one of the residences on the land purchased by our Home Missionary Board so as to take care of the religious, social and recreational needs of those under our care.

The Deaconess Settlement has had a good year with the discreet management of Miss Howland. The calls upon the sick and the personal service rendered the needy have been helpful factors. Nutrition and baby clinics have been very successfully carried on with the co-operation and assistance of the city health department. Boys' and girls' clubs, industrial and week-day schools have been carried on during the year with good attendance and much interest. Though our force is small and our buildings and equipment wholly inadequate splendid service is being rendered.

The Seattle General Hospital, a Methodist institution, operated by our Deaconess Association, has continued to serve the people in a splendid way. Miss Evelyn Hall is the superintendent and to her is largely due the successful work of this hospital.

One of the best if not the best helper of every pastor is the Pacific Christian Advocate and we have done our best to increase its circulation. Seattle District should have not less than 1,000 subscribers. We congratulate Dr. Mills on giving us a live paper and we pledge him our hearty support, in making the Pacific the best of the Advocate family.

Vacation Bible schools were conducted for three weeks in July at Haven church, assisted by First, Gilman Park, Queen Anne, University, the Settlement and Bremerton with an enrollment of over 600. The influence of these schools was so wholesome and the interest so marked that I am sure more schools will be carried on next year.

Seattle district, like other sections of the country, has suffered from the financial depression. Many men have been out of work much of the year and have been unable to meet their pledges. Others, possibly, have not been as interested as they might have been. It has not been easy to make collections. We are not, therefore, expecting 100 per cent payment, but I do not believe we will fall much if any below last year's payment. I do feel, however, that there ought to be more diligence in the "every member" canvass than hitherto shown. We will continue to show shrinkage in collections if the yearly canvass is not faithfully carried on. We will try to raise our share of the two million shortage asked for by the Boards.

In closing, I should be glad to speak of every pastor by name and tell of their individual struggles and triumphs but time forbids. It has been a year of hard toil and more than usual difficulties but the pastors have been devoted and loyal and many of our members have had to make sacrifices that the work of the Kingdom might be advanced. To both preachers and laymen I desire to express my appreciation of their kindness and consideration of me and mine and pray God's blessing upon all.

D. Roland Martin, Superintendent

The work of another year is ended. Not all we had hoped and dreamed has been accomplished. That there has been progress made in the building of the Kingdom there can be no doubt. Not all the results of the years work can be tabulated. Many fine and beautiful services have been rendered by pastors and laymen—the results of which will not be known until the "books are opened" in that fairer land.

During the year the death angel has entered four of our homes. January 11th, Mary Elizabeth, the young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Gebert, passed away after a few weeks of illness. After several months of suffering the wife of Dr. D. G. LeSourd welcomed the messenger who gave her release from the frail earthly tabernacle and ushered her into her eternal home. May 30th, Miss Mildred Brooks, only daughter of Dr. B. F. Brooks, passed to her reward. Rev. C. N. Goulder, a retired member of the conference, passed away, September 10th, after many months of suffering. Our profound sympathy goes out to these homes which have been so sorely bereaved.

Soon after our last conference, Bishop Shepard transferred Rev. Norman McCay of the Northwest Iowa Conference to fill the vacancy at Mason church. Brother McCay has had a fine year in this splendid church. We welcome him into the fellowship of our Conference. Rev. James Pascoe, who was supplying at Summit View, asked to be relieved on account of his wife's health. Loyd Burk was appointed to Summit View and F. C. Cocks, a local preacher from Kansas, was secured to fill the vacancy at Morton.

In November the new Community House of Bethany church was dedicated. This building represents an expenditure of about $7,000. It is all paid for except a small debt of $400. This is a real achievement. The Pastor has solicited every dollar which has gone into this plant.

The new Central church was dedicated January 8th, by Bishop Shepard. The cost of this building was $17,500. The basement is not completed. When Dr. Forsyth, secretary of the Home Board, recently looked through the building, he remarked that it was the best church for the money expended that he had seen any place.

Eatonville has expended $3,400 in making over and greatly enlarging their church. They now have a splendid plant in which to serve that community. To the pastor belongs very largely the credit for this splendid achievement.

Grace church has been moved five blocks south to a location which will be much more central to the community they are trying to serve. The moving and improvements made cost $2,000.

A new and more central location has been purchased for a new church and parsonage at Sumner. The corner stone of the new church was laid by the District Superintendent, August 27th. The new church and parsonage will cost $30,000. Great credit is due the pastor for inaugurating this new building program.

A new Community House and Sunday School plant has been started at Trinity. The estimated cost is $6,000.

Centralia has installed new oak pews at a cost of $1,800. This improvement greatly improves the appearance of the church and also makes for the comfort of the people who worship there.

Asbury church has received some much needed improvements in the way of tinting the walls, varnishing all the woodwork, and putting in new carpets. About $450 was expended.

Tumwater has expended $350 in improving their church property. This much needed improvement is now greatly enjoyed by the people. A few hundred dollars spent in making churches more attractive and inviting would be a fine investment for other churches in the district.

The Ladies' Aid societies have rendered a very fine service in many of our churches. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Woman's Home Missionary Society have had a very successful year. The Tacoma Community House under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society has accomplished a great work.

Successful Daily Vacation Bible Schools were held at Epworth, Central, First, and Trinity churches, also at the Tacoma Community House. If our children are to receive religious training, which we are all agreed is one of the crying needs of the day, then our churches must utilize the opportunity offered through Daily Vacation Bible schools and Week Day Schools of Religious Education. The third session of the Summer School of Religious Education was held at the College of Puget Sound, July 25th, to August 3rd. All who attended were enthusiastic in their praise of the school. This is a fine opportunity for the training of our Sunday School workers. We should do everything possible to secure a larger registration for next year.

The College of Puget Sound has had the largest attendance in its history. The prospects are bright for a larger attendance the coming year. The offer of the Rockefeller Board of Education to give $250,000 on endowment on condition that the College raise another $250,000 must be met. All are agreed that it is a very difficult time to raise money for any benevolent cause—but to fail in meeting this challenge would be to lose one of the greatest opportunities which has ever been offered to our college.

The Tacoma district came up to the last conference with 91 per cent of its quota paid to the Centenary, leading all the English speaking districts of the Portland area. From reports I have received from the pastors, about 87 per cent of the district quota will have been paid up to this conference. When we are informed that the total paid by the church at large is only about 60 per cent, I am convinced that the Tacoma district has made a commendable record. However, in some churches the amount paid on the Centenary would have been larger had the matter of collection been looked after in a more diligent way. Epworth, First, Asbury, Mason, St. Paul, Orting, Shelton, and Olympia circuit are over 100 per cent paid on quota.

Because of the economic conditions and in some cases because of a lack of any adequate plan to secure the money, there will be more deficiencies in pastors' salaries than for a number of years. The heart-break of it is that these deficiencies will have to be borne by pastors who sorely need this money to meet the necessities of life. Some of the smaller churches have informed me that they will be compelled to reduce pastors' salaries for the coming year. This situation with the 35 per cent cut on our appropriations from the Centenary, makes the matter of support in our small churches a serious matter.

Our gain in membership as reported to me by the pastors will be about 310. This is a smaller increase than our average for the past five years. More weeks of revival services were conducted by evangelists than in the four preceding years together; yet with a smaller increase in membership. We shall probably have to use some new methods to reach the great mass of unsaved multitudes about us. But we must not let the revival fires die out on Methodist altars. The greatest work of the church is to bring men into Fellowship with Christ. God help us that we may not fail in this, the great objective of the Church. The principles of Jesus when put into practice in business, in politics, in society, in industry, and in all the ramifications of the life of our day, will solve every problem and bring to pass that great day when the Kingdoms of this world have become the Kingdom of the Lord and of His Christ. This is a great day—a particularly challenging day for a preacher with a message.

In conclusion I desire to express my heartfelt thanks to the pastors and laymen of the district for their many kindnesses shown me, and for the fine spirit of cooperation we have had during the year. I could say many fine things about every pastor in the Tacoma district, but time and space forbids.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

Everett Merrill Hill, Superintendent

How fortunate, not only for Methodism, but also for the world, that there ever sojourned on our earth such a "truly catholic spirit as John Wesley. Dr. D. A. Hayes has spoken and written with fascinating interest about the founder of that great movement of which we are so thankful to be a part. Says he: "We rejoice in the American declaration of independence, and we celebrate its signing on every Fourth of July. There is another date in that year 1776 which I recall with equal thanksgiving. On the 3rd of December, 1776, John Wesley wrote in his Journal, 'O, that all men would sit as loose to opinion as I do; that they would think and let think.' That motto is worthy to serve as the Magna Charta of Methodism, and not only of Methodism, but of all Protestant Christianity forevermore. With historic Methodism's program of ministering to life and allowing the credal and theological to take second place it would seem that there was open to her the largest field and opportunity of any religious organization in the entire world. With such an ideal in mind we have attempted to administer Vancouver District during the last twelve months.

My last report covered a total of 40 charges. We are reporting the same number today though a change has been made in the boundaries of three and a new one has been taken on. Malone-Porter was partitioned, Malone becoming a part of the Elma-Malone charge and Porter of the Satsop-Porter organization. Proebstel, which for a number of years has been served from Orchards, was given individual existence and served very acceptably by W. E. Rossman in conjunction with his ranch. Knappton, a milltown near the mouth of the Columbia, through the financial assistance of Mr. P. J. Brix, one of the mill owners, has enjoyed a pastor in the person of J. Thos. Cowley, who was transferred from Ocean Park soon after last Conference. Naselle, a fine farming community some eight miles distant, was made a part of this parish. Ocean Park welcomed a pastor, J. C. Lawrence, from the territory of the Columbia River Conference from whence so many of us hail. He has very effectively served this point along with Bay Center, once a flourishing center of business but now all but a deserted village, along with the passing of the oyster industry, and Oysterville, victim of the same fate which boasted the oldest church in Pacific County until January 29th, 1921, when that unusual tornado that swept down 8 000,000,000 feet of fine standing timber on the Olympic Peninsula, wrecked this church as well. A faithful remnant is struggling to rebuild this church. They should be encouraged in their labor of love.

Chinook was, last fall, left without a pastor at its own request as it was desired to make some necessary material improvements on the church property and the doubtful experiment was made of going without shepherding until this was done. However, all's well that ends well, and having accomplished the desired end the good people of the place are now eager to have their renovated and re-roofed church hold regular services under a duly appointed pastor once more. Two women pastors have this year acceptably served charges who now will seek other work. Mrs. Agnes D. Newell for over two years had faithfully toiled for the good of Trinity church, Aberdeen, where the majority are of foreign parentage. She desires another field though not from any wish for ease. The Board of Home Missions and Church Extension is proposing that a language pastor be installed here. Miss Ruth V. Bollinger, who was appointed to La Center, a three-point circuit, has enthusiastically carried on the work as is evidenced by her walking six miles on Saturday, speaking that night and the next morning first at a chapel and then at a school house, and the next morning walking the six miles back and preaching at La Center that night. The Superior Judge of Clark County desiring to appoint her probation and truancy officer for the city of Vancouver, a position which gives such a rare opportunity for Christian service, I was impelled to release her. She has already taken up this work but is also closing up the year on the charge. We shall watch the developments in this court, where the law and the gospel have met so frankly, with great interest.

Ilwaco presents a unique situation. Fred L. Pedersen has been serving two Methodist Churches and a like number of Presbyterian churches within the town and vicinity and now the whole community is demanding a community church with this brother as pastor. This is a deserved compliment for the excellent fifteen months' work of this young pastor whatever shall come out of the negotiations.

Kalama proposed a federated church, the Congregational pastor making the proposition. The pastor, L. D. Cook, having decided that he would ask for a change at Conference and not desiring to initiate a project he could not complete, and being offered Lakeview in the Oregon Conference, went to that pastorate in June and J. F. Long, associate pastor at Bremerton was brought in to take his place. The Kalama people regretted the untimely loss of their much appreciated pastor but the new man is long on liking folks as well as in name and things have gone on very happily notwithstanding the mid-Conference break. The federated church, however, is still in the doubtful future. Chehalis is at last, after ten years of dreading the plunge, at work on their new church. It is to be of Gothic architecture, brick veneer and will be a thing of beauty. Napavine has improved its church property by an outlay of some $3,500 in labor and cash expended and now has a beautiful place of worship. The pastor, John Place, has not spared himself, working with his own hands for several months to accomplish the worthy end that should give a seating capacity to his growing congregations.

Cosmopolis closes with this year a four-year pastorate under the fine leadership of Erle Howell. When he accepted this pastorate he was single and received but $600 salary. Now he is married and has a beautiful young daughter, a fine new church and parsonage, costing $8,000, purchased from the Presbyterians and rebuilt, a doubled membership and the promise of $1,500 salary and for the first time the missionary money has been eliminated. The Centenary gave $1,200 of this, or at least, granted it, and $900 has already been paid and the rest will be shortly. And all this in a polyglot community of 1,600 people which includes Japanese and Filipinos, a number of whom attend English classes led by the pastor.

A. F. Kline, pastor at Lebam for three years, on account of the serious illness of his wife removed to Southern California the middle of August and is happy in the realization that this move may lengthen his wife's life many years. P. H. Davies, pastor at South Bend for two successful years heard the call of the mountains and has accepted a charge in our presiding Bishop's area, at Baker, Montana.

Three additions to our numbers have brought unbounded joy, Frances Andrews Ecker, born January 30, 1922, in the Elma parsonage; Catharine Jeanette Magwood coming to the logging pastor's home at Aberdeen, February 4, and Kathryn Merle Heist to the parsonage at Aberdeen, April 11.

With the Easter returns came the cheering news that Vancouver District stood at the head of the Area in its Tithe offering and admissions to membership, 603 new members being reported for the year up to that date. But with about 75 per cent of the pastor's reports in hand it looks as though we would fail of the large increase expected because of so many removals. Take the two examples of Vancouver and Montesano because of the changing occupations people have moved away in droves and in the latter place the most of these seem to have been Methodists. But for the tireless work of the pastor, than whom there is not a more faithful exponent of pastoral labor in Methodism, Vancouver church would have shown a decrease instead of a comfortable gain. One point on the district, Kelso, which has been reporting a decrease in membership every year for the past seven years is able to report a gain. But here is a great movement inward occasioned by the establishment of the Long-Bell mill within a mile of the city. This company promises to build a new town upon their large holdings which shall be architecturally, hygienically and, we will pray, religiously one hundred per cent correct. More strength to their arm. The pastor, Erle E. Reisner, has already organized a Methodist class among these new comers who are now dwelling in tents until the new town is constructed.

With the possible exception of one, the pastors have been faithful almost beyond any word of criticism and loyal to the nth degree. It would take a volume to relate their prowess. E. W. Anacker, pastor at East Hoquiam desires to seek a pastorate among another people. I bade him God-speed and trust that he will prove all things and hold fast that which is good, which, perchance, is the more excellent way of love.

On something like a third of the district the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Woman's Home Missionary Society are doing work that is beyond all praise. I would that every charge could or would support one or both of these societies. The Ladies' Aid Society is organized in all but four charges and has, and is, and will continue to be the Martha of the Church without whose consecrated hands many a community would be churchless and some pastors lack for bread. During the Conference year these 36 organizations have raised approximately $5,000.

The Pacific Christian Advocate is better every week and is popular with those who read it, of which there is not as yet the ideal number. Raymond still holds the banner with one Advocate to less than three church members. The brethren who are wise will put still more stress on getting this pastor's assistant more widely circulated.

R. C. Harley as Superintendent of the loggers' and lumbermen's activities with his two associates, H. E. Greening at Raymond and Geo. N. Magwood at Aberdeen, have done admirable work. The impossibility of the Church receiving large return from this work should not blind us to its fundamental necessity.

The Epworth League Institute, held annually at Epworth Heights, is of such superlative importance and value to this Conference that every pastor should arouse himself to a keener realization of its benefits and activity in its behalf. If the young life saved to the Church is the key to the future safety of the race, as most people believe, then such an organization as this should not function limpingly because of the indifference of any large section of the Conference membership. When it is actually realized that with what meagre support so large a program and so great results have been accomplished it would seem that the future should have a different tale to tell. If Vancouver District, the farthest removed from the seat of the Institute, could have a registration of 157 delegates it is proof that there is no limit to the possibilities of good to the entire conference with a comparatively small effort.

The School of Religious Education has a real place in the work of our Conference as has the summer school for rural pastors. This work must be carried on for trained workers in Sunday School and pulpit are a vital necessity. But the time is not far distant when we shall need to correlate our forces and unify our institutions. Too many gatherings in about the same period of time during our short Washington summer can not permanently be carried on to advantage to all concerned.

The College of Puget Sound under the consecrated leadership of Dr. E. H. Todd is going forward in a remarkably successful way but now is the time for us all to lift with him as possibly never before until we are over the last lap of the journey toward endowment and independence. The Kimball School of Theology and the North West Training School fill very necessary gaps in our system but if they are to continue they should be united in both place and personnel and that soon.

The Centenary deserves our unflagging interest and the United Boards our unfailing support, for if we fail here, which please God we shall not, in the largest sense, we fail everywhere. Some way must be found to salvage the $2,000,000 that has leaked from the great subscription bowl. Shall not we pastors and laymen of Vancouver District do our part? By the way Walville has the joy of reporting at this Conference the full five-year apportionment met in full.

While regretting the necessary absence of our Resident Bishop, our friend and brother, W. O. Shepard, we congratulate this Conference on the presidency of Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, whom we welcome with open hearts and minds.

When I was asked if Vancouver would not entertain the Conference, since the brethren were all dressed up and no place to go, I remarked that it was almost an imposition to ask the veteran Conference entertainer, Dr. J. P. Marlatt, our host of last year, to undertake the task, but there seemed nothing else to do. So when this splendid Official Board of this ancient and honorable church voted unanimously to invite this body, Dr. Marlatt undertook the work without the quiver of an eyelid, and I take it, brethren, that he is doing it in a way that commands the highest praise. It was a noble thing to do but we would expect it from this loyal Methodist preacher. And where or how could I better close this report than with this deserved word of recognition of a man who has always and everywhere made good?

Reports of Boards and Standing Committees

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

It is impossible to more than enumerate the educational institutions which look to us, and make a few necessary recommendations. We thank God for the increasing influence of Methodism in the intellectual world. We do not believe we are less spiritual because we are more intellectual. In fact, we believe the broadening influence in our great Church is due to an effectiveness brought about by an intelligent application of our spiritual energies. Our triumphant faith is that man cannot know enough to disturb one iota either the revealed or un-revealed truths of God, nor permanently impede the onward royal march of our Omnipotent Lord.

The General Board of Education of our Denomination has been very energetic in carrying forward the work assigned them by the last General Conference. We commend their leadership and thank God for the results of their activities. In spite of the general financial depression the Children's Day Collection last reported shows a $16,000 gain over the previous year. This fund has through the years aided a total of 29,984 students to an aggregate sum of $3,382,450. What a wonderful achievement. Without it some of our greatest leaders would not have appeared.

Kimball School of Theology has made progress by an increase of from 15 to 25 of regular students in Theology and a much larger increase (from 20 to 70) in the enrollment of Willamette students for special classes. We offer our appreciation of all these gains which can be made in scholastic standards and variety of courses offered. We are glad to learn that for class hours offered Kimball has a less per capita cost of operation than any of our three large Theological schools. The Northwest Training School had a fine year closing last spring with the graduation of the largest class in its history. We believe here also there is an improved intellectual ideal. The women who would do the most effective work among us must have as finely trained minds as the best to be found in our churches.

We regret the Commission appointed to study the field, especially relating to a School of Religious Education, has not progressed very far. We recommend its continuance with the hope that some real progress may be made.

The Commission on Wesley Foundation has held two meetings, appointed sub-committees received their findings and are ready to report. Since that time, however, some new conditions have arisen which makes your Committee on Education doubt the wisdom of presenting that document. Since these new phases appeared there has been no opportunity to arrange another meeting of the Commission. We recommend they be continued for further study of this important work. Until such a report can be presented we approve the appointment of a Committee of five laymen, two of whom shall be members of University Church, and two Professors from the University, who with the Pastor of University Church and the District Superintendent of the Seattle District shall direct the work as their study and judgment shall indicate. We likewise believe they should be authorized to appeal in a quiet way for money to complete the reconstruction and furnishing of the property known as Wesley House and not more than $2,000 additional for maintenance.

The College of Puget Sound is naturally our first love. We must not forget her for the newer ones. Just now she faces a great crisis. At a time when the territory had been pretty well drained the General Education Board answered an appeal previously made and offered $250,000 provided an equal amount could be raised by January 1st, 1923. They further offered $8,500 a year toward the budget while the campaign was on. The significance of this was not altogether in the money promised. The support and co-operation of this great Board is in itself an inestimable asset to the school. To fail to meet their offer would not only mean monetary loss but worse, the withdrawal of the confidence of the General Education Board. We must not fail. A meeting of the Conference Board of Education, composed of laymen and ministers adopted the following memoranda in early summer. "That President Todd and his helpers should attempt to secure pledges of from $75,000 to $100,000 before the session of the Annual Conference." "That the Conference Board of Education should recommend to the Annual Conference to get behind a 30-day campaign, coming about October 15th, to complete the subscription to collect the quarter of a million necessary to meet the conditions of the General Education Board."

These plans have likewise been approved by the Trustees of the College. Dr. Todd and his helpers report $40,000 in actual subscriptions and a will for $15,000. The latter of course will not be accepted in this form by the General Education Board as counting toward the $250,000.

The goal is clear. The journey is hard. But what is a hard road to a hardy people. Our climate, our mountains, our training in this great Northwest and our God all prepare us for hard tasks and unwavering effort. The Rotarians have a motto we should adopt for use. It is four short, but significant words: "Come on. Let's go!"

J. RALPH MAGEE,

Chairman.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE COLLEGE OF PUGET SOUND

The Trustees of the College of Puget Sound, reporting through their chairman, desire to thank their Heavenly Father for all the victories of the past. For the present tasks, still undone, they thank their Heavenly Father. Facing the present opportunities they feel that with these tasks fully accomplished they will be entitled to and avail themselves of a much coveted rest.

The grain is all cut, shocked and the storm is approaching. The call goes out for all hands to rally to just a little more and more earnest work and the harvest will be garnered. Then comes thanksgiving. How thankful we are for past victories! How jubilant we will be when the harvest is in stack, the stack well rounded and the cap sheaf placed, the whole made safe against the future.

Last academic year witnessed the completion of the campaign for $1,000,000 and your trustees were congratulating themselves that a period of rest was at hand. The challenge came from the General Education Board (Rockefeller Foundation). You know what this endorsement has meant to the college. The officers of the General Education Board felt that the permanence of the college demanded a larger endowment. Who will challenge the soundness of their judgment? Believing in the declaration, "If 'twere done, it is well 'twere done quickly," they set December 31st, next, as the limit of time within which the conditions of their challenge must be accepted and met. Some of the work has already been accomplished. The doing of the rest challenges you as well as the trustees of the college. The command is "Forward." If one of you resists the command let him now arise and cry "Retreat," take charge of the deserters and assume full responsibility for his actions.

The past year was the most successful year in the history of our college and the promise is now for an attendance that will tax the capacity of the present buildings. Before another session of your body work will be started on the new buildings and the college will be well up the grade, just ready to look over the crest into the broad vista of an expanding future. What a contrast with the outlook of some years past. Through the faithful devotion of the members of our body, and the conviction that in the providence of God there was a demand for such an institution as our college for the education of young people, Methodism now possesses an institution which will in the years to come prove over and over again the wisdom of its erection. The days of failures have passed. The responsibilities attaching to success are ours.

The completion of the present effort to meet the conditions of the challenge of the General Education Board will end the efforts of the college for a period of at least five years, as the trustees will accept no more challenges until the realization of the present pledges is had. Our conviction is that then the college will have so commended itself to the generous minded that provision for its future needs will be made by unsolicited gifts and bequests. In the meantime let every one do his full duty.

It may be of interest to you to know that the Columbia River Annual Conference has recognized its obligations to one of Methodism's institutions, having opened its doors to our workers and reciting that $150,000 would be a fair amount to be raised within its boundaries, with the distinct understanding that no intensive canvass should be made this year. The amount when raised will help to offset the shrinkage which will inevitably occur in the collection of the pledges on this side of the mountains. I deem it entirely proper that you should assure the Columbia River Conference of your appreciation of their interest in and promised support for the college. This is full evidence of the connectionalism of our church and of the fact that we are but one body of Christians the world around.

May the blessings of God be with you in your deliberations, guiding you to wise conclusions, and to Him shall be all the praise.

Respectfully submitted,

E. L. BLAINE,

Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Consolidation of Educational Institutions

We approve the following action of the special committee which was appointed by the Joint Commission raised by the several conferences of the Northwest last fall to consider the religious educational problems of the territory.

The Committee appointed by the Commission at Spokane, beg to submit the following recommendations:

That Kimball School of Theology and Northwest Training School be consolidated into a school of training for Christian service.

We recommend to the trustees of the two institutions involved that they take steps looking towards this consolidation.

We invite proposals for the location of such consolidated institution from the four Methodist colleges of the Northwest.

We commend the policy of the two institutions already indicated of harmonizing as far as possible their financial appeal, thus avoiding the overlapping of territory, and recommend a continuation of this practice.

We recommend to the Annual Conferences the continuation of this Commission with power to act.

Pending the consummation of the plans for consolidation, each school is encouraged to continue and extend its work on present lines.

Enacted at Seattle, May 15th, 1922.

J. W. DAY,
Secretary.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

This has been an unusually prosperous year for the Deaconess work in the Conference.

The Northwest Training School has had the largest regular attendance and graduated the largest class of its history. The spiritual atmosphere of the Home and School has been most wholesome.

Deaconess Settlement. The Settlement has advanced upon its former high standard of service and enjoys the increased confidence and co-operation of such welfare organizations as the Red Cross, Anti-Tuberculosis League, and has recently been given a place in the Community Chest Fund.

Everett Orphanage. Another year of God's blessing and help has been the record of the Deaconess Children's Home in Everett. This Home receives far more calls for help than it can meet and there is an increasing demand for such institutions in this state. At this time one of the deaconesses, Miss Courtenage, is seriously ill and the prayers of the Conference are requested in her behalf.

Financially each institution is in a thriving condition and the Board appreciates the zealous services of the Field Representative, Rev. W. T. Randolph, for the Seattle Deaconess Home Association. He has given at the request of the Board of Managers, one month of the past year to the Everett Children's Home.

We commend the movement of the General Deaconess Board to secure an endowment fund to provide pensions for retired deaconesses.

The Seattle General Hospital, noted for the excellent service it renders to the public, is to continue under the management of the Seattle Deaconess Home Association. We should not only feel a pride in our hospital but also give it our earnest prayers and hearty co-operation in all its plans for development.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

This Commission was created by the Conference in 1918 and has both laymen and ministers in its membership. It has been continued by each subsequent Conference session. You are familiar with the action of our last Conference which led up to the appointment of Dr. W. H. Baker as the Endowment Secretary and the incorporation of this Commission. Membership in the Puget Sound Conference carries with it membership in the Conference Claimants Commission. Nine trustees were elected, with the expectation that at this session of the Conference some of the ministers would be replaced with laymen.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, July 6, 1922, by-laws were recommended for adoption, and a motion was unanimously carried recommending that the same plan that has been in operation this year for raising funds for the support of the Endowment Secretary and meeting the Incidental Expenses be followed for next year.

The Trustees in a meeting held Sept. 13th, 1922, voted unanimously in favor of taking over the books, assets and property of every kind of the Preachers Aid and Permanent Fund Society the Invested Funds of which shall be kept separate and in trust in accordance with the terms and conditions proposed by the Preachers Aid and Permanent Fund Society so long as there shall be any accredited claimant against the dividends of said fund.

The amounts received to date are: For support of Endowment Secretary, $1,923.45; for Incidental Expenses, $484.34; for Endowment Fund, $440; for Interest, $127.67. Total cash received, $2,975.46.

I have checked over the papers in the hands of the Endowment Secretary and find their total to be: Estate Notes, $7,850; Endowment Subscriptions, $3,060. Total, $10,910. Some of these are but the first fruits which give promise of much larger returns. This corporation has been named in wills, etc., which are not tabulated here.

We have an auspicious start in behalf of the old preacher; his cause is receiving a hearty response from the laity, and we should see to it that this good beginning is carried forward to more adequate fruition.

We nominate as Trustees for term expiring in 1925—T. W. Lane, E. M. Randall, Jacob Siler; for term expiring in 1924—G. F. Hopkins, Frank C. Hart, H. W. Michener; for term expiring 1923—Ben T. Smith, R. H. Schuett, Wm. H. Leech.

We request that W. H. Baker be re-appointed as Endowment Secretary.

T. W. LANE,
President.
WM. H. LEECH,
Secretary.

Endowment Secretary

I wish to say first of all that I have no discouraging report to bring to you today, but one full of encouragement. I have been received cordially and with the greatest good will, and oftentimes as though I had come as a long looked-for messenger to break the news that at last the ONE GREAT CAUSE deserving of the best support of every loyal Methodist and every lover of Good had been launched. And now those who had been instruments by their heroism, genius, and self-sacrifice in laying the foundation of this Great North-West Empire upon the principles of Wesley and the Fathers of Methodism, the men who have "entered into their labors" are at last to receive their just reward.

The first work soon after the adjournment of Conference was the perfecting of a Conference Organization. For this purpose the Committee appointed at the last Conference met at the First Church, Seattle. After consultation it was decided to call the Conference Commission to meet at First Church for the election of officers for the ensuing year. This done and after several meetings by the executive committee Articles of Incorporation were drawn up by this committee, assisted by Mr. Hartge, a lawyer, of Seattle, who gave his services freely and cared for the incorporation, recording, etc., under the laws of the State of Washington.

The first service held and first sermon preached in the interest of the work was in November, at Gilman Park Church and the year closed at Burlington, having preached and presented the work in 31 churches in the Conference from Vancouver to Bellingham, traveling by rail, boat, interurban, and by auto, 4,452 miles. I have collected 77 subscriptions, 44 endowment and 33 estate notes,—amounting to $10,965. Have one bequest of $40,000 and another of $5,000. Also a list of promised subscriptions from 65 ranging from $25 to $25,000; of this number three have promised $1,000 each.

W. H. BAKER.

CONFERENCE COMMISSION ON HOSPITALS

Jesus went about all Galilee teaching and preaching and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. No church can carry forward this, his perfect ministry, that neglects this healing of the sick.

After verbal reports from Mr. T. S. Lippy and Dr. E. M. Randall, respectively, the President and the Executive Secretary of the Seattle General Hospital Association, your commission reports as follows:

We commend the Seattle General Hospital for its 20 years of noteworthy service to the city of Seattle and vicinity; for the large number of nurses trained for public and private nursing, for the unselfish, skillful service rendered in the hospital by many physicians and for the faithful labors of the officers and Board of Trustees.

We would here express our appreciation of the work done by Dr. E. M. Randall in bringing the Seattle General Hospital to the attention of the city in a larger way; for showing the city its deep need of adequate Christian hospital facilities; and for enlisting the interest of many men and organizations in hospital work.

We regret that the Seattle General Hospital Association, incorporated a year ago, has been unable, on account of adverse conditions, to accomplish what it had hoped during the year. We wish that the Christian forces, now in danger of losing the leadership in hospital work thus far accorded them by the City, might find some way by which the compassion and humanitarian sentiments of its citizenship might be directed and crystalized into a Christian hospital adequate to the city's needs.

Owing to the confused and uncertain state of hospital interest in Seattle, we would recommend the appointment, with power, the following Conference Commission on Hospitals to act between sessions of the Conference, the same authorized also to fill any vacancies occurring in its body ad interim:

Rev. Geo. A. Landen; Rev. Chas. A. Bowen; Rev. Norman McCay; Rev. Geo. F. Hopkins; Rev. Geo. V. Fallis; C. W. Lee; L. J. Allen, F. C. Harper; Chas. Miley; Chas. LeSourd.

We further recommend that, in accordance with the Articles of Incorporation, the Conference confirm the following Methodist members of the Board of Trustees of Seattle General Hospital Association:

T. S. Lippy; J. W. Efaw; C. E. Downie; A. S. Elford; E. W. Froude; Nelson Anderson; Mrs. G. F. Brawley; J. S. Long; S. H. Morford, J. B. Murphy; R. E. Stewart; F. N. Weyant; Rev. J. Ralph Magee, Rev. R. J. Reid.

CHAS. A. BOWEN,
Chairman.
ARCH TREMAYNE,
Secretary.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION

The Social Service Commission has centered its efforts during the past year on the promotion of the enlarged activities of the Methodist Federation for Social Service. We were able to send three delegates to the Conference on Christianity and the Economic order, held at Evanston, May 23rd to 25th. In connection with this Conference we are in hearty sympathy with the forward step taken there when an enlarged budget of $15,000 was determined upon and the campaign for memberships on the Federation was undertaken. In accepting the quota of 50 memberships for the Puget Sound Conference, Dr. J. Ralph Magee, T. J. Gambill and A. A. Heist have the endorsement of the Commission and we approve of the proposal to place a secretary in the field.

Within the bounds of the Annual Conference during the past year we have experimented with a circulating library system. Our offer to furnish books for the price of postage, to all who applied, was not as well received as we expected. We have circulated a great many of the more recent books and we stand ready to furnish to the brethren any book which they may apply for.

The contacts made with the representatives of organized labor during the past year have been very gratifying. In accordance with your action at the last session of the Annual Conference the Puget Sound Conference was represented by Fraternal Delegates at the State Federation of Labor Convention and the Convention of the United Mine Workers of America. Your delegates were very kindly and enthusiastically received and were accorded the courtesies of the platform in the midst of busy and important business sessions. We are convinced that this practice should be continued and that wherever possible our Ministerial Unions should elect suitable representatives to the various Central Labor Councils of the State. We have the assurance that such is the desire of the labor leaders of the State and we so recommend.

We hereby commend the action of the Washington A. F. of L., on tabling by an overwhelming vote, a "wet" proposal submitted to that body to support light wines and beers. We concur with them in the statement that "the best interests of organized labor in the future demand that we seek the prestige of the sober manhood and womanhood, rather than the support of selfish interests."

In the face of the present turmoil in the industrial world, with its resultant strikes and lockouts, we wish to reiterate the conviction that all industrial disputes must be settled on the basis of Human Welfare and the pronouncements of Jesus Christ. We believe that the first charge upon any industry is an adequate living wage approximating the American standard, for the toilers in that industry. We are unalterably opposed to the resort to legal or other sophistries and technicalities that deprive either party to a controversy of their Constitutional rights.

With a growing conviction that the Church should give herself increasingly to the defence of those human liberties which have been won under the liberalizing influence of the Gospel, we concur in the recent action of the Colorado Conference in protesting against the violation by citizens and government officials, of those sections of the Constitution guaranteeing the Right of Free Speech and Assembly.

In the name of Justice we call upon President Harding to carefully review the cases of all prisoners held in our Federal Penitentiaries for the violation of the Espionage Act and particularly those being held pending conviction for any crime and if in his judgment the ends of justice have not been fully met, we urge the immediate release of such prisoners.

We call upon the Legislature of the State of Washington to repeal or amend our Anti-Syndicalism law so as to make impossible the imprisonment of men who have not so much as given expression to opposition to Government, much less have committed an overt act.

As Christian citizens, all our churches should proclaim the American principles annunciated by Thomas Jefferson when he said, "If there be any among us who wish to dissolve this Union or to change the Republican form, let them stand undisturbed as monuments of the safety with which errors of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it."

CONFERENCE BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Your Conference Board of Sunday Schools reports the following activities of the years 1921-22:

Two meetings of the Board were held during the year, the first at Seattle, May 16th, when a half-day was given to the transaction of business and the laying of plans for development of the work of the Church educational program. This meeting was attended by Bishop Shepard and all the District Superintendents of the Conference. The second meeting was held at the College of Puget Sound, Tuesday, August 1st. At this meeting, Dr. H. C. Wilson of Chicago, outlined the plans for the Summer School of next year..

The Conference Superintendent of Sunday Schools, in his report, has given a summary of his work. The Board has felt that its chief function was to lend every possible assistance to his work, so that we claim as ours the program of efficiency which he has so successfully conducted.

The Group Schools held throughout the Conference were of especial value in bringing to the local church the new vision of Religious Education.

The Summer School held at the College of Puget Sound under the direction of Dr. H. C. Wilson of Chicago was a notable achievement. The registration for 1922 by districts was as follows: Bellingham District, 21; Seattle District, 35; Tacoma District, 80; Vancouver District, 14; Columbia River Conference, 10; Oregon Conference, 8.

We are glad to report that the financial obligations of this school, while somewhat heavy, have been provided for so that our standing with the Chicago office is assured. For the next year we have been promised the school for two hundred registrations, which is a reduction in cash guarantee of two hundred dollars. We are assured of the same high standard of scholarship which obtained last year. May we point out that this school is not a convention, not a meeting, but a three-session course of College work. We desire that those who register continue for three summers and graduate. We request that the Conference ratify the action of the Board in guaranteeing the two-hundred registrations for the next year. The management of this school is to be entrusted to a commission of twelve, six from the Puget Sound Conference and three each from the Columbia River Conference and the Oregon Conference. We have requested each of these other Conferences to assume twenty-five registrations.

The Board has adopted a constitution and propose to hold regular meetings, conduct institutes and schools of Methods, reaching all of our own schools as well as many of the unchurched communities of the Conference. It will specialize along the lines of extension, standardization, leadership training and vacation Bible schools.

In order to carry out this program of service it will be necessary to have a budget of approximately $1,500 for printing, postage, traveling expenses of volunteer workers, and to assure the Summer School of Religious Education at the College of Puget Sound.

We recommend:

1 That this Conference authorize the Conference Board of Sunday Schools to make an equitable apportionment of this amount to the Sunday Schools of the Conference, and authorize the Board to receive the money contributed by the Sunday Schools and other friends and use it as indicated above.

2. In order to cooperate in the organization of the Council of Religious Education of Western Washington, we recommend that the Conference appoint as members of the Council to represent the Methodist Episcopal Church: Andrew Warner, J. M. Weaver, D. Roland Martin.

3. That the Conference elect as members of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools for the ensuing year the following persons:

The District Superintendents; members at large: J. M. Weaver, Harry E. Wilson, F. C. Thompson, Roy L. Sprague, Harry E. Gardner. Bellingham District—R. J. Reid, H. C. Jenkins. Seattle District—J. Ralph Magee, Harry E. Wilson. Tacoma District—Andrew Warner, N. D. Pollom. Vancouver District—C. A. Bowen, A. T. Flag. That the Conference authorize the Board to fill vacancies between sessions of Conference.

ROY L. SPRAGUE,
Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

This has been a good year, but its activities have required courage of a high order. Perhaps the bravest thing which I did was to discard all of my sermons, written through the years, three-fourths of my library and much of my mental equipment acquired previous to the year A. D., 1914.

Owing to the difficulty in securing pastors for the work already established I did very little extension work except to care for the fields already in hand. There is yet abundant opportunity for the development of new pastoral charges within the bounds of the Puget Sound Conference. But there is little use to attempt this work until there are pastors to care for these needy fields.

Some of the most brilliant achievements in Sunday School extension have been wrought in the Puget Sound conference. Some good pastoral charges have grown out of our work. Valuable church property has been erected, hundreds of members have been added to the churches and Sunday Schools and hundreds of dollars paid to the benevolences. Members have come to the town and city churches from these extension fields. Moreover, the moral tone of entire communities has been lifted to a higher plane.

The splendid achievement of Brother and Sister Gambill at Wilkeson is an example of what can be done in an extension field with the proper approach to the people. Former successful extension methods are as much out of date as the antiquated educational program of the old-time Sunday School.

Much of my time was spent in helping the smaller Sunday Schools to get a vision of the rising tide of Sunday School efficiency. Some truly encouraging results were accomplished.

Institutes and conventions were held making use of our local talent. Those who attended the School for Sunday School Workers at the College of Puget Sound were called into service.

In this way the benefit of this school was brought down to the smallest and most remote charges.

Since last Conference, 22 classes in Leadership Training have been reported, with a total enrollment of 273 people. There are probably not less than 500 Sunday School people engaged in teacher training study in our Conference at this time. Five hundred trained workers will make a big difference in our work within a few years.

Fifteen Bible Classes have been organized during the year in which several hundred people are banded together for better methods of Bible study and more aggressive service for the Master.

In this connection I want to acknowledge the valuable assistance of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools, and especially the help of Dr. Warner and Rev. Roy L. Sprague, President and Secretary of the Board respectively; also the fine work done by Mr. Frank C. Schulz, our Director of Teacher Training.

I assisted in promoting the Daily Vacation Bible School in Seattle. Brother W. H. Leech is really the pioneer of this work in connection with the Deaconess Settlement. This year four schools were held in Seattle with a total enrollment of 406.

Brother Michener at Central Church, Tacoma, had a good school. A number of other Vacation Bible Schools were held throughout the conference of which I have no report. Some splendid work was done. Larger plans for this important department of Christian education are contemplated for next year.

It was my privilege to attend the International Sunday School Convention at Kansas City, in June and participate in the merger of the International Sunday School Association and the Sunday School Council of Evangelical Denominations into the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education.

This merger provides for a 50 per cent representation of the Denominations on the executive Committees and in the management. Otherwise it will affect our method of work in the Puget Sound Conference very little. The Convention went on record as favoring the term "Christian Education" rather than "Religious Education."

It seems the time has come when at last religion and education will unite in the well-balanced development of the future workers of the Church. If Christian Education does not accomplish this it is neither really Christian nor truly educational. There can be no conflict between Christian Experience and Christian Education.

The Methodist Church has always believed in both religion and education. Heretofore they have been too much separated. And now that they are coming together, let us not fear, but make the movement both Christian and Educational.

The big event of the Sunday School work in the Puget Sound Conference is the Summer School for Sunday School Workers conducted by the Board of Sunday Schools at the College of Puget Sound.

The Bible seminary for preachers by Prof. Eisselsen was a great opportunity. For ten days this consecrated Bible scholar poured into the hearts of his hearers the same burning lectures on the "Messianic Hope of the Old Testament" that he gives to his classes at Garrett Biblical Institute.

One hundred and sixty people were enrolled, which was an increase of 45 per cent over last year. For next year we must guarantee 200 registrations at four dollars each.

"The Pacific Christian Advocate" and "Area Bulletin" both gave liberal space to this school, for which we thank the able editors, Dr. Edward Laird Mills and Dr. A. L. Howarth.

At this time I want to commend the Board of Sunday Schools for the fine support it has given the Puget Sound Conference. For thirteen and a half years a field worker has been maintained, when other Conferences were asking for men and were denied because the Board had not sufficient funds. It has sent its own experts, and other leaders in the field of religious education, to our territory repeatedly. Dr. Trenery and other officers of the board have visited our Conference at frequent intervals and in various ways have tried to lead us on to greater efficiency.

In all this the Board has had no "ax to grind." It has spent its energy and money freely. I fear our appreciation and response have not always been adequate. Have we made the most of the opportunities thus afforded? Have the results measured up to what they should have been? That is all the Board asks of us.

It seems to me the time has come when we should take on a measure of self support. We certainly must do so if we expect to reach out into the larger fields and newer forms of service which are opening to us every year.

There are a number of outside organizations coming to our Sunday Schools and members for support. While all of these are probably worthy let us not forget to give our own work the measure of support which it deserves. Will you not encourage your people to remember the home base in making their contributions.

This has been a most encouraging year. A schedule of activities has been prepared for the coming year to which your co-operation is invited.

In closing I want to acknowledge the generous treatment which the Puget Sound Conference has given me and the Board which I have represented.

Bishop Shepard has taken a deep interest in our program and has thus made possible a larger work. The District Superintendents have given very helpful co-operation. The pastors and laymen have taken an interest which has made the work easier.

SUPERVISOR LOGGERS' ACTIVITIES

The work of our Church among the lumber camps and mills within the bounds of this Conference has met with a gratifying response on the part of those to whom we have been privileged to minister in the name of the Master. With three workers giving their whole time to this service our field of operation has been greatly enlarged.

The loggers have responded to the efforts put forth by large attendance at the meetings and by active co-operation in caring for libraries and the distribution of reading matter and in church attendance.

The fact that the Church is taking a real interest in the loggers without hope of pecuniary reward has led many to a more favorable attitude toward Christianity. That the Church cares for them is being more and more appreciated.

Rev. George N. Magwood has under his care the camps of three big operations in Grays Harbor and Mason Counties. The operators have given us their support to our program in general and have been of great assistance to the chaplains in their endeavor to present the claims of the Gospel to all alike.

Brother Magwood has systematically visited his circuit of camps with certain objectives in view and has had the pleasure of realizing that his work has borne fruit. Thousands of magazines have been distributed, circulating libraries have been introduced to camps which hitherto have been deprived of these privileges. There is no longer any ground for the criticism, as far as our camps are concerned, that the men have nothing but I. W. W. literature to read. Ten copies of the Christian Century are making the rounds of the camps. This was made possible through the generosity of some of the laymen of our Church in Aberdeen.

The thrift idea has been emphasized by Brother Magwood with such good effect that on the four days immediately preceding the Fourth of July shut-down, about $15,000 was deposited in the Aberdeen banks by the loggers from the camps which he serves.

Eleven talks were made on citizenship and 39 men took out their first papers.

In the Wynooche and Coats-Fordney camps a circulating library is functioning. This has been made possible through the companies' willingness to assume responsibility for the books. About 1,400 volumes are being circulated in this way. Some of these books are from the State Library and the rest have been donated by the Aberdeen, Hoquiam and Elma city libraries.

Rev. H. E. Greening has done a splendid piece of work in the camps contiguous to Raymond. Being well known in that section he received a hearty welcome on taking up the logging work. He has made 87 visits to camps and given 88 addresses, visited mills 34 times and held two public meetings. Visited hospitals 122 times and made 525 sick calls. Nine injured men have been brought to the hospitals. Four convalescents have been brought to the church and eight have been taken out for a ride in the Gospel flivver. Thirty-two song services have been given for the men in the hospitals and 121 bouquets distributed. Twenty-one thousand magazines have been distributed to camps and hospitals; four compensation blanks filled out for injured men; Brother Greening has had 486 interviews with men personally; three Sunday Schools have been organized with an enrollment of 60; the Sky Pilot appeared before the County Commissioners and secured $20 to pay the fare of a sick man to his family in Oregon; 2,000 printed letterheads were furnished for the men in the hospitals; he accompanied a logger to Olympia to secure adequate compensation for injuries received, and best of all, five people were taken in the Gospel car to Raymond for baptism and reception in the Church.

Through the generosity of friends of the cause a $50 folding organ has been secured which has been of great assistance in furnishing music for the song services in hospitals and camps. Sister Greening is the organist and the loggers much appreciate her musical ability.

One of the experiences that falls to the lot of the Sky Pilot is to give first-aid to the injured. Brother Greening assisted the surgeon in one major operation and Brother Magwood and myself had the privilege of binding up the wounds of one man who had been struck on the head with a falling limb. We walked six miles to the flivver and delivered him to the hospital before midnight. The next time we visited that camp we had a splendid reception. Practically every man in the camp turned out to hear the message.

Personally, I have visited camps and lumber centers in six counties and have made a systematic visitation of a string of camps in Grays Harbor and Mason Counties.

This year the camps have been working at full capacity and the operators have been kept busy trying to keep an adequate supply of loggers at work. There has been no excuse for any man who knows anything at all about logging to be out of work.

Disastrous fires have hindered production and this in addition to the work of ultra radical organizers has restricted the output, resulting in some cases of mills having to close down for a while for lack of logs. Many of the companies have voluntarily raised wages this year, some of them twice. The effort to bring back the nine and ten-hour day on the part of some Red capitalists resulted in a much deserved failure. If the REDS on the opposite ends of the industrial pole could be all gathered together and put on an island far at sea and there be allowed to work out their destiny a better day would dawn for the workers of this world. The cure for economic strife is the application of the ideals of Jesus in the business world and the signs of the times are portentous for the coming of that glad day when "men the wide world o'er shall brithers be for a' that and a' that."

All our workers have kept up the hospital visitation. It is here that we get close to the men. Many of them have no relatives near by and to have someone, even a Sky Pilot, call on them each week is a welcome break in the monotony of hospital life. They eagerly look for the magazines we bring and it is not long until they get over their scare of the preacher.

We are often asked, do the loggers come out to hear you? Yes, they come out and what is more they give us a respectful hearing. We come to them as brothers and when they find that we are there to do them good they will listen to a straight Gospel sermon as attentively as any deacon in the Amen corner and better still, they never go to sleep.

The work is great and large. More camps are being opened up. We could put another man to work in the new camps near Aberdeen but funds are not available. These men are worth saving for God and for America. They are isolated in their toil and are often the prey of designing men when they visit the cities. They look death in the face every day and when they are injured they endure the pain with a fortitude that is admirable.

We find Christians among them, who live the life of Christ in the bunk house. Men can be Christians in a logging camp as is being proved every day. Would that the Church could arise to a sense of her responsibility for these men of the big woods who have problems which they are trying to solve. The men are winning out. They have achieved the eight-hour day as a whole; they have better quarters, better food, better sanitary surroundings and better wages than formerly, but the sad fact is that they had to fight for this which was their just due and their fight is not over by any means. Shall the Church stand idly by while "red" agitators, preaching their doctrine of bloody revolution openly are securing recruits for their standard each day, or shall we back up the loggers in their fight for the common decencies of life. There are still a few operators who allow men to bring their filthy blankets to the camp and herd in closely packed bunk houses, with nothing approaching home-like surroundings. It is conditions like these which give occasion for so much "red" agitation. From a mercenary point of view it is better that the men should be treated like human beings.

I am glad to state that generally when any change is made it is for the better. The more humane class of operators realize that it is to their interests to share some of their profits with their workers, and to this end are building model camps, making them as homelike as possible. May the tribe of such employers increase.

We ask that the Churches of this Conference remember the Sky Pilots in their prayers. Keep the loggers in mind once in a while. They need you as you need them. Let the pastors near logging camps visit them occasionally. Get your Epworth Leagues interested in sending them reading matter and giving them a Song Service at times. You will be well repaid for the effort in the gratitude of the loggers for such ministrations.

District Superintendents and pastors have been kind and helpful. Friends are coming to our help, and more are taking an interest in this field of endeavor. Our aim is to bring these men to accept the Christ and His more abundant life.

ROBT. C. HARTLEY.

FIELD SECRETARY NORTHWEST TRAINING SCHOOL

The Northwest Training School is now 16 years of age, having had, as most religious schools do, a rather hard time to get along. But for the guiding hand and sympathetic oversight of our worthy leader, Dr. Landen, it would have been even worse. I am glad to pass this compliment to our worthy leader, while he is still with us.

The Deaconess Board, of which Dr. Landen is chairman, felt three years ago, that they must have some one to be a field representative of the struggling enterprise, that it might have greater publicity and a larger purse to meet its obligations. I was asked to play that part. Three years ago this Fall I undertook it and it has not been an easy task.

We have, however, secured about $65,000 in more or less good subscriptions, $45,000 of which has actually been paid into the treasury. This has been made up of hundreds of gifts, ranging from a few cents to $1,100. This last named amount represents two scholarships for two years. $500 of this sum is for a memorial room in the institution. There are four of these memorial rooms now. In this sum of $65,000 we now have on our roll 16 scholarships, the largest number by far, we have ever had. A scholarship, remember, means not tuition, as it usually does, but the price of room and board. No student is ever charged tuition. Six of these scholarships are given by folks who are not Methodists.

Now, out of actual cash raised, improvements and repairs, totalling nearly $9000 have been made, the school and all its current bills also paid to date, leaving but one item of indebtedness unpaid, the mortgage handed down to us from the trustees of the old Trinity church. This debt is $1800, bearing 7 percent. The interest is paid promptly twice a year, so that that debt has not grown. On the other hand the association owns three other pieces of property aside from the one it occupies, one of which was a gift, joining our Ronald property and intended as a site for a rest home some time. The other two, one in the Mayfair Addition in Seattle overlooking the canal from Lake Union to the Sound, the other in the Rainier Valley near our Settlement work. These two pieces cost the Association $3000. The property the Home and School occupies is easily worth $20,000 or $25,000. This association, remember, also owns the equipment of the Seattle General Hospital, worth $60,000 and Bed Endowment of $10,000, which hospital is presided over by a most competent woman trained in one of our own deaconess schools.

I feel that a word ought to be said about the faculty—the teachers and officers—those who conduct the school.

Miss Fogle, the principal, is a graduate of the University of Idaho and a training school of Chicago, besides has had several years' experience as a high school teacher.

Miss Foy is a graduate of Albion and of a training school, Wesley hospital, Chicago, and is also an editorial writer.

Miss Black is a daughter of Judge Black of Everett, and aside from her high school work, graduated in our school ten years ago; has a very bright mind and is a splendid teacher.

Miss Jones is practically one of us, for years, graduated from our Chicago Training school; was at one time the principal of our school and filled several years the position of Bible teacher in our hospital in Spokane.

Miss Gleiser is a graduate of Willamette and of our school.

Miss Peterson, our most worthy and efficient matron, is a graduate of the Chicago Training school; matron of the same school; dietitian of the Great Falls Deaconess hospital and superintendent of our Savannah Wesleyan Home of Chicago. Then we have a long list of special part-time instructors and lecturers among whom are our own pastors, bishops and so forth.

The general atmosphere of the school in point of instruction and general activity is most wholesome and delightful. It is, from all I have observed, very conservative. I take it in matters pertaining to the Bible and inspiration, it coincides with the utterances of Dr. Edwards, who so wonderfully moved us in this session of our Conference.

It is one of our regularly endorsed schools under the General Deaconess Board. And now that the local board of our association deems it wise (and I heartily concur) to put a Deaconess into the field in my stead to reduce overhead expenses, I bespeak for her at your hands whoever she may be, the most kindly consideration. If in your church some of your people owe some of the $20,000 now on the books, an announcement once in a while may help them to remember the school by a remittance.

In my rounds over the area members of this and other conferences have treated me most courteously and brotherly. As a result of the appeal God has helped me to make in these pulpits more than 800 young people, a majority of whom for the first time have come forward before the church to be counted as life service recruits for the ministry, deaconesses, missionaries, etc. These scenes, appearing in all sorts of churches, from the humblest to the most elegantly furnished, will ever stand out in my memory as tokens of co-operation with the Master in drawing the young folk to His service, and will gladden my heart thro all eternity.

W. T. RANDOLPH.

CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

Our evangelistic labors have given us a great deal of joy and satisfaction this year. We have been continually engaged except during the month of July, which month was given to personal affairs and to recreation.

We have been employed in the following places. Randle, Marysville, Sumner, Rochester, Sedro-Woolley, Fair Haven-Bellingham, Eureka-Bellingham, Schultus, Haven-Seattle, Banks, Oregon, Oakville and Oakview.

Schultus is a country community near Marysville; a three-roomed school where three sanctified Methodist teachers had charge. We were employed for this meeting by the principal, Miss Margaret Mossford, who both arranged for the meeting and financed it. The meeting at Oakview was a community meeting held under the auspices of the Sunday School union. Sixteen denominations were represented. The Lord graciously honored the word here making this perhaps the most far-reaching meeting of the year. The whole community was deeply stirred, whole families were converted, while Methodists, Baptists, Dunkards, Church of God, Salvation Army folk and all sought and found His sanctifying grace. The other ten meetings were held in our own churches, one in Oregon, and nine in Washington. The meetings at Sumner and Rochester were greatly hindered by snow storms, while the meeting at Haven, Seattle, suffered through the severe sickness of the Pastor. Nevertheless, the Lord was with us, and some fruit was had in each place.

In all we have a good hope that at least three hundred have been converted and as many more sanctified. Inasmuch as we endeavor to keep folk seeking until their experience is witnessed to by the Holy Spirit, it makes it difficult for us to get an accurate count of the number saved, as many come to the mourners' bench several times before they get through.

Through the vageries of his satanic majesty, a few of our dates were cancelled this year, but the Lord overruled to His glory, other more propitious doors opened immediately, so that without loss of time and real gain in opportunity we pressed the battle on.

We have not expected entire sympathy in all of our Bible exposition, from the brethren whom we serve; yet it is gratifying to know that half of the men whose pulpits we have occupied this year have asked us to submit dates for them to consider with their several churches, while two others of those we assisted a year ago have joined in a like request, so that if arrangements can be made satisfactory seven months of our third year as your conference evangelist may be spent assisting those whom we served the first two years of our evangelism.

A copy of John Wesley's notes on the New Testament having fallen into our hands, gave us a coveted opportunity through several days of diligent study to compare notes on New Testament interpretation gave us great pleasure in finding that we were in most happy accord with the founder of the church. We have received $1475 for our support, Sumner holding first place in amounts contributed.

Thanking you for the favor you have granted me in the past and being profoundly convinced the Lord desires my continuance in the work of evangelism, I respectfully request your continued favor that we may work together to the fulfillment of Isaiah's prophesy when every valley shall be exalted and every hill shall be made low.

GOOD-WILL INDUSTRIES

The Good-Will Industries of Tacoma, Washington, were re-organized January 8th, 1922, under the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, after a successful year of independent work in Central Church.

The work has grown steadily from the first, meeting the approval of the whole city, having done a business of over $5000 since January 1st, 1922. About 150 people have found work at different times, as many as 27 working at one time. $1,877.40 has been paid out to handicapped people making it possible for them to have a "Chance, not Charity."

Several homes that were on the point of being broken up because of lack of money and quarrels have been preserved because of the assistance given financially and spiritually through the Good-Will. There have been a half-dozen definite conversions and as many more reclaimed. Several have been saved from immoral lives and hope instilled into more than a score of lives. The morning devotional meeting has been a great blessing for the workers as has also the Monday evening meeting which is evangelistic.

Two thousand, five hundred bags have been placed in homes and it is expected that before another year 10,000 bags will be so placed. Plans are laid for doubling the work this year and the plans for the next ten-year period aggregate $238,500.

Not only are all the Methodist churches assisting in this work, but the cooperation of the various denominations of the city has been secured.

T. W. LANE,

For the Conference Representatives of the Board of Directors.

AUDITING

We, the members of your auditing committee, have, to the best of our ability, examined the books of the various treasurers, secretary, and District Superintendents, and found them correct.

R. A. GAILEY,
Chairman.
C. E. SANDERS,
Secretary.

BENEVOLENCES

We appreciate the careful attention given by the District Superintendents, the faithful work of the pastors, and the response of the laity this year. We regret that the total of this year is $10,000 less than last year. We urge increased effort in cooperation with the present plan of the Committee on Conservation and Advance to meet the Two Million Dollar Emergency Fund; that we may be able to come much nearer the one hundred per cent goal next year.

We recommend: Special emphasis upon prayer; that we may take our benevolence most seriously and see the tragedy of any delinquency in the payment of our Centenary pledges. That the results in our evangelism may be increased. That we try to spread missionary, benevolent and stewardship information in every way possible, and also increasing the subscriptions to our Pacific Advocate.

C. D. RAREY,
Chairman.
E. W. ERICKSON,
Secretary.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Lord has wonderfully blessed the Epworth Leaguers of our Conference during the past year. He has indeed lifted up His Countenance upon us. He has made His face to shine upon us and His peace inspires reverent gratitude. We earnestly believe the last year has been our best.

Consecrated leaders have been doing more than dream. Our mid-winter and summer Institutes have brought direct and splendid results. Epworth Heights has taken its place as a great, constructive agency among our young people. The faculty of this year's Institute has our hearty commendation. We call upon you to continue your interest in this great institution and if you will pray much and intensify your spirit of co-operation we shall realize a wonderful harvest in the consecration of young life for the work of the Kingdom.

We wish to make the following nominations for the Epworth League Institute Commission: Term to expire, 1925—K. L. Haga, E. E. Reisner, J. H. Geoghegan, Fredrick C. Thompson, William Bowman. Additional 1924—Robert C. Hartley.

ERNEST J. BATES,
Chairman.
FREDERICK C. THOMPSON,
Secretary.

FOREIGN SPEAKING PEOPLES

We are glad that our church is awake today, to its responsibilities for, and the possibilities of, work among the foreign-born who have come to our country, and their families; and it is a source of pleasure that we are making an effort to serve these people in their own language, when necessary. However, we deplore the fact that in some small communities Methodism is represented by two or more churches belonging to different Conferences, causing an overlapping in supervision, bringing confusion and loss among the young people. We hope that the various Conferences represented will attempt such co-operation as will overcome these difficulties and at the same time protect the interests of the Kingdom and all parties involved.

We recommend to our churches wherever foreign-speaking peoples are in numbers that an effort be made to give these peoples Christian ideals. We urge every pastor living in such a community to feel responsible for their care, especially the children; and suggest that they form classes in English and in Christian Citizenship and seek to link them up to the Sunday School and Church activities.

We commend to the interest of all our people the work being done at Walville, McCleary, the Community House, Tacoma, Deaconess Settlement, Wilkeson and other places.

We recommend that a committee be appointed to make a survey of the foreign-speaking peoples within the bounds of the Puget Sound Conference, looking toward the best means of approach, and formulate a program for same, said committee to report at the Conference next year.

Chairman.

PUBLICATIONS AND COLLECTIONS

The Methodist Episcopal Church believes that the greatest enterprise in the world is the development, the enrichment, of human life to the full measure of possibility. It is, therefore, committed to the task of saving the whole man. It is going about this in a masterly way. We have an unsurpassed and fearless ministry. Our Christian Universities, Colleges, Secondary Schools, Hospitals and Homes, reform agencies, and our world-wide missionary activities, are backed by a constructive program which challenges the best that is in both minister and layman. But to no one of the multiform activities of our Church can we point with greater pride than the published products of our Book Concern.

While dividends are not the end for which the Book Concern was established, yet out of its profits during these years $6,098,066 have been appropriated for the relief of the necessities of our retired ministers and their dependents by whose sacrifice and devotion the Book Concern has come to its present magnificent proportions. The dividend declared this year for this purpose is $200,000.

Our highest ambition is to furnish the best quality of matter and material in all our publications to our customers at the minimum of cost. We keep a scientific and accurate cost system on which all our prices are based. We call attention to the fact that up to this date there is practically no item worth mentioning in the printing industry respecting which there has been a decrease in cost since the war period save in the item of white paper. Wages are even higher than they were two years ago. Prompted by Christian motives and humanitarian principles we stand for the highest possible wages to our employees, the best possible working conditions, and the shortest number of hours. As a Christian institution we must furnish an example.

To the young people we commend the Epworth Herald, which, under the editorship of Dr. Dan B. Brummitt, is an aggressive and an incalculably valuable exponent of the practical Christian life for which our young people need to be trained.

The Pacific Christian Advocate under the editorial management of that gifted and aggressive Son of the West, the Rev. Edward Laird Mills, D. D., calls for the highest commendation. The Pacific Northwest enjoys a keen satisfaction in words of high praise, spoken and written by high church officials and sister Advocates, of the editorial pages of the Pacific Christian Advocate. We commend the effort soon to be made to raise a fund to put the Advocate in Reading Rooms and public institutions. No greater work could be done than this for the highest success of our Church, now and for the future.

This is a reading age. Books and periodicals literally pour from the press. If we are to be most efficient in the work to which we are called, we must not depend upon the spoken message alone, but more and more upon the printed page. Let us rally to promote the sale and use of our published produce.

E. O. GRIMES.

TEMPERANCE, PROHIBITION AND PUBLIC MORALS

There can never be anything but war, and war to the death between the forces of evil and the armies of the Son of God. May God keep us from the day of anything but uncompromising offensive warfare toward all influences that would destroy or injure mankind.

We must awaken our people to the fact of the unremitting campaign on the part of the friends of booze through the press, magazines, the picture houses and theatres, to restore the saloon and annul the Volstead law. We must constantly expose the refuge of lies, especially that common falsehood that there is more liquor being sold today than in the open saloon.

We recognize the moving picture as having wonderful possibilities for good, but protest against its use for the display of false ideals and its presentation of crime and licentiousness.

We are convinced more and more of the necessity of the worshipful keeping of the Christian Sabbath, and that its desecration is an inestimable loss to nation and people.

We will discourage with all our power the use of narcotics and drugs, it having been unquestionably demonstrated that their use brings serious injury to body, mind and morals.

We deplore the growing disrespect for the authority of the law, and pledge ourselves to teach, preach and uphold those laws which are the very foundation of human society.

We rejoice that Prohibition is embedded in the organic law of the land. We congratulate our board of "Temperance and Public Morals" in their widening influence at home and abroad, and on the beginning of the erection of the new building at the nation's capitol, which will entrench our church and the moral ideals for which it stands in the most influential capitol city of the world.

We express our determination to work with and support with utmost vigor such valuable assistants to the cause of righteousness as, The Board of Temperance and Public Morals; The Anti-Saloon League; and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. And we will not fail to stand watchfully and grimly by the dying bed of John Barleycorn till his last gasp proclaims the fact that he is ready for the grave of oblivion.

A. J. McKENZIE,
Chairman.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the members of the Puget Sound Conference, express our gratitude to the citizens of Vancouver for the splendid hospitality that we have enjoyed during this Conference session. You have received us into your hearts and homes, and many organizations and institutions have extended courtesies and kindness which have made our work lighter and our stay happy.

To the Congregational, Christian and Presbyterian communions we are grateful for the church buildings so kindly placed at our disposal. To the Y. W. C. A. for its splendid and efficient service providing meals, committee and rest rooms and other conveniences, we give thanks and wish them God's richest blessings in their work. To the Telephone Company of Vancouver and the National Bank for providing needed equipment for our work, and to the Vancouver Columbian, for liberal space given to the Conference, we are grateful. We commend the action of the Stuart Poster Advertising Company which has given space without charge on its outside posters advertising the Church's program.

To the Rotarians for the banquet in honor of the Conference, to the American Legion and Chaplain Bronson of the United States Army Barracks for courtesies and generous invitations, we give hearty thanks.

To the "Friendly Men's Class" of this Church, who met the incoming Conference at the train with automobiles. For this splendid service we are deeply grateful.

To the stenographer, Miss Firestone, for her valued services, to the organist, Miss Smith, for leading us in sacred song; to the soloist and song leader, Mr. John Todd, for his rousing leadership, to the choir, who delighted us with their music our thanks are also due.

To the janitor, who made this church so convenient for our use, and given so many and cheerful services, we render hearty thanks.

The Veteran Conference Entertainer, Reverend J. P. Marlatt, and his wife, have been untiring and most cheerful in ministering to our comfort and to the success of the Conference. We owe them a deep debt of gratitude.

We express our gratefulness to everyone who has contributed to make this Conference such a successful one and who has ministered to our comfort and happiness. We shall not soon forget our visit to your city. You have treated us right royally and we fell in love with you at first sight.

We are grateful to the secretary, statistician and treasurer and their assistants who have efficiently and faithfully served the Conference, and to the representatives of the various educational and benevolent enterprises for their revelation of Church expansion and growing needs.

Special thanks are due the Reverend Loren M. Edwards for his soul-stirring evangelistic messages delivered with such clear reason, persuasive power, personal charm and spiritual unction. He will always hold a warm place in our hearts.

And of Bishop Burns, what shall we say? His effective business administration, his brilliant intellect from which thought flows with the ease of the electric current, and from whose lips eloquence streams as a cataract, his lightning wit and playful humor, mingling with pathos like sunshine and rain, all these have won our admiration and given us delight; but his charming and brotherly personality, his gentle consideration, his deep consecration and his love for all the brethren have been so manifest as to evoke the love of all our hearts. If ever again he reads ancient history to our resident Bishop he will find himself canonized among the saints in the Puget Sound Conference records, and sharing with Bishop William O. Shepard the love and honor of the brethren.

A. H. LATHROP.

STATE OF THE CHURCH

It is gratifying to note an increase in church membership of 1,257 and of 1,084 members and 154 officers in the Sunday Schools.

Because the Methodist minister devotes his whole time to the work of the church and the promotion of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ, it is axiomatic in Methodism that a comfortable support inheres in the ministry. It is universally conceded that it is the bounden duty of the churches to provide such support. We appreciate the pronouncement of the Methodist Union of Seattle in declaring for a minimum of support of $1,200 for unmarried ministers and of $1,800 for those who are married. To safeguard the social and religious effectiveness of our ministry we urge our laymen to do all within their power to reach this minimum in every case and to provide this support regularly monthly.

We appreciate the interests our district superintendents and bishop have taken in the matter of increasing the support of the ministry. We urge them to do all in their power, either by extending the boundaries of the pastoral charges by grouping churches in circuits or by other means, to make possible the reaching of this minimum in every case, and a comfortable support for all our ministers. We also urge the training of local preachers and lay workers to assist the pastor in these larger parishes when such are formed. We urge our district superintendents to insist that the committee on estimating the amount necessary for the support of the pastor, after conferring with the pastor, do report that amount, rather than the amount the committee feels the charge can raise.

We believe that the expense entailed in attending the annual Conference is a legitimate item of expense for the local pastoral charge and should be provided for in the budget.

Since there is before the House of Representatives a proposed ARTICLE OF AMENDMENT to the constitution of the United States, providing that:

"No law shall be passed respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, nor shall the National Government, or any State, County, City, Town, Village, or other civil division use its property or credit or any money raised by taxation or otherwise, or authorize either to be used, for the purpose of founding, maintaining, or aiding by appropriation, payment for services, expenses, or in any other manner, other than by remission of taxation, any church, religious denomination or religious society, or any institution, school, society, or undertaking which is wholly or in part under sectarian or ecclesiastical control."

We recommend the following expression be sent to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

BE IT RESOLVED, that we, The Puget Sound Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, do hereby endorse the proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit sectarian appropriations (House J. Res. 159), and urge its immediate passage.

We rejoice in the fact that American philanthropy led by the Church has saved multitudes of the persecuted peoples of the Near East but we view with sorrow their continued sufferings and we respectfully call upon the President of the United States, and the Secretary of State, in so far as it is compatible with public welfare, to use their good offices and to exert every possible moral influence in concert with other major nations to bring about a state of justice to the subject peoples of the Near East, and

We call upon our pastors and officials to assist in developing an intelligent public opinion and conscience with respect to the problems of the persecuted peoples of the Near East.

We urge that the President join with the other nations in the Near East conference about to be held.

We request that a copy of this resolution be sent to John R. Voris, Associate General Secretary, Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York.

ANDREW WARNER,
GEO. W. COOPER.

Memoirs

MRS. E. S. CHAPPELL

The end of a beautiful life came to a close Friday, September 9, 1921, when Mary Chappell, wife of the Rev. E. S. Chappell of Bellingham, Washington, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. A. Joyce, in Hot Springs, Missouri.

Mrs. Chappell had been ill for the greater part of a year and confined to her bed for several months before her translation.

Mary T. Smorthit was born February 2nd, 1855, in Yorkshire, England. On February 25th, 1877, she was married to E. S. Chappell, who with their eight children live to bless her memory.

At the age of 11 years she united with the Methodist Church and throughout her entire life manifested the beauties of a Christian character.

During the ministry of her husband she was ever of the greatest help to him and beloved by their parishioners. One of her sons, Harry E. Chappell, is a member of the Montana Conference.

Funeral Services were held in the Methodist Church at Hot Springs with Rev. R. E. Tarleton and Rev. A. . Janes officiating. The body was laid to rest under the pines in Evergreen Cemetery.

MARGARET REBECCA GRIFFITH

Was born in West Lebanon, Wayne County, Ohio, July 1st, 1852. She went to her heavenly home from Tacoma, Washington, January 2nd, 1922. She spent the most of her life in Clinton, Ohio, where she received her education in the public schools, afterward attending Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio.

She was happily converted in her early teens and at once became an active and useful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Her work was not confined to the little church to which she belonged, but she delighted in visiting the sick, comforting the aged, and in a marked way, caring for orphans.

On June 5th, 1902, in Kansas City, she was married to the Rev. D. G. LeSourd, D. D., who at that time was pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church, Tacoma, Wash. The two motherless children in the home, Mary and Gilbert LeSourd, received from this choice woman of God the love and care of a mother. Mrs LeSourd soon endeared herself to the people of Epworth Church, as she did to the people of Asbury Church, Tacoma, to which Dr. LeSourd was appointed in 1903.

The funeral services, conducted on January 4th, 1922, in Epworth Church, Tacoma, (the church that was built during Dr. LeSourd's seven-year pastorate of that church) was attended by more than could be seated in the building. Five brother ministers participated in the service, and told of the life that had been a sacrificial one and that it could be well said that Sister LeSourd had truly lived for others.

Final services were conducted at the home of a sister, Mrs. S. J. Huffman, Akron, Ohio, Tuesday, January 10th. The Rev. R. M. Yodre, Smithville, Ohio, one of her former pastors, conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. W. G. Fast, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Akron. Interment was in the family lot of the cemetery at Clinton, where are the bodies of her parents and sisters. Excepting Mr. Gilbert LeSourd, the pall bearers represented three families, being nephews whose mothers had died when the children were young, and whom Mrs. LeSourd had nurtured and cared for when they were little ones. These, with many others, have a very choice memory of "Aunt Maggie," as they so fondly called her.

All too briefly and imperfectly I have noted a few facts in the life of one of the most beautiful characters it has been my privilege to know. Hospitable, unselfish, true and genuine; she did a great work here and adds no inconsiderable wealth to heaven. "A woman of God," in the highest and most comprehensive meaning of that term.

SPENCER S. SULLIGER.

MILDRED BROOKS

Mildred Brooks, daughter of Dr. B. F. Brooks, member of the Puget Sound Conference, was born in Mt. Vernon, Wash., February 14th, 1895, and died at Seattle, Wash., May 30th, 1922.

She attended high school at Aberdeen and Seattle and graduated from the University of Washington in the class of 1918. She was a charter member of the University D. A. R. After graduating from the University she spent the next two years at home assisting in caring for her mother who was ill. For the last 18 months she was engaged as a technician first at the Tacoma Clinic and later at the Swedish Hospital in Seattle.

In 1903 she united with Epworth Methodist Church in Tacoma and has been a faithful and devout member of the church ever since. She has been active in Sunday School and Epworth League work. She was teaching a Sunday School class up to a short time before her death. She was one of the most efficient and dearly beloved teachers in the Epworth Sunday School. She was a young woman of splendid Christian character. Her sudden departure brings sorrow into the hearts of all who knew her.

Besides her father and her brother Frank she leaves a host of friends in Seattle, Tacoma and other places where she has lived.

The funeral services were conducted in Tacoma, Dr. E. M. Randall, Dr. C. A. Landen, Dr. S. S. Sulliger and Andrew Warner taking part.

WILLARD GALBRAITH

The end of a most useful life of 19 years came with tragic suddenness on July 16th, 1922.

Being employed for the summer vacation as a forest ranger and having gone ten miles through the mountains with the mail, he attempted to swim the swift Sauk River to save time and went down in the turbulent waters where his body still awaits the resurrection.

Willard was born September 8th, 1902 in Clark County, Washington while his father, Rev. B. N. Galbraith, was pastor at Chinook. He attended school at Lebam, Castle Rock, Buckley and Oak Harbor, graduating from the high school at the last-named place in May of this year. He was to have entered the Washington State College at Pullman in September.

Willard was converted in 1913 at Castle Rock in meetings conducted by his father and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. His activities in the Church were spent largely in the choir, Epworth League and Sunday School where he rendered most excellent service and had already become an acknowledged leader of young people. He had been in attendance at several older boys Conferences with great profit.

He was open, frank, generous in manner and disposition, industrious and trustworthy—a manly young man—a Christian.

Both laymen and preachers of the Puget Sound Conference extend to Brother and Sister Galbraith and Willard's brothers and sisters the warmest sympathy in this great sorrow.

J. C. HARRISON.

Resolved: That we provide for the salary of the Field Secretary, and the office expenses, by the adoption of a percentage plan, to include all effective members of the Conference, and others who are pastors, upon the basis of cash salaries, including missionary money or other money received by each pastor or special worker in detached service.

One: Those receiving less than $1,000, $5.00. Two: Those receiving $1,000 to $1,500, one per cent. Three: Those receiving $1,500 to $2,500, one and one-half per cent. Four: Those receiving $2,500 to above $3,000, two per cent.

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT,

George W. Frame, Superintendent.

It is a gracious provision of the good God that Christian life and service need never grow stale or commonplace; that each year of service may be more interesting, and filled more with adventure than the year before, for "the mercies of the Lord are new every morning."

In this spirit of gratitude and expectancy, we men of the Bellingham District have tried to accomplish the work assigned us. We trust we have labored as sons, not servants; that we have "counted life by heart throbs, not figures on a dial"—or on a report blank. No man has deserted his post; none has fallen on the field. Death has invaded but one parsonage home. Mrs. B. W. Rinehart, the wife of our pastor at Coupeville, after much patient suffering, finished her loving service on the third of June and joyfully took her departure to her heavenly home. She was a much-loved Christian wife and mother in the home, and by all who knew her in many ministries of love.

Brother A. O. Quall, at Port Townsend, and Brother L. H. Miller, at La Conner, carried June brides to two desolate parsonages, much to the delight of the members of the church, as well as strength and popularity to themselves.

Three other parsonage homes have been blest of heaven by the advent of two future preachers and a prospective preacher's wife. The happy parents are Brother and Sister Storey, of Snohomish; Brother and Sister Reynolds, Stanwood, and Brother and Sister Bennett, Sultan. John Wesley Bennett is the name of one of the preachers, and the fond parents have already consecrated him a bishop.

At the close of the last conference year, all charges on the district were provided with pastors except Langley. Soon after conference, Rev. W. E. Grey, of the Evangelical Church, was placed in charge, and he has given acceptable service. About the middle of the year brother J. W. Kern, on account of broken health, was compelled to surrender the work at Sultan, and brother J. H. Bennett, a local preacher, has been supplying the charge very acceptably during the remainder of the year. At Lopez we have a federated church with the Congregationalists, with whom we alternate in providing pastors. Last April the Congregational pastor desired to relinquish the work, and brother H. D. Suhm, a promising young Methodist preacher, graduate of the Illinois Wesleyan, was sent to the charge, and he has given a good account of his ministry. He has been unanimously requested to return next year as the Methodist minister of the charge.

The building program of the district has not been as extensive as we had hoped at the beginning of the year, but despite high taxes and the adverse conditions which prevail among the farmers, we have made some progress. On March 22 a commodious little church at Lakewood, which was built at a cost of over $2500.00, by a small group of people, without the aid of Centenary money, was dedicated free from debt, and $90.00 in the treasury. A fine example of heroic work. The pastor, W. J. Rule, is deserving of much praise for the success of this enterprise.

Grace Church, Everett, after hope long deferred, and fast waning confidence, was at last assured assistance on a new church building by the Home Board, to which the charge promptly responded with a subscription of $7000.00, and began building about the middle of May. The work is going forward rapidly, and the building should be ready to dedicate by the first of October. When completed, it will cost about $15,000.00, exclusive of the seating, and with but little if any debt. The people of this church greatly appreciate the service rendered by Bishop Shepard, Dr. Howarth and the pastors of the district who assisted in the canvass for funds, as well as the generous donation from the Board. The pastor, brother C. E. Sanders, deserves much credit for his faithful service in this enterprise.

Ferndale, under the aggressive leadership of the pastor, G. B. Mehl, has also made substantial improvements at great sacrifice. The old church has been moved from its dangerous location on the hill to a fine new site, with a concrete basement under the entire building, at a cost of over $2500.00. It is expected that during the coming year a new auditorium will be erected, and the building remodeled so that Ferndale may have a modern church plant in which to do service for the King. Again we thank our good Bishop for valuable service rendered here.

Another thousand dollars of improvements has been added to Garden Street church, which has become not only a great center of activity for righteousness, but an attractive place of beauty in the city as well.

Other substantial improvements have been made by the following charges: Marysville, $500; Anacortes, $350; Nooksack, $300; La Conner, $550; Burlington, $400; Coupeville, $640; Port Angeles, $215; Sedro-Woolley, $625; Mt. Vernon, $225; Everett First, $250, and several other charges with improvements of $200 or less, making a total of over $17,000 for the district, and a considerable gain over last year.

The indebtedness of the district is near $25,000.

We are endeavoring to provide in some measure for Christian education and training of our young people through 55 Sunday Schools and 31 Epworth Leagues. This work for and with young people has been stressed upon every occasion. Some gain has been made in the number of Sunday Schools, and we trust in the quality of the work, also. The attendance from the Bellingham District at the Summer School in Tacoma, and the Epworth League Institute at Redondo, was disappointing. The Camp Meeting at Ferndale, held at the same time of the Institute, divides our forces. Our young people need both. We wish the dates might be arranged so this would be possible. The attendance at Redondo was 47, Tacoma 7, and 98 young people attended the Camp Meeting at Ferndale.

Our Sunday Schools must have better prepared teachers, in personal Christian experience, in the knowledge of the Book they attempt to teach, and of the child to be taught, or we will fight a losing battle in the future. If laymen are to take the place as teacher of the young, once occupied by the pastor, then they must pay the price in preparation.

Early in the year an enthusiastic District Sunday School Rally was held at Bellingham. Our Conference Sunday School Superintendent, Rev. J. M. Weaver, also assisted in promoting Sunday School interests by a series of meetings at the quarterly conferences with the District Superintendent. A district Convention of the Epworth League was held at Bellingham in June, which was a source of much help and inspiration.

The women's organizations, as usual, have not slackened in their enthusiasm for the work of the Kingdom. Forty-three Ladies' Aid Societies have collected over $11,000 in cash, which has been wisely expended for the advancement of the cause of Christ. The two missionary societies are also wonderful examples of what Christian womanhood can do when organized for ministrations of love.

The collection of Centenary subscriptions continues to be a problem. The District Superintendent has done all in his power to encourage the churches to hold loyally to their pledges, but some of them feel that their first duty is to the local church, which in some instances demand the whole financial strength of the church to prevent the entire loss of the property. Again, financial conditions on the Bellingham District the present year, has been even more stringent than last. Good crops prevail among the farmers this year, but they were so heavily indebted for taxes and other obligations that the effects are not yet manifest in the church. Some crops last year were worthless. Over a thousand tons of potatoes are rotting in the bins, not worth the marketing. Notwithstanding all this, we believe there will be as much money paid to the benevolent causes of the church this year as was paid last year.

The district did its full part in the "I Will Maintain" and the College campaigns, which occupied much of our time at the beginning of the year, over $65,000 being subscribed to the College from the Bellingham District.

The Pacific Christian Advocate, the best of the family of Advocates, has been continuously emphasized as the medium of information for our members, and a large increase in the number of subscriptions obtained.

Coming to the heart, and crowning glory of our task, evangelism, without which all other work is vain, we can report some success. No single method has been used; we are open to all. On 24 charges special evangelistic services have been held, with gracious results, for which we give glory to God. Evangelists Robert Brymer, Miss Caffrey, Capt. Anderson, and our Conference evangelist, Rev. W. E. Cox, have all rendered excellent service in the leadership of these campaigns.

Garden Street Church, following the plan of personal evangelism of last year, has added a large number to the church, making a net gain of over 100 members. Two young men of this aggressive church are looking forward to the ministry, and Miss Ruth Davis, a graduate with high honors of our State University, has offered herself to the W. F. M. S. for service in China.

We cannot hope to tabulate the faith, hope and courage of these evangelistic services, but from the latest reports from the field the net gain in membership for the year will probably be between three and four hundred.

The Indian Work of the District is in a prosperous condition. At the Lummi Reservation a new Sunday School has been organized, and several Indians have been baptized and received into the church. One of these, Joseph Hillaire, a former Catholic, is an unusually intelligent young man who has recently found Christ as Saviour, and feels that he is called to the ministry. He will make an exceedingly valuable pastor among his own people. He has a pleasing personality, is a student, and has marked ability as a public speaker. Rev. B. V. Bradshaw and wife are doing excellent work in the superintendency of this mission.

The Deaconess Children's Home in Everett, under the supervision of Miss Effie Johnson, assisted by the Misses Lucile Springle, Orva Palmer, Edith White, Ruby Hulbert and Jennie E. Smith, is being greatly blessed of God. Much needed improvements have been made on the building, and plans for a Home and Rest Cottage for the deaconesses have been completed. The receipts for the year are $9316.00, and the expenses $8545.00, leaving a balance in the treasury of $771.00.

The opportunities on the Bellingham District are to a courageous soul most inviting. A vast territory of mountain, hill and valley, river, lake and sea, including a great tract of the richest farm land in the world; lumber mills, with an output of billions of feet per year; one county supplying over 40 per cent of the eggs of the State, and 1500 tons of butter annually, on the side. The total dairy products annually of Whatcom county is near $2,000,000. Into this heaven of material bliss, we invite strong young men with red blood, and who know God, to come and help us transmute these passing, material things, by the Spirit of God, into the glorious Eternal things of manhood and womanhood, so "that when these temporal things fail, we—and they—may be received into everlasting habitations."

The needs of the district are many, among which are:

Increased support for poorly paid pastors.

At least six new church buildings within the next two years, where now only shacks and boxes are being used to carry on the greatest work ever given man to do.

More money from the Centenary funds, which the people of the district believe they are entitled to, and which must be obtained if the financial morale is to be kept at par.

And then, spiritually, we need a mighty passion for the winning of souls to Christ. The world is gasping for life; it is dying for lack of soul. We need, in common with all other districts, more preachers who with unfaltering courage will preach a Gospel that makes sin, righteousness, redeeming love, Judgment and God very real. Preachers who will meet undauntedly the moral issues of the day with the Word of God as final authority upon those issues. Somehow we must be made to feel our NEEDS as we now feel our WANTS. We want pleasure, and we need peace. We want money, we need bread and clothing. We want the honor of men, we need the forgiveness of God. We want ease, we need earnestness in following Christ. We want the outward appearance, we need the inner life. We want THINGS, we need GOD. Nothing but the Gospel of personal salvation—personal acquaintance with Christ—can meet the needs of this hour, or any other hour of all the vast future, no matter what modern learning may say—or not say. This, of course, includes all social relations, and all financial plans and obligations. Our God-given task is to so preach that men will hear God speaking to them of sin and repentance and faith and "high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

We have not come to the close of the year, Bishop, "bringing in the sheaves" as we had hoped, gleaning, as we have, in fields harvested many times, but thank God our arms are not entirely empty. I thank Him, also, for the unfailing courtesy and enjoyable fellowship of the noble pastors, and still more noble wives, which have been extended to me, and only wish that time would permit a personal mention of each one and his sacrificing labor of love. I am persuaded there is a "Book of Remembrance" where all this is sacredly recorded. When they read it there, they will know what I felt here with them, expressed in the language of Robert Louis Stevenson, "What a beautiful thing it is to work, and to live and be happy" together.

SEATTLE DISTRICT,

George A. Landen, Superintendent.

In the providence of God it is my privilege to present this, my ninth annual report of the work of the Seattle District.

The health of the pastors and their families generally has been very good. The serious illness of Brother James Clulow was mentioned in my report last year. A few weeks after conference he passed triumphantly to his heavenly reward. He had served long and faithfully as a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I am sure this whole conference joins me in sympathy for sister Clulow and her family.

Rev. F. S. Bourns, a retired member of the Detroit conference, who had made his home with his son in Seattle for a number of years, passed away early Easter Sunday morning. He was a good man and greatly beloved by all his brethren. Modest and unassuming, but a preacher of more than ordinary power.

A few changes have been made in pastoral appointments. R. J. Allen was appointed as supply at Redmond, and after serving the charge about one-half of the year, gave up his work and accepted a call to a Congregational church in Edmonds. No one was secured to take his place.

Frederick Amos, who was supplying Colby and Harper, found the salary insufficient for the support of his family and gave up the charge in the middle of the year, and at the request of the officials the church was left without pastor for the rest of the year.

At the close of the first quarter K. L. Haga, pastor at Ronald, accepted work with the Boy Scout organization, but continued to supply the pulpit on Sunday till the first of April, when R. H. Allen, of the Montana Conference, was transferred and appointed pastor. He has done good work and is very acceptable to the people of the church and community.

Silverdale and Tracyton was left to be supplied at conference, and M. C. Tennyson, who was ordained as a local deacon last conference, was secured as supply.

The parsonage at Snoqualmie, which was under construction when the conference opened last fall, was completed early in the year, costing more than $2,600. It is one of the most comfortable parsonages in the district.

The first unit of the new church at Woodland Park has been completed and was dedicated by Bishop Shepard, June 17. Pastor Rees and his people have made a sacrificial and heroic effort to secure this convenient and commodious building, and deserve great credit for what has been accomplished. We congratulate them on their success. The cost of the structure has been just about $25,000.

The Bethel Church has been removed to a better location on the lot and a basement constructed for Sunday school and social uses, at a cost of approximately $1,100. Some needed improvements have been made to the parsonage at Bothell, at an expenditure of $300.

The parsonage at Kirkland has been remodelled and painted at an expense of $575. Four hundred dollars has been invested in a basement for the church at Tracyton, $300 on church and parsonage at Silverdale, and a new piano purchased for Sunday school and church. Kennydale has installed a new furnace and electric lights in the church, costing $175. A new porch has been added to the parsonage at Duvall, improving not only the looks but the convenience of the home.

University Church has installed a new furnace, which adds to the comfort of the folks, cost $250. The church at Port Orchard has been painted on the exterior and redecorated on the interior, and other improvements made, amounting in all to $190.

First Church, Seattle, is in the process of placing a new carpet on the Sunday school room, and completely remodeling the kitchen, the entire expense approximating $5,000. Madison Street has repainted both church and parsonage, resingled the parsonage, redecorated the basement of the church, at a cost of $410.

Grace parsonage has been repainted and repapered, cost $60.

Further improvements have been made to the Twin Lakes church, at an expense of $450.

In connection with the Riverton-Sunnydale circuit, the property at Sunnydale has been sold and a parsonage property purchased at Riverton, adjoining the church, at a cost of $1,400, and money is being raised for some needed improvements to cost $650.

Asbury church has expended approximately $1,200, painting church and parsonage and putting cement basement and furnace under parsonage.

Ronald has installed a bell in the church tower, painted the building and made it possible for the pastor and family to keep clean by placing a bathroom in the parsonage; cost of all, $250.

Queen Anne people have repainted and redecorated the church building and greatly improved the looks and comfort. Our people at Fall City purchased a good house and two acres of land for a home for the preacher and his family for $2,400. One-half acre has been sold for $500, and they are expecting to sell one acre more, leaving a nice parsonage home at a very reasonable price. At Rainier Beach, the parsonage has been raised, the foundation strengthened and the building painted and repapered. Some improvements have been made on the basement of the church.

Minor improvements have been made in some other places, for which I do not have facts and figures, but you will discover Bishop Shepard that your advice is being followed in trying to keep our church property in order and presentable to the general public.

The pastors, in most cases, were their own evangelists and special meetings were conducted in many of the churches, but special emphasis was laid on personal and Sunday school evangelism, which resulted in quite a large ingathering of children and young people. The reports, as they have come to me from the pastors, show 349 received from preparatory membership, 518 by certificate and 214 from other evangelic churches, making a total of 1,081. Dismissed by certificate and otherwise, 648, leaving a net gain of 433. This will be very much reduced by the usual pruning of church records, so that the real net gain may be small.

A number of seemingly inexcusable errors are made in the reports of the preachers. For instance, one preacher reports 26 more names than can be found on the records, another 29 and still another 45. These mistakes are corrected this year, making a loss of 100 to be made up by additions this year. Unless brethren can make more accurate reports than that it makes our statistics wholly unreliable.

The interest and attendance of the Sunday Schools has been well maintained, and I am sure there has been an improvement in the character of the work done. There is a cry for trained teachers and better equipment.

The Epworth Leagues of the district are, I believe, feeling a keener sense of responsibility for the gathering in of the young people of the church and interesting them in some form of vital Christian service. I feel personally there is need of more Bible study and greater devotional life among our Epworthians.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies have, with their usual zeal and devotion, gone forward in their work and have achieved notable results, both financially and spiritually.

The Ladies' Aid societies, in addition to contributing something like $14,000 to the financial support of the churches, have visited the sick and strangers and relieved the wants of many that were in need.

The Northwest Training School has had the best year of its history and graduated the largest class. The outlook for the coming year is very hopeful, but there is crying need for a new and adequate building, and we are hoping and praying that the Lord will lay it upon the heart of some consecrated layman or means to erect a building for us.

Miss Bessie Daws, one of our own girls, is now the field worker and I earnestly request the cooperation of the pastors in the opening of the door for her approach to the people.

The Settlement has had a successful year. The Sunday school has been well attended. Through the aid of the community fund, we have been able to employ a young man for part time work with the boys in conducting a Boy Scout troop and other work. The Baby and Nutrition clinics have made a strong appeal to the community. Sewing classes and boys' and girls' clubs have been conducted. The vacation Bible school was a helpful factor. Miss Howland and her helpers are to be congratulated on the work they have done and the services rendered.

The Seattle General Hospital holds high rank for the splendid work it has done under the wise management of Miss Hall. The time certainly has come when the building and program must be enlarged, and I am persuaded the conference should accept the offer of Mr. T. S. Lippy and take over the hospital and assume responsibility for its control and operation.

Needless to say, Seattle District is loyal to the College of Puget Sound and the Pacific Christian Advocate and all our connectional interests.

The Wesley Foundation, under the supervision of Dr. Tremayne and the direct leadership of Brother Stanley G. Logan, has made a decided impression on the student body of the University.

The dwelling occupied by Brother Logan and his family, and the one adjoining have been connected by a room and office between, and the whole interior of the one so remodeled and changed that a commodious and beautiful clubhouse is the result. Our Methodist students take great pride in this building and are making good use of it. Bible classes, study groups, student conferences and social functions are held here weekly, and Brother Logan and his good wife are serving the students in a splendid way.

The District Superintendent and wife had the privilege of using this clubhouse for a reception tendered the pastors and their wives New Year's night.

We are sorely embarrassed in some places for lack of suitable buildings and equipment for carrying on our work. We need a unified program and a church consciousness that will cause the stronger churches to share in the responsibility of the weaker, and come to their assistance in a way that will hearten them and help them to do even more for themselves. To this end, plans are being worked out for the employment of a district staff to work with the district superintendent, to include a Director of Religious Education and a woman worker, at the start, with possibly larger development in the future. The Board of Managers of the City Union are giving this matter careful consideration.

The Centenary pledges and program have been kept constantly before the pastors and people, and I have urged fidelity on the part of the pastors in the matter of collection and payment on the part of the people, and have reason to believe that we will not fall much below the receipts of last year, especially by the close of the fiscal year of the Boards, October 31.

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation of the cooperation of both pastors and laymen in the arduous tasks of the year, and pray God's blessing upon all.

D. Roland Martin, Superintendent

I desire to express my gratitude to our Heavenly Father for the manifold blessings of another year; for the privilege of being associated with the faithful, consecrated and self-sacrificing pastors and laymen of the Tacoma District. To fail with this group would be impossible. I am pleased to be able to report a good year, with marked victories in a majority of our churches.

January 1st there was an exchange of pastorates between Rev. D. S. Kerr and Rev. T. A. Graham, of the Columbia River Conference. Brother Graham has been very cordially welcomed by East Sixty-fourth Street Church and his old friends in this conference.

June 1st Rev. E. N. Askey exchanged with Rev. O. M. Andrews, of Prescott, Arizona. Brother Andrews has had an enthusiastic welcome to our church in Centralia.

The Death Angel has not entered any parsonage home during the year. Dr. D. G. LeSourd, a highly honored retired member of this conference, was called to pass through a great sorrow in the loss of his only daughter, Mrs. Mary Hawthorne, of Hoquiam.

We all rejoice in the great victory which came to the College of Puget Sound in the campaign to meet the challenge of $250,000 from the General Education Board. The pastors of this conference rendered magnificent service in this campaign. That was a great day in the history of the college when Dr. Todd announced an additional gift of $180,000 from Mrs. C. H. Jones for the first building on the new campus. Work has now begun on this building. The prayer and dream of Dr. Todd has begun to take form and some day will be fully realized. All honor to his faith!

A community house costing $7,500 was added to the equipment of Trinity Church. This is a fine addition to this growing church, providing a gymnasium and a number of rooms for the Sunday school and social activities of the church. It was all paid for except $500 when the building was completed. The pastor, Rev. C. D. Rarey, deserves much credit for this victory.

Sumner has completed one of the finest churches for the size of the town to be found in the state, also a beautiful parsonage. The church was dedicated April 8 by Bishop Shepard. The cost of the church and parsonage was about $40,000. The pastor, Dr. G. F. Hopkins, spent many months of untiring labor to make possible this beautiful property.

Rev. T. J. Gambill, pastor at Wilkeson, has secured three-fourths of an acre of land and a neat parsonage property. He is now leading in the building of a new church and community house, costing $7,500. It is expected the building will be ready for dedication about November 4. This new church will provide a place to minister to the childhood and youth of this very needy missionary field.

Because of the remarkable growth of the Sunday School at Auburn the church has been compelled to enlarge its borders. About $5,000 is being expended in putting in a basement and other improvements. Rev. Harlan R. Stone is the successful pastor of this church.

Mason Church raised the last $2,800 on its debt during December and New Year's Eve had a jubilee with the burning of the mortgage. This year they have, also, secured six additional lots, giving them the entire block. Within the next few years they plan to build a community house and parsonage on these lots.

Epworth Church, under the leadership of Dr. Warner, has inaugurated its new building program. May 13th Bishop Shepard was present and secured $35,000 in subscriptions toward the new church. $10,000 more has been secured since that time, making a total of $45,000.

More than $4,000 has been spent in the improvement of our church property, in addition to the building projects already mentioned. Something above $8,000 has been paid on debts.

Epworth, Trinity, Central, Mason, Olympia and Tacoma Community House conducted very successful Daily Vacation Bible Schools, with a total enrollment of about 1,200. The Summer School of Religious Education conducted by the Board of Sunday Schools at the College of Puget Sound had a small attendance, but the quality of work done was excellent. This is the first year of the school in which I have heard not a single criticism of the faculty. This conference can not afford to lose this school, but unless we support it better, the Sunday School Board cannot continue the school.

The Epworth League Institute at Epworth Heights was well attended by the young people of the Tacoma District, and proved a great blessing to many.

The Pacific Christian Advocate is worthy a place in every Methodist home in this Pacific Northwest. Certainly every Methodist home should have one of our Advocates. From some observations I am persuaded that not only do we need to urge our people to subscribe for a church paper, but we need to devise some plan to get many of our people to read the paper after they have been persuaded to subscribe for it.

The Goodwill Industries has had a very successful year, $5,663 has been paid out in wages to needy and handicapped people. The work has so grown this year that a larger building is needed at once.

The Tacoma Community House, under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, has rendered a great Christian service to a large foreign population. Brother and Sister Thompson have given themselves in complete abandon to this work and the results achieved have made glad many hearts, rejoicing even the angels of God.

Rev. Robert C. Hartley, superintendent of our work among the loggers, has spent part of his time within the bounds of the Tacoma District, and I have heard good reports of his work. Rev. J. M.

Weaver has given some very helpful service to a number of the Sunday schools of the district. Dr. W. H. Baker has rendered splendid service in the interests of the Endowment Fund for our retired preachers and the widows and children.

The Tacoma District continues to lead all the English-speaking districts of the Area in the percentage of its payments to the Centenary. At the close of four years, 80 per cent. of the quota has been paid. First, Epworth, Mason, Asbury, St. Paul and Olympia Circuit have paid over 100 per cent. on their quotas. Twelve churches have paid more this year than they paid last, but the total for the district will possibly be a little less than last year.

As we approach the close of the Centenary period, many are saying that we must now face the task of developing the spiritual life of our people rather than the multiplicity of programs for raising money. The former we must do. But can we consistently talk of a higher spiritual life and then plan to give less of our money for the world's redemption? It is possible that we have stressed the raising of Centenary quotas, while at the same time we have been losing the great missionary passion. If such be the case, God pity us! No church can continue to have the Divine favor upon it if the missionary passion has been lost.

We have endeavored throughout this conference year to stress evangelism, believing this is the one great business of the church of Christ. We believe in the old-fashioned revival, or any kind of a method which will bring boys and girls and men and women to know Jesus Christ as their Savior. This superintendent heard a preacher recently relate his experience in going to his first charge, a church in which there had not been a conversion during the past eight or ten years. This young preacher began to work and pray day and night that God might permit him to see 100 people converted during the year. Within six months he had witnessed more than 100 people surrendering their lives to Jesus Christ and entering the fellowship of the church. What a joy to witness such results! God is the same, the human heart and the human need is the same as in any day of the past. Oh that every member of this conference and every supply might have a burning passion to see men won to Christ!

Early in January it was decided by the pastors of the district to put on a program of personal evangelism during the months of February and March, culminating on Easter Sunday. Full constituency rolls were asked from each charge, five letters were sent out to those whose names had been sent to the Central office. Personal workers were enlisted. Easter Sunday witnessed over 700 people coming into the churches of the district. Because of the vigorous pruning of records in several churches, there will probably not be over 500 net gain in membership.

Every pastor in the district has done work which would merit some special mention, but the space allowed for this report will not permit it. For the hearty cooperation of the pastors and the many kindnesses shown me during the year, I again express my heartfelt thanks.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

Everett Merrill Hill, Superintendent

Vancouver District has a striking uniqueness in its wide variety of interests. Ocean and river, mountain, valley and forest, present a multiplicity of environment on which thrive all sorts and conditions of life.

Among the pastors there has obtained such a beautiful spirit of unity and fellowship that it has been a perfect delight to be associated with this so glorious band of brethren.

By the courtesy of the Pacific Christian Advocate, that high class magazine which should be in the home of every Methodist in the Area, the salient facts of each charge have already been published. Hence this report will deal with matters of more or less general interest.

On November 29, 1922, A. J. McKenzie, the beloved pastor at Chehalis, passed to his eternal reward. For over four years this good man had been patiently working out the problem of erecting a much needed church, and the beautiful $50,000 structure was within a month of dedication when his summons came. As a fitting tribute the funeral services were held in the still unfinished auditorium. J. T. McQueen, Superintendent of the Alaska Mission, being available, Bishop Shepard immediately appointed him to fill the vacancy. The new pastor quickly gathered up the broken threads and with his heroic laymen worked to such purpose that our Bishop was able to dedicate the new building shortly after the time originally announced.

During the latter part of January, Dr. J. P. Marlatt, pastor of Vancouver First, was stricken with a severe illness and for a time we despaired of his life. But in answer to the many prayers offered in his behalf, he made a remarkable recovery and comes to this Conference to receive his appointment as usual.

Coincident with the illness of the pastor of the largest church of the district word came that A. A. Heist, pastor of Aberdeen First, had been chosen for the important position of field secretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service, thus making vacant a third of the largest district pulpits. After a thorough canvass, Bishop Shepard appointed Henry T. Greene, associate pastor at Centenary-Wilbur, Portland, to this strategic field. The new arrangement took effect at Easter.

On February 7, while the revival tide was high, the parsonage at East Vancouver was saddened by the death of Miss Rose A. Goodall, beloved sister of the pastor's wife.

For the last several months, Mrs. E. B. Reese, the wife of the pastor at Yacolt has been very seriously ill, caused by the perfect abandon with which she threw herself into the work in this difficult field. At one time it was thought that she could not recover. But an experienced physician and the effectual fervent prayers of her many friends had the desired effect and she is at last on the road, we trust, to complete recovery.

Three parsonage homes were gladdened by the coming of little daughters. Mona Ruth Cowley, at Knappton, February 8; Naomi Estelle Lowther, at Ostrander, June 12, and Naomi May Parcel, at Washougal, August 20.

On April 1, W. E. Rossman, who had supplied Proebstel since the fall of 1921, accepted the pastorate of the Kalama Congregational Church, and Charles O. Larson, a young layman of Vancouver, was placed in charge and the people are happy. La Center, left to be supplied at last Conference, has been faithfully served by Chester C. Blair, of East Vancouver. Preaching Sundays he and his wife have worked week days for funds with which to attend school to prepare for the ministry. T. J. Hazleton, at one time a member of this Conference but later locating for health reasons, has very acceptably supplied Grays River and Skamokawa.

Three new church edifices have been dedicated, that at Chehalis, January 7; one at Lebam, costing $4,000, April 15, and the last at Stevenson, at a cost of $6,000, May 20. In each case Bishop Shepard engineered the finances with great skill, securing sufficient pledges to meet the needs. A fourth church is being erected at Sara, on the Felida-Salmon Creek charge. This is of hollow tile and will cost $3,500. It will be completed sometime next year. Fern Prairie, on the East Mill Plain charge, has rebuilt the whole church at an expenditure of $1,000. Ridgefield has excavated and is finishing its basement at a cost of $300.

A new church has been organized at Longview, on the Long-Bell Lumber Company's holdings. Here a model city, planned after Washington, D. C., is springing up as in a night. Edgar W. Beckett, a student of Drew Theological Seminary, has supplied during the summer and done excellent work. A Board of Trustees has been organized and lots purchased and Bishop Shepard will be asked to appoint a pastor to this important point at this conference. Because of Longview's proximity to Kelso and the fact that its first members were members of that church, the initiating of the new society has been somewhat embarrassing to the work there. But with the large influx of new people and the tireless labors of the pastor, W. W. Switzer, this old church will doubtless, in a short time, be better than ever for its swarming.

R. C. Hartley and his associates in the Loggers' and Lumbermen's Activities, H. E. Greening and George N. Magwood, have been exceedingly active and helpful. This force could profitably be duplicated for work in camps that they are not able to visit. The tour by J. M. Weaver in the interest of Sunday school work was greatly appreciated.

Daily Vacation Bible Schools have been carried on in Aberdeen, Walville and Vancouver. In the last named place, the initial steps were taken by the pastor of First Church, but the rest of the churches were invited to unite in the project. Mrs. Blanche Benedict was principal and it is to her guidance that much of the success is due. The pastor at East Vancouver also had a large share in the work.

Not as many new members have been added to the churches as last year, although as much effort has been put forth. Successful revivals came to East Vancouver and Silver Lake, a point on the Castle Rock charge, the pastor and his wife being the evangelists in the first place, with forty-five conversions to rejoice over, and the pastor doing this work in the latter with twenty-three people harvested. Rev. C. E. Powell wrought faithfully in eight communities and while no great in-gatherings resulted the churches were greatly helped. One disheartening thing makes us wonder, and that is to have a fine group of children ready for preparatory membership and the parents refuse their consent, as happened several times in this campaign. W. E. Cox held meetings at Ridgefield and at Union schoolhouse, on the Chehalis circuit with some results. Dr. Haudenshield held a union meeting at Montesano, our church uniting, but with small returns. In twenty-two churches so far reported, there were 144 accessions, 113 of which came from the Sunday school.

The Centenary will reach as high a point as last year in most of the churches, unless all signs fail, and a few will even go higher. Generally the pastors are earnestly striving for continuous and increased benevolent giving. The only two points on the Area where the full quota for the five years has been paid in to the Centenary Treasury, are on this District, Walville and Castle Rock.

The Finnish work at Aberdeen, under the efficient leadership of E. A. Hart, who came to us from the Presbyterian Church of Canada, is very encouraging. Some self-support has been brought in this year and probably more will come next.

The Woman's Foreign and the Woman's Home Missionary Societies are doing most efficient work on the District. We could wish that one or both flourished on every charge. The Ladies' Aid Society is organized in all but three of the charges, and only the Recording Angel will be able to tell the good deeds done and the money raised, although approximately the latter will amount to $18,000. The Boy Scouts are aggressively moving out to take the field and the Campfire Girls are following after. The pastors are wise that harness these organizations to the church. The Epworth League Institute at Epworth Heights achieved its usual success, with a larger registration than ever, 462.

There was added efficiency in the Stadium to take care of the crowds. These grounds are capable of handling various groups covering the entire summer. Epworth Heights has at last been discovered. The Summer School for Pastors held at Kimball, and the School of Religious Education at the College did not have the registration that the fine course and corps of instructors merited. Possibly because concentrated effort is the demand of the day. The College of Puget Sound is ready to build. We all rejoice and take courage. Kimball School of Theology and the Northwest Training School are doing better work all the time. The latter has imported a field worker, Miss Bessie Daws, from the Vancouver District.

But before time fails let me state my creed, believing that the Methodist ministry is the greatest brotherhood in the world, but knowing that the bonds of this brotherhood sometimes need strengthening to the end that our work of faith and labor of love, and patience of hope shall not diminish, I suggest that we organize a brotherhood of the Twelfth of Romans, with no other constitution or by-laws than this chapter. Never has the world needed comradeship more than today. And who knows but we have come into the kingdom for such a time as this? Who knows but it has been left to us to furnish the model of this new society of friends? If it may be truthfully said that in the religious as well as the political world, in the church as well as the state, there is need for a more intensive cultivation of comradeship, shall we not with prayerful spirit, set our hearts and minds to the task? As a suggestion to this end, I would point John Oxenham's verse away from those who enlist in the army of Mars to another group, the weapons of whose warfare are not carnal, the Comrades of the Cross:

"Where are you going Greatheart?
To lift the world above the past;
To make tomorrow sure and fast;
To nail God's colors to the mast.
Then God go with you Greatheart!"

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education is the Educational clearing house of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It offers to educational institutions the advantage of a broad and profitable experience; collects, classifies and renders in convenient form important educational data of every sort; advises in matters of finance; promotes intellectual integrity; emphasizes the spiritual vision for service; and cooperates with other denominations through the Council of Church Boards of Education.

A service of remarkable value to Methodist institutions is in the representation concerning appropriations for endowment, buildings, etc., which the Board of Education can make to the General Education Board, The Carnegie Corporation, and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of teaching.

Some of the more concrete work of the Board is the advancing of religious education through the Wesley Foundation, in cooperation with the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. This work reaches fifty-five institutions and $105,000 was spent for this in the school year which closed in June. During this last year from these tax supported State Schools, seventy-five young people enlisted for the Ministry and 192 for Missions. Fully 10,000 Methodist Students are now voluntarily attending preaching services at Wesley Foundation Churches, and more than 50,000 are in Sunday School classes, and a similar number in Epworth League.

The Children's Day collection for the fiscal year 1922-23 totalled $164,947, an increase of $2,778 over the previous year.

The Department of Finance of the Board of Education has cooperated in campaigns that have added, during the year, $9,845,000 to the endowments and plants of Methodist Episcopal Institutions.

The College of Puget Sound

Last year this conference authorized a financial campaign for the College for $250,000 to meet a challenge of a like amount from the General Education Board. It is with profound thanksgiving that we report an over-subscription on December 7, 1922. God has led us and raised up friends for us. On May 22, 1923, Mrs. Frank M. Jones, of Tacoma, pledged $180,000 to provide for the erection of the first building. It is now under construction and is to be known as C. H. Jones Hall, in honor of her deceased husband.

The past ten years have been years of wonderful success under the leadership of President Edward H. Todd. Not only has there been financial success, but the College is today classified, by accrediting agencies, as a standard college in the Northwest. Its student body is increasing in numbers rapidly. The new plant will be occupied September, 1924.

The task, which, as a conference we have begun, will be completed when the subscriptions, made so freely and generously, will have been collected. To that end we pledge ourselves to cooperate with those charged with the duties of collections in all their efforts to secure prompt payment of all subscriptions.

To comply with a law passed at the recent legislature, we nominate for election and re-election the Trustees of the College of Puget Sound. (See List, Pages 295-296).

Board of Trustees

Another year has gone. In going, it wrote history—the most glorious volume in the history of the College of Puget Sound. One year ago we were entering upon the campaign for $250,000 to meet the challenge of the General Board of Education (Rockefeller Foundation). The results of this campaign are known to all of you—an over-subscription of enough to meet the expenses of the campaign.

The year of college work has also been the best in the history of the college. More than 300 were enrolled in the regular college classes, and enough others took the regular college work to bring the total enrollment over 400. These “others” included teachers of the public schools in Tacoma, taking work in the evening classes, looking toward a degree, or in preparation for examination for advanced certificates in their profession. There is no other point of contact with the youth of the State more intimate than through the teachers of the public schools, and this phase of the work of the college should bear fruit in the years to come.

The Trustees of the college are constantly striving to improve the quality of instruction given. Their aim has been quality, rather than quantity, both in instruction and student attendance. We are already beginning to fear the embarrassment of the successes of the past few years. The present attendance is taxing the ability of the college to properly care for the students. When our new buildings, now under construction, are completed, there is every evidence that the present agreed limit of attendance—500—will be reached. The new buildings and present endowment subscriptions, when fully collected and invested and interest bearing, will enable us to properly care for about 500 students. To pass far beyond this point means more than doubling the endowment and materially adding to the investment in buildings and equipment. Altogether from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 more would be required to care for an enrollment of 1,000 students. We feel quite sure that the plan of limiting the attendance for the present will meet with your approval, especially in view of the alternative.

The faculty has been increased for the coming year by the addition of two members. During the war period, when the practical overshadowed the other forms of education, most colleges, including your own, discontinued entirely, or materially reduced their work in Greek, Latin and German. The loss of these cultural subjects will become apparent in the future. These subjects are again offered to our students and we especially urge that the attention of prospective students be called to the value of such work in a course of Liberal Arts.

The Commencement season of 1923 will always be an important event in the history of the college. Ground was broken for the new buildings and at the ground-breaking exercises announcement was made that Mrs. Frank M. Jones had that day given $180,000 to pay for the first building. The trustees immediately named the building the "C. H. Jones Hall," in honor of the husband of the donor, who had himself been a warm friend of the college.

While we have no voice in your deliberations, we venture to suggest that somehow arrangements should be made to hold the session of your conference in the new buildings, two years from now.

E. L. Blaine, Chairman.

The Wesley Foundation at the University of Washington

During the past year two houses on the property purchased by the Centenary were rebuilt to form Wesley House, and a constructive program is being carried on. Two hundred and seventeen of the 700 Methodist Students have been organized as Wesley Club. Through its activity much is being done to meet the social and religious needs of the young people. About 30 of these students are preparing for full time life service in the church. We advise that the Director of the Wesley Foundation at Seattle supply the pastors with information which will aid in fully setting forth our work there.

Kimball School of Theology

We nominate for Trustees for The Kimball School of Theology E. M. Hill and F. A. Hazeltine, and H. B. Rhodes as Visitor.

Your committee recommends that the first Sunday in November each year be designated Educational Day to consider the local educational interests; viz., the College of Puget Sound, Wesley Foundation and Northwest Training School.

We further recommend that Friday evening of each Conference Session be designated as "Young People's Night," when the interests of the College and the Wesley Foundation, the Epworth League Institute and the Sunday Schools shall be presented. And that the President of the College, the President of the Epworth League Commission and President of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools be in charge of the program.

We recommend the appointment of a committee of three members of an inter-conference commission on education, and we nominate the following: D. R. Martin, J. R. Magee, A. C. Roberts.

J. Ralph Magee,
J. C. Harrison.

Special Commission on Wesley Foundation

Your Commission recommends that J. E. Crowther, D. R. Martin, J. C. Harrison, P. H. Ashby, R. J. Reid, J. R. Magee, W. D. Pratt, A. W. Hooton, and others to be selected by a committee from the Commission to represent the Conference in the application for the incorporation of the Wesley Foundation at Seattle. We file herewith the Articles of Incorporation, the Constitution and By-laws with the Conference Secretary.

HOSPITAL COMMISSION

We echo the words of Charles Haddon, Surgeon, when he said: "The God that answers by Hospitals and Orphanages, let Him be God." Just forty years ago, the Methodist Episcopal Church opened its first hospital. We now have eighty hospitals, twenty of which have been established since 1920 under the new Board of Hospitals and Homes.

The Seattle General Hospital and School for Nurses during the past year has added to its splendid record of service by training the largest class in its history, and caring for 3,619 patients at a cost of $214,804 and an income of $220,805. For the past two years, 1921 and 1922, the average yearly income has been $220,009, and the annual yearly expenses $215,375.

The owners of the Seattle General Hospital property offer it to the Puget Sound Conference for an annuity of $500 per month. We now pay a rental of $1,000 per month. The owners of the property used as a nurses' home offer that to the Conference for what they paid for it, $70,000, on payment of $900 per month, the rental now being paid for it.

If some minor matters relative to the transfer of these properties can be successfully ironed out—and we think they can be—your commission recommends the acceptance of these two propositions and the taking over of these two properties for the Conference.

In relation to Dr. Paul Sweet's proposition, relative to St. Luke's Hospital, Centralia, your committee, after full consultation with Dr. Newton E. Davis, whom you heard yesterday afternoon, and who had just gone over thoroughly Dr. Sweet's hospital, recommend that the Conference favor the acceptance of this proposition.

In a letter to Dr. Newton E. Davis, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Hospitals and Homes, Dr. Sweet makes the following proposal:

"I now own a fifty-bed hospital, which has been run as a private hospital by the late Dr. Grace and known as the Lee A. Grace Hospital. I have changed the name to St. Luke's Hospital. It is a practically new building, being but four years old, of modern brick construction and is fully equipped with the best grade of materials and supplies. I purchased it on January 15, 1923, for the sum of $81,000 from the estate of Dr. Lee A. Grace, who died on November last. Since that time I have built another wing and equipped it at a cost of $22,000. In the new wing is conducted a clinic where twelve doctors are associated together and are known as The Associated Physicians' Clinic. Two of us are surgeons who have spent three and four years as members of the staff of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn. We are practicing the highest type of modern medicine and surgery as we see it. We conduct a modern laboratory, and have arranged to come under the Standardization of the American College of Surgeons the next time their representative comes.

We have a very large practice and possibly should be satisfied, but we are not. Finances are in an A-1 condition. We pay cash, discounting all bills. We owe something on the building, but we will handle that. The following proposition is made simply because we want to broaden out and become larger and be of more use. We want to devote all our energy to the professional side and feel that we can best do that by turning the hospital over to some denomination, feeling that our scope will be broadened and our usefulness expanded. There are over 100,000 people in this section of the State, which we should be able to serve to a greater and fuller extent.

I will turn over the hospital rent free for a period of five or more years, to be run by the Methodist Church or some other Protestant denomination if possible, under the following provisions:

First—That the hospital be run in the most approved manner, as specified by the American College of Surgeons.

Second—That a most strenuous effort be made to expand our usefulness, so that another wing may be soon needed, making out of the hospital a 100-bed institution.

Third—That the professional work of the hospital be in full charge of a staff of regular practitioners, who are to be selected from members of the Associated Physicians' Clinic.

Fourth—That at least two charity beds be provided for the treatment of surgical cases only, which shall be open for use of preachers and teachers and their dependents, whose income is less than $1,800 a year.

Fifth—That if sufficient cooperation can be secured, so that within five years a 100-bed hospital can be kept full of patients, I will agree to deed the property to the Church free and clear of incumbrance. It is to be understood, of course, that the same above conditions shall continue.

Our clinic is modelled very closely after the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn., and we trust will become more so as time goes by. Our chief object is to make men and women and boys and girls well, regardless of the dollars and cents end of it, and regardless of the system used. We want to be broad enough to include everything which has virtue.

The reason that I want two free beds for teachers and preachers is because I want, if possible, the privilege of repaying a debt of gratitude which my father owes the great big hearted medical profession. Father was formerly president of the Baker University of Baldwin, Kansas, and later for years a preacher in the Methodist church. He raised a fairly good-sized family, and was never permitted to pay a doctor bill while either a teacher or preacher.

I would like to have this proposition either accepted or definitely rejected by September 1, 1923. It should not take longer than that to decide, as we are fully equipped and a running prosperous institution. All that you need to do is to step in and take over the management.

No soliciting will have to be done if the church takes this over. It should be a more than self-supporting institution from the start.

Very truly,

Paul Sweet, M. D.

In order to carry out the will of the Conference, we further recommend that both in Seattle and Centralia there be appointed by this Conference a Board of Directors, with power, which at the earliest possible date, shall take under consideration the propositions of T. S. Lippy on The Seattle General Hospital and Dr. Paul Sweet's proposition on St. Luke's Hospital at Centralia and the recommendation of this Conference thereon.

These Boards of Directors, also empowered to take out articles of incorporation, adopt constitution, by-laws, etc., for the operation of these hospitals.

That should the Conference elect the Board of Directors for the Seattle General Hospital, the Conference then should dissolve the Hospital Association which was created by the Annual Conference of 1921.

We also recommend that The American White Cross be adopted by the Conference as a means of publicity and raising of funds for the Hospitals and Homes in control of the conference.

Chas A. Bowen, Chairman,
George V. Fallis, Secretary.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

The Deaconess work of the Conference has been active, progressive and prosperous during the year.

The Northwest Training School reports a year of unusual blessing and progress. This year the total enrollment is just twice that of 1920, and the number in the graduating class was also doubled—six in 1920 and 12 in 1923. The graduates of this school are rendering valuable service to the Kingdom, both in the home and foreign field.

The Deaconess Settlement, Seattle, has been busily at work through its various social, educational and religious activities to bring the uplifting influences of the Christ life to bear upon the every-day life of the community. By the aid of the Seattle Community Fund we have added a much-needed department of Boys' Work, under the direction of a University student.

Another year has been added to the record of God's care of the Deaconess Children's Home in Everett. All has gone well with no serious illness, and with an average of 45 children cared for daily. An assembly room was remodeled into a dormitory and bathroom for little boys and a cottage for workers is under way.

WM. PARK, President.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

The Commission has now been organized five years. Dr. W. H. Baker, the Endowment Secretary, has been in the field two years, having been supported the first year entirely by subscriptions from the ministers. The past year, while the ministers made their subscriptions, it has not been enough and the laymen, headed by Frank C. Hart, of Tacoma, have raised additional subscriptions. There are some accounts yet to be handed in, yet the total has not been raised. The amounts received to date are as follows:

Support of Endowment Secretary, $1,815.25; incidental expenses, $353.68; interest, $300; Endowment Fund, $1,638.

This makes a total of $2,078 cash paid into the Endowment Fund. Besides this estate notes are signed, mention is made in wills, and there are many subscriptions which are now bearing interest, on which Dr. Baker will report.

The Preachers' Aid Fund, including the Pearson Fund of $250, is now being administered by the Commission. The gross annuity paid by this fund amounted to $1,321.64. The rate, $1.05, is low this year, but will without doubt be higher next year. The amount of cash paid into the Permanent Fund is $20,135.17. Besides this, there are interest bearing notes to bring the total in this fund to $27,174.17.

We nominate as trustees of the Conference Claimants Commission, for the term expiring 1926, Ben T. Smith, D. Roland Martin and W. H. Leech.

We request the re-appointment of Dr. W. H. Baker as Endowment Secretary.

T. W. LANE, President.

H. W. MICHENER, Secretary.

Endowment Secretary

I am pleased to present this my second annual report as Endowment Secretary of the Conference Claimants Commission, but with the pleasure in such a service there is a feeling of regret that more has not been accomplished for the great cause I have been chosen to represent—the raising of an endowment or permanent fund for Retired Preachers.

The Conference year opened very auspiciously and bid fair for a good in-gathering for this, the greatest of all claims upon our Church. But scarcely had the work commenced when the Intensive Campaigns began. So thick and fast were the representatives of different causes and interests presenting themselves to the pastors for a hearing before the people, that I was the third and sometimes the fourth on successive Sundays to stand before the same congregation to present our Cause. Hence from November 12 to January 7 I did not present our work from a single pulpit, but contented myself by visiting the charges where I had previously preached and endeavored to obtain subscriptions from those who had previously declared their intentions to aid our work.

Instead of it being put third or fourth on any program it ought, as far as possible, to have first place. I am not pleading for favoritism or for personal interest, but because it is the greatest cause before our Church at the present time, and because it is your own interests that are at stake. Unless this succeeds now, you and yours will not only suffer, but our great Methodism and every interest of our Church and pulpits for the future, will suffer.

I am firm in the belief that there are too many demands upon our people at the present time. No truer members are found in any church than we have today in our churches. I do believe this cause, the Endowment, should have the right-of-way for the coming three years and a large number of these interests, some worthy, should step aside for a brief period at least. Our great Benevolences must be cared for, to be sure, but with these the Endowment, which many of us believe ought to have been included, must be attended to now—to pause, even for a brief period, may mean its death blow. The facts are we have been too quiet about this part of our work.

I believe we ought to have at least a page in our Conference Journal to publish not only the small amounts paid in on Endowment, but give space for every charge its full amount of subscriptions. We should have separate columns for Endowment, Interest, Expense, as well as one for our ever-increasing Memorial Subscriptions. It is time we were out in the open and making our work known. The laymen of means are watching our movements and if we move right, I know of some who are ready to do something worthy for us. I know whereof I speak.

This brings me to a matter in this connection which deserves your interest and attention. Some of my experiences this year have brought out some decided needs. I have discovered that one of these needs is an Old People's Home—not alone a place where retired preachers may go and be cared for—but a home for our Methodist old folks. They have been true and tried, giving of their substance for the cause of Christ and have come down to old age penniless or nearly so. We ought to see that they are not left to die in the poorhouse or some other place. They ought to be in a home, loved and cared for under our own church. Had we such a place now I could place several who have property—one old couple in Seattle who have two or three houses which they would turn over to our fund. After Conference I expect to go east of the mountains where a Seattle lady has a fine ranch of 121 acres of orchard, a good house, fountains and streams of water. The house is suitable for a sanitarium. She wants us to take it over and give her a small annuity. If this is not suitable for a home I am sure God will open the heart of someone on Puget Sound and aid us in this quest as well as our Endowment Fund.

One of the sources of joy in the service this year is the interest the laymen have taken in all our work. Brother Frank C. Hart, as chief mover and a score of other laymen are doing a magnificent work, and I am in hopes they will be able to do what they, on their own initiative, have undertaken. The Laymen's Association is organizing to lift along all the lines of our Endowment. It is from these men that we hope to derive our greatest help and why should they not have a hand in all our work?

About a year and a half ago I began looking into the matter of a Group Insurance for the Conference. Letters and post cards were sent out, the age of each man was obtained and all seemed in readiness for the launching of this, when I received a letter from my friend and the representative in my former Conference, J. S. Greenfield, stating he had to give up his plans for a Group Insurance. He advised me to take the matter up with our State Superintendent, which I did. He held to the state ruling of New York. Undaunted I started out about four weeks ago for a personal interview with Mr. Fishback and Mr. Rummins, his deputy. After an hour and a half of unfolding of our Methodist policy, rules and regulations, I succeeded, and we have the authority to put on our Group Insurance if wise. This matter will be brought before you by the investment committee at the proper time. Two finer men and more considerate of all our interests I have not met in many a day.

These are some of the matters which have come up during one of the busiest and most trying years of my ministry. I began the year at Orting and closed at First Church, Everett, which I visited for the second time at the request of Dr. Reid.

I have preached in 42 churches during the year, delivered 66 sermons and addresses, about 635 calls have been made, having been away from home 131 days. There has been 8,656 miles traveled and 5,500 leaflets distributed. The promise of a $5,000 bequest given last year has been increased to $25,000 or $30,000. Two houses in Tacoma have been promised with others listed as probable. There has been collected 94, subscriptions, $9,450; endowment, 42; estate interest bearing, 52. Have received from collections $358.63, with $45 due on balance for expenses. Letters, cards and statements sent out number 968. All this has been at a total expense of $338.50.

My small expense is due to the kindly treatment of the preachers whom I served. I was a stranger and they took me in, kind, considerate and courteous to me. I thank you, Brethren. Then two of the railroads have been granting me passes over their roads whenever

I wanted to go. I had the kindest of treatment at the hands of these officials. Brethren these roads gave me passes because of the work I represent and because they believe you worthy.

The year has been one of severe trial and some sacrifice, yet I have enjoyed all for it is Our Master's Business.

W. H. Baker.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

There has been no time in the history when greater attention was being given to education. Splendidly organized and equipped schools with adequately trained teachers are to be found everywhere. Our educators and statesmen, as well as our churchmen, are recognizing that these secular schools are inadequate to give our children and youth a sufficient background of instruction and training for a complete life. A knowledge of religious history and literature with special emphasis on the life and teaching of Jesus is essential for a basis not only of Christian character, but of good citizenship.

Religious education is the process of imparting this knowledge and training in expressional activities. It is one of the church's most important functions and should be so organized that every child within each pastoral charge may have the benefits of this knowledge and training. The program of religious education should include graded instruction and training adapted to the needs of each individual and graded worship as provided for in the thoroughly departmentalized Sunday School.

The chief responsibility for the promotional activities lies with the local church. The pulpit, the press and personal effort should be used for this purpose. The pastor should familiarize himself with the technique of religious education and should be able to assist the church to standardize the organization and instruction, and to promote the movement until every child in the community is taught the great underlying principles of the Christian life, and every possible influence used to cause him to fashion his life according to these principles, and to come to a knowledge of a saving faith in Jesus Christ.

The Conference Board of Sunday Schools is organized to cooperate with the General Board of the Sunday Schools in making actual the program of the Board in the local church. Its activities lie along three lines, viz: Extension work, efficient work in the Sunday school, and the organization of the general program of religious education.

The Conference Board has concerned itself chiefly with cooperating with Rev. J. M. Weaver, the regular representative of the Board of Sunday Schools in our Conference. The Board of Sunday Schools has been of great service to this Conference in supporting a representative within its bounds for many years. Rev. J. M. Weaver, Superintendent of Sunday Schools, has given himself earnestly and persistently without personal reservation to the work of religious education. We wish to commend him for his devotion and enthusiasm.

He has covered most of the Conference territory in speaking tours with District Superintendents at quarterly conferences, group meetings and special Sunday school conferences, including week end visits.

He has investigated four extension fields and organized three new Sunday schools.

He has made 24 trips to extension fields to develop new points. These include the Chehalis Circuit, Longview and Wilkeson.

He has promoted the Thompson-Smith Sunday School Conferences and the Summer School at the College of Puget Sound.

He has promoted vacation Bible schools and assisted in one. There were fourteen such schools reported to his office, enrolling from 80 to 347 pupils each.

Mr. Frank C. Schultz, Conference Director, assisted in Teacher Training. During the year 22 classes were organized, enrolling 310 pupils. One correspondence student was enrolled, 1,253 enrolled at the Thompson-Smith Conferences and 70 attended the Summer School.

At Easter time 1,500 pupils of our Sunday schools gave their hearts to Christ.

The Conference Board largely financed the publicity of the Smith-Thompson meetings held in the Conference during the year. These brethren, Dr. Smith for adult work, and Dr. Thompson for young people's work, were greatly appreciated by the group which met them.

The Summer School of Religious Education held at the College of Puget Sound, in character of work done, was the most successful thus far conducted. We regret that the attendance was so small that it is doubtful whether we can continue the great work. We recommend that the Conference urge 200 actual attendance for next summer, and that every pastor write personally to Dr. Wilson, assuring him of interest and pledging cooperation in this effort to train a leadership for our Religious Education program.

Regular quarterly meetings of the Board have been held and usually monthly meetings of the executive committee.

The Board has received $407 from the churches for its work this year. About half of this has been spent in publicity work, and in general promotion work. Since much of the money came in late in the year it could not be used as was intended in group institutes. We, therefore, request that we be permitted to use this balance in a similar manner during the coming year.

We recommend the continuation of the present Board until the new Board shall be nominated by the Committee on Nominations and elected by the Annual Conference.

The representative of the Board of Sunday Schools is ready to assist in establishing the program of the Board in any of our Sunday Schools, upon invitation of the pastor and superintendent.

We request the appointment of a commission to cooperate with the Conference Board of Sunday Schools and the Bishop of the Area, in considering the status of the Summer School for Sunday School workers at the College of Puget Sound, conducted by the Board of Sunday Schools for the Church.

We nominate the following to be this commission: The pastor and Sunday School Superintendent of First Church, Tacoma; University Church, Seattle; Chehalis; the pastor of Garden Street, Bellingham, and the Sunday School Superintendent of First Church, Everett.

ANDREW WARNER, President,
ROY L. SPRAGUE, Secretary

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION

The efforts of the Social Service Commission have been directed during the past year along the lines of promotional and educational activities. In this connection, we wish to endorse the appointment of the Rev. A. A. Heist as the Field Secretary of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, and we urge the utmost cooperation on the part of the members of this Annual Conference in order that the work in this department of the Church be made the most effective and best understood.

We are eager to have the pastors become members of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, in order that they may receive the literature and become better informed in the work which we are carrying on throughout the church.

We wish to express our appreciation of the forward looking policy of the Pacific Christian Advocate, and we hereby record our endorsement of the work of Edward Laird Mills, its editor, for his policy in presenting it to his readers.

It is with positive satisfaction that we receive the announcement of the United States Steel Corporation that hereafter that concern will adopt the eight hour day policy with its employes, and that this policy since its inauguration proved to be in every way a decided success. We wish to pay tribute to the efforts of the late President Harding in this direction. We take this as ample justification of the recommendations of the steel strike committee of the Inter-church World Movement.

We rejoice in the outcome of the Mission of Bishop Edgar Blake and Dr. Hartman to the Living Church of Russia, and we heartily support the pledge they made to that body to raise $50,000 for the purpose of training young Russian students to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ in that empire.

T. J. GAMBILL, Chairman,
J. E. MILLIGAN, Secretary.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Every year adds to the evidences that the Epworth League organization was inspired. It has become the future church in training. In its chapters today are the eager, consecrated disciples who will become the fearless, indomitable apostles of tomorrow. In this we may well rejoice, thank God and continue the blessed work with increased power.

More than timely was the inception of the movement that has resulted in the development of our own Institute at Epworth Heights. The session of July 16-22, 1923, was one of the most successful ever held. The commission secured a strong faculty. The Epworth Leaguers did earnest, consistent work in the classes. The new stadium proved a welcome addition to the equipment of the institute grounds. The response to the call for funds to meet the expense of erecting the stadium and making other improvements was most gratifying.

The Institute was especially favored by the Central Office in having Dr. W. F. Gratz assigned to us this year. The whole Conference should stand squarely behind this great work and utilize it to the full in the coming year and years.

We wish to approve most heartily the work of the Commission. Many members thereof have done a humble, sacrificing work that is worthy of especial mention.

Your committee approves the following nominations of the Commission: Term expiring 1925, Herbert Little, to succeed K. L. Haga. Term expiring 1926, C. D. Rarey, J. E. Milligan, Sybil Tucker, Lucile Alsip.

ERNEST J. BATES, Chairman.

FRANK R. GILLET, Secretary.

AUDITING

We, the members of your Auditing Committee, have to the best of our ability, examined the books of the various Treasurers, Secretary and District Superintendents, and found them correct.

C. E. SANDERS, Secretary.

E. D. WHITE, Chairman,

SPECIAL CHARITIES

Inasmuch as our Church, in its wide range of ministry, has provided so efficiently for benevolent interests, we recommend that wherever possible the benevolences of our people be directed through our own organization.

We recommend as worthy appeals coming from organizations outside our Church, the Anti-Saloon League, Law Enforcement Organizations, Washington Children's Home Finding Society and Community Chest.

CHARLES P. JOHNSON, Chairman,

SELDON EWING, Secretary.

---

PERIODICALS, PUBLICATIONS AND COLLECTIONS

As a Church, we desire to develop and enrich human life to the full measure of possibility. This cannot be done without books, periodicals and other reading matter of the highest order.

We, therefore, commend the Book Concern in its ambition to furnish our people with the best matter and material at the minimum of cost consistent with a fair wage to employees.

However, we fear that some of our ministers are not financially able to secure such books as are necessary to make them of the greatest possible service to their people. If this be the case, we hope some way may be found by concessions from the Book Concern or otherwise to meet this need.

This is a reading age, and there are already indications that a decadent literature is undermining the morals of our youth. To check this tendency we would suggest a more generous use of our Sunday School helps; that we at least get the Epworth Herald and also the Pacific Christian Advocate, which is not excelled by any of the other Advocates, into every home.

Further, we should not only sell and distribute our literature, but seek through pastors, teachers and church leaders to stimulate a desire and taste for the best.

Let us cooperate fully with our publishing agents in producing, distributing, collecting and in supporting them in any other way that will help them to do well this great task.

E. O. GRIMES, Chairman.

TEMPERANCE, PROHIBITION AND MORAL REFORM

We reaffirm our stand of last year in favor of an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to prohibit sectarian appropriations and we desire action by the Conference in favor of the article of amendment now before Congress, and that the petition for amendment presented to us by the chairman of the National American Minute Men be endorsed by the Bishop and Secretary of the Conference.

We also reaffirm our loyalty to the Anti-Saloon League of the State of Washington. We desire to express our deep regret at the loss from its leadership of George D. Conger, and we rejoice in the providential coming to its superintendency of Joseph Pope, whose outstanding achievement in Montana assures us and the forces for law and order of the State of Washington with hope for the unique and successful accomplishments of the future.

The Committee further expresses unanimous favor in behalf of the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. It congratulates the successful work of Mr. F. A. Hazeltine and deeply appreciates the interest of our late and beloved President Harding in prohibition and moral reform. It affirms its faith and hope in President Coolidge to take up the fight in behalf of moral righteousness.

We rejoice in the success of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals under the secretaryship of our Brother, Clarence True Wilson; the inauguration of the bone dry plans, its successful circulation of literature, which keeps reform work throbbing with life; its wonderful world-wide propaganda now organized in 24 states and the monument to this great enterprise in the magnificent building at the capital city and center of Protestantism and Methodism; and we believe that every church should present the story of this enterprise to their people and take a voluntary offering for its completion. It has no other source but the voluntary offerings of the Americans who believe in its necessity.

That was a unique and magnificent address delivered to the Conference Sunday night by Clarence True Wilson. We thank him for the high endorsement of the work of President Coolidge, Secretary Hughes and of our own Senator Jones, and many others who are representing our country in the Senate and Congress in behalf of civic righteousness.

We desire to tender Dr. Wilson our most hearty cooperation in the successful erection of the new building at Washington, D. C., and we commend his own spirited and intelligent fight upon the combined forces of evil.

J. FLETCHER LONG, Chairman.

J. W. REYNOLDS, Secretary.

SUPERVISOR OF LOGGERS' ACTIVITIES

In presenting this my annual report I wish to record my gratitude to God for His unfailing goodness to myself and fellow-workers while laboring in this important field. The Gospel has been preached to the men of the woods and the message has been well received. Some have been converted and a number have united with the Church.

The migratory tendencies of the loggers makes it impossible to conserve the fruits of our efforts as we would wish. The good accomplished cannot all be systematically tabulated, as our congregations are constantly on the move. Our efforts have been concentrated toward the supreme goal of all Christian effort—the leading of those we serve to fellowship with Christ. To this end we endeavor to emphasize the need of citizenship to those who are aliens and we have had some success in this enterprise. We stress the saving of their money instead of squandering it away in moonshine, gambling and immorality. Scores of loggers have thus been induced to start bank accounts to the advancement of their material welfare, and also of their spiritual well-being. These responsibilities pave the way to the higher responsibilities of Christian service.

The Rev. H. E. Greening serving Pacific County, with headquarters at Raymond, and Rev. George N. Magwood, serving a portion of Grays Harbor County from Aberdeen, Washington, have done splendid service to the Church in ministering to the needs of the loggers under their care. In camps and hospitals they have answered the calls of the suffering and the needy, and their labors have met with a gratifying response. I have visited them from time to time and have found that both operator and logger have good things to say about the work they are doing. During the past year have spent a number of weeks with my fellow-workers on their respective fields.

As supervisor of this field I have not had the time to spend in the camps as I would wish. Calls have come from some of the prominent Churches of Puget Sound to have me tell them the story of the logger. Have spoken to Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, to teachers' associations, to the Home Missions Council, to District meetings and other organizations on our program. Everywhere I have had an enthusiastic hearing. Notwithstanding all this associate work, I have visited the camps in the interim and kept in close touch with the problems of the loggers. The following report will show somewhat of the varied calls that have come to me as a worker for our Board of Home Missions and Church Extension.

Our work was hindered this year, both by the forces of nature and the forces of human nature. We had some big snowstorms, some big floods due to the former, and one strike due to the latter.

The strike called by the I. W. W. in the Spring was only partly successful. It was called ostensibly to express their sympathy with political prisoners, but the real purpose in view in all their efforts is to do away with the wage system and place the means of production in the hands of the workers. All the efforts of the I. W. W.—shorter hours, increased pay, better conditions, are but incidental. They keep in view everlastingly their great goal, the smashing of the wage system.

With other local ministers, we had an interview with the two strike leaders, one heading the marine end and the other the lumber and railroad construction end. These men were very frank concerning their real aims. We were received very cordially and all our questions were answered readily. The strike was also a test of their strength.

Dr. Vermilya, Dr. Gilbert, Dr. Stowell, Dr. R. A. Conover and Dr. E. M. Hill have visited us during the year and gave us much encouragement by their addresses and sympathetic interest. All of them seemed impressed with the need of this kind of work among the camps and mills.

Our cause is constantly gaining friends in the various churches where our message has come and the work of the Board of Home Missions has been strengthened.

Neighboring pastors have been kind and helpful and have responded cheerfully when their services have been requested. Altogether we feel like thanking God and taking courage, because of what has been accomplished and look hopefully toward greater things in the future.

Sermons and addresses, 360; visits to hospitals, 287; sick calls, 3,169; magazines distributed, 52,000; funerals, 10; song services-hospitals, 34; programs of entertainment, 14; conversions, 12; joined church, 7.

Brother H. E. Greening has established libraries in hospitals and has had great success in helping injured loggers in the matter of industrial compensation. A number under his ministry have been converted and have united with the Church.

Brother George N. Magwood has accomplished much good in persuading scores of loggers to save their money. Bank and savings accounts have been started, adding greatly to the usefulness and self-respect of those so doing.

Other services have been rendered too numerous to tabulate. Have taken convalescents riding. Have taken injured men to hospitals. Spent three hours one afternoon rendering first aid to a man who had both legs broken and drove him in my car over a steep mountain road, where he could be taken to the hospital. Have traveled over 12,000 miles in my Chevrolet and hundreds of miles by train. All this in addition to my duties as Secretary of the Conference has kept me busy, and the great joy of it all has been that it has been done for the kingdom of Christ and for the Church which I love.

ROBERT C. HARTLEY.

WILKESON—WORK AMONG THE MINERS

When the Puget Sound Conference met for its annual session two years ago there was raging within our bounds one of the greatest and bitterest industrial struggles that ever occurred in America. It was the great coal strike, which began in Wilkeson and neighboring mines and spread until, eventually, it involved the entire coal industry of this nation, and culminated in the deadly Herrin disaster. When our Conference met, the struggle in this State had been going on for five months and for two years more it was fated to continue, with increasing bitterness and hatred.

At that session you sent a minister and his wife into the very heart of that struggle. They went without material resources for their work, but with the earnest prayers of sincere men and women, far and near. They did the first thing the confusing conditions seemed to call for: They opened a veritable first aid station in the first line trenches and cared personally for the desperate physical needs, especially of women and children, but also of the men, of individuals and of families. They distributed from their own homes and by methods that avoided publicity and humiliation to those who received, more than 3,000 garments in these two years. This clothing was furnished by the Women's Home Missionary Society and was all clean and usable, much of it new.

Due to under-nourishment and lack of care, the children especially have suffered. Unusually large numbers have adenoids and enlarged tonsils and their teeth are in bad condition. Twenty-four children have been taken to the County Hospital for tonsil operations, and arrangements have been made to have the dental work of the school children attended to.

This ministry in material things has won the confidence of these people in the ministry in spiritual things, and in the two years there has been an average of 87 in the Sunday School; this in a community ninety-five per cent. Catholic. Nine Sunday school classes, a boys' club, a girls' club, first aid classes for boys and girls, a social program and an entertainment course have been maintained, all under the leadership of Wilkeson Young People. A girls' choir, a teachers' training class and regular services have been maintained; the Sunday School in an unused school building and the preaching service in a dance hall. The schoolhouse was torn down this spring. On Easter Sunday four of our children were baptized and others are now ready for baptism. Two young people from our Sunday School are in college preparing for Christian service, and a number of boys and girls have been induced to enter high school to fit themselves for useful careers.

Further results have been that a Christian minister has been able by the grace of God to maintain friendly and confidential relations with both sides of this industrial conflict. All the meetings of the miners union, district and local, have been opened to him and his sympathy and counsel have been appreciatively received on all occasions. By their invitation he has on several occasions spoken from the same platform with national officers of the United Mine Workers of America to great mass meetings of the workers. Just last week the President of District No. 10 sat for two hours in the shade of our new building and discussed with him the whole coal situation in this State.

On the other hand this same minister has, not once or twice but again and again, sat in the offices of the two greatest coal producing companies in the Northwest and discussed with utmost frankness the Christian principles and the human elements involved in the coal industry.

Another result of this ministry is that the Methodist Episcopal Church owns in the very heart of this coal mining district nearly an acre of ground, strategically located in the community, with a neat, comfortable, modern home for the minister, and within two months a splendid, modern, useful community house will be completed. It will have a beautiful chapel, with rooms and equipment for a modern Sunday School of 150, with social hall and reading room, and a regulation gymnasium with shower baths and other equipment. This house is built of Wilkeson stone and is 60 x 90 feet. The building stands upon a lawn 125 feet wide by 100 feet deep from the street. It will be a beauty spot in a community not blessed with many places of beauty. It will be a beacon light in the midst of most immoral surroundings. Fool halls with screened windows where drinking and gambling are common and where boisterous, vulgar and profane language can be heard upon the streets, also a house of public prostitution are within the sound of the singing in our chapel.

All this has been made possible by a donation of $5,000 from the Board of Home Missions. The land was donated by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and the Wilkeson Coal and Coke Company. The valuation of our property will be between $15,000 and $18,000.

Many of our brethren of the ministry have responded most encouragingly to our letter sent out a few weeks ago, some with gifts of money and many with their prayers and good wishes. The response of the Laymen has been most gratifying and for all of this we are sincerely thankful.

Thomas J. Gambill.

CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

This is my third annual report as Conference Evangelist. It has truly been a year of varied experiences.

We began our year's work at Eureka, Bellingham. This was a pleasant but not very fruitful meeting. The Centenary season was at its height, and the people were so rushed in the fruit canneries, they were unable to give the service that was needed. However, a Catholic family was saved in this meeting and united with the church, as well as a few others that were gathered in.

At Arlington the Lord gave us a very gracious meeting. Quite a large number were saved and others sanctified. However, an old standing trouble in this church remains to bring much grief to our work and discouragement to the saints who labor there. We were greatly gratified in this meeting at having a part in the reclamation and sanctification of a son of the Rev. Luce, of the Columbia River Conference, who added much to the music with his fine voice.

Our next meeting was at Fords Prairie, near Centralia, in a community hall where the Sunday School Union have a Sunday School. This was during the period of the great snow storm of the winter. Nevertheless the Lord prevailed and a gracious work was done. Among the converts was a lady above fifty, a minister's daughter that had gotten away from God and was living in sin.

I spent the holidays in Kansas, returning in time to begin a meeting in Yelm in the middle of January. Here the Lord graciously visited the people. Several were saved, others sanctified and the Church strengthened by several additions.

Our next meeting was at Coupeville. Brother Rinehart, with a heroic venture of faith, had assumed all responsibility of the meeting under most discouraging circumstances. But the Lord honored his faith and wrought a great work, perhaps the best revival in that church in several years.

Camas Valley, Oregon, being open to us through the call of the pastor, we went there immediately. The people did not know of our coming until our arrival, but rallied quickly to the meeting and the Lord gave us a gracious time, with all the attending evidences of a work of grace. Among those reclaimed was a backslider who had once been quite eminent as an evangelist in the Nazarene Church, whom we hope God will again use to His glory.

Leaving Oregon we began meetings in Fairhaven Church, Bellingham, where we have had two years of pastorate and two successive evangelistic meetings. The Lord gave us a gracious meeting, honoring these blessed people.

From Fairhaven we went to Ridgefield, where the Lord gave us a good time. In this meeting there was a fine cooperation of the Methodist, the Nazarenes and the German Methodists. All three of the churches shared in the fruits of the meeting.

We then opened meetings at Union School House, four miles south of Chehalis, where three whole families were saved or sanctified.

At Galvin, a mill town near Centralia, we begun a meeting in a union church that manifested less union than any other church we have yet seen. This church has been ministered to for years by disciples, advents, Church of God, Pentecostals, Apostolics, etc. Each clearly proving to their own satisfaction that they are It. About a dozen were saved and two were sanctified.

We then went to Centralia in a tent meeting under the arrangement of a self-organized committee of laymen, who rented a corner centrally located, where with the assistance of Mrs. Coffield and son, together with Mrs. Cox in charge of the music and the friendly co-operation of the Methodist, Free Methodist and Nazarene Churches we pushed the battle on. About fifty persons were converted or sanctified in this meeting. Among those saved was a logger, who had not been in a church for fourteen years.

We have seen about fifty men instantaneously saved from the tobacco habit during the year. One very remarkable case of this kind was a Jew, an inveterate cigarette user. Another an old man, 84 years old, completely delivered from this vice.

In the meetings at Arlington, Rainier, Fords Prairie and Yelm, Miss Douglass, a graduate Deaconess of our own school, cooperated with us with very marked efficiency. Her skilled training, her clear experience in heart holiness and here fine personality made her all that one could desire in such work. Because of the state of her health at that time, however, she found herself unable to continue the work.

During the period of my trip to Kansas, Mrs. Cox and Miss Douglass assisted Brother Warren at Satsop.

Mrs. Cox's worked among the children has received the highest commendation among the churches, leaving behind her bands of saved, sanctified, praying and testifying children to bless the church.

I have preached 480 times during the year, 100 times more than any other year of my life. In the homes where we have been entertained there were a total of 13 unsaved folks, all of these except one were saved during our stay. We are still asking the Lord for that one.

W. E. Cox.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the members of the Puget Sound Conference, express our gratitude to the citizens of Puyallup for the splendid hospitality that we have enjoyed during this conference session. You have received us into your hearts and your homes and many organizations and institutions have extended courtesies and kindness which have made our work lighter and our stay happy.

To the Presbyterian, Baptist and Christian communions we are grateful for the church buildings so kindly placed at our disposal for the Lay Delegate Association and committee meetings.

To the Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce for the rooms, and for their efficient service in providing meals, we give thanks.

To the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, of Tacoma, for the use of several adding machines; to the Knapp Business College, Tacoma for the valued services of their stenographer and typist, Miss Davenport, and also to Mrs. Ellexson, stenographer, both of whom have given efficient and cheerful service, we are grateful.

To the janitress, Mrs. Forbes, who made this church so convenient for our use and gave so many and cheerful courtesies, we render hearty thanks.

To the editor of the Puyallup Tribune and the editor of the Puyallup Herald for services of publicity given to the Conference we are grateful.

To the choir and organist and those who have delighted us with music and song and led us in the spirit of worship, our thanks are also due.

The Rev. T. W. Lane and his esteemed wife have been untiring and most cheerful in ministering to our comfort and to the success of the conference. We owe them a debt of deep gratitude.

Brother John Lewtas, the chairman of the entertainment committee and his assistants have done fine work in preparation for the coming of this conference and in seeing that all were provided with comfortable homes. To them also we tender hearty thanks.

We express gratefulness to everyone who has contributed to make this conference such a successful one and to all who have ministered to our comfort and happiness. We shall not soon forget our visit to your city. You have treated us right royally and we fell in love with you at first sight, and like all lovers at parting we swear eternal friendship, but with this difference, we shall not soon forget your name and address.

We are grateful to the Secretary, Statistician and Treasurer and their assistants who have efficiently and faithfully served the conference and to the representatives of the various educational and benevolent enterprises for their revelation of church expansion and growing needs, and to all speakers who have brought to us such wonderful messages as have made this conference one to be remembered, full of inspiration and blessing.

We call attention to and express our deep appreciation of the constructive position that President Harding took in affirming the need of the United States Steel corporation to adjust itself to the eight-hour workman. Also we recognize with due sense of appreciation the visit of President Harding to the Northwest. We call attention to the fact that his last address was made in the city of Seattle within the bounds of the Puget Sound Conference. We deeply regret the apparently untimely death, but desire to go on record as recognizing his fine, manly, wholesome Christian character.

And to our beloved Bishop, what more shall we say. He knows that he has the love and honor of the brethren. His charming and brotherly personality, effective business administration, his thoughtful considerateness, his devotional and soul-stirring messages and counsel, given with such persuasive power and spiritual unction, have endeared him to us, and we pray that the General Conference will leave him in this area to continue his work with us in building for Christ in the Pacific Northwest.

We are in accord with the purposes of the Near East Relief and recommend to our people that they give cooperation to the work of providing for it funds and supplies, by consent of their pastors, and in association with such local committees as may be engaged in this urgent and Christly enterprise.

G. W. Cooper and Committee.

JAMES CLULOW

James Clulow was born in Armagh, Ireland, September 8, 1853. He was united in marriage to Nellie Daly on February 6, 1879. To this union five children were born. He came to America in 1883. He began preaching at the age of twenty-one.

He entered the Iowa Conference in 1885 and spent seventeen years of his ministry in the Middle West. He became a member of the Puget Sound Conference by an exchange with Rev. G. G. Ferguson, and stationed at Central Church, Tacoma, in 1903. His service in this Conference besides that of the pastorate has been six years in the evangelistic field.

He was an earnest, conscientious, faithful workman in the Master's vineyard. The interest of the Kingdom was on his mind to the very last.

Last March Brother Clulow suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never completely recovered. Eight weeks ago this last sickness came upon him. In his intense suffering he was patient, resigned and courageous to the end. On Tuesday morning, October 11, 1922, he peacefully passed away at the Seattle General Hospital, to his eternal rest, at the age of 69 years, one month and three days.

He is survived by his faithful companion, Mrs. Nellie Clulow, and three daughters, Mrs. Dix H. Rowland, Mrs. A. C. Thompson, of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. Ernest D. Cook, of Portland, Ore., and two sons, John E., of The Dalles, Ore., and William M., of Ellensburg, Wash., besides eight grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. F. L. Blaisdell and Rev. E. G. Randall, of the Presbyterian Church, in the Rainier Beach Methodist Church, on October 13, 1922. So great was the respect and sympathy manifested that the church could not contain the number of friends in attendance. His remains were laid to rest in the mausoleum at the Tacoma Cemetery.

E. W. ERICKSON.

ALEXANDER JOHN McKENZIE

Rev. Alexander John McKenzie was born in London, England, on December 19, 1875. He came to America at the age of sixteen. On September 14, 1897, at Arroyo Grande, California, he was united in marriage to Nora Benjamin. On November 2, 1899, he was licensed as a local preacher and immediately appointed pastor at Reedly and Travor circuit. The following year, September 19, 1900, he was received on trial in the Southern California Conference and appointed to Bardsdale where he served two years. On September 28, 1902, he was ordained deacon and received into full connection in the Conference and appointed to Bardsdale where he served four years. In 1904 he was ordained Elder having completed the Conference course of studies in the time prescribed by the Discipline. Following Bardsdale he served Wintersburg three years, Arlington Street, Riverside, four years; Escondido four years and was in his second year at Azusa when he exchanged with Rev. James A. Sutton, coming to Chehalis, Washington, where he had been pastor for almost four years when he died.

In all of his pastorates, Brother McKenzie was earnest, devout, patient and faithful up to the point of human endurance. He was strongly evangelistic but steady and well balanced. His churches increased in membership and spiritual power. His last pastorate grew from a membership of two hundred and fifty to three hundred and seventy even though during the last two years he has given the largest part of his time to promoting the church building enterprise which was within a month of dedication when he was called home. This church, which is to cost some $40,000, is a gem of Gothic architecture and ideally planned to care for a modern church organization.

In addition to being a strong preacher Brother McKenzie was a fine musician and took delight in praising God not only with the voice but every kind of musical instrument as David did. He also was interested in the whole community life and did his part to make it clean and helpfull as all men should whose citizenship is in heaven. He realized that eternal life belongs to earth as well as heaven. He was a loyal minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church and loved his church with a fervor that was inspiring, and yet he was wonderfully tolerant.

He died following an operation for appendicitis, November 22, 1922. He leaves to mourn his early passing a wife, two daughters, Dorothy, the wife of Raymond Pollom, of Chehalis, and Elizabeth, eleven years of age; one son, Norman, a student at the College of Puget Sound; a sister, Miss Alice D. McKenzie, and a brother, Duncan McKenzie, both of Watsonville, California.

By a happy thought of someone the scaffolding was removed from the still incomplete new church and folding chairs brought in and the funeral held here on Sunday morning, December 3, in charge of the District Superintendent, Rev. E. M. Hill. Other ministers taking part were Rev. E. N. Askey, of Centralia; Rev. F. R. Gillett, of Castle Rock; Rev. D. E. Carter, of Chehalis Circuit, and Rev. E. E. Heely, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Chehalis—E. M. Hill.

CHARLES N. GOULDER

Rev. Charles N. Goulder, 62, a retired Methodist minister, who had lived in Tacoma for 11 years, died Sept. 10, 1922, at a local hospital. He had been in ill health for years.

Mr. Goulder was born in Paris, Tenn., June 25, 1860, and was graduated from Fulton College in Kentucky in 1881. He was pastor of churches in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Tennessee and California. He came to the Puget Sound Conference in 1903, and was superannuated in 1912. After this he did supply work in smaller churches, but was greatly handicapped by failing health.

Brother Goulder is survived by his wife, Mrs. Louis P. Goulder; two daughters, Mrs. Victor J. Hedberg, Tacoma, and Mrs. George T. Simons, of Los Angeles, Cal.; two sons, Ernest Goulder, of Tacoma, and William Goulder, of Los Angeles; two brothers, Rev. W. T. Goulder, of Oregon, and Walter Goulder, of Kentucky, and one sister, Mrs. Rufus Milner, of Paducah, Ky.

The funeral service of this loyal and devoted minister was held at the First Methodist Church, Tacoma.

MINNIE EVELYN TOWNSEND

Minnie Evelyn Lamb was born August 2, 1873, at Plainfield, Wisconsin. She was married to Rev. Herman L. Townsend at Ipswich, South Dakota, August 8, 1891, and passed to her Heavenly reward from the Virginia Mason hospital in Seattle, Wash., Oct. 10, 1922. Funeral services were conducted in Seattle by Rev. W. H. Leech and Dr. Haman of the Woodland Park Presbyterian Church and the body was laid to rest beside that of her husband in the beautiful Bay View Cemetery in Bellingham, Wash. The services at the cemetery were in charge of Dr. Wilson of the South Side Presbyterian church, assisted by J. C. Harrison T. H. Jorgenson and the writer.

My first acquaintance with Sister Townsend began in 1906, when as Presiding Elder of the Centralia District, I secured Bro. Townsend as pastor of our church at Ilwaco, where he and his wife not only did a splendid piece of work for the Master but won the affections of the people as they did in all the charges they served. Mrs. Townsend was an active worker in every department of church work. A friend of the young people in the Sunday School and Epworth League, hearty in her co-operation with the Ladies' Aid and the Missionary societies and always engaged in acts of kindness and mercy to those in need.

When the United States entered the World War Brother Townsend was in the midst of a very successful pastorate at Kent, but he felt so strongly the pull of the times that he entered the Y. M. C. A. service overseas where he served faithfully and well and returned broken in health so that he answered the call of the Captain of our Salvation and joined the army of the redeemed and blood washed company around the throne of God, Oct. 22, 1919.

Since her husband's death Mrs. Townsend has served as pastor's assistant at Central and First Churches, Tacoma, with great acceptability to both pastors and people.

As a pastor's wife, a mother, a Christian, a pastor's assistant, she was loyal, devoted, faithful and sacrificial, giving her life in service for others because she was constrained by the love of God.

She leaves four children, Mrs. R. W. Ellison of Seattle, Mrs. H. B. Gray of Toppenish, Dorothy of Kent, and Leonard Townsend, and one sister, Mrs. G. F. Boyer of Seattle.—Geo. A. Landen.

MITTIE S. RINEHART.

Mittie S. Burton was born in Indiana, Sept. 23, 1860, and departed this life from Coupeville, Wash., June 3, 1923, aged 62 years, 8 months and 10 days. She was the eldest of four children born to John N. and Angie D. Burton, only one of whom survive her, Nelson H. Burton of Salt Lake City, Utah. The family moved to Missouri in 1866, where Mittie grew to womanhood. She graduated from the Springfield High School in the class of 1884, and in 1886 she became the principal of New Hope Academy, located at Oak Lodge, Choctaw Nation, Indian Territory. At that time this was a girls' school of the Mission Board of the Methodist Episcopal church. She was connected with this school until June, 1892.

In 1893, March 23, she was married to Rev. B. W. Rinehart, at Fort Smith, Arkansas. To them were born three daughters: Pearl Angie Rinehart, Jessie M. Rinehart and Mrs. Nellie Bristol. She also mothered her husband's two children, Lewis C. Rinehart and Mrs. Ruby C. Harris of Nooksack, Wash., by a former marriage.

Sister Rinehart presided in the parsonage home at the following places in the Indian Territory: Oak Lodge, 1892; Catoosa, 1893-5; Wyandott, 1895-9; Nowata, 1899-1900, and at Yukon, Oklahoma Territory, 1900-1903. Coming to Washington in 1903, she lived at Nooksack, Wash., for a few weeks, then to Lynden, 1903-1906; Avon, 1906-1908; Sumas, 1908-1910; Custer, 1910-1913; Sedro-Woolley, 1913-1916; Bothell, 1916-1919; Kelso, 1919-1920; Coupeville, 1920, until called Home, June 3, 1923.

She was converted in early childhood, and lived a consecrated Christian life during all the following years. If it be true that "from the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh," then Mrs. Rinehart was certainly one of those of whom the Lord spake when He said, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God;" for in thirty years of life in the home with husband and children never has there been heard a word from her lips spoken in an unchristian spirit, of which she would have been ashamed before any company.

The funeral services were conducted by the District Superintendent G. W. Frame, assisted by Rev. B. N. Galbraith, pastor at Oak Harbor, and the Congregational pastor of Coupeville. On a beautiful June day her mortal remains were laid away in the cemetery at Custer, in the presence of a large company of sympathetic friends.

On motion, it was decided that in the election of reserves the three receiving the three highest number of ballots be declared elected in successive order, first, second and third reserves.

The result of the ballot showed that Harry Brown, W. D. Pratt and L. L. Bush having received the highest number of votes cast were duly elected as reserve delegates to the General conference.

On invitation of the conference, Bishop Shepard appeared and addressed the delegates for 20 minutes.

On motion, the conference adjourned to meet at 8:30 A. M. Saturday, Sept. 1st, at the Presbyterian church in Puyallup, Wash.

The following resolutions were presented by the Committee on resolutions, and adopted:

Social and Industrial Problems.

(a) We recognize the social and industrial problems of the day as being laden with human welfare and human misery. We recognize the manifest inadequacy, the frequent injustice in the present workings of our industrial system.

(b) We recall that Jesus pointedly refused to be made a judge between brethren disagreeing over property rights. We are not wiser than our Lord and Master. We do not claim the skill that would enable us always to judge justly between man and man. We do not claim the wisdom to choose with certainty between those who cry "Lo, here!" or "Lo, there!" for solution of problems that baffle the wisest minds. But we do believe that each one of us should persistently seek to find and practice ways of definite betterment. To this end,

(c) We declare our belief that the Sermon on the Mount and its summary in the Golden Rule are to be accepted as real guides, and not as pious platitudes; and we further believe that it will be only as we find how to put these precepts into actual practice, that we shall measurably solve the problems of today and tomorrow.

The Liquor Question.

(a) We believe it never necessary for Methodism to state its attitude toward the liquor question. We pledge our continued consecration to the fight against the liquor traffic, and declare our purpose to continue that fight to the bitter end, which end must be the complete annihilation of that traffic.

(b) Our nation has, by the Eighteenth amendment, declared its settled purpose to abolish said traffic. The issue with us as citizens is no longer merely that of the liquor traffic, big as that issue is; but it is also the question of law observance, without which, permanence of our civilization will be impossible.

(c) We do hereby express our appreciation of the work, often the bitter sacrifice, of such officers of the law as are putting up a hard fight for law enforcement. They deserve all honor. Some of them have achieved martyrdom. On our part, we pledge ourselves to renewed zeal in cultivating the spirit of law obedience.

(d) The adoption of the Eighteenth amendment and legislative enactments thereunder have made a major political issue of the wet and dry question. We propose so to treat it. We believe that, accordingly, we should from now on refuse to vote for candidates for public office, which offices have a material bearing on the liquor issue, except and unless such candidates shall, in plain and unequivocal English, declare their adhesion to the Eighteenth amendment and its purpose; and that if in executive or judicial office they will give full and active support to said amendment and legislation thereunder, and if in legislative office they will be always ready to join in such enactment as will promote the effectiveness of said amendment.

War.

We recognize that peace, as the other comforts and satisfactions of life, is a by-product of righteousness. Sought as an end of itself, it will always evade us. On the other hand, it is an inevitable sequence of right dealing. Let us dedicate our influence, in both internal and international relations, to the promotion of such fair dealing that warfare shall cease from the thoughts of mankind.

Amusements and Recreation.

We believe the historic attitude of Methodism of hostility toward amusements of evil influence and association has been a correct attitude. We also recognize, however, that with the rapidly changing times there have come forms of amusement and supposed recreation which are more potent factors for moral disintegration than those that the Discipline has heretofore specifically named. If this question shall come before the General Conference for consideration, we believe it best to adopt a widely governing rule that in recreation, as in business, we should engage in those things only, in which we would not be surprised to find the Master engaged along with us, if He were present in visible bodily form.

Evangelization.

The forward movements for evangelization begun under the support of the Centenary should be and must be continued. As the Centenary period draws to a close, and as payments of pledges made thereunder shrink for various causes, it is right that we give earnest support to such measures as shall seem the best to secure financial and spiritual support for the continued forwarding of the work of the Kingdom.

Conference Claimants.

We recognize the debt of gratitude the church owes to its worn out and retired ministers who have borne the heat and labors of the day, usually with financial support too pitifully small to permit them to save for old age. We further recognize the benefits that would come from an endowment to care for them and their dependents. We also recognize the difficulty, perhaps the impossibility, of putting across, under present circumstances, any plan so far devised for securing such endowment, considering other drives that we face for funds. We commend the matter to the generosity and the sense of justice of our membership, and invoke their support for whatever plans shall prove workable.

Social Welfare and Relief Work at Wilkeson.

This conference wishes to take special notice of the distressful conditions that arose in the Wilkeson mining district as a result of industrial disturbance. We desire to commend the institutional relief and welfare service there undertaken by the church, and to bespeak for it continued interest and support of the work so well begun. Meanwhile, we should work for the day when such things shall no longer be.

Thanks.

This conference does hereby express its thanks to the membership of the local Baptist and Presbyterian churches for the use of their buildings, and for the facilities and courtesies extended to us; and we invoke upon them the Father's blessing, as upon all workers for the coming of His kingdom among us.

After discussion of the different plans proposed for Lay representation in the annual conference it was decided that the Gulf plan be the one to be voted on, which was done with the following results:

For, 27; against, 6.

At request of Bishop Shepard a committee was appointed to arrange time for a joint session with the Ministerial conference. 11:30 A. M. was agreed upon and the session was held at which Bishop Shepard, L. L. Bush and Clint Lee made short addresses.

Joseph Pope, new superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Washington, was introduced and spoke to the conference.

On motion, the conference duly adjourned.

P. M. SNIDER,
Secretary.

---

The Conference Claimants Commission was organized two years ago for the purpose of raising a $500,000 endowment, the income from this sum to provide for the RETIRED PREACHERS of the Puget Sound Conference. Dr. W. H. Baker was appointed endowment secretary.

The FUND has for the first two years of service bequests amounting to more than $45,000; property deeded to the Commission (house and lot), valued at $2,500; interest bearing notes (85), amounting to $11,850; endowment subscriptions (86), amounting to $6,047. At the annual conference of 1922 the Preachers' Aid Society was taken over by the CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION.

The AID SOCIETY had in BONDS, MORTGAGES, NOTES, and CASH $28,150.08. Twelve Memorial Subscriptions have been made to the Commission in amounts ranging from $250 to $500.

This is one of the Choice ways to aid the PERMANENT FUND and leave a monument to a departed loved one, or to a friend living, it is more lasting than GRANITE and carries blessings to others throughout all time.

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

George W. Frame, Superintendent

With greetings to you, and profound gratitude to God for His kindly providences, we submit this, our third report of the work of the Bellingham District.

We men of this district went out last year with high and holy purposes to accomplish much for the Kingdom. We come back with defeats sufficient to keep us humble, and with victories enough to make us realize "what a beautiful thing it is to live and be workers together" with God.

The Bellingham District is composed of thirty-seven charges, scattered over a vast territory, which necessitates much travel. Twenty-three of these are dependent for part support upon the Board of Home Missions. Twenty-seven charges pay less than $1500 a year for support, including the missionary money. Two are paying $1800 a year, and only two charges paying more than that amount—Everett $3500 and Garden Street, $4000. It will be seen that the district has not much to offer to men who must start with $1800 or more, but it has very much to offer strong young men with grace and courage, who know God, and are ready to dare and suffer anything for Him that this great territory shall be won for Christ.

At the close of last Conference Langley and Darrington were left to be supplied. Early in the year we secured A. E. Currier for Darrington, and Gerard J. S. Abels for Langley. Both have done faithful work; Brother Currier under great bereavement on account of the sickness and death of his faithful wife, who finished her earthly service in May, and slipped away to her heavenly home.

Brother A. M. Steele, our pastor at Sedro-Woolley, was compelled to relinquish his work on account of serious illness about the middle of July, and take his departure for the sunny clime of Arizona, where he hopes to recover his health. He has given excellent service, and the people are grieved over his affliction, which prevents his return for another year. The retired relation will be asked for him at this Conference. Other parsonage homes have been visited with sickness, but the Grim Reaper has been denied by the Lord of life and death.

Harry L. Allen, pastor at Ferndale, was called to Tacoma on account of the death of his mother, who departed for her Eternal Home on the 30th of December at Long Beach, California.

T. F. Bissell, supply pastor at Hamilton and Lyman, asked to be released from his charge in February, since which time various brethren supplied the pulpit. About the first of May L. C. Davies, pastor at Stanwood, resigned on account of ill health, and Rev. John A. Logan of the Free Methodist Church was secured as supply until conference. He has given most excellent satisfaction.

Charles Wesley Quall, Earnest Wesley Bates and Erle Howell, Jr., prospective recruits for the Methodist ministry, have come to brighten three parsonage homes on the district. It is said the two Wesleys are already preaching to their parents and earnestly composing "songs in the night."

Early in the conference year group meetings in the interest of the World Service Program were held, culminating in a great District Rally in Everett, at which Dr. Howarth gave us great assistance. Later, in February, Bishop Shepard and Dr. Howarth led us in two inspiring and profitable meetings at Garden Street, Bellingham, and First Church Everett, in preparation for the canvass. Thirteen of the charges reported having passed the goal previous to my leaving for General Conference, and others have since announced their quota as subscribed. We cannot say at this time whether the total on Disciplinary benevolences will equal last year, or not.

Bellingham District is at last coming to its own in the way of providing church homes for its people. Last year we stated in our report that the district should have at least six new churches within the next two years. Three of them will be completed within the year. The fine modern plant at Grace Church, Everett, was finished and dedicated last November. The helpful sermon and wise management of the finances by President Todd on dedication day was greatly appreciated by the people of this church, as was also the address by Bishop Shepard at the evening service. The total cost of the church, complete, is about $18,000, upon which there is about $3000 indebtedness, all provided for by good subscription. Brother C. E. Sanders, the faithful pastor, was made happy in seeing the consummation of his labors, and that of his people, in this modern brick church home.

Edmonds, led on by its devoted, untiring and unfaltering pastor, C. E. Preston, has performed the impossible. The Hughes Memorial Church stands forth complete and unique in all its beauty. It is the gem among churches of the conference. It was begun in March, and dedicated on July 20 by Bishop Johnson, who preached a most helpful dedication sermon, winning the confidence of all, after which Dr. Howarth managed the finances with such skill as to assure victory. The cost, including furnace and furniture, is near $20,000, which is provided for by cash subscription, $7000 being subscribed on the day of dedication. We were especially honored by the presence of Mrs. Hughes and members of her family at the dedication. This church is not only a memorial to our greatly beloved Bishop Hughes, but is an object lesson in what can be accomplished by the faith, devotion and toil of a pastor who cries "it shall be done." Brother Preston was supported by a most loyal and self-sacrificing membership and friends, who deserve the highest praise. We here gratefully acknowledge substantial assistance from the Centenary Fund, $2500 for Edmonds, and $4500 for Grace Church.

Monroe is now engaged in a church building project, which when completed will be a solid brick structure worth $20,000. It is a larger and modified plan of the Edmonds church, and will be dedicated about Thanksgiving. E. D. White, the pastor, is in high favor with his enthusiastic people, and is leading them on to a great victory.

Our church at Lyman, on the Hamilton-Lyman charge, was destroyed by fire in the earlier part of this year, but the little band of heroic members were not dismayed. They determined to arise and build. Aided by the $1500 of insurance money, they are now completing a building valued at $2500; and this, with no regular pastor on the field since March.

Garden Street, Bellingham, has added improvements to the amount of $3000 in the completion of the large and commodious basement. The church is now a model of beauty and utility, and the popular and efficient pastor, J. C. Harrison, keeps it well filled with interested worshippers every Sabbath day.

Lynden was compelled to enlarge her borders on account of a rapidly growing Sunday School. A splendid basement, under the entire church has been completed at a cost of about $2500, the salary has been raised $400, and this charge, under the leadership of Pastor D. A. Storey, is rapidly coming to the front as one of the very desirable charges of the district.

Ferndale, with the efficient pastor, Harry L. Allen at the helm, has painted and repaired the church, which was moved to a new site last year, at an expense of nearly $1000.

Mt. Vernon has expended near $100 in finishing a fine basement, which makes this church complete. C. E. Todd, the pastor, is looking after all church interests with wisdom and care.

Time fails me to speak in detail of Anacortes, with $650 of improvements; Burlington with $700; Stanwood with $1000; Snohomish with $700; Sultan with $800, and many others with $400 or less, making a total of $65,000 of property values added to the district this year, upon which there has been paid in cash over $30,000, the balance being secured by good subscription.

While giving due attention to the material side of Kingdom building, it has ever been kept in mind that the heart of our task is evangelism. In this we have not succeeded to the extent we had fondly hoped at the beginning of the year. Special evangelistic meetings have been conducted on twenty of the charges, principally by the pastors. Those reporting success, with substantial increase in membership are, Acme, Darrington, Port Townsend, Ferndale, Avon, Blanchard, Grace Church, Everett, Anacortes, Lynden and Fairhaven.

Others, no doubt, labored just as faithfully, but with less visible increase. Fairhaven church was greatly blessed by inducing a number of their congregation to attend the camp meeting at Ferndale. This resulted in a number of conversions and additions to the church. Garden Sreet has an increase of about fifty members secured by personal effort without special revival meetings. This church has utilized this method for the last four years, and has added about one hundred members per year above all losses to the church. First Church, Everett, is in splendid condition, both spiritually and financially, under the gracious leadership of the pastor, R. J. Reid. No pastor could well stand in higher favor with his people. This church, also, will have a substantial gain in membership, and has paid over 100 percent of its Centenary subscription. There is still a large place for wise, consecrated evangelists in the Methodist Church, and unless they are given place, as well as personal work campaigns, there will be a falling off in the converted membership of the church. Both methods should be utilized, but we should insist upon genuine conversions. Religious education alone can never solve the problems of Christianity. We must have religious experience. These two are indispensable to each other.

The work with the young people and children of the district has been stressed upon every proper occasion. More than fifty Sunday Schools are endeavoring to supply instruction. The cry everywhere is for more of the better type of teachers; those who know Christ and the Book and the child. We are glad to note that several of our churches held Vacation Bible Schools during the Summer, which were well attended.

Three District Epworth League rallies were held during the year; two at Bellingham and Everett in the year, under the supervision of Rev. Purdy in behalf of the World Service Program—in which the district came near taking the banner for attendance of the whole Area—and the other was the regular District Meeting in June, at Mt. Vernon. All these meetings were enthusiastic and full of good sense, inspiration and valuable discussion. The attendance of the young people at Redondo Institute was just double that of last year, while a large number were attending the Camp Meeting at Ferndale, which was being held at the same time. Both were very helpful. Why cannot these two be combined at the same camp?

For many years the Indian work of this conference was confined largely to the Nooksack Reservation, but under the aggressive superintendency of Rev. and Mrs. Bradshaw, it has developed in several other places on the district. Three flourishing Sunday Schools, at Nooksack, Lummi and Tulalip, are a part of the fruits of their labors. The church membership is being recruited, and one capable and promising young man, Joseph Hilare, has been licensed to preach, and is fitting himself for ministry among his own people. This young man is present at this conference, and I trust will be appointed as Brother Bradshaw's assistant. He can preach acceptably in any pulpit, and churches would do well to secure his services in behalf of Home Mission work.

The women of the district are still nobly at their task. Next to God we are indebted to the women; first, for life itself, and then for making it worth having. Forty Ladies' Aid Societies have contributed $11,000 to the work of the Kingdom, while the two women's missionary societies have laid on God's altars thousands of dollars for their sisters across the seas, and keeping the "home fires burning" here in our native land. But this is only a small part of their service. Figures cannot reveal their many other ministries of love too deep and precious for tabulation.

The Deaconess Children's Home in Everett has had another successful year. The Rest Cottage for Deaconesses of the Home has been completed, beautifully furnished, and has proven a great boon. The whole property has been deeded to the General Deaconess Board, and can now be managed as other Deaconess property. An average of 50 children a month are being sympathetically cared for in this Home by Deaconess house-mothers: Effie Dell Johnson, superintendent; Lucile Sprengel, Orva Palmer, Donna E. Courtnage, Edith White and Alice Hickcock. The annual budget of $7500 has been raised for the year.

Our people have been constantly reminded of the importance and value of Christian Education, and the support of our Christian schools. The matter of good reading has been stressed, ever keeping in the forefront, as being indispensable, our Pacific Christian Advocate. Christian Stewardship has been emphasized as the only possible method of successfully financing the church of the future, as well as being the only principle of Christian giving. If more of our churches do not speedily begin giving to Christ, they will soon cease giving to "drives" and "programs." Attention has been called to the deplorable fact that so few churches are producing young men who are called to the Ministry, and an attempt made to place the responsibility.

Physically speaking, the Bellingham District is not excelled in all "God's out-doors," but its fertile field, its emerald isles, its expanse of sea, to which its life-giving rivers flow, and its lofty and sublime mountains from whence they come; its products of grain, lumber, coal and fish; its poultry farms, berry fields and dairy herds will only prove our undoing except Christ rules; will only make a territory "where all nature pleases, and only man is vile." The need is strong men; men who have absolute faith in the integrity and authority of the Old Book with the new life. Who believe in the exceeding sinfulness of sin, but also in a mighty Saviour with an uttermost salvation from it; in retribution for the finally impenitent, but still more in a Heaven to which all men may go if they will go with Christ; who believe tremendously in education by men, but far more in revelation from God; who believe that the Good News we are to proclaim is not so much that man is trying to find God, but that God is trying to find man; that salvation is not "man's effort to reach God, but it is God's best effort to reach man." "God give us men."

Three bright and promising young men of this type, on the Bellingham District, have been licensed to preach this year, and we expect that next year they will be knocking at the doors of this Conference for admission.

I have held 108 quarterly conferences, preached from two to three times every Sabbath, except when absent six weeks from the District, lived a month of the most strenuous, interesting and happy life at the General Conference, traveled twenty thousand miles by train, steamboat, stage, flivver and on foot, and wrote many hundreds of letters, all without losing my Christian experience, or the sense of the presence of God.

Whatever has been accomplished for the Kingdom of God on the district is due very largely to the loyalty and industry of the pastors. They are the outstanding men; others are but assistants. Every one of them on the Bellingham District deserves credit for some good service, which cannot be enlarged upon or tabulated here. God has the record, and has it right. For the hospitality and kindness of the pastors and their families in these parsonage homes, and for the precious fellowship with pastors and laymen in all the churches we give hearty thanks and take courage for another year of service.

SEATTLE DISTRICT

George A. Landen, Superintendent

In presenting this my tenth annual report of the work on Seattle District and twentieth as a district superintendent in the Puget Sound Conference, I do it with a sense of deep humility before God and profound gratitude to God for continued health and strength and His manifold blessings to me and mine.

The health of the pastors and their families has been very well preserved. The day Conference adjourned last fall, Rev. R. Z. Fahs, a retired member of this Conference and a man highly honored and loved by all the brethren, took his departure for the Heavenly country from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Casey, of Los Angeles, California.

On August the 3rd, Mrs. J. A. Badcon, the wife of Brother J. A. Badcon, after an illness of many months, passed to her reward. Brother Badcon is a retired member of the Montana Conference for a number of years. Mrs. Badcon was a real helpmate and was greatly loved by the people in the charges they have served.

Silverdale and Tracyton was left to be supplied and R. A. Gailey of the Montana Conference was secured as pastor and served faithfully and well for half of the year, when he was released and Rev. J. R. Flood, a recent graduate from Drew, was placed in charge and has finished out the year with satisfaction to all and is recommended for Admission on Trial in the Annual Conference.

Rev. R. W. Maulden, who was appointed to Colby temporarily, was transferred to the Columbia River Conference soon after the session of our Conference, and Rev. T. J. Johnson, a retired member of the Alberta Conference, was secured as supply and served for nine months when he gave up the work.

We took into our Conference last year on credentials one Boaz Elaxander, and he was appointed to Hillman. He entered upon his work with unusual zeal and enthusiasm, but three weeks later he took his departure for parts unknown and I have not heard from him since. A committee of inquiry was called in his case and their findings will be presented at the proper time. After his departure, Rev. G. L. Cuddy served the charge for several months to the delight of the people. When he was taken sick and had to give up the work, Rev. J. M. Denison has been preaching for the people the latter half of the year to the satisfaction of all.

A beautiful new church has been erected at Duvall costing over $6000 and was dedicated in June, free of debt. Much credit is due the pastor, Geo. R. Abbott, for the success of this enterprise.

A small parsonage has been built at Kennydale at a cost of $1200.

A new parsonage at Crown Hill is nearing completion and will cost at least $2500 when finished, and $125 has been expended on improvements to the church building.

The parsonage at Des Moines has been removed to a new location and remodeled at a cost of approximately $1000.

Gilman Park Church installed during the year a new heating plant costing $1500. The church has been reroofed and painted and other improvements made totaling $3000.

A basement has been put under the Wesley Church, a furnace installed, the building repainted and replastered with a total expenditure of about $4000. This was a much needed improvement.

Renton has paid $500 on their debt. Port Orchard has paid off a parsonage debt of $525. Woodland Park has reduced its indebtedness $2200.

The debt remaining on the Bremerton Church has been funded and is being paid off in quarterly installments, and so far these payments have all been met when due, and I feel this will continue to be true.

By aid of the Home Mission Board, the pastor and people have been able to serve the Sailors and Marines in a much more satisfactory and larger way than heretofore. Dr. Bennet is deservedly popular with the whole city.

I am glad the Conference session is being held in this beautiful church that you brethren of the Conference may see what is being done at this our Naval port.

The work of evangelism and soul saving has not been neglected. Quite a few of the churches either with or without evangelists have held special meetings during the year with some results. In the early spring we had Rev. Guy H. Black with us for a week organizing Personal Evangelistic efforts and most of the churches took some part in this work and I am sure the reports will show some definite and lasting results. I am fully persuaded that if pastors and people would co-operate in an all the year through personal effort, that large results would follow.

While the increased attendance at our Sunday Schools has not been marked, I am persuaded that better work is being done along religious educational lines. Our problem is not only better trained teachers, but more of them.

The Ladies' Aid Societies were never more devoted and helpful than this year. The same may be said of the W. H. & F. Missionary societies. I could heartily wish that all the organizations of the church were as zealous and faithful as these women's organizations.

The Northwest Training School, under the wise supervision of Miss Ruth Fogle, has had the largest enrollment and largest graduating class in its history. There is growing interest and efficiency in this school, but we are handicapped by lack of room and equipment. In some cases three young women have occupied rooms only intended for two and in this crowded condition it is impossible for them to do their best work. Some way must be found in the near future to properly house and equip this institution if it is to meet a growing opportunity in training young women for Christian service.

The Settlement enlarged its work by establishing a branch at Lakeside so that work is being carried on in both places. Two preaching services and two Sunday Schools are being carried on with an enrollment in the two schools of 271. Miss Charlotte Howland is the efficient superintendent and is aided by four other Deaconesses.

The Epworth Leagues on the District have just about held their own as to membership and attendance at the devotional meetings, but I cannot help feeling that the young people of the church are not really taking the work of the League as seriously as they should and that there are elements of weakness that should have careful consideration. The chapters should be more vital factors in the church life. The Institute was undoubtedly interesting and helpful, but so long as many young people look upon it more as a vacation than a school, it will not accomplish the desired end. Some are free to say there is something wrong with the League, but so far no wise man has arisen to tell us how to remedy the wrong. May I suggest that the disease preying upon the League is not peculiar to the League. You will find it in the life or lack of life in the church. We need a revival of pure and undefiled religion before God and more personal piety.

The Seattle General Hospital has for twenty-five years been operated by a committee of the Seattle Deaconess Home Association and has a record of first rank due to the splendid management of Miss Evelyn Hall. The Association has transferred all its furnishings and equipment to the organization created by this Conference. We have a great opportunity and responsibility in connection with this hospital and I trust the Conference will at this session take immediate and vigorous steps to do what can and ought to be done in connection with this hospital. Much credit is due Mr. T. S. Lippy for the launching and continuance of this enterprise.

The Wesley Foundation under the direction of Brother Stanley G. Logan and his good wife has done a most excellent work. The young people who have had the privilege of Wesley House have felt the inspiration and uplift of it all and have gone away strengthened in character and better equipped for their work. I hope every pastor in the Conference will cooperate with Brother Logan and the Board of Trustees in adequately financing this feature of our student responsibility.

We have done our best to keep before our Quarterly Conferences and Churches the claims of good literature and especially our Pacific Christian Advocate. While we do not always agree with the editorial utterances of our good friend, Dr. Mills, we desire to say that the paper was never more ably edited than now and we urge all our people to become subscribers and readers.

Vacation Bible Schools were carried on in a number of churches during the summer with a growing interest in this phase of religious education. The Settlement, in addition to the Vacation Bible School, conducted a week day Bible School from October to the middle of June each Thursday afternoon after the close of the public school. I sincerely hope the proposed Constitutional Amendment will carry, making it possible to conduct these week-day Bible Schools in all our churches.

The Goodwill Industry established about a year ago has done remarkable work. Opportunity labor has been given to 1356 persons, to the amount of $18,000.

Three stores have been opened and have disposed of renovated clothing, shoes, furniture and so forth, at reasonable prices to needy people. Better than all, Brother Vereide, the Superintendent, has had the pleasure of seeing a number of souls surrender their lives to Jesus Christ. Total receipts for year, $26,000.

We have been instant in season and out of season in urging the payment and collection of Centenary pledges, but like other sections of the church, we have fallen far below our quota. The World Service campaign was carried out in most of our churches with very satisfactory results. A good per cent of the charges have met their askings in full for the fifteen months, and I am sure our reports will compare favorably with last year.

When I was appointed to Seattle District ten years ago, we had 6558 full members. We reported last year 8389, an increase of 1831 or a fraction less than 28 per cent. The total paid for Ministerial support in 1914 was $44,129. In 1923, it was $63,995, an increase of $19,866. Total raised for the Disciplinary Benevolences in 1914 was $18,681. Last year, $45,671, an increase of $26,990, or nearly two and one-half times as much as in 1914.

The Sunday School enrollment was 9417 then, and 11,930 last year. Increase 2433.

I think this year's report will show an increase in all of those items unless it is the benevolences.

It would be a privilege and a pleasure to speak of the work of each pastor, but time and the supply of superlative arjectives will not permit. I think without exception the pastors have been loyal and faithful to all the interests of the church and have given the District Superintendent fine cooperation.

There seems to be a growing feeling that preachers generally are lazy. I do not admit this charge, but I do believe that some of our pastors are not as diligent students as they ought to be. If a minister is not careful, the constant ringing of the telephone and the multitude of demands upon a preacher's time will rob him of precious hours that should be spent in reading and devotion. No preacher can afford to become mentally lazy or allow his time to be so occupied that he does not have time for study. These days demand the best from every person occupying a position of leadership and there is need that we shall not only be readers but thinkers.

There is more or less criticism that some of our preachers are neglecting the injunction of Paul to Timothy to "preach the word" and are giving too much attention to other matters. If I rightly sense the desire of the people, it is a real heart hunger for a spiritual message that meets the needs of the present day.

During the ten years that I have been on the Seattle District one of the most highly honored retired ministers living in the city was Rev. John Tinling, a member of the Maine conference. Most of the time he has supplied a charge with acceptability to the people and profit to the charge. Last April he was taken ill and after a short sickness entered into rest. He was rather reserved but exceedingly kindly and won his way into the affections of the people. He has left a host of friends.

I feel I must say a word about Father Atwood, who was my firstt Presiding Elder and influential in bringing me to this Puget Sound country, a man whom I love and respect most highly, a man who traveled the Puget Sound district of the Oregon Conference when there were only a few charges in Western Washington, now in his ninety-first year, feeble in body and mind, thinking and talking more of the Conference than anything else, very near to the crossing, he wanted to be remembered to the brethren. Brethren we owe a debt of gratitude to such men as Brother Atwood that we can never repay. May I ask you to remember him in your prayers.

Permit me to say in closing that I appreciate all the honors bestowed upon me by the Puget Sound Conference, and prize more highly than words can express, the friendship, confidence and respect of my brethren. Iretire from the district work with one only regret, and that is that I have not been able to do more for the building up of he Kingdom. I have endeavored to live a consistent Christian life, trying always and everywhere to exemplify the Gospel of clean living which I have preached. I have made mistakes, but I have conscientiously sought to administer the affairs of the church and do the best in my judgment and limitations for every pastor and every church. I shall cherish for all time the splendid fellowship I have had with the pastors and their families and the faithful laymen of the churches I have served. I find that 102 of the 191 members of this Conference have at some time served as pastors under my superintendency, while a good many with whom I have been associated have gone on to the church triumphant. One of the greatest joys of my work as superintendent has been the fathering of young men, whom I have been pleased to call my boys, some of them really my sons in the Gospel.

I bequeath to my successor the goodwill and loyal and devoted cooperation and companionship of the pastors of the Seattle District.

May God's choicest blessings be upon you all and now may grace, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ, our Divine Lord, be upon you and remain with you always.

TACOMA DISTRICT

D. Roland Martin Superintendent

I present this my seventh and last annual report with a deep sense of gratitude to God for the manifold mercies and blessings of another year.

The death angel has not visited any of our parsonage homes. One of our old veterans, William Ludwick, was called to join the innumerable company of Heaven. His was a beautiful life and earth is richer because of his Christian life and work. The wife of Brother E. Hopkins passed to Her Heavenly home. Her's was a life radiant with the sunshine and love of the Master she so faithfully served.

For new buildings and improvements we have had a good year. November 12 the new church and community house at Wilkeson was dedicated. This is one of the most complete and up-to-date plants to be found in any town of like size in the State. The cost of building and equipment was $15,000. There is an indebtedness of about $5000. This must be raised very largely from friends outside the local community. This is a missionary field and will remain one for years. Some results among the young people from the foreign speaking groups in this field have been exceedingly gratifying.

Auburn has spent $10,000 enlarging and making the church into a fine modern plant. The reopening was held November 25. Considering the difficulties of the field, the most outstanding progress of any church in the district for the past two years has been made in this church.

The church at Shelton had a fire the last Sunday of December. While the building was not totally destroyed, the official board decided that they needed a new church and plans were soon completed for a new church, to be located on the lots adjoining the parsonage. June 8 the new church, costing $10,000, was dedicated. The money was all pledged before dedication day. The successful pastor of this church is Nelson C. Pierce.

Morton has been needing a new church for some years. This year did not seem to be an especially good year to launch this project, as the saw mills have been closed down for a good part of the year, but the pastor believed it could be done and July 20 we dedicated a new church costing $5200. The pastor is A. M. Lambert.

Parkland, under the fine leadership of Joel Vigus, has enlarged the church, providing a fine basement room and a splendid auditorium at a cost of over $4000. Bishop Shepard was not available for any of the dedicatory services so the District Superintendent was invited to dedicate all the new churches completed this year. Dr. J. E. Crowther preached the sermon at the dedicatory service at Wilkeson.

Early in the year a new six-room parsonage was built at Bucoda, and all paid for when completed.

Orting spent $3000 in remodeling and enlarging the church. W. O. Benadom, the pastor, led in this needed improvement.

Mason Church, under the leadership of John G. Law, is building a community house to cost about $23,000. This will be ready for dedication about October 1. This will provide room for a Sunday School up to 1200, and facilities for athletic and social activities in a great church.

First Church, Tacoma, put on a campaign to raise $15,000 to pay their indebtedness on the church and parsonage, and make a number of improvements.

Central Church has made improvements to the amount of $1600. The church and parsonage at Eatonville have been improved at a cost of $550. The parsonage at Epworth has been painted and other improvements made, costing $500. Other churches which have made improvements on property are: St. Paul, $605; Trinity, $400; Summit View, $467; Yelm & McKenna $358; Sumner, $325; and several other churches smaller amounts.

There has been paid on indebtedness the following amounts: Central, $3200; Sumner, $2100; First Church, Tacoma, $2000; Olympia, $1500; Trinity, $800; and several churches smaller amounts.

The Goodwill Industries has helped a large number of handicapped people in the name of our Christ. On account of lack of room they were compelled to purchase a new location and are now prepared to be of service to a larger number of needy people.

The College of Puget Sound has completed Jones Hall and will open its doors to the student body next week. We are now in a position for the first time to invite the young people of this Pacific Northwest to enter a Christian Collegt without an apology for the buildings. The college is now entering a new and brighter day.

The Pacific Christian Advocate has a good list of subscribers, but many more of our people should be subscribers and readers of this excellent paper. If I may make a friendly criticism—the editor has been free in his criticisms of the District Superintendents and I admire him for his independence—it is that the Pacific, like most of our official advocates is edited for preachers rather than the average laymen in our churches.

The Epworth League Institute at Epworth Heights was one of the most successful ever held in this conference. The Tacoma district again had the honor of the largest attendance.

The fine, loyal, consecrated women of our churches in their work in the Ladies' Aid Societies, the Women's Foreign and Women's Home Missionary Societies, have rendered a service to the Kingdom which only eternity will be able to reveal.

The Tacoma district has again led the area in the percentage paid to the Centenary, having paid 78 per cent of the apportionment for the five-year period. The average for the conference was 66 per cent. The average for the entire church was 63 percent. On May 31st three charges had paid more than 100 percent on their apportionment. First Church, Tacoma with $540 over, Mason Church $547 over, and Olympia circuit $190 overpaid. Asbury has more than met their quota but failed to get the last remittance to the Chicago office before June 1st. First Church, Olympia has paid this year on the Centenary and World Service $1167 more than the apportionment.

The World Service program has been faithfully presented in all the churches of the district, with the possible exception of two of the churches which were in the midst of a building program. Only one third of the churches secured the full apportionment in subscriptions, but quite a number more nearly reached the goal.

During the past seven years I have continuously emphasized the matter of evangelism. The past two years stressing personal evangelism. The visible results have been less this year than in any other one of the seven. We shall need to employ different methods than our fathers used, but it will be a sad day for Methodism if our pastors lose the evangelistic fire and passion. Religious education if it is shot through and through with the evangelistic spirit holds wonderful possibilities. But we must not substitute formal teaching for a definite religious experience.

The recent General Conference heeded the insistent demand from many of our laymen for an easier way to prune our church records. I am going to venture the prophecy that within the next year or two the revision of our membership roll under the new law is going to give the pessimists and critics of our church a rare chance to declare unto the world that the Methodist Church has lost its power and is rapidly on the decline. The large apparent loss in membership will not be a real loss. One reason why a good many laymen are so anxious to prune the records is that they think their churches are being assessed on a membership basis. May I suggest that before we take people's name off the church record we first do everything within our power to save them to the church and the Christian life. We spend great effort and time and sacrifice of money to win a man for the Kingdom. The man whose name is on some church roll, but who is spiritually dead, may be worth all the effort it will take to bring him back into vital relation with our Lord and Master. Four churches in the district have revised the membership roll with a net loss of 385. One church, after receiving forty-five members during the year, will report a loss of 163.

First Church, Tacoma, and Auburn report a net gain of 100 each. Several churches report good gains.

At the time of writing this report I did not have a complete report from all the pastors in the district. In making a study of the progress of the district I have taken the figures for the first six years of my time as superintendent. The increase in pastoral support is 72.6 percent; in membership 52.9 percent; in property 57.8 percent; in benevolences, 518 percent.

Words fail to express my gratitude to the pastors for their unflinching kindness to me during the past seven years. The Methodist Ministry is indeed the finest brotherhood in the world, but in no conference of my acquaintance is the fellowship as beautiful as it has been to me in this conference. Every pastor who has served in the Tacoma District is deserving of a fine tribute for the faithful service rendered, but time and space forbid. I must not forget to mention the preachers' wives into whose homes I have gone in and out during these years, and thank them for their most gracious hospitality.

As I resign the task to which I have been called for the past few years, and again take up the work of the pastorate, I thank God for the high privilege of a place in the Christian ministry. May His richest blessings abide upon every member of this Conference.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

Andrew Warner, Superintendent

Nearly one year ago, upon the appointment of Bishop Shepard, it became my duty to undertake the responsibility of the district superintendency of the Vancouver District. This duty led into the trails blazed by the pioneer Methodist preachers who were men of whom the world was not worthy, heroic characters, men who faced the difficulties of remoteness, the privations of isolation and the loneliness of a great passion where there is little fellowship. With courage and with unbounded confidence in God these men went into the remote frontier and into every growing village and city, there laying the foundations of the Christian Church and of a Christian civilization. It has given a great thrill to this Methodist preacher to find the foot prints of these pioneers and to feel some relation with the line of worthies who have preceded him; and he has prayed that the mantle of these men might fall upon him, and that the Heavenly Father who gave to the fathers their courage and confidence and faith might extend to him His grace and enable him to have some part in the extending of the borders of the kingdom to include every interest and every individual in this great section which has unbounded possibilities for religious achievement as well as for achievement in the realm of industry and commerce.

In making this report I shall proceed at once to make mention of the various places where we are working, to say a few words about the work in these places and then proceed to report the result of a year's study of the field, our working force and the methods of contact which we have used and attempt to evaluate these with some suggestions for the future.

In the Grays Harbor section, we have four pastoral charges. J. H. Geoghegan, the pastor at Hoquiam, has done a splendid year's work. On the east side of Hoquiam at Simpson Avenue Church, J. H. Harding has served a most difficult field with great devotion and much sacrifice. At Aberdeen we have a church with a great program, in a great field. Henry T. Greene has been the pastor. Miss Florence Maddock has been of much service in her work among the young people, and Rev. E. A. Hart, our Finnish pastor, has done a phenomenal piece of work. The Finnish congregation worships in the building of First Church, conducts a Sunday School, has an Epworth League and a Ladies' Aid. At Cosmopolis Paul Green has done a good year's work which is highly appreciated by the community. The church has been remodeled. R. C. Hartley and Geo. N. Magwood are rendering splendid service among the loggers and lumbermen.

In the upper part of Grays Harbor County we have five charges. In Montesano, F. L. Baldwin has been serving loyally and faithfully for four years. At Satsop, S. V. Warren has succeeded in rallying the forces with a much more hopeful situation at the close of the year than at the beginning. At Elma, F. A. Ecker has ingratiated himself in the hearts of the people. At McCleary Clark Cottrell is the faithful pastor. Here plans are being made for the building of a fine new church. Already over $12,000 has been subscribed. At Oakville and Rochester T. J. Hazelton has shown the possibility of the church serving the community.

At Willapa Harbor we have a congregation at Raymond of which Wm. Park is the pastor. Here a new church is absolutely essential. At South Bend, W. M. Dews and his family live in the Methodist Parsonage. An embarrassing debt has been paid and the spiritual life of the church has been deepened. H. E. Greening has been doing a fine piece of work among the loggers, by which the attitude of many toward the church, toward God, and toward life, has been changed for the better.

At Walville, W. M. Forsythe began the year's work, but was relieved in May to become Scout executive at Mt. Vernon, and W. T. Beatty was removed from Lebam and has been efficiently supplying this charge. R. A. Gailey was secured for the work at Lebam and Menlo and has been very helpful there.

Pe Ell was served at the beginning of the year by that Saint of God, Andrew Monroe, who had in years past so devoted himself to the interests of the church that though he had never broken in soul, he had broken in body. In March on one Sunday morning, when he was ready to go into the pulpit to preach the gospel, he heard the call of his Master. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of the Lord," and we have him no more, but his wonderful influence will go on counting for good as long as those who were inspired by his splendid life shall live. Brother D. K. Sloatman was secured to supply the closing months of the year.

At Chehalis we have a fine new church in which J. M. McQueen has very successfully led in many enterprises. The debt on the church has been greatly reduced, the educational program built up, the woman's work developed, and altogether this has been made one of the most hopeful fields of the district. John Place, who is our pastor at Napavine, has been most tearfully engaged in extending the kingdom throughout that whole rich section about Chehalis and Napavine.

C. H. Cowdy, our pastor at Winlock, suffered a very severe accident, which has kept him in bed for many months, but from which he is recovering. However, even while in bed he directed the work of the church and continued his fine pastoral leadership. His church is preparing to celebrate its fortieth anniversary and enter upon a greatly enlarged program and insists on his continuance. He was greatly assisted during this period by John Long of the College of Puget Sound, who preached in his pulpit for several weeks and by others who supplied for him.

E. O. Grimes found a most difficult field at Castle Rock and has done a good year's work. He has gone into the new town of Ryderwood and has helped in planting the church there.

In the Lower Columbia section Fred Pedersen and his good wife have done a very fine piece of work at Ilwaco.

H. Albright has served Chinook and Ocean Park and the continuance of his service is desired. F. J. Cowley has served during the year at Knappton and Grays River and Naselle. P. T. Graham, a member of the Intermountain Conference, supplied the charge at Skamokawa. In Kelso W. W. Switzer, the pastor, is greatly appreciated for his fine contacts in the homes, his pulpit ability and his splendid influence with the various organizations in the community. Loyd Burke has been pastor at Kalama and at the same time a student in Kimball School of Theology. A good revival was held here during the year and several were added to the church.

One year ago, E. H. Gebert was appointed to the new and rapidly growing town of Longview, but before he was on the ground a movement to establish an independent community church was under way. The tide toward independency could not be stemmed and it carried him into this independent community church where he has been ministering.

In Clark and Skamania counties we have twelve pastoral charges. F. A. La Violette has been the pastor at Vancouver. This church has not only added a large number to its membership, but has developed splendidly along every line. In East Vancouver, Earl Hanna has faced a most difficult situation with great faithfulness and sacrifice. George W. Cooper closes the second year at Camas with a most hopeful outlook. R. B. Parcel has closed his seventh year at Washougal. This has been his best year there. B. G. Clemens, our pastor at East Mill Plain for four years, has done much in extending the influences of vital religion in that splendid country community. Proebstol has been supplied by C. O. Larson. Mrs. H. J. Porter has supplied the charge at Orchards. At Felida and Salmon Creek J. M. Wilder, who has been pastor for two years, is a brother beloved. D. E. Carter has had a fine year at Ridgefield where the church property has been improved by the addition of a basement. A new church has been dedicated at Sara, one of the points on this charge. La Center was supplied for a portion of the year. Yacolt, located in the higher part of Clarke county, has been served by E. B. Reese.

J. C. Lawrence was appointed to serve at Stevenson, where he found an uncompleted church with a very heavy debt. In spite of the greatest obstacles Brother Lawrence has discovered a great opportunity for service and has changed the tide until there is hope of a real forward movement that shall mean the reaching the whole of Skamania county with the gospel.

After having made this review of the charges of the district, I wish to call your attention to the district as a whole. The working force consists of thirty-two ministers who are members of the annual conference, three local preachers who give their whole time to the ministry, and four who give part time, together with 4,179 laymen who are full members of the church, some of whom must be listed in the inactive column because they take no responsibility in promoting the work of the church, together with a number of the members of other denominations who work with us in the local churches.

This working force is organized into forty-two pastoral charges, three of these are served jointly with other fields, making in all only thirty-nine pastors. The lay working force in most of the charges is quite small. Twenty-two charges have less than one hundred members—many much less, eleven others less than two hundred—only five have more than 250 members.

A very slight consideration of these facts will indicate how much a community-wide program of religious education and social service may be needed, the impossibility of accomplishing extensively in these lines with such small working units is obvious. It is therefore incumbent upon us that we must increase our membership. That is saying that just now in the Vancouver district Evangelism is the most important thing. I wish to declare here and now that in my judgment this is no more difficult than it was in the earlier days. The same methods may not succeed, but the human heart is just as hungry for God as it ever was. The spirit of God is as powerful as ever.

One of the most successful Evangelistic campaigns promoted on the district this year was that conducted at First Church, Vancouver, under the leadership of the pastor, Dr. F. A. La Violette.

While it is true that our working units are not large, splendid work in religious education is being done in many of our fields. Just now our great need is for equipment that will accommodate the church for a program of religious education. Eighteen of our churches are one room buildings; five have two or more rooms, but are not adapted for departmental assemblies in the Sunday school. Thirty-five are such that some provision is made for this type of organization.

Of the 200,000 people living within the bounds of the Vancouver district, 60,000 live outside the centers of population, many of whom live in the more or less remote sections. In attempting to serve these people, we are introducing the social center parish plan of organization as a substitute for the old circuit system. By this plan the whole trade zone about the town or city is organized in one parish centering in the town or village and from which the attempt is made to reach the most remote portion of the parish.

A fine illustration of what may be done in this way is to be found in Skamania County in which live about three thousand people, scattered quite widely in small settlements. The families were listed and urged to take up the work of religious education with the children.

Sunday schools were organized and those who could not get into a Sunday school were advised to have their children pursue the regular graded course of study in the homes. A county gathering was then held where the people from the various sections of the county came together for fellowship and study. About a dozen meetings for some sort of religious fellowship or instruction are held each week where formerly there were but two. About 390 are enrolled in our Sunday schools in the county, whereas formerly less than two hundred were so listed.

One of the problems facing us in our desire to extend the borders of the kingdom is that of securing sufficient money with which our churches may be equipped, and with which to provide a staff of workers adequate for our needs. There are two reasons why men have not generally become interested in the support of our local church. The first is this, that the program is too small and not sufficiently inclusive to challenge their attention, the second reason is that we have not been sufficiently good publicity agents to commend them to our program which in most cases does merit their support.

This financial situation is not hopeless. While it is costing much more per capita to support the local church program in the Vancouver district than in any other district of the conference, we are yet working a worth while contribution to world service. The education program is being promoted by conferences, mass meetings, specific instruction both in the pulpit and in the Sunday school.

We believe that southwestern Washington can be christianized much more extensively than it has ever been. After expressing my appreciation of the splendid co-operation of the ministers and laymen who have extended to me the greatest of kindness and courtesy, for all of which I am very grateful, I want to close as I began with a prayer that the mantle of the pioneers who came into this country and laid the foundation of the kingdom here may fall upon us and that the passion for God and humanity that caused them to resist and overcome every opposing force may inspire us and send us out to continue the work which they began so faithfully.

With gratitude to Almighty God for the privilege of being associated with this body in the work of the kingdom and with a prayer for the success of the church of God in this great country, I submit this report.

Reports of Standing Boards and Committees

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

We desire to pay our tribute of praise to the educational history of Methodism and especially to the educational advance in the Puget Sound Conference by way of what we consider progressive recommendations.

Our institutions are largely equipping our leaders for the new day and the work that must be exceptionally well done.

The Kimball School of Theology is ours and its maintenance and development is our task in conjunction with the other Conferences of the Pacific Northwest. Our ministerial leaders must receive the best possible training.

The Northwest Training School is steadily growing and has doubled its enrollment in four years and graduated the largest class this year. The present buildings are wholly inadequate for the needs of the school, making it necessary to secure additional rooms outside to meet our need. We therefore recommend that the Puget Sound Conference grant the Northwest Training School permission to go into the field and raise $75,000 for the first unit of a new building, same to be raised in such manner as may later be deemed wise.

The Wesley Foundation is the child of all the Methodists of the State of Washington. We recommend and approve the securing of maintenance funds for this worthy work.

The College of Puget Sound will always need the assistance of the people. Success always brings new embarrassments. We approve the continuance of a still hunt for funds.

We commend these institutions to the generous support of our Methodist people and urge the finest response to their needs.

We recommend for selection as trustees of the College for the term expiring 1927: D. Roland Martin, Dix H. Rowland, Geo. Schofield, Herbert B. Rhodes, J. W. Spangler, E. A. Rich, Edwin Gregory, E. A. Oliver, and Bishop W. O. Shepard.

We recommend to the Board of Education for the term expiring 1927, Ministers: Andrew Warner, J. C. Harrison, Edward H. Todd, ex-officio. Laymen: Dix H. Rowland and F. A. Hazeltine.

We recommend as Trustees of Kimball School of Theology: F. A. Hazeltine and J. Ralph Magee.

We recommend as Trustees of Wesley Foundation, for one year: J. C. Harrison, Robert J. Reid, Will P. Fisher and A. S. Elford.

For two years: Paul Ashby, J. Ralph Magee, A. H. Hooton and W. D. Pratt.

For three years: J. E. Crowther, E. P. McFall and P. M. Snider.

Respectfully submitted,

John Law, Secretary.
Robert J. Reid.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Your Committee on Religious Education, having no power to pass judgment or to alter any recommendation submitted to it by any Board or Commission, simply summarizes the following reports submitted to it.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Board has held five meetings for planning the work of the Superintendent of Sunday Schools, and for considering ways and means for the training of teachers and leaders, and the making of local surveys.

The Conference Superintendent has conducted campaigns in eleven churches, cared for several extension schools, organized six Sunday Schools, participated in five Sunday School Institutes, and made other addresses.

He has made three tours of Skamania County, holding services in every schoolhouse and calling upon practically every family. A County Rally was held at Stevenson attended by fine results in conversions and additions to the church.

Fourteen Vacation Bible Schools have been conducted with a total enrollment of 2,100 pupils. Brother F. C. Schulz, Conference Director of Leadership Training, reports 32 classes organized with a combined enrollment of 603.

At the beginning of the year the Board had on hand $226; $4 has been received, $176.7 expended, leaving a balance on hand of $54.39.

The Board presents the following RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. The enlargement of the Home Department so as to deal with religion in the home.
2. The use of the closely graded lessons in all our schools.
3. The conducting of a Daily Vacation Bible School, and such other week-day schools as may be found practicable.
4. The arrangement of a full course of lectures for older people at the Epworth League Institute, and also courses for children under League age.
5. The authorization of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools to conduct a school of religious education at Epworth Heights, before, during or after the Epworth League Institute.
6. The appointment of three members of the Board of Education and three from the Epworth League Institute Commission, who, together with the Executive Committee of the Board of Sunday Schools shall make effective these recommendations.

We commend the College of Puget Sound for its work in the Department of Religion, and the excellent work done by Prof. G. P. Hedley. We express our appreciation of the many years of faithful service rendered by the Rev. J. M. Weaver, Conference Superintendent of Sunday Schools. No man in the Northwest is better informed in the program of religious education, and no one has given himself more unreservedly to his task than Brother Weaver. We sincerely trust that in his new field of labor he may find opportunity to use his wide experience in the building of the Kingdom.

We congratulate the Conference on being able to secure the services of Rev. J. E. Purdy, of the Oregon Conference, as Director of Religious Education, and we request the Bishop and Cabinet to so appoint him.

We nominate for election by adoption of this report the following, and request authority to fill vacancies caused by Conference appointments:

The District Superintendents (ex-officio), Bellingham District, R. J. Reid, H. C. Jenkins; Seattle District, J. R. Magee, H. E. Wilson; Tacoma District, John Law, N. D. Pollom; Vancouver District, Paul Green, A. T. Flagg; At Large, R. L. Sprague, G. P. Hedley, F. C. Schultz, Harry Gardner, J. E. Milligan

Respectfully submitted, Andrew Warner, Chairman; Roy L. Sprague, Secretary.

SUMMARY OF TEN YEARS' WORK BY J. M. WEAVER

One hundred and three new communities where Methodism has been planted; 3,000 scholars enrolled in these new Sunday Schools; 69 preaching places have grown out of this work; 4 circuits have been developed therefrom; 14 abandoned churches reopened; 3 church buildings erected; 1 church repaired; 2 dance halls transformed into Methodist churches; value of property acquired sufficient to pay the Superintendent's salary for the ten years; 112 conversions, many baptisms and accessions to the church; repeatedly visited almost every weak charge in the Conference to strengthen the work; four trips over the Conference with representatives from the Chicago office; three Institute itineraries; four summer schools and 257 Teacher-Training classes; 5,377 enrolled in classes, correspondence courses, institutes and summer schools; 214 Daily Vacation Bible Schools with 2,100 pupils.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

Twenty-four Deaconesses are at work in Everett, Tacoma and Seattle in addition to the students in the school. The Children's Home at Everett, valued at $25,000, is now owned by the Methodist Church. It is requested that this institution be placed on the list of recognized Deaconess institutions by our General Deaconess Board. This institution has also provided a Rest Cottage for its five Deaconesses, valued at $3,800. In Tacoma two probationary Deaconesses are assisting in Good Will Industries. At First Church one parish Deaconess is employed. Seattle has two branches of settlement work, Rainier Avenue and Lakeside Church, and a boys' worker is supported by the Community Fund at each location. The Northwest Training School is advancing steadily with all current expenses paid to date. It has been organized 18 years. Its present property is valued at $25,000. It has doubled its enrollment in four years, and graduated its largest class this year.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION

It is proposed to amend Section II, Article I, of the Constitution of the State of Washington to clear away the present barrier against the use of the Bible in the public schools and the giving of credits for optional, outside study of Bible subjects, so that, when amended, it will read as follows, the new matter being quoted: No public money or property shall be appropriated for or applied to any religious establishment. Provided, however, That this article shall not be so construed as to forbid the employment by the State reformatories "and asylums, and for the military forces of the State," as in the discretion of the legislature may seem justified: Provided further, "That this article shall not be so construed as to exclude the Bible from the public schools, nor to forbid the giving of credits to students in the public schools and educational institutions for Bible and other religious studies pursued without expense to the State. Nor shall this amendment be so construed as to forbid the privilege of pupils being excused from public schools four hours per week to receive religious instruction by instructors chosen by the church."

Your committee on Religious Education recommends the endorsement of this proposed amendment to our State Constitution.

Respectfully submitted,

J. E. CROWTHER, Chairman.

E. O. GRIMES, Secretary.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

After six years of organization, and three years of operation under incorporation with an agent in the field, the cash paid into the Permanent Fund is $3317.75. There are negotiable notes and subscriptions amounting to $28,538, and real estate valued at $4,500, covered by two deeds, while there is also written in bills the sum of $45,000.

This year the salary of the Endowment Secretary has been paid complete, the office expenses met, and $364 of a deficit advanced by Brother Baker last year has been refunded. $525 has been paid to the Conference Claimants this year, and there are fifteen memorial subscriptions ranging in amounts from $100 to $2000.

The Preacher's Aid Society paid 1279.64 annuity this year. The Pearson Fund or the Preachers' Aid Society is $300, while the total cash paid in is $20,308.17. There are also notes amounting to $6696.

We nominate as trustees of the Conference Claimants Commission, term to expire in 1927: George F. Hopkins, Frank C. Hart, H. W. Michener. To fill the unexpired term of D. Roland Martin, the District Superintendent of the Tacoma District and Raymond Rees to fill out the unexpired term of T. W. Lane.

We ask that authority be granted the Conference Claimants Commission to employ an Endowment Secretary at any time during the Conference Year provided plans may be worked out to care for his salary.

H. W. MICHENER, Secretary.

T. W. LANE, President.

ENDOWMENT SECRETARY

Your representative has been greatly handicapped in his work during the year for lack of funds to carry on the work, leaflets, printed matter for advertising, and a number of things greatly needed, and very necessary, to carry on the work, I have had to do without, in fact I would have gone much more through the week time than I have, in the interest of the work, and visited other places, had I known where the expenses were to come from, as the collections were smaller than any previous year—to be sure they were provided for in The Resolutions at Conference, but were not forthcoming on the work.

During the year I have secured in Pledges as follows;

Subscriptions 39, amount $7925. These are interest bearing.

Endowment 43, amount $1566. Non interest bearing.

Received on Endowment sub's $1259.50. Interest $508.45.

A house and lot has been deeded to us this year as a memorial by Mrs. Lula P. Bixby of Bucoda, to be known as the "Berriman-David Memorial, a splendid gift by a splendid Christian lady. This is one of the plans I have had in mind to work out—a home for every retired preacher and his wife who have never known what home means since they entered the work of the Ministry.

I have traveled by railroad, auto, street car and on foot, 6,814 miles. Have been away from home 140 days. Preached in 49 different churches, sometimes have preached three times on the same charge, beside speaking to Sunday School and Epworth Leagues. The total expense for traveling, hotel, meals, while away from home, and incidental expenses is $364.18.

W. H. BAKER, Secretary.

BOARD OF HOSPITALS AND HOMES

On February 8, 1924, the Trustees of the Seattle General Hospital Association, under authorization by the Puget Sound Conference, at its 1923 session, accepted a deed to the hospital from Mr. T. S. Lippy and wife in consideration of an annuity of $500 per month, during the lifetime of said T. S. Lippy and wife and the either survivor of the other. On July 18, 1924, the Seattle General Hospital Association accepted a bill of sale from the Seattle Deaconess Home Association (which had been operating the hospital) a bill of sale for all the personal property contained in the hospital including all accounts receivable, bill receivable, and agreed to pay all liabilities from operation of the hospital by said association. This Conference is therefore now the sole owner of the Seattle General Hospital, and on August 11, 1924, the name of the corporation was changed to Seattle General Hospital.

We give excerpts from the report of Miss Hall, the superintendent, and from a summary of work done:

"For a long time we have been behind in our accounts, the same being due to the emergencies of our war and flue periods. Besides much has been demanded of the hospital from worthy guests.

There has also been increased expense due to the eight hour demand, to extra expense in connection with standardization, and more educational advantages for the school of nursing.

We are short in our scientific equipment, and surgical space. I think I am safe in saying that the income could, and would be increased at least twenty-five per cent by sufficient modern equipment. This could be accomplished with very moderate increase in cost.

The school of nursing is now a part of the University of Washington through affiliation for our freshmen.

Two big items of expense which can be eliminated by providing our own plant for same is steam heat, which is costing about $6,000 a year, and the laundry, which costs not less than $12,000 a year."

SUMMARY

We wish to commend most highly the superintendent, Miss Evelyn Hall, for her devotion, her wise management and for the spiritual atmosphere always felt about the hospital alike by staff, patients and visitors.

As to St. Luke's Hospital in Centralia, the Board of Trustees, appointed by this Conference a year ago, took the following action on April 25, 1924:

"In view of the fact that the financial condition of St. Luke's Hospital of Centralia, Washington, is unsatisfactory, and that the ownership is in litigation, we recommend that the conference take no further action at this time."

We request the Conference to adopt the following resolutions:

We, the Puget Sound Conference, grant to the Trustees of the Seattle General Hospital the authority, if in their judgment it seems wise, to build one unit to the hospital during the coming year.

CHAS. A. BROWN, Chairman.

PUGET SOUND CONFERENCE TACOMA GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

Twenty-five years ago I was admitted to the Puget Sound Annual Conference on trial. I have been appointed to a pastorate every year until last year, when I gave my whole time to the Goodwill Industries. But I have a people, otherwise unchurched, who are my people. They bring me their joys, but oftener their sorrows and I am as much a pastor as ever. I have a Bible Class of about 28 who are paid to attend. They are always there. I preach oftener than before. I am surrounding myself with people who are anxious to serve where the service is much needed. We have two deaconesses, who, to ministr to the poor and lowly, are doing bookkeeping and sewing to pay their way.

Our truck driver is a local preacher from Dakota and he was a member of the last General Conference. He gave up a job with Bradstreets to drive our truck at a much lower salary.

This past year we have secured a new building with 12,000 feet of floor space. We are using with rented property 185,000 feet floor space. $1335 was paid in wages to handicapped people in August which is considered one of the small months of the year.

This is all done in the name of the Church of Christ and that we might preach Christ to people who know him not, and people who have not attended church for years are finding Christ.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Recognizing that the major function of this commission is educational we urge that all members of this annual conference become members of the Methodist Federation for Social Service and study the literature.

We desire to have the Conference approve the following to fill vacancies of the commission: James E. Crowther, Alexander G. Bennett, and H. E. Gardner.

We urge all our pastors to interest themselves in and labor for the enactment of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States to prohibit child labor.

We request the co-operation of all pastors and churches with the Commission that the program of evangelism being planned may be made the most effective.

We urge the interest of the Conference in the splendid work of evangelism and rehabilitation being carried on among the loggers, miners and migratory workers in our industrial sections by industrial chaplains and Goodwill Industry Superintendents of this Conference.

J. HERBERT GEOGHEGAN, Secretary.
JAS. E. MILLIGAN, President.

Overshadowing all other economic problems is that of the status of property in Western civilization, preceding generations have organized industry in order to increase material values. It is the business of our generation to humanize industry and bring about a more just distribution of its products.

This cannot be done until the world recognizes that human rights are and must be prior to property rights. Humanity is not a battleground, it is a family. The acquisitive society must yield to the co-operative commonwealth.

This is the fundamental aim of the labor movement. If the church furnishes the spiritual dynamic to labor and manifests by actual fellowship its oneness with the men and women who toil, the new day of brotherhood will come peacefully. If the church fails to speak and act for and with the world's toilers, the pathway to social justice may be marked with violence.

We pledge ourselves to a new dedication to the cause of humanity as manifested in the labor movement.

CHARLOTTE, HOWLAND,

Secretary Conference Deaconess Board.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The executive committee of your Historical Society desires to impress upon the members of the Conference and the laity of our churches the importance of preserving the historical data of our work. To that end we urge that the history of each church should be compiled, where it has not been done already, and filed in our archives; also that there should be a church historian in each church who will preserve its current history.

We desire to express our appreciation to Brother A. J. McNemee for the fine example he has given us in the publication of his autobiography, and we ask all our members to follow his example—at least to the extent of writing a biographical sketch of their lives and filing the same with the Historical Society.

We are gratified that the recent General Conference made provision for the organization of the General Conference Historical Society as a result of the initiative of our Secretary, Rev. J. M. Canse and in harmony with the memorial sent up by this Conference.

We feel that the Board of Education of Tacoma has greatly honored our Methodism by naming a great junior high school for that great pioneer missionary of our church—Jason Lee—and we therefore request our presiding bishop and our secretary to convey to the said Board of Education of Tacoma the expression of our high appreciation of their worthy tribute to the memory of the Missionary and Statesman, who in 1834 came to the Old Oregon and laid in this great Pacific Northwest the foundation of our Protestant Christianity and of American government.

B. F. BROOKS, President.

J. M. CANSE, Secretary.

CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

We are glad to report continuous work throughout the year with very gratifying results in some places and with moderate results in others. The year's work took me into three conferences, Puget Sound, Columbia River and Oregon; we have engaged in fourteen meetings: Rome, Silverbeach, Tenmile, Lebam, Kennydale, Bryn Mawr, Oregon City, Port Townsend, Canby, Forest Grove, Conconully, Ferndale Campmeeting, Okanogan and Riverside.

The Lord has enabled us to purchase a new 40x60 tabernacle tent for summer tent meetings. Being seriously handicapped for summer campaigns, through the need of such equipment, we laid the matter before the Lord in Prayer, and He assured our minds by giving us this scripture, "Ask largely that your joys may be full." I took courage and asked immediately for $600 with which to purchase complete a new tent and campchairs, and the Lord began to send in the money and truly my joys are full; the last payment will be made this month.

The tent has already justified itself in the number of conversions of folk who through prejudice never come to a church building, but now having found the Lord, have become active in the church.

We will be able to date for about four or five tent meetings next summer. The month of June is the earliest possible month for the tent. When we bring the tent we expect the local church or community to have raised in advance $100—$50 of which is to be used by the local committee to pay freight, traveling expenses, lights, etc. Fifty dollars to be paid me on my arrival to cover expense of maintaining and repair of tent.

The results in conversions and sanctifications have been very marked and clear answering to the Old Time Joy in the Holy Ghost. A few young people have been definitely called to the ministry who will first find their way to college and thence to the pulpit.

I shall probably work this winter in the three conferences of the Portland area, and the balance in the Puget Sound Conference. If any desire to correspond with me, my address hereafter will be 2612 Yew street, Bellingham, Washington.

I have received $1800 support from the churches, Oregon City being the largest contributor.

W. E. COX, Conference Evangelist.

Memoirs

REV. ROLANDO ZEIGLER FAHS

The ancestors of Brother Fahs landed in New York from Zurich, Switzerland, September 6, 1664, the day the name was changed from Old Amsterdam. In their religious faith they were Moravians.

His father crossed the Alleghanies before there were any railroads across the mountains and settled in Stark county, Ohio. Roland Z. Fahs was born at Canton, Ohio, July 18, 1842. His parents a little later settled in Ashland county. His mother died when he was only ten years of age.

Brother Fahs was converted in 1853, when only eleven years old, and joined the United Brethren Church.

In 1857 his father with his two daughters and three sons moved to Olney, Richmond county, Illinois. In the winter of 1859 Brother Fahs joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1861 he enlisted in the Union army and served through the Vicksburg, Mission Ridge and Atlanta campaigns and on the march to the sea through the Carolinas with General Sherman. He was discharged from the army July 23, 1865, having served his country honorably and faithfully for four years.

He taught in the Sunday School and served as class leader in 1886 and during that year received his first license as Local Preacher in our church.

He was admitted on trial in the Southern Illinois conference September 14, 1868, Bishop James presiding. He was ordained Deacon by Bishop Matthew Simpson at Lebanon, Ill., September 18, 1870, and ordained Elder by Bishop Thomas Bowman at Mt. Vernon, Ill., in October, 1872. He was transferred to the Puget Sound Conference September 28, 1888, having given twenty- years' of active service in the Southern Illinois conference. He gave twenty-five years' of effective service in the Puget Sound Conference, retiring at his own request in 1913. Among charges served in his conference was Snohomish, Kirkland, Gilman Park Auburn, Renton, Hilman, Seattle and Edmonds, the latter being his charge. Since his retirement he has made his home in Los Angeles, California. A little more than two years ago Sister Fahs preceded him to the Heavenly home. They had walked together for fifty years, she having shared faithfully with him the joys and trials of the Methodist itinerancy. The past two years Brother Fahs has made his home with his daughter in Los Angeles, Mrs. Forest Casey. For six months or more prior to his translation he was a great sufferer, but was patient and cheerful through it all and died as he had lived in the full triumph of Christian faith.

For over six months he has patiently awaited the final call and his heavenly chariot came at the close of our mid-week service September 5, 1923.

Brother Fahs was a faithful dispenser of the word of God and people everywhere enjoyed his ministry. He was gentle and kindly and simply loved folks into the kingdom. He was a true shepherd of the flock, feeding the sheep and tenderly caring for the lambs. He looked personally after the children in every charge he served, gathering them into classes for religious instruction and training them for membership in the church.

Loyal, faithful, consecrated, devoted, living in close and constant fellowship with his Lord—truly we can say—"servant of God well done."

He leaves three sons, Charles and Raymond of New York, Fred of Los Angeles, and two daughters, Mrs. Forest Casey of Los Angeles and Mrs. Gertrude Waukegan, Illinois, and a host of friends to mourn his departure.

Funeral services were held in our First Church, Seattle, Monday afternoon, September 17, in charge of District Superintendent Geo. A. Landen, assisted by Brothers Randall, Brooks, Magee and Leach.

GEO. A. LANDEN.

JOSEPH L. KENDALL

Joseph L. Kendall was born in Illinois October 4, 1851, and died in Portland, Oregon, February 26, 1924; age 72 years, 4 months and 22 days. When just a babe six months old his parents brought him to Iowa, where he grew up and lived until 1883.

On June the tenth, 1879, he was married to Miss Rose Sackrider, who is left to mourn the loss of a good husband and a faithful preacher of Righteousness.

Brother Kendall was a pioneer spirit and was never more pleased than when on his way to, or in some new country. He lived together with his family awhile in South Dakota, Kansas and Northwest Nebraska. In 1890 he went to Utah, leaving his family to follow later. While living in Salt Lake City, he lost two of his precious children by diphtheria. This sorrow was almost more than the father and mother could bear, but the Father, who knoweth all, had grace sufficient for them. However, this was one of the outstanding things that caused our brother to enter the Ministry, a thing he had been fighting for years. In 1896 they all returned to Nebraska, where Brother Kendall was given supply work on the Chadron Circuit, in the Chadron District of the Northwest Nebraska Conference, moving into the Parsonage on Dead Horse Creek in 1899. It was on this circuit that the writer met them. He found out that I was a candidate for the Ministry, so he at once began to labor faithfully with me, and in November of that same year he recommended me to the Marsland Quarterly Conference for a Local Preacher's license, which was granted, therefore giving him his first son in the ministry of gospel. I shall not soon forget his joy.

In the spring of 1900, he with his family and others, came to Idaho, crossing the plains and mountains in the "so-called prairie schooner," leaving Marsland Nebraska on May 23 and arriving at Camas Prairie, Idaho, July 12. That fall at the conference held in Baker City, Oregon, Brother Kendall was admitted on trial into the Idaho Conference, and appointed by Bishop Edward G. Andrews to the Lostt River Circuit, with headquarters at Huston. The second year on this circuit he moved the Church and Parsonage to the new mining town of Mackay. He did much real pioneer work on this circuit in the many settlements among the lofty mountains in this part of Idaho, enduring hardships unbelievable to men of today in this part of the Puget Sound Conference. He served Emmett, Idaho, two years, and Vale, Oregon, two years, making six years in the Idaho Conference, transferring into the Puget Sound Conference in 1906, where he served in a very acceptable manner until 1916, when his health failed and he was compelled to ask for a retired relationship to the Conference, which was granted, in which relation he served during the remainder of his life.

He was a great sufferer, but through it all he was loyal to his Master Jesus Christ, even down to the end. He was never so happy as when he was on the firing line and in the thickest of the battle against sin. He was an ardent lover of young people, and in turn they loved him. He did a great work among them. Brother Kendall started his work for the Master late in life, but realizing this, he was a tireless worker while his Lord gave him strength.

Besides his wife, who was his faithful assistant and helper and counselor in all his work, he leaves two sons, Olney L. Kendall, Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Burley Idaho; W. Ed Kendall, Moclips, Wash., and a foster son, Frank. James, Salt Lake, Utah; and three brothers and one sister, together with a host of friends to mourn his departure. We cherish his memory as one dearly beloved; gone for a little while, but not forgotten. His was a worthwhile life.

JOHN M. HIXSON.

REV. WILLIAM LUDWICK

The Rev. William Ludwick, a retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, passed from labor to reward July 13, 1924.

He joined the Arkansas Conference in 1879, and was transferred to the Puget Sound Conference in 1888.

Strong in his convictions, untiring in service, and abundant in labors, he was a veritable "path-finder" for the church in the early days in the Pacific Northwest.

Twenty-two years of devoted service were given to the Puget Sound Conference.

Ill health compelled his retirement in 1919, having served the following charges:

Mt. Vernon, Blaine, Winlock, Castle Rock, Dungeness, Buckley, South Prairie, Cosmopolis, Bucoda, Orting, Little Rock.

W. O. BENADOM.

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

George W. Frame, Superintendent

The big, rugged, rustic, rising Bellingham District salutes you, and with thankfulness to God for life and opportunity brings its report of another year of glorious adventure and service in trying to bring the Kingdom of God on earth.

Ours is a noble task, in a vast and diversified territory, comprising seven counties of the Northwest of the Northwest of Methodism; an area of nearly 10,000 square miles, with a population of 225,000 souls, 136,000 of which live in villages, hamlets and open country.

There are three types of churches in the District: The prosperous church of the city of 30,000 where Methodism usually flourishes; that of the town between 1000 and 5000, and the village church, where the problem of ministerial support is ever acute and pressing.

Twenty-four of the 37 Charges of the District pay for pastoral support, including the missionary money, $1200 or less. Only two pay more than $1800.

In this territory there are 150 churches of other demoninations, not including the Catholics or the "Come-Outers." In seven of these village and country charges our church is alone; no other regular church organization in the field. These churches are no more prosperous than are those where other demoninations are working by our side.

Seven churches are located in the four small cities. Three of them in Bellingham are prospering. First Church, Everett, also is flourishing, but Grace Church, Port Angeles and Anacortes, though situated in promising fields in the small city, are struggling for life—or lack of it. They will eventually succeed.

More than the usual difficulties have been experienced this year in keeping the Charges supplied with pastors. Langley and LaConner, left to be supplied at the last Conference, have been served by Rev. A. Robertson and M. W. Forsythe, respectively. The latter part of the year supply pastors at Sultan, Darrington and Acme asked to be relieved of their Charges for personal reasons. Brother B. V. Bradshaw has been supplying very acceptably at Acme. Sultan and Darrington have had different pulpit supplies.

At the last session of the Conference Brother A. M. Steele, who asked for the Retired Relation, was in Arizona making a brave fight against tuberculosis. He lost his battle with the body, but gained his Eternal Home last December, leaving a good name, a clean record and faithful service as an inheritance to his beloved wife and three little children.

It is said "death loves a shining mark," which was certainly proven true when he appeared at the home of Brother and Sister J. M. Weaver and carried away their promising and lovely daughter, Grace, leaving them with a broken home, broken plans and lonely sorrowing hearts. We are sure that Brother and Sister Weaver and family have the sympathy of this entire Conference in this sore trial and poignant grief. And to Brother E. J. Bates, our pastor at Sedro-Woolley, we also extend our sympathy in the loss of his brother, Alfred, who was a member of the Oregon Conference.

The District has been greatly strengthened by the advent of a Deaconess, a Missionary, a minister's wife and an embryo minister: Lois Lorainne Jorgenson of Marysville, Mary Elizabeth Pike of Lopez, Margaret Louise Bashor, Eureka, Bellingham, and Wesley Lynn Pollock, Anacortes. No doubt the deep concern of these babies at the present is the fear that the parents may escape from their control.

The building program of the District this year has consisted largely in carrying on to completion the extensive work in process of construction at the last Conference.

The fine brick church at Monroe was completed at a cost of $20,000, and dedicated by Bishop Shepard in December. It was a great day. The Bishop's excellent sermon at the morning service, followed by Dr. Howarth's able generalship in securing the $8000 necessary to cover all liabilities, the informing, gripping address on Africa by the Bishop in the afternoon, and the willing, cheerful response of the people at all the services combined to make a red letter day in the history of Monroe. This church is the most beautiful and striking building in the town. The highly respected pastor, E. D. White, who led his people to victory, is most happy in his work.

The new church at Lyman was dedicated on the sixth of this month by the Superintendent, assisted by several of the pastors of the District. This church is a marked improvement over the old one, which was burned down nearly two years ago, and was dedicated free of debt, and without any plea for contributions. It is a monument to the faith and devotion of the little group of members and the friends of the church in the community. Brother O. W. Black is the popular pastor, who has been warmly invited to return with a raise of salary for another year.

Eureka Church, Bellingham, after disposing of the old parsonage with its burdensome debt of $2000, proceeded to build a neat little bungalow parsonage on which they owe but $300. The Ladies' Aid are deserving of great credit as well as the promising young pastor, H. E. Bashor.

Arlington, under the pastorate of Brother Robert Allen, has taken on new life in various ways, which has resulted in the renovation of both church and parsonage to the amount of $550. The plant presents a greatly improved aspect, all the credit of a live pastor, a working Ladies' Aid and a forward looking brotherhood.

Stanwood, after years of semi-slumbering, has awakened under the helpful ministry of Brother John A. Logan, the pastor, and "put on her beautiful garments." The parsonage has been remodeled and enlarged and the interior of the church renewed at a total cost of $1456, a portion of this being the proceeds of the sale of the old church located at Florence.

Blaine is to be commended also for a great improvement in its property by painting both church and parsonage at an expense of $520. Brother F. M. Bushong and his capable wife are bringing new hope to this previously discouraged church.

Garden Street Church, Bellingham, continues to add improvements to its magnificent plant. In this instance it is the purchase of a lot adjoining the property at an expense of $1500 upon which is to be erected an additional building to accommodate the enlarging Sunday School, and provide for the social needs of the ever increasing body of young Methodists and others who flock to the Normal School each year. No church in this area has a greater opportunity, through its contact with these future teachers, to influence the life of the state and nation.

First Church, Everett, has improved and repainted its parsonage amounting to $400. This church is greatly in need of a new modern plant with facilities for caring for its growing membership and Sunday School. A site is being carefully considered, and we trust that ere long Dr. Reid, who is so graciously leading his people, may see the desires of his heart materialize in a great church plant suitable for this growing city and its generous people who gave last year on World Service over $5000, which was $1000 more than its apportionment. The church has a substantial increase in membership also.

Port Angeles has purchased a site for a new church and paid $300 thereon. They hope to build within the next two years. Here is one of the outstanding problems and opportunities of the District. A rapidly growing commercial city of nearly 10,000 inhabitants with fine schools and other public buildings, paved streets, prosperous banks and beautiful lodge temples, and a Methodist church of the old one-room box type, 35 years old, with a discouraged membership of 150—a dozen more than 25 years ago when this superintendent was the pastor. Erle Howell, the present pastor, has the confidence of all, is giving splendid service and will win. The Sunday School enrollment has increased within the past year about 30 per cent. This Charge must have at least $10,000 assistance from the Home Board. It is a missionary opportunity and the Methodist Church is the leading church of the city.

Other churches which have made some advancement are: Avon, Grace, Everett; Mount Vernon, Snohomish, Nooksack, Coupeville, Fairhaven, Sedro-Woolley.

Anacortes has made good progress this year, and they are now negotiating for the sale of the old church at Friday Harbor, which has been attached to the Anacortes charge. This sale would enable them to purchase a new site for a church and parsonage and greatly aid in establishing an efficient church in this country metropolis.

From pre-Conference reports it would appear that we are to be disappointed in contributions to World Service. Last year the Bellingham District made a commendable showing, falling short only $230 of the previous year's contribution, while the Conference decreased over $13,000 and the entire church nearly $4,000,000. Various causes for this condition of the World Service could be assigned: The disposition to "let go" at the end of the Centenary period; complaints against the Centenary, just and unjust; failure of the pastors to assume the responsibility of leadership; the pace set by the leadership of the church was too fast for the people to follow without more missionary education and more consecration. The truth probably lies in the combination of all. We must, and will find a way out, but it will likely be a slow process, based on stewardship education and consecration.

Improvement in the work of Religious Education in the District is apparent. Most of the 50 Sunday Schools have increased in attendance, and improved in the quality of instruction. An increased number of Vacation Bible Schools was held on the District during the summer, among which was one of exceptional merit at Grace Church, Everett, led by the pastor, J. M. Weaver. Two very successful Standardization Schools for Sunday School Workers was held at Everett and Bellingham under the supervision of the Conference Director of Religious Education, J. Edgar Purdy. Dr. Purdy's work on the District has been of the highest character, and he is welcomed to all the churches most heartily. The need of an increased number of qualified Bible and religious teachers is apparent everywhere. The demand is for teachers who not only know the facts and truths of the Bible, but who are able to lead young life to a definite, personal experience of Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. We think the reports will show nearly 6000 members of the Sunday School.

Much of the young life of the District is functioning through the Epworth League. There is no better organization for the development and training of young leaders. More of our young people, however, should be reached. Where pastors are placing special emphasis on this work splendid results are being obtained. At Everett in June, a very excellent Epworth League convention was held, at which Dr. George B. Dean, of the Home Mission Board, rendered invaluable service in his addresses to the young folk. The Epworthians also gave a good account of themselves in the rendition of their interesting program. About 80 of the young people of the District attended the Redondo Institute and returned with glowing reports of the good times and the good instruction they received.

And now abideth building and equipment, education and training, and evangelism; these three, but the greatest of these is Evangelism. True it is that all Christian work should be performed with an evangelistic motive, but this should never be confused with or substituted for the specific work, at close grips, of persuading a soul to an immediate submission and reconciliation to God through Jesus Christ. Here is where our Fathers could teach us much. They believed that at this point the battle was lost or won. Do we?

Many of the churches held special evangelistic meetings during the year. Oak Harbor, with L. C. Shultz as pastor evangelist and Fred Canaday as singer, had a gracious refreshing from the Lord which resulted in several conversions and additions to the church. Burlington, with A. O. Quall as preacher and Brother Canaday song leader, was blessed with a profitable meeting and some decisions for Christ. Nooksack, Marysville and Edmonds were assisted by Rev. W. C. Sage of Hunter, North Dakota, in special services in which he gave excellent preaching and good leadership but the visible results were not large.

At Ferndale the pastor was assisted by the District Superintendent and Brother Canaday in a meeting where the power of God was quite manifest in the conversion of a number who united with the church.

Other churches reporting successful meetings were: Port Townsend, assisted by Brothers Shultz and Canaday; Blaine, whose people were led for a week by Miss Caffray, and Sedro-Woolley, where the pastor, Rev. E. J. Bates, did his own preaching.

Garden Street, while not holding any special services, has added almost another hundred net to its membership roll by personal evangelism. This church is preparing to hold special evangelistic services in October, under the leadership of Dr. Hickman.

Fairhaven, under the aggressive spiritual leadership of J. M. Hixson, has had almost a continuous revival for the last two years. The church has received much help from the camp meeting at Ferndale. Here is a church where the problem of entertaining the young people has been solved. They say the large prayer meetings, class meetings and other devotional social meetings, with the Gospel Team work, gives them all the entertainment they can take care of.

The Women's organizations have displayed more than their usual activity. The missionary societies have gathered thousands of dollars to carry the Gospel to all lands, and to establish the Kingdom in the Home Land among the less favored people. While many other organizations are theorizing about making the world better, these good women are quietly accomplishing the work.

The Ladies' Aid has been especially successful in raising funds and expending them in the maintenance of the local church. Over $12,000 have been made by them and given where the need was greatest, while many thousands of calls have been made upon the strangers, the sick and the lonely.

The Indian Work of the District has reached a place of great importance. The opportunities with the young people at the Government School at Tulalip is unbounded, and Brother and Sister Bradshaw are making the most of them. A Sunday School of about 90 has been organized and maintained for two years. Dr. Dean, with whom we had the pleasure of driving over the field, declares this to be the most promising and hopeful Indian work of the whole Northwest region. The District Superintendent has baptized a score of the babies, and addressed the school upon several occasions, and a more appreciative audience cannot be found.

The Deaconess Children's Home at Everett reports one of its best years. An average of 35 children have been cared for each month, and no serious sickness has come to either deaconesses or children. The staff of workers remains about the same as last year. Expenses $8000, with a credit of $14,515, including the building fund in the bank. God is graciously blessing the sacrificing labors of these noble women.

The problems of the Bellingham District are largely rural—the problem of the big preacher with a small salary. How to secure capable pastors in sufficient numbers, on a meager salary, to supply the demands for an 11 o'clock morning service in every village and hamlet is the problem. And it soon becomes a city problem for the city church is very largely dependent upon the country for its membership and support. Eighty per cent of the country membership is by conversion and 20 per cent is by transfer and from the Sunday School; while in the city 70 per cent are by transfer, and 30 per cent from the Sunday School and by conversion. In this process of transfer from town and country to city the Methodist church loses 100,000 members annually.

How shall these rural problems be solved? The "Largest Parish" plan will not solve them, though it may assist in some instances. The real trouble lies much deeper. It is in the spirit, the soul. The problem can never be solved by programs, surveys, education and equipment, important as these may be in their place. What we need is POWER. Only the redeeming love and power of the Crucified Lord in the hearts of the people can save the country. Methodism has abundant financial resources which will be released when the Spirit of Christ permeates his body, the Church.

Bishop, we have not accomplished half we had hoped to on leaving this Conference a year ago, we have tried. We have preached and prayed and exhorted and counseled together with the churches. We have carefully presented all the great causes of the Church, and emphasized the importance of our literature, especially the reading of our church papers. We have tried to impress upon our people the responsibility and high privilege of co-operating with Christ in calling and training the young leadership of our church for the stupendous day which lies just ahead of us. Three young men on the District have heard the call to the ministry, and are in school preparing therefor. They would be present for entrance to this Conference were it not for the policy which now prevails of urging previous college training.

We have held two District Preachers' Meetings, and several County Group Meetings, which were sources of blessing and power.

Our relation to the pastors and laymen, and their families, is most cordial. I desire here to express my deep gratitude for their unceasing kindness. I could not mention them all in this report, but God knows they have all performed much labor for Him which deserves recognition, even though it cannot be detailed in this report and to Him be the glory and power and dominion forever.

SEATTLE DISTRICT

Byron H. Wilson, Superintendent

Only one year among you and yet I feel like a veteran in your ranks. Your fine hospitality and generous friendship has made the transition from the sunny Southwest to the balmy Northwest as natural as the merging of the summer into the autumn. Your receptions and place given us in your program of Kingdom building has been so genuine and whole hearted that no time has been lost by our having to hold a probationary status.

My heart constrains me to first speak regarding my predecessor, that faithful Knight of the Cross. When called to any task, it matters greatly who has laid the foundations for your building. No name in the history of Kingdom building in the Northwest will stand above that of George A. Landen for long and faithful service.

We must also give expression of our appreciation to the Bishop and Superintendents of this Conference. We have found in them that high standard of zeal, courage and efficient service that has made the history of our church glorious in achievement. The committees and boards of our Conference with which I have met this year bring to my mind the great fact they are not steered by men behind the times.

We have enjoyed the finest fellowship and closest co-operation of the pastors on the district. Each one is deserving special mention for the same kind of excellent service rendered. If you want a roll of heroes, read the list of appointments and underscore each name.

The Seattle District consists of 39 charges; 21 in the City of Seattle and 18 on its rim. This gives us a combination of rural and city work. There is a continued struggle to develop the rural church and so cultivate the community spirit that the allurements of the city will not sap its vital spiritual forces and thereby those sections that formerly have been the safeguards of city life be turned over to pagan ideals. In the city the battle becomes even more severe and complex in the strife to stem the tide of purely materialistic ideals.

Out of the 39 churches we have three that pay less than $300 in salary; three that pay over $300 and less than $500; eight that pay over $500 and less than $1000; five that pay over $1000 and less than $1250. This makes 19 churches out of 39 that pay less than $1250.

We have obligations to the communities where these churches are located. We have obligations to God to care for the weak. We have obligations to ourselves to hold for our church the fields that are potential. Many of these places have large Sunday Schools and these little struggling churches alone are responsible for all the religious influence of the community. It is not necessary to state that in this field alone there is ample work for 19 men who are able to command salaries of from $1800 to $2000 per year. Since it is impossible for such an ideal to be reached, we must do the best we can under the conditions.

Sacrifice is a familiar word in these fields. It is our conviction that they will not be developed and that the work will not be done until they are combined in parish plans and given that kind of ministry that is in some way commensurate with the larger churches. We also are convinced that laymen of the larger churches will have to feel their individual responsibility to share in the great sacrifice to be made.

Of the remaining 21 charges, two of them, viz., Calvary and Gilman Park, are being united with Sixty-second Street Church into one church organization. This has been a hope long deferred but seems now certain of happy culmination. It will make a strong church in a potential field. We have two federated churches; one at Issaquah and one at Kirkland. This year one of them has had a Baptist preacher and the other a Congregationalist. All the claims and interests of the Methodist Church have had no consideration. The blank columns in our minutes bear silent and effective testimony to the virtues of federated churches. We are firm believers in Denominational Comity but not by the Federated route.

Twenty-eight new church buildings should be erected almost immediately in order to maintain our work even as it now exists.

The total amount of building and improvement for the year is $14,662. One of the outstanding achievements is the acquisition of the remainder of the one-half block on which First Church stands. This secures for our First Church a property that will suffice for future needs and will constantly increase in value. The cost was $85,000; $65,000 of which has been subscribed and $15,000 already paid in. The pastor and people are to be highly congratulated. The Ronald people are building a new $14,000 church on their new two and one-quarter acre tract fronting on the Military boulevard. A large part of the money has been subscribed and the church will be dedicated before Christmas. It represents great sacrifice and devotion on the part of the pastor and people.

It seems that almost the impossible is being accomplished at Highland Park. So long has this faithful little band of 40 people dreamed of a church for their community. They are now constructing a $10,000 building. The cornerstone has been laid and they too expect to dedicate by Christmas. The faithfulness of pastor and people in this undertaking is assuring its success.

Kennydale and Crown Hill have each completed new parsonages.

Many attempts have been made in the Ballard community to locate a central church and unite our Calvary, Gilman Park and Sixty-second Street Churches. The people are now rejoicing in what seems to be perfect union. A survey of the community was taken. A union meeting of two weeks was held. The fourth Quarterly Conference of each church voted unanimously for the union. At a meeting of the three congregations with Bishop Shepard present they voted unanimously to appoint a committee with power to secure a central location. This has been secured and the appointment of a pastor at this Conference will be to the United Church. Other charges making material improvement are: Asbury, $100; Bethel, $101; Calvary, $100; Crown Hill, $100; First, $5000; Gilman Park, $350; Green Lake, $2000; Highland Park, $1385; Hillman, $350; Madison Street, $75; Queen Anne, $450; Shaw Memorial, $125; University, $1242; Woodland Park, $157; Bothell, $78; Bremerton, $224; Bryn Mawr, $111; Duvall, $275; Renton, $413; Fall City, $161; Kennydale, $150; Kent, $17; Port Orchard, $100; Riverton, $200; Ronald, $175.

During the year we have paid church debts to the amount of $28,820.

There has been an outstanding victory at Green Lake Church. For years a debt of $8000 has menaced the progress of the church. During this year this incubus has been subscribed and almost all of it paid. Along with the debt paying there has been a program of improvement and rejuvenation of the church building. The giving has been sacrificial. The pastor and people have great reason to rejoice.

Other churches that have paid debt this year are as follows: Bethel $150; Crown Hill $500; First $10,000; Green Lake $6000; Queen Anne $1500; University $1461; Wesley $100; Woodland Park $3600; Bremer-ton $2318; Renton $217; Kent $1789; Ronald $185.

The statistical tables will not show an increase in pastor's salaries although 16 charges have raised the amount over last year. This can be accounted for by the loss of the two Federated Churches that are having pastors of other denominations. It seems to the writer of this report that fundamental to the success of our work in this territory is a better supported ministry. We are certain that the pastors are being called upon to do an unproportionate amount of sacrificing in this regard. I have never met a nobler and more consecrated body of men. I am certain if they were better paid they would be better appreciated by both the church and the communities they serve.

For the first time in my ministerial experience it looks as though I must report a decrease in the disciplinary benevolences. There has been quite a notable increase in a majority of the charges but there will be two or three decreases that will overbalance these gains. The reports all indicate that for all other benevolences outside of the World Service there has been quite a notable gain. In most of the charges the pastors have taken up the matter of having an every member canvas for World Service in the month of May. We believe that this will mean a great deal toward stopping the downward trend of our World Service giving.

Reverend J. Edgar Purdy has been a great help to the Sunday School work of our district. He is untiring in his efforts, informed in his work, discreet in his leadership and popular with our people. As we study the Sunday School work of our city we are more and more impressed with the timeliness of the General Conference pronouncement for special effort among our young people along lines of social, intellectual and physical development. Something must be done to accompany our "shalt not" with such attractive and constructive privileges that its need will be the exception and not the rule. Every church is looking forward toward as much religious educational training as our churches and equipment will permit.

The spirit and morale of the Epworth Leagues have been very encouraging. The district cabinet has held a regular monthly meeting. The district rallies and other meetings have been very enthusiastic and helpful. Many attended the Institute and some have decided for a life of Christian service.

The women have not slackened in their zeal for the Kingdom during this year. The Aid Societies and the two Missionary Societies are marvelous examples of what organized and persistent effort will do. Their wonderful ministrations are a great factor in Kingdom building.

Our Hospital stands in the forefront among the hospital of our city for efficient work. Our training school is second to none; this standard cannot be long maintained under the present status. We are greatly in need of a new building and more modern equipment.

This has been a great year of development for the Good Will Industries. The trustees have purchased a fine new location on First Avenue. The building is most splendidly adapted for their work. They have also come into possession of a farm which has been given them.

This will be a great help in their rehabilitation work. This is a cause that the church must not neglect.

Our Wesley Foundation has continued its good work among the young men and women of the University of Washington. We feel that no institution of the modern church has a greater claim on the generosity of our people than this one that is fostering the emotional side of educational development. It is a sad hour for our homes and our country when we find we have for all our sacrifice and toil in trying to equip our young people only educated pagans.

The Deaconess Training School has kept up a good standard of work during the year. They are greatly handicapped for lack of room and facilities. They have been working as per the order of last year's Conference on securing funds for the new building. This has been laborious and most of the time discouraging work for our Deaconesses but they have secured approximately $30,000 in good pledges. We feel that there is almost an imperative need of a training school for Christian workers in our Northwest. We are certain this school furnishes the nucleus for such an institution. The school has rendered fine service in sending their workers out to do special work in Sunday Schools and other organizations.

The Deaconess Settlement carried on by the Deaconesses on Rainier Boulevard and at the old Lakeside Church is one of the most commendable pieces of religious work we have seen anywhere. They are reaching large numbers of children in these neglected and polyglot sections. They have poor quarters for their work and very meager support but are doing work quite equal to some institutions of similar character in some of our cities where large amounts are being expended.

The Catherine Blaine Home for Japanese under the management of the Women's Home Missionary Society is doing an outstanding piece of work. They are erecting a temporary building in addition to what they already have to take care of their growing activities.

Our Seattle District Methodist Union has continued to be a strong factor in helping to support and build up the weak churches. Its rapid development means more to the future of our work than any other one organization.

There are some tasks that face us that are of vital interest and supreme importance. They ought not to wait. They almost seem too great and we think we would despair if man alone were concerned. We believe Almighty God leads the way in this great day as the church grapples with her problems. Great manufacturing interests are locating in the vicinity of some of our churches, which presents a hard challenge to the weak congregation wholly unprepared and many of her membership untaught and unvisioned for such a task. Other churches are being wholly surrounded by a foreign or polyglot population. We could now wisely and most profitably expend a million dollars in our district. May God help the church not to run from its task and to be so much concerned in saving the community that it is willing to lose itself.

Pre-Conference reports indicate an increase in membership of over 500 or a net gain of over 6 per cent. We rejoice that some have been added to the church and that a large per cent of the gain came by the way of conversion. Our Pre-Easter campaign and other efforts at Evangelism received the support of most of the pastors and churches in a very gratifying way. If 500 have been brought in by only a loosely organized effort, what would a real heart searching, thoroughly planned program bring forth?

Are we not at home in our native atmosphere? Have we lost our birthright? Will we continue to run the machinery of many churches year after year and not see souls redeemed. It is high time the leaders of the church were sounding the Evangelistic note. Children must be instructed in the way of life. Family altars must be rebuilt.

If the Literalist and the Liberalist must do battle, let it be outside the Methodist Church. We are Kingdom men winning a world to our Christ. We must abide in Him. We must find the heart of God.

The people are giving of their means as never before; they are responding to every call of the church for an advance, but God will not be satisfied with offerings; he wants a broken and contrite heart. We believe the people are yearning for spiritual life. We trust the church is not in danger of ignoring the prophet's ideal.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

J. T. McQueen, Superintendent

With profound gratitude to Almighty God for His abundant mercies of the past year, and with a deep sense of my own unworthiness, I present this, my first report of the Vancouver District.

To you who have had more experience in the superintendency than I, the year and its varied problems would not seem unusual, but to me it has been an eventful year. "Thanks be to God who hath enabled me for that He counted me faithful putting me into the ministry."

At the last session of the General Conference the work of our Church in Alaska was made a part of the Puget Sound Conference and has been administered this year in connection with the Vancouver District. In June-July I made a hasty trip to Southeastern Alaska and Seward and found all our charges there doing as well as can be expected under present conditions. God bless the heroic ministers and their good wives who go into the Northland to serve. It would be safe to say, I think, that few if any other districts in Methodism have such a variety of climate, peoples and resources as has the Vancouver District proper. There are 39 charges in the District; a few were left to be supplied and two asked to be left without a pastor—Skamokawa and Gray's River. All the churches except the two above named have been supplied with pastors.

For convenience in administration the charges have been grouped according to their location in the District.

The Grays Harbor group consists of First Church and Simpson Avenue, Hoquiam; Aberdeen First, The Finnish Work; Cosmopolis, Montesano, Satsop, Elma, Malone, Oakville, Rochester and McCleary.

A happy and successful solution of a difficult situation was reached when our Brother J. R. Sasnett was transferred from Oregon Conference and appointed to First Church, Aberdeen. Brother and Sister Sasnett are adapting themselves to the great field and the past year has been one of spiritual progress. As associate pastor Miss Bessie Daws, one of our well known Deaconesses, is doing a fine piece of work for our Church.

The Rev. J. H. Geoghegan has had another successful year at Hoquiam, and is in favor with his people.

Brother H. J. Harding has seemed to do the undoable at Simpson Avenue and as a result there is a neat new six-room bungalow at that place valued at $2500.

Our church at Cosmopolis is known as "The Cosmopolis Community Methodist Church." Here we are administering to an industrial group of which quite a large percentage are foreigners. Our own Apostle Paul F. Green is handling the task as a "workman who needeth not to be ashamed."

Our church is the leading one in Montesano, the county seat of Grays Harbor County. The Fourth Quarterly Conference reports showed a good healthy growth along all lines and a deep interest in World Service. Brother and Sister Poolton are growing in favor with the church and community.

Satsop is one of our small rural charges with a small but loyal church membership. Brother S. V. Warren has shown himself a hero in this difficult field and has had souls for his hire.

Brother E. A. Hart looks after our Finnish work in the Harbor District. Abundant in labors is this modern circuit rider, who goes about among his people, not on horseback, but in an auto, covering hundreds of miles every month.

Elma has long been known as a good Methodist field and the faith of the Fathers still lives. Brother Ecker has been the pastor for four years. Extensive improvements have been made on the church and parsonage and a neat little church is just completed at Malone, a part of the Elma charge.

On the Oakville and Rochester charge our little church at Rochester was totally destroyed by fire about the middle of the Conference year. Brother Hazelton took advantage of the sympathetic mood of the community and at once started reconstruction plans. The school board had a school building they had outgrown which they sold to us for $20, or as someone said, they sold us the bell and threw in the building. At any rate, the building was moved to the site of our former church and with the careful use of the $500 insurance received we have a neat little church, free from debt, dedicated on September 6 to the worship of God and our Rochester Methodists are happy and full of courage. Brother Hazelton deserves great credit for his loyalty in this charge. A fire at Oakville might not be a bad thing as our church building there is inadequate and almost beyond repair.

McCleary is a lumber manufacturing town with a shifting population, which makes any constructive work exceedingly difficult. A building program is in the offing but no work has been done. Brother Gailey is at the wheel and has shown himself a good driver.

The Willapa Harbor group consists of South Bend, Raymond, East Raymond, Willapa, Lebam, Menlo, Wallville and PeEll. Brother H. B. Parcel has proven himself a valuable parcel at South Bend, and has made himself felt in that old lumbering community, also reaching out to Bay Center and Naselle. Extensive improvements have been made on the property, and people and pastor are happy in labors abundant.

Brother William Park and wife have been "parked" at Raymond for the past three years, and in spite of the old church building and lack of equipment have gone steadily on and finally are seeing their dream come true. A new and modern church is in process of construction at an approximate cost of $30,000. This is a worthy monument to the faith and courage of Brother Park and his good wife.

Brother H. E. Greening, our Logger Missionary, with his residence at Raymond, has been looking after our work at East Raymond and Willapa the past year.

At Lebam and Menlo, Brother Clark Cottrell has been leading the spiritual forces in this fertile valley. Next year we plan to add East Raymond and Willapa to this charge and make it a four point circuit.

Wallville with Brother W. T. Beatty and his good wife in charge is a 100 per cent lumber manufacturing community. Our church has the entire responsibility for the spiritual side of life. The work for the Japanese is an interesting and useful part of the duties of the pastor's wife, and Mrs. Beatty has proven her real worth among these

One of our small charges with a large problem is PeEll, but Brother T. P. Graham has done nobly, handling the situation as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

Known as the Chehalis group is Chehalis, Napavine, Winlock, Castle Rock, Ostrander, Kelso and Kalama.

The greatest problem on the District is at Chehalis. A beautiful church is here with an embarrassing debt. Dr. E. M. Randall, a pastor beloved, has been on the field this year and still keeps his faith and courage in spite of the discouragements. It will be a happy day for Chehalis when the burden of that debt rolls away.

Of our Brother John Place of Napavine one could write a long story, telling of his rural work, his boys' and girls' pig club, chicken clubs, etc., and their prizes at the County Fair, but space forbids. Oh, for some missionary money to help develop these rural fields! Also some men trained for this type of work.

C. H. Cowdy is the key to the Winlock situation. Brother Cowdy is recovering fairly well from the injuries he received more than a year ago which sent him to the hospital for several months. With Mrs. Nellie Clulow in charge during these months the good people stood nobly by the church, and no part of the work suffered very seriously by the accident. A less courageous person than that little Irishman might have given up in despair, but, always with a smile, he goes on and the church has had a fruitful and encouraging year.

Brother E. O. Grimes has been at Castle Rock for two years—a hard job, but a hard job doesn't frighten that good man. He walks seven miles every week and preaches at Silver Lake.

Ostrander is one of our fine little charges that strikes twelve every month of the year. Brother F. L. Lowther is preacher in charge.

How difficult it would be to describe Kelso with the rapidly growing community, the inadequate church building—we seem unable to meet the needs of the town. A building program must soon be launched if we are to save the situation for our church. Brother Switzer has been untiring in his labors for the Master in Kelso.

Kalama was left "to be supplied" at the last session of the Conference. Early in the year Brother J. T. Cowley was secured as pastor and has served faithfully and well. Our church is unfavorably located in Kalama, and we hope soon to move to a more advantageous part of the town. Some outlying communities should be added to the Kalama parish for another year.

What is known as the Vancouver group is comprised of 17 churches. Three are vacant. First Church, Vancouver, is the mother church of Clark County and is nearly 100 years old. A good centenary celebration for this church might be a new seven-day-a-week plant, where a great program could be carried out. F. A. LaViolette is our faithful pastor and has a dream—or is it more than a dream—of such a building. Brother LaViolette's reports will show a fine year of progress along all lines. To God be the Glory!

Brother Earl Hanna has been serving at East Vancouver and in the face of discouragements has done good service. Here we have a bunch of young people of whom we feel justly proud, and who really DO things.

Sister Wilder has a hard time keeping Brother Wilder busy at Salmon Creek; so, to help her out, the superintendent added to his liabilities, in order to increase his responsibilities, giving him LaCenter, Gardner and Highland. Next year he plans to take in the old Hines Chapel or Pioneer as it is now known. Besides all this is his wonderful garden and flowers that grow around his "house by the side of the road." May God richly bless this "Friend to Man," and raise up more men with the spirit and zeal of Wilder.

Yacolt has had the distinction of having three pastors this year. The early part of the year Brother E. B. Reese served the charge until Rev. Harry Barnes, a student from Drew Theological Seminary, was secured. After his return to school Brother Claud Groth was secured to finish out the year. The timber around Yacolt has been logged out, so the town built up around the logging industry, is a "has been." Possibly two-thirds of the people have moved away so we have little left for our membership. We have a good church and parsonage and plan for next year to form a circuit here and make Yacolt the head.

Orchard has been cared for the past year by Mrs. J. H. Porter, who gave a good account of her stewardship at the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

Ridgefield and Sara, presided over by Rev. D. E. Carter, is one of our best rural charges and under the care of this fine man has made splendid progress.

Brother W. E. Rossman has cared for our Methodism at Battle Ground the past year. As usual, this good brother has made full proof of his ministry and has been asked to return.

East Mill Plain and Fern Prairie has the deserved distinction of being the finest rural charge in the Conference. Brother B. G. Clemans has been here for six years and the work has made a steady, healthy growth under his leadership. Several fine young people have gone out of this church to engage in full time service for the Master. We held a fine camp meeting on the charge this year. A standard training school was conducted in connection with it. Sixty-three enrolled in the various classes and 32 graduated. To Brother Clemans is due much credit for the success of the meeting.

Camas has a large paper manufacturing plant which is the principal industry of the place. The turning over of labor makes work here difficult, but under the conditions Brother Cooper has done good work. Our church and parsonage at Camas are not all that could be desired but we are hoping for better things. Brother Cooper has featured religious education and made progress along that line of endeavor.

Washougal has the earmarks of a rural town though quite a large woolen mill is located here. Our church is not well situated and could serve the community better if it were in a more central part of the town. Brother C. E. Sanders has served the people well the past year.

Stevenson is the county seat of Skamania County, and a real problem so far as Methodism is concerned. Our pastor, Brother J. C. Lawrence, has been untiring in his devotion to the task. Dr. Dean and Dr. Kendall have both visited Stevenson and are agreed that help must be given to the faithful laymen who have and will still continue to sacrifice for the work of the Kingdom here. May God richly bless pastor and people! Carson is a part of this charge and should receive honorable mention. A fine body of people are here who are loyal to our church and help to make its power felt in the community.

By action of the last General Conference we inherited some charges in Klickitat County. First on my list is White Salmon, beautifully situated on the Columbia River, with Mt. Hood in the front door. Brother R. C. Young is the fortunate pastor and has been faithful and fruitful as his report will show.

Appleton is worthy of the name, situated in a fine apple region and served by a peach of a pastor, Brother W. B. Lamb. This is a rural work, a four point circuit. Brother Lamb is closing his fourth year and has won his way into the heart life of the whole community around. Oh! for more of these good men who can and will go out into our rural sections and win the field for the church and the Christ!

Goldendale, our farthest East appointment, is the county seat of Klickitat County. In traveling from Goldendale to our extreme Northwest point, Nome, Alaska, one would cover 3000 miles. Goldendale is in the wheat section and thus is subject to the rise and fall of the wheat market. Our church has had a good foothold here for over 50 years. We have a good church and parsonage, kept in fine condition. Rev. M. L. Sanders, with his efficient wife and three fine daughters, has put in three years of faithful service. We are glad to have inherited these three fine charges and such useful families.

Our Methodist work among the logging camps of the Vancouver District under the supervision of our genial Brother Robert C. Hartley has made progress during the year. Brother H. E. Greening at Raymond is in great favor with the loggers in Pacific County and his efforts much appreciated in this needy field. Rev. D. E. Carter is to enter this line of missionary work with his home at Montesano.

A word now about our work in Alaska. We have the oversight of five churches, Nome, Seward, Juneau, Ketchikan and Hyder. Hyder is our newest work. The town is situated in the extreme Southeastern part of the territory, in a rich mineral district. Brother C. T. Hatton, our pastor, is growing in favor as time passes, and is in the midst of a building program; a new and much needed parsonage is under construction which will be ready for occupancy soon.

Rev. C. M. Van Marter is closing his ninth year's work in Ketchikan, where he is in favor with the whole populace.

Juneau, the Capital City, is served by one of our Puget Sound boys, who has been the popular pastor for three years. Brother and Sister Decker have given five years of faithful service in the North, having served first at Nome.

Seward is called the gateway to the interior of Alaska. Brother R. V. B. Dunlap has served Seward for the past four years, and can say with Paul of old: "I have suffered perils by land and sea." Brother Dunlap has taken a position in the Jesse Lee home as superintendent, and we congratulate the Women's Home Missionary Society in their choice.

Nome is our farthest North Appointment. We are now calling for someone who loves God and humanity enough to make the sacrifice (if such it is) to go to this important work. Will not someone say "Here I am, send me?"

Now a word in closing. With the help of the faithful pastors and laymen we have tried to give all the interests of the church our careful, prayerful attention.

Special emphasis has been placed on Evangelism, and unless pruning the records interferes, reports will show an increase in membership.

From the very first of the Conference year we have given World Service special attention, and we rejoice that some charges will show an increase. One of the goals of the District was "an increase on every charge," but this has not been realized.

The Women's societies are making excellent reports.

The College of Puget Sound has had our careful consideration. Dr. Todd and Brother Sprague have been welcome visitors.

With but few exceptions the health in our parsonage homes has been good. Early in the year Sisters LaViolette and Hanna underwent serious major operations but are fully recovered. Mrs. S. V. Warren was in the hospital, and she, too, is recovering her health. Aside from the flu and some minor diseases our large family seems fairly well. To God be praise.

Mrs. McQueen and I want to thank all the pastors, their wives, and the lay people who have been so kind and patient with us in this year. We feel very humble and unworthy, and can only pray "God bless you all."

Reports of Boards and Standing Committees

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

We, the Committee on Education, present the following report:

COLLEGE OF PUGET SOUND—That we have occasion to rejoice with President Todd and his co-laborers in the steady advance made by this very important institution is evidenced by the following—

Three of the proposed new buildings have been erected and are now in use and the new Science Hall is under construction.

That by the sale of property and the collection of subscriptions the College will be relieved of indebtedness by the first of October.

That the College is now in the same class as the tax supported institutions of higher learning of the State is indicated by its membership in the "Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Institutions."

That the student body will probably tax the present facilities before new buildings and equipment have been provided.

The near future should witness the erection of at least one more academic building besides the completion of the one now under construction and a suitable dormitory to cost not less than $40,000 for girls who come from outside Tacoma. Unless provision is made for such expansion the College is likely to inadequately meet the demands upon it.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church cut its appropriation to the College $2400 for the past year. This reduction is making a critical condition in the income of the College for this year, which will not be overcome by the additional number of students. The loss of $2400 would not be so serious were it not for the fact that the General Board of Education ceased giving its $8500 per year on current expenses with this year.

We therefore recommend that the pastors co-operate with the representatives of the College in collecting existing subscriptions.

That the pastors co-operate in directing the attention of promising Christian young people to the opportunities afforded by the College of Puget Sound.

That the Board of Education of our church be asked for an appropriation of at least $10,000 for maintenance.

That the following be elected to the Board of Trustees for the term expiring in 1928: E. L. Blaine, P. J. Brix, Harry L. Brown, J. M. Canse, D. D., E. S. Collins, A. S. Elford, R. J. Firestone, J. Ralph Magee, D.D., G. W. Frame, D. D.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Your servants, the Trustees of the College of Puget Sound, in presenting this their annual report, respectfully show that the past year has been one of slow but steady advance. No outstanding campaign was conducted for money or students, but a quiet canvass was successfully carried on for subscriptions in an amount of One Hundred Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, ($125,000), to substitute for a like amount of legally valid subscriptions received in our last campaign, but of a character not accepted by the General Education Board (Rockefeller Foundation). This resulted in increasing our endowment resources by a substantial amount.

A campaign for students was unnecessary as present indications are that our facilities and equipment will be overtaxed before new buildings or equipment can be provided.

The program for the coming year calls for the collection of subscriptions heretofore made for buildings and grounds and for the completion of the Science hall and such other buildings as are made possible by these collections. The near future should witness the erection of at least one more academic building, besides the completion of the one now under construction and suitable dormitory accommodations for our students who come from outside the City of Tacoma. Unless provision is made for such expansion, the College is likely to inadequately meet the demands made upon it, but with increased facilities, equipment and endowment, there will be an attendance of at least one thousand young people seeking education under wholesome, moral and Christian influences.

May we not therefore urge each of you to bear in mind the needs of the College; to urge upon your parishioners who have heretofore subscribed, to meet their subscription payments promptly and to suggest to them that they make mention of the College in their wills. The future will demand increasingly large sums of money and every effort should be made to see that the growth of the College is not retarded by lack of funds.

Grateful for all past co-operation in meeting requirements confronting the College, we call upon you even as we pledge ourselves to strive to make our College an institution worthy of a large place in the education world.

E. L. BLAINE, Chairman.

KIMBALL SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY—We appreciate the excellent work being done by Kimball School of Theology. We welcome the recent graduates of the school to service among us. We nominate the following committee to act with similar committees from the other conferences of the Area to formulate a program and financial policy for the school: Dr. Byron H. Wilson, Dr. R. J. Reid and A. S. Elford.

We nominate for Trustees: Dr. J. Ralph Magee and F. A. Hazeltine.

WESLEY FOUNDATION—Inasmuch as there are today 250,000 students in tax-supported colleges and universities and an additional 250,000 in other non-Methodist institutions;

And inasmuch as one-fourth of the former and one-seventh of the latter are Methodists;

We, therefore, commend the wisdom of the General Conference of 1916 in creating the Joint Committee to develop the Wesley Foundation program.

We congratulate the whole church in that an investment of $100,000 per year through the World Service to this laudable task is bringing such early results, viz:

Before the Wesley Foundations were organized it was estimated that 92 per cent of our college trained ministers came from Methodist colleges and 8 per cent from non-Methodist institutions. In 1924 official reports show that of the college trained men received on trial in our Annual Conference 55 per cent came from Methodist Colleges and 44 per cent from non-Methodist institutions.

In 1917 17 per cent of the missionaries sent out by the Board of Foreign Missions and Woman's Foreign Missionary Society were trained in tax-supported schools. In 1923 30 per cent of the missionaries sent out by these bodies had received their training at tax-supported institutions.

The degree of success already attained is proof of possibilities and we rejoice that plans are made for enlarging and broadening the scope of and intensifying our work at the University of Washington, Seattle.

We commend the work as entitled to the hearty co-operation of all of our pastors and churches.

We recommend the election of Dr. J. C. Harrison, Dr. R. J. Reid, W. P. Fisher and H. H. Lewis as trustees for three years and would authorize the present board of trustees to add other members to their number in the name of this Conference in conformity to their proposed plan of revision.

ROBERT J. REID, President
ROBERT H. ALLEN, Secretary.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

1. THE CONFERENCE BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS has been active throughout the year. Four meetings of the Board and numerous meetings of the Executive Committee have been held. With Brother Purdy, the Board has worked out the program for the year and has counselled and advised with him constantly.

2. INVENTORY. The Board authorized the taking of an Inventory of the Sunday School work in the Conference. This has been done, and Mr. Purdy reports that 90 per cent of the Sunday Schools have responded.

3. STANDARD. A Standard was adopted which we believed would prove a challenge and an incentive to the Sunday Schools. It contains the following items: A Standard Sunday School will (1) Increase its enrollment each year; (2) Build up its average attendance; (3) Be continuously Evangelistic; (4) Encourage regular attendance upon the service of the Church or Junior Church; (5) Provide Missionary Instruction; (6) Offer Graded Instruction; (7) Be graded in organization as far as local facilities will permit; (8) Have a Teacher Training Program; (9) Observe Rally Day; and (10) Develop an efficient organization and administration. Every school in the Conference that has reported any eight of these ten items has been accredited a "Standard Sunday School in the Puget Sound Conference, 1925."

We recommend that this standard and plan of accrediting shall be approved by the Conference for the coming year, and that we all unite in an endeavor to bring the Sunday Schools up to the Standard before the next session of the Conference.

4. ENROLLMENT. We have adopted the following plan for standardizing the Sunday School enrollment in the Conference, and recommend that it be approved by this body:

Upon attending Sunday school for three consecutive Sundays a student shall be enrolled as an "active member." After four consecutive absences, except for illness or other sufficient cause, a student shall automatically be placed in the "inactive membership" roll, provided, however, that an earnest effort shall have first been made to restore his attendance. If he shall have joined another Sunday School, or removed from the parish, his membership shall be cancelled. In case of removal, notice should be sent the nearest Methodist pastor. If at any time within six months an "inactive member" returns to the Sunday School, his name should immediately be restored to "active membership." Failing to return within six months, his name shall be dropped from the Sunday School membership roll. For purposes of computing the total enrollment for the Annual Conference reports, etc., the "active membership" for the month of May shall be counted.

5. THE CONFERENCE DIRECTOR OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION has put in an active and profitable year. He has participated in over 400 meetings for the promotion of better Sunday Schools. Eight Standard Training Schools were conducted, including 33 classes and a total registration of 560. Fifteen Efficiency Institutes were held. The pastors and workers of the Conference have received him most cordially and we are encouraged to look forward to another good year under his leadership.

6. STANDARD TRAINING SCHOOLS. We believe the Standard Training School to be the best method yet devised for training our Sunday School workers. Let us develop these schools to the point where they may serve the church as the Normal schools serve the state. We are pleased to announce the following Standard Training Schools for the coming year: Kent, Bellingham, Everett, Seattle, Tacoma, Centralia, Grays Harbor, Vancouver and possibly Willapa Harbor and Mount Vernon.

7. EFFICIENCY INSTITUTE. We call the attention of the Conference to the Efficiency Institute, a local program which Mr. Purdy conducts in the Sunday Schools. These have proved practical and helpful to the schools in which he has worked in the past year. Those desiring this type of service should get into touch with him immediately as his schedule is rapidly filling. He will devote that period following the holidays to this work.

8. EVANGELISM. Religious Education, rightly understood, is a method of Evangelism. Not necessarily on stated occasions, but continuously, we should seek to bring about decisions in the Sunday Schools. Three things will bring about a more fruitful evangelistic program in the Sunday School: (1) greater consecration; (2) a more intelligent understanding of the task, and (3) smaller Sunday School classes.

9. WEEK-DAY INSTRUCTION. Due to the limited amount of time available our Sunday Schools are not adequate, at best, for a comprehensive program of Religious Training. We should develop more Vacation Bible Schools. A church that is big enough to maintain a Sunday School ought to be big enough to provide Vacation School facilities for its children.

We should lend our efforts to the movement now under way toward released time from the public schools for religious instruction. The success of this movement will enable us to provide an adequate program paralleling secular education.

The Department of Church Schools of the Board of Education, Chicago, has been supporting the Conference Director of Religious Education for the past twelve or fifteen years, with some supplemental assistance from the Sunday Schools of the Conference. A shrinkage in the income of the department, due to depleted income, will make it necessary for the Conference to take care of the field, printing, postage and office expense, and provide a fund for supplementing the receipts from registrations in the Standard Training School program. These items will aggregate $1200.

Therefore, we recommend that the Conference shall authorize and request the pastors and Sunday Schools Boards of the Conference to send to the Treasurer of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools an amount equal to five cents ($0.05) per member enrolled in the Sunday School not including the Cradle Roll and Home Departments. If the pastors and Sundays School workers respond to this plan heartily, unanimously and promptly we shall have sufficient funds for this important work in the Conference. We pledge the Conference and the Sunday Schools that the money will be spent judiciously and carefully in a program that will be helpful to every Sunday School in the Conference-

ANDREW WARNER, Chairman,
ROY L. SPRAGUE, Secretary.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

WHEREAS, it is of vital importance to the successful launching of the new Pension Plan of the Ministers' Reserve Pension Fund now being prepared by the Board of Pensions and Relief, that adequate provision be made at the earliest possible date for all the present claimants of the Puget Sound Conference and the Effective men with accrued years to their credit; and

WHEREAS, Dr. J. W. Hancher has expressed his willingness to direct an extensive campaign in the Spring of 1927 in behalf of this cause, provided this Conference gives whole-hearted endorsement and support to such a campaign;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we do hereby authorize the Conference Claimants Commission to secure the services of Dr. J. W. Hancher for the time mentioned, and that we pledge our heartiest co-operation with him and our support of the campaign; and that we further authorize the Conference Claimants Commission to proceed to complete all necessary arrangements for this intensive campaign, as well as preliminary work that shall be essential for its success. And pursuant to the action of a joint meeting of the Conference Claimants Commission with the cabinet wherein the cabinet was requested to select a man for Executive Secretary, we request the appointment, in compliance with their suggestion, of George F. Hopkins to that position.

In case the Commission finds it impracticable to adopt the plans of Dr. J. W. Hancher to the conditions under which the work is to be done, it is hereby authorized in its discretion to make such other arrangements as it may deem best.

The Conference Claimants Commission of the Puget Sound Conference has held numerous meetings during the past year for the purpose of hearing representatives of the Board of Pensions and Relief of Chicago, canvassing plans and means for employing an Executive or Field Secretary, and transacting its regular business.

The part time services of S. S. Sulliger were secured for a period of six months to conserve the present resources of the Commission and do the necessary secretarial work preparatory to an active campaign for funds.

August 11, 1925, a joint meeting of the Conference Board of Stewards and the Conference Claimants Commission was called by Bishop Shepard in First Church, Tacoma. Other members of the Conference were also present. Dr. Charles R. Oaten, business manager of the Board of Pensions and Relief, was present and fully explained all the provisions of the proposed Pension Plan of the Ministers' Reserve Pension Fund.

After long and careful consideration we respectfully report to the Annual Conference our approval of the proposed New Pension Plan and recommend:

1. That the Annual Conference authorize the employment of an Executive Secretary, and entrance upon a campaign to secure a fund for Conference Claimants of $800,000 plus expenses; and to finance the campaign, that the Conference Claimants Commission be authorized to make a loan sufficient to cover the operating expenses.

2. That the entire fund, both principle and interest be held intact, except for expenses, until the New Pension Plan be instituted.

E. M. RANDALL.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

The various Deaconess Institutions of the Conference report a year of advancement in all branches of the work.

Twenty-five Deaconesses are busy in Tacoma, Everett and Seattle—One plus for each hour of the day and night.

Their activities include service as pastor's assistants and in Goodwill Industries, Orphanage, Settlement and Training School work.

The Conference Deaconess Board commends the work done by the Northwest Training School in its effort to secure funds for the new building, and recommends continuance in this effort until the asked amount is raised.

DEACONESS CHILDREN'S HOME

Last year, 1924, the Deaconess Children's Home at Everett came into possession of our General Deaconess Board. It was established as the Snohomish County Orphanage about 1910, and since 1911 has been in charge of our Deaconesses with such satisfactory results that it was deeded over to our Deaconess Board in 1924.

Average number of children in the Home when the Deaconesses took charge was about 25. The past year the average has been 55, which could be doubled with increased capacity.

During 1923-1924 a Cottage Rest Home was built and furnished at a cost of $3000. The entire property is valued at $28,000 with $14,000 cash on hand and no liabilities—all a convincing testimony to the devotion, faithful service and financial ability of our Deaconesses. Our Conference should be justly proud of such a needed institution within our bounds and especially of such an efficient servant of Christ as Superintendent, Miss Effie Dell Johnson.

The following are the Trustees of this Home for the approval of the Conference: For three years—Mrs. J. F. Beatty, Mrs. R. P. Christenson, Mrs. H. R. Willis, Mrs. Meta Henderson, Mrs. C. W. Miley, Mrs. R. E. Swalwell, Mr. H. Lansdown. For two years—Mrs. H. C. Ries, Mrs. L. H. Regua, Mrs. C. Parker, Mrs. T. Robinson, Mrs. S. A. Bostwick, Mrs. B. F. Padgett, Mr. J. A. Myers. For one year—Mr. G. H. Wilson, Rev. R. J. Reid, Mrs. E. P. McFall, Mrs. B. H. Vollans, Mrs. Clyde Walton, Mrs. F. T. Hardwick, Mrs. Tom McDonald.

C. E. TODD, Secretary.

CHAS. A. BOWEN, Chairman.

BOARD OF HOSPITALS AND HOMES

Seattle General Hospital

On Front Street, now First Avenue, Seattle, in 1893, the Seattle General Hospital began its service for Seattle and the state in a small building with a capacity of 20 beds. It was later moved to a building near the present Deaconess Training School and since 1899 has been at its present location. It was operated under the Seattle Deaconess Home Association from 1899 until July, 1924, when it was transferred to a Board of Trustees organized by the Puget Sound Conference.

During the 25 years since 1900 more than 75,000 patients have been served by the Hospital. During all its history no discrimination has ever been made as to native or foreign, resident or non-resident, rich or poor, white or black; but all have been served alike. For a number of years, owing to lack of space and equipment, the demand for service has exceeded the Hospital's ability to serve.

Three hundred eighty-seven nurses have graduated from the Nurse Training School and 65 are now in the School which is equal to any such school in the land. During 1924, 3597 patients were treated. During 1923 and 1924, there was a total of 894 births in the Hospital with the loss of but one mother and that caused by infection before coming to the Hospital.

Since 1923, the Hospital has been running behind financially, this has been due to increased costs and to "free" or "part free" service which in 1924 amounted to $17,400. As an offset to this the Hospital has receipts of about $1200 per year in gifts for the Free Bed Fund and $620 per year from an endowment of $10,000. Within the past few months the Board of Trustees has appointed a House Committee and a Business Manager. A special survey has been taken with a view of putting the Hospital on a commercially paying basis. While the loss on running the Hospital from January 1 to August 1, 1925, was $7437, yet under the new plan the indebtedness was reduced $3466 during the month of August. Your committee surely appreciates this action of the Hospital Board of having a Business Manager, thus relieving the Hospital Superintendent and putting the financial balance on the right side of the ledger.

During the early part of this year a campaign was organized for building a new hospital. "A block of land was purchased at a cost of $150,000 with an initial payment of $10,000. The campaign was set up in June. By that time complications had arisen so that we were compelled to abandon the movement for the present."

Again we wish to commend most highly the efficient and devoted Superintendency of Miss Evelyn Hall who for a quarter of a century has been lifting the ideals of hospital work in Seattle to the highest level.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION

The Child Labor Amendment

Realizing the urgency of the need for Federal legislation for the proper regulation of the conditions under which children are permitted to labor, we hereby express our disapproval of the action of our State Legislature for failing to ratify the Child Labor Amendment Bill. We feel that since the matter was urged by the President of the United States and since it was made a part of the platforms of the two major political parties that the legislators of our State, in both houses, have by rejecting this amendment, violated their pledges and betrayed their constituents. We would urge every member of this Conference to work earnestly until this amendment be finally ratified. We would in this connection express our approval of the splendid support given to the promotion of the Child Labor Amendment by the Pacific Christian Advocate.

We further wish to express our approval of the efforts being made in the State to place upon the statute books a law which shall make provision for old age pensions for the toilers of the State.

Goodwill Industries

This work, under the direction of Rev. H. W. Michener, is being made into a veritable pastoral charge. The office interviews and general work have been the opportunity for sustained spiritual service that has helped the souls of many.

Nine thousand homes contributing packages are an answer to the prayer of the superintendent for entrance into the hearts of the city. Already the building into which the Goodwill moved last year is too small and plans for enlargement are under way.

The Goodwill is based on the Christian foundation of work and self-help with spiritual renewal, starting lives upon a firm foundation of hope. We commend the work.

J. H. GEOGHEGAN,
PAUL F. GREEN.

LOGGERS' ACTIVITIES

Five years ago the work among the lumbermen of the Pacific Northwest was started in a definite way by the Methodist Episcopal Church. Before this time part time work had been done by some of our preachers in the camps of Whatcom and Skagit Counties on the Bellingham District under the direction of Dr. J. M. Canse, the Superintendent at that time.

In the Spring of 1921 G. N. Magwood was engaged for service in Grays Harbor County and in the Fall of that year Rev. H. E. Greening was selected to minister to the many camps in Pacific County adjacent to Willapa Harbor.

From the very beginning we found no difficulty in securing entrance to the many logging operations in this great lumber belt. The operators have been kind and helpful for the most part and have been encouraging in their attitude toward the program we have presented.

On December 1, 1924, G. N. Magwood took up work with the Longview Company at Ryderwood and his place is to be filled at this Conference by our brother, the Rev. Duane E. Carter, who will make his home at Montesana, Washington.

Our purpose in concentrating the workers in the Southwest portion of our Conference was to make an impact on this situation where the camps are the most numerous and where lumbering is by far the dominant industry.

If you will study the map of the logging situation in the Home Mission exhibit of our Conference you will find that there are more logging camps and more men employed in the woods than in any like area on the Pacific Coast. The wisdom of thus concentrating our efforts on a given section has, we believe, been proven by the results.

For over three years our workers gave all their time to this ministry. Then came the disastrous decline in benevolence receipts, the tragic consequences of which have not as yet fully penetrated the consciousness of the Church at large. To stem the tide of this unexpected retreat, workers from both the Home and Foreign fields were called upon to check the rout and your Sky Pilots responded to the call of our great Church to do their share. Naturally our absence from the field did hinder our program, but we hope that our efforts in endeavoring to rally the retiring forces of our Church to meet the challenge of the hour were not entirely in vain.

In Pacific County the work of our Brother H. E. Greening has attracted the attention of the people of all faiths. Thirty men this year have been accompanied to Olympia, our State Capital, where they have been assisted in the final settlement of their claims for Industrial Insurance. The Industrial Commission welcomes the aid that has been so well rendered by Brother Greening and have sent him letters highly commending him for the splendid work he has done in this regard.

In the camps are many who are drifters, the flotsam and jetsam, derelicts on the troubled seas of industrial unrest. These poor wrecks of men, of the sad company of the lost nerve, have lost their grip on Hope, and it is our Mission as ministers of Jesus Christ to introduce them to Him who is the only cure for hopelessness.

In this Christlike quest Brother Greening has had great success. Many a logger has been lifted from the depths of despair and is today profoundly grateful for what the Church has done for him through its agent.

In the hospitals we find the loggers bearing their suffering with the stoicism of their kind. What a price we pay for lumber—the price not to be reckoned in dollars and cents but in the terms of human life and suffering! The Church has stood by while life has slowly ebbed away from many a stalwart form, and the gentle presence of the Christ has illuminated the way hitherto dark.

It would take too long to tell of all the interesting incidents connected with our work, suffice it to say that we have gone to hearts that are hungry for human friendship; we have brought them to the place where they believe that someone cares for their soul; we have brought tons of reading matter out to them in the camps and personally distributed the same; we have visited constantly in the hospitals; we have been instrumental in putting men on their feet economically and religiously—all this in the name of the Church of Jesus Christ.

There are 30,000 or more loggers in the State of Washington alone and 50,000 in the Portland area. Other churches are serving the camps but many are still unvisited by any minister of Christ. It would be a worthy missionary effort if the pastors of churches adjacent to logging camps would take time during the week to visit such camps and make contact with these men who are eminently worthwhile cultivating. Such ministry would be appreciated by the loggers.

Pastors have been kind and helpful always. The Superintendent of the Vancouver District, Rev. J. T. McQueen, has co-operated with us and given wise and timely counsel. People interested in our work give us used magazines and books for distribution.

During the year, Dr. George B. Dean of the Department of Evangelism under which we serve, has visited our field and greatly inspired your workers to do greater things. Thus directed we are looking for a year of progress in this field of service and with glad expectancy we go out asking your prayers that the Christ may find an entrance to the hearts of these stalwart men of the woods.

ROBERT C. HARTLEY.

INDUSTRIAL EVANGELIST

Fourteen years ago, at the session of the Puget Sound Conference held in Tacoma, upon my own request and with the approval of my District Superintendent, Dr. J. P. Marlatt, I was appointed by Bishop Charles W. Smith as Industrial Evangelist, my field to cover specifically the logging camp and mill town territory of Western Washington. The term "Industrial Evangelist" was of my own origination, and had, to the best of my knowledge, not been previously used. I am advised now that not only the idea but the name is coming into quite general usage in the work of the churches.

In the beginning of my ministry to these men in the woods I traveled with a stereopticon and literature kit from camp to camp, undertaking to reach and be of service to the most inaccessible and unchurched sections. Assisted by the American Bible Society, I distributed over 10,000 copies of the gospel of Luke, as well as great quantities of other good reading matter, which I have continued to collect and ship as opportunity offered. Impressed by the conflicting attitudes of Catholics, Protestants, negative and non-Christians, I have from the first relied for effect more upon personal contacts and confidential associations than upon the more spectacular method of public meeting. I have preached in the bunkhouses, visited the homes, counceled in meetings, and, to the best of my ability, undertaken to be an inspiration and encouragement to a neglected group; the men who operate our great basic industry which furnished wealth and comfort to a society that has put forth small effort to repay them. One of the net results of these associations has been to cement a host of friendships with men of as fine ideals and high integrity as one would ever hope to meet.

The effort to furnish employment and relieve actual want by starting closed-down shingle mills on a temporary co-operative basis was the commencement of our plan of co-operative mill operation, by which arrangement the workers in a mill assume control of the plant, take over the ownership and direction of the business, and operate it in the interests of those actually working there.

These co-operative mills were a success from the beginning in not only a financial way, but in challenging and inspiring to their best endeavor the men who had assumed the responsibility of membership.

When the first mill was started at Olympia it was discovered that 26 men, properly organized as a working crew, although without money and in a time of financial depression and low prices, could command the respect of a business community to the extent of an industrial credit sufficient to renew old equipment and purchase raw material for a plant which has operated successfully as a co-operative mill until this day. "Don't strike, but give the boss a job," was the slogan around which this organization was affected, and true to the suggestion, the former owner of the mill became one of the workers under the new plan of operation.

At Kelso a co-operative mill was started 12 years ago, and has been continued as the pride of the community by the same stockholder members ever since. This mill at one time for a period of 26 consecutive months held first place among the shingle mills of Washington in the monthly test on quality of output. The co-operative mills at Anacortes, Vancouver and Blaine has been particularly characterized by the high grade of their product, and the better prices which these products have commanded on the open market have been a fine indication of the business world's appreciation of co-operation. In the elimination of waste and perfection of their plants the mills at Ballard and Edmonds are noteworthy, while the Marysville and Everett mills have been characterized by their stability and continuous operation.

A remarkable feature of this adventure has been the enlarged confidence which these groups of workers have been able to command. Letters from bankers at Bellingham, Edmonds, Blaine and other places give high praise to the stabilizing effects of these co-operative enterprises on those privileged to enjoy membership therein.

In the field of social and political life the worker who becomes the owner of his job soon learns that in the eyes of the community he has assumed a position of enlarged importance. He becomes a citizen in a sense which he never knew as an itinerant worker. Having assumed the responsibility of the direction of his own business, he establishes a home, becomes a voter, take pride in public affairs and is at once an asset instead of a liability to society. In his new relation to industry and to life there opens to him new opportunity for the development of leadership, a growing sense of self-confidence, and an economic independence which constitute him a builder in the state and in the church. It is a fact that the assumption of responsibility exercises the greatest educational and balancing influence.

While other denominations are splitting hairs over questions of dogma and doctrine, and incidentally are in danger of splitting their organizations, it is a matter of great satisfaction to know that our own splendid church, never more influential or more spiritual, is driving ahead under a constructive leadership in a consistent effort really to introduce into actual life the teachings and principles of its carpenter founder.

O. H. MCGILL.

EVANGELISM

The supreme task of the church is its evangelist message and emphasis. All other important phases of work of whatever nature are subservient and contributory to this task.

While we commend all types of evangelistic effort, we would especially stress the personal method which tends to develop laymen as well as pastors in the work. We appreciate the helpful service rendered by the department of evangelism of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension in stimulating our pastors and churches in this personal type in our Conference during the past year. All our pastors received a free copy of the Manual on Personal Evangelism and many of them have been encouraged by its study to put on a special effort and a large number of persons have been won to Christ and the church. It is quite possible that many of these would not have attended public meetings and consequently would not have been saved.

We would urge our pastors to stress the evangelistic note in their preaching and plan by a careful survey to reach every person in every parish for whom the Methodist Church is responsible. We are constrained to believe that it reflects discredit on any of our churches when it can be truthfully said by anyone within the bounds of our parish, "No man careth for my soul." Our churches should be so organized and the unsaved and the unchurched in the community should be so carefully cultivated that all may be made to face the challenge of Christ and the church.

We are delighted to note the growing evangelistic emphasis that centers about the Easter season, and the better methods, being adopted to conserve the Church's evangelistic results.

A note of warning needs to be sounded with reference to the ease with which a number of our pastors place the names of some of their members on the inactive-non-resident column. The paragraph in the Discipline makes possible such a pruning of our records that hundreds of thousands may be dropped from the full membership in a single year. We are of the opinion that the pastor and his church records committee are not at liberty to remove these names without every possible effort being made to revive the religious interest of the persons under consideration. It is at least as important to hold our members for Christ and the church as it is to go out and make new recruits and have them unite with the church.

We would recommend that our churches make full use of the workers in Religious Education and the Evangelist appointed by the Conference and who are accredited by the Department of Evangelism. With all these helpers and helps in evangelistic effort the coming year we should as a Conference go forth to have a revival in every charge and on every point on every circuit and make a commendable advance in church membership and in building up the Kingdom of God.

CLARENCE B. SEELY,
HARLAN R. STONE.

CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

The story of my year's work must be briefly told. Our winter's engagements were in the following order: Utopia, (a country school district near Sedro-Woolley), Arlington and Canby, Oregon; Allen, (this meeting was closed on account of storm), Davenport, Buena, Washington; Beaverton, Tillamook and Myrtle Point, Oregon.

The summer engagements, tent meetings: Okanogan, Wash.; Seattle Holiness Association; Coquille, Oregon, and a second meeting at Myrtle Point, Oregon.

As to the results of the meetings only angels can tell. However, at least eleven young people are entering some of our schools at the call of God to missionary and ministerial work. As many more now in their senior year of high school have committed themselves for special religious training next year.

There were 17 members of the preachers' families either saved or sanctified. Three pastors' wives entered gloriously into full salvation. One of these elect ladies has since gone home to her eternal reward.

At the close of each of these services we have taken one service to preach on the importance of church membership and help the pastor shock the corn already gathered and in every case nearly all those saved came into our church.

We do not know how many have become tithers, however at Myrtle Point 60 people of adult age gathered about the altar and upon their knees pledged their whole tithe to God and the Church.

Among the trophies of the cross that to me is unusual was the salvation of a Seventh Day Advent family and that of a Later Day Saint family, both of which got through with a good old Methodist shout and both joined the Methodist church.

We have received $1943 support for the year's work, have been continually engaged in meetings, the best of which is better felt than told. We have calls for the coming year for ten meetings, four from this Conference, three from each of the other Conferences in this area.

We have placed no dates, being Methodist preachers we all wait the action of the Conferences and of official boards and the reading of the Appointments.

Brethren, we love this work more than we love our own life. God has called us to it and fitted us in it. We have not always been wise, but we have always been true. We love the Church, we love the brethren and are determined to win souls every year or quit preaching.

We will appreciate it beyond words if we may continue in this work year by year.

W. E. COX.

That this committee likewise be instructed to study the advisability of carrying out a Conference Campaign each year to clear these matters up in one general chest fund. That if the committee finds this feasible they present a recommendation to the next Annual Conference on the method and time for carrying such a plan into effect.

J. RALPH MAGEE,
JAS. E. MILLIGAN.

AUDITING COMMITTEE

This is to certify that we have examined the accounts of the Conference Secretary, Treasurer of the Conference Board of Trustees, and the Missionary Accounts of District Superintendents Warner, Frame, and McQueen, and find them correct.

We have accepted the report of accountant as to the accounts of the Conference Treasurer for the year September, 1924, to September, 1925.

GEO. C. POOLTON,
CLYDE L. WALKER,
FRANK R. GILLETT,
Auditors.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

B. F. BROOKS, President,
J. M. CANSE, Secretary.

TEMPERANCE, PROHIBITION AND PUBLIC MORALS

Anti-Saloon League

After having the Anti-Saloon League's program presented to us by B. N. Hicks, State Superintendent, we are convinced that the program is constructive in its character, and will get results, and should be put in operation in this state.

THEREFORE, be it resolved, that the Puget Sound Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assembled at Tacoma in annual session, hereby endorses the program of the Anti-Saloon League as outlined by its Superintendent and pledge our hearty co-operation in its execution.

GEORGE W. COOPER,
T. H. JORGENSEN.

WASHINGTON CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

The Washington's Children's Home Society, the great constructive charity of our state, has to date placed in family homes about 4500 children.

It is non-sectarian, state-wide, eminently efficient. An increasing number of semi-dependant children are through its aid department temporarily provided for in a normal way by being boarded in family homes.

The support of this great work by the Protestant Churches is their answer to the cry of the orphan under the Divine plan by placing the solitary in families.

We most cordially commend this blessed philanthropy and pledge ourselves as pastors to co-operate with this child welfare agency as far as we reasonably can by welcoming its representatives to our pulpits.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

RESOLVED, that the Puget Sound Annual Conference urge upon the State Legislature and the citizens of Washington the initiation and support of such amendment to the State Constitution as will permit and authorize legislation to enable public school boards to grant released time for religious instruction to be given by religious institutions and organizations, without cost to the State, and to be of such scholastic grade as may meet the requirements of the state, and to be given upon written parental request.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the members of the Puget Sound Conference, earnestly express our appreciation and gratitude to the following persons and institutions for their kindness and services which have made this Conference with its various activities so pleasant and profitable. Our hearts bubble over with gratitude, and words are such poor things, yet to one and all we sincerely say "We thank you."

To the First Christian Church of Tacoma for the use of their building for various meetings of the Conference; to the business firms for lending us office furniture and equipment, and to local banks for loan of adding machines; to the Editors of the Tacoma Ledger, the Tacoma Tribune and the Tacoma Times, for the publicity given to the Conference affairs;

To Dr. Schofield, the organist and all those who have delighted us with music and song;

To all of the speakers who have given us such heart-searching and inspirational messages, and particularly our brother, Dr. I. M. Hargett.

To the friends and members of other churches who have heartily co-operated with us in various ways;

To our chief host, Dr. Herbert B. Rhodes, for his unfailing kindness and courtesy and his able management of this Conference, and to his wife and church staff and all the membership and friends for their efforts to make our stay pleasant and profitable, and especially to the Ladies' Aid Society of this church for their diligent and strenuous labors in the preparation and serving of meals;

To Mrs. E. B. King and Mrs. C. E. Richards of the committee on entertainment for the gracious services in their laborious task.

To our Bishop W. O. Shepard for the brotherly spirit and efficient manner in which he has presided during the Conference sessions and for his inspiring messages;

Memoirs

The sources of a stream are oft many a league from where we stand and admire the noble river, and the life-springs of a great and good man often hark back many a generation.

The first record we have of a forebear of Dr. LeSourd in this country is found in Senate Document No. 77 of the Fifty-eighth Congress, second session, entitled, Les Combattants Francais, De La Guerre Americaine, 1778-1783. In the lists of the Regiment Bombannais we find: "LeSourd (Jean Pierre), dit Mayenne, ne a Cerny (1760), S. 19 Mays, 1777, passe caporal le 20 fever, 1781."

When the regiment returned to France, this John Peter LeSourd, it is said, took "French leave" and made his way back to Virginia, where he had seen a comely maiden while on the march to Yorktown, and won for himself the heart and hand of Mary Curtis. They founded a home 28 miles north of Baltimore and two east of Whitehall.

This French progenitor, reared a Romanist, became an ardent and devoted Methodist. Ten children came to bless this home, the ninth of whom was named Benjamin, born September 3, 1801. On March 11, 1824, he was joined in wedlock to Ann Gorsuch at the home of her parents, some six miles north of the LeSourd home, and near the mill her father built on Deer Creek. To this family come 12 children, the tenth of whom was christened David Gorsuch. He was born in a log cabin near the present town of Rossville, in Clinton County, Indiana, (the family having removed from Maryland to Ohio in 1836 and to Indiana in 1839.) This boy grew to young manhood amid the hard, primitive conditions of a new country, sharing its poverty, its hard toil, its meager educational advantages.

At the outbreak of the Civil War he wanted to enlist for service but had to remain at home because two older brothers had enlisted and the farm work needed him. But in August, 1862, he could be restrained no longer and enlisted in the Twelfth Indiana Infantry. Within 30 days he had experienced his first battle at Richmond, Kentucky. Then came the marches, the vigils, the battles—ending with the March to the Sea, to Washington for the grand review, and then home.

Following the army life came farm work, the school life at the Battle Ground Collegiate Institute, teaching in country schools, and then his entry into the ministry in the Northwest Indiana Conference.

In the spring of 1869 he was given a license to preach by Richard Hargraves, one of the great pioneer preachers of Indiana. In September, 1870, he was admitted on trial in the Northwest Indiana Conference at its session in Terre Haute. He served Winamac, Chesterton, Williamsport, Oxford, Sugar Grove, Fowler and Hebron. Because of poor health he left Indiana in August, 1881, for the Oregon Conference, to which he was transferred at their session of that year. He was appointed to the Olympia charge, where he served until the Conference of 1883, when he was appointed Superintendent of the Puget Sound District of the Oregon Conference—a district which stretched from the Columbia River to the British Columbia boundary. When the Puget Sound Conference was organized in August, 1884, the territory was divided into the Seattle and Olympia Districts, and he was given the Seattle District. He was appointed to First Church, Tacoma, in 1887, to Whatcom in 1888, to Whatcom District in 1890, to Snohomish in 1893, to Epworth Church, Tacoma, in 1895, and to Asbury Church, Tacoma, in 1903. At the close of this latter pastorate he took the Retired Relation and settled at 3401 No. Eighth Street, Tacoma, where he resided until called to his reward, February 25, 1925, at 5:30 a. m.—to him a glorious morning.

He was first united in marriage to Margaret A. Kirkpatrick, of Sugar Grove, Indiana, on September 8, 1873. There came to bless their home four children. Ella May, whom they lost during the pastorate in Bellingham; Edwin, who died in infancy; Mary Rebecca (Mrs. Ernest Hawthorne) who went to the Heavenly home two years ago last October; and Gilbert Quin, who is in New York City as Extension Secretary of the Missionary Education Movement.

This beloved wife and mother was taken to her reward May 2, 1896, from the old Epworth parsonage. June 5, 1902, he was joined in wedlock to Margaret R. Griffith of Clinton, Ohio, who was a true helpmate and comfort to him for 20 years. She went to her heavenly home early in 1922.

It is impossible to properly summarize and characterize the life and work of Dr. LeSourd in a brief memoir. Many of the stalwart fathers of Methodism were laboring here when he came to the Northwest, but he was soon recognized as a real leader among his brethren. It was during his first year at Olympia that he initiated the movement that resulted in the founding of the Olympia Collegiate Institute, which did excellent educational service until after the founding of our educational work in Tacoma. He was, perhaps more than any other man, influential in laying the foundations which have given us our splendid College of Puget Sound, as he served on every commission and committee that had to do with the work, was a member of the first Board of Trustees and served for 26 years.

In 1883 the Puget Sound District stretched from Ilwaco on the South to Blaine and Sumas on the North. The main highways were waterways, many of the trails were impassable for a horse, and in the winter water and mud holes were everywhere. Settlers were often far apart, and homes were generally of the crudest—logs or split cedar, and devoid of comfort. By canoe, rowboat, sailboat, steamer, railroad, wagon and on foot or horseback this modern apostle traversed rivers, bays, lakes, valleys, mountains, prairies and forests in quest of "the lost sheep," and strengthening the work where it had been started. He was "in perils oft," in storms on the deep, entrapped by sea and forest; plunged into the raging torrent of the Nooksack, when a great canoe was split wide open by striking a submerged log; often wet, cold and hungry, and far from shelter and food—he "pressed toward the mark of the high calling which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." Wherever he served as a pastor his memory is "as ointment poured forth, and many rise up to call him blessed."

Brother LeSourd had put his house in order, arranged all his temporal affairs, and written out directions for his funeral. Mr. N. D. Pollom had general charge of arrangements. The District Superintendent and pastor had charge of the funeral services, which were held in Epworth Church, where he had been pastor eight years and where he had worshipped during the past eighteen years. Dr. E. M. Randall read the scripture lesson. Rev. George L. Cuddy offered prayer, and Dr. G. A. Landen read the memoir. Tributes were given by Dr. E. H. Todd, Dr. S. S. Sulliger, Dr. J. P. Marlatt and Dr. G. W. Frame. The pallbearers were Rev. H. Williston, Rev. W. H. Leech, Prof. Chas.

Robbins, Prof. Hanawalt, Mr. John Berry and Mr. Cyrus Mentzer, all of whom were long time friends. Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Oscar Tuell and Mr. Ned Tuell furnished the music. The services closed with:

"Servant of God, well done.
Thy glorious warfare's past,
The battle's fought, the victory won,
And thou art crowned at last."

The service worthily celebrated the coronation of this prince in Israel, whose labors and character have left a profound influence for good upon all who knew him. He has entered upon "The Great Adventure"—beheld the City Celestial—heard the hosannas of the redeemed—been greeted by the loved ones—has seen "the King in his beauty"—has heard his "well done."

That which is mortal rests beside that which was mortal of the wife of his young manhood and that of the two daughters, in the beautiful Tacoma Cemetery. The promise is, "At evening it shall be light"—and it was.

B. F. BROOKS.

REV. WILMOT WHITFIELD

Wilmot Whitfield was born in Eastport, Maine, May 9, 1840. He died in Los Angeles, California, Christmas morning. He was therefore 84 years, 7 months and 16 days of age. His father was English and his mother Scotch.

He finished his academic work in the classical course of Oberlin College, Ohio. He took a course in medicine at Toronto, Ontario. Upon graduation in medicine he settled in Michigan to practice, but very soon after, in 1864, he joined the Union Army and was attached to the staff of General Thomas, commissioned as Lieutenant. He was mustered out of the service from Donaldsville, Louisiana. He went north to Iowa, taught school and in 1868 married Isabella Glass of Luana, Iowa, who graduated in medicine at State University of Iowa. Together they practiced medicine until 1872, when Dr. Whitfield became a charter member of Northwest Iowa Conference. He served as pastor at Lake City, Storm Lake, First Church, Sioux City.

Following this he spent a year and a half in European travel, visiting the Holy Land. Upon his return he was made superintendent of Dakota Mission. During this term he assisted in founding Dakota Wesleyan University and was for a time governor of the territory, appointed by President Hayes and serving during the brief administration of President Garfield. In 1883 he was appointed a second time to First Church, Sioux City, Iowa. From 1885 to 1890 he was presiding elder of Sioux City District. During this time he assisted in the organization of Morningside College, serving as its first president from 1889 to 1892.

In 1892 he was sent a second time to the pastorate of Storm Lake. After serving this charge a year and a half he was transferred to Central Church, Portland, Oregon, where he served two and a half years. In 1896 he was transferred to the Puget Sound Conference and appointed presiding elder of Seattle District. During the last three years of this appointment he served as President of the College of Puget Sound.

In 1902 he was appointed Superintendent of Alaskan Missions. In 1903 he was transferred to First Church, Walla Walla. In 1904 he was at Colfax, and 1905 returned to First Church, Walla Walla. During this year he was transferred and appointed pastor of First Church, Aberdeen, in exchange with W. E. Thompson. In 1907 he took a Superannuated Relation, and in that fall his wife died. He spent the next year in travel, finally locating in Los Angeles, where in 1909 he married Eva Peck, who survives him in Los Angeles.

In 1910 he served Sixty-second Street Church, Seattle, as supply, and in 1911 Duvall, this being his last charge.

He is survived by three sons, two of whom are married, four grandchildren, also by two step-children in Los Angeles.

Dr. Whitfield was a modest, yet most remarkable man—had a courtly bearing; was a dramatic and inspirational preacher. He had a strong mentality and was a great student—his mind and memory never flagged.

His funeral was held in First Church, Seattle, Friday afternoon, January 2, 1925, in charge of Rev. Byron H. Wilson, the District Superintendent, assisted by Rev. J. Ralph Magee and addresses were made by Rev. E. H. Todd, President of the College of Puget Sound, and Rev. George A. Landen, a former District Superintendent of Dr. Whitfield.

GEORGE A. LANDEN.

REV. A. M. STEELE

The funeral services for Rev. A. M. Steele, late pastor of the Methodist Church, were held Wednesday afternoon, November 21, 1924. Rev. George W. Frame, District Superintendent of Bellingham, being in charge. The theme of Dr. Frame's message was "Heaven, the Hope of the Christian," and was one of the great comforts to the sorrowing friends.

Amzia Martin Steele was born at Taylorville, Indiana, March 18, 1877. When he was still a mere lad his parents moved to Brocton, Illinois, and later to Paris, Illinois.

In 1898 while at Brocton he enlisted for military service with the Sixth Missouri Volunteers and served his country until the close of the Spanish-American war. Returning to his home he took a seminary course and entered the teaching profession, following this vocation for several years, until, because of ill health, he was forced to seek relief in the southwest. He resided for a while in El Paso, Texas, and later in New Mexico. Throughout his youth he had felt the call of God urging him to devote his life to the ministry and with the return of health and vigor in that southwest country came the opportunity to answer this call and he entered the New Mexico English Mission Work, serving at Raton, Las Vagas and other places.

In 1909 he went to Nebraska and entered the Nebraska Conference of the Methodist Church and was appointed to the pastorate at Ong. It was while residing there that he was married to Lucile E. Gowan. To this happy union were born three children, Ruth, Ray and Jessie.

After serving several pastorates in Nebraska, he brought his family west in the fall of 1920 and entered the Puget Sound Conference receiving his first appointment to Renton. Two years ago he was appointed to the church at Sedro-Woolley and faithfully served the charge until forced by failing health to give up the work and seek relief in Arizona. It was with high hopes that he went to the southland, fully expecting that complete restoration of health and strength was for him, laying plans for the future, always planning for the work for the Master, the church and the relief of humanity. But it was a losing fight, the dread ravages of disease had gotten such a hold that human agency was unavailing. The end came at Whipple Barracks, Prescott, Arizona, November 21, 1924, at the age of 47 years, eight months and three days.

"God called him home. He looked upon Brother Steele's work with pleasure and said, "Son, it is enough, lay down the cross, a robe and a crown is in readiness for you, enter into the joy of thy Lord."

While in Sedro-Woolley he made many friends with everybody and there was not a man, woman or child but that loved him and respected him for the fearless way in which he presented the truth and attacked sin.

In addition to the great host of friends that he has made in the various places where he has labored, he leaves the wife, who so faithfully labored with him through adversity as well as in prosperous times, through sorrow and joy, and sickness and health; the three loving children, a brother in Lincoln, Nebraska; a sister in Terre Haute, Ind., and another in Detroit, Mich.

The funeral was largely attended by the members of the church he had so faithfully served, members of the Masonic and Eastern Star orders and Veterans of the Spanish-American War.

MARY FRANCES MARSH

Mary Frances Palmer was born in Romeo, Michigan, August 4, 1853, where she resided until August 19, 1875, when she was united in marriage to Albert Henry Marsh. They came to Washington in 1889, the year Washington was admitted into the union. Two years prior to this they resided in California on account of the ill health of Brother Marsh.

Sister Marsh had united with the church while still in her teens and was ever alert for the voice of God, directing her life. A little incident while residing in California will show this. One day she read an article in one of our church papers written by a lad of ten or twelve years of age, telling of the possibilities for God's work in this great Northwest. She called the attention of her husband to it, who said, "Oh that is only the production of a small boy, and you cannot count anything on that." But this good woman felt that God was in it, and she wrote to this boy, who referred the matter to the Presiding Elder, who immediately answered assuring them that there was not only a great opportunity here in the Northwest, but that he had a field open for them just then at Montesano. They came as I have indicated, and spent a number of years in telling the glad news of the Redeemer's love here in this new country, where they have lived since.

Sister Marsh had been ill for about 17 months, coming to the end of her earthly pilgrimage on the Fourth of July, 1925. These have been months of patient waiting and more or less confinement to her home; days of opportunity in which she gladly manifested her faith in God and His constant grace, days in which she left every evidence behind that confidence in the Savior had not been misplaced; days of sweetest trust in the will of God.

These months also bear witness to the unwavering fidelity of her companion, who though held back to some degree by the more than fourscore milestones, has ministered to her with an unquenchable love that has been shown in many ways, for her comfort and blessing.

To this union were given seven children, only two of whom survive: Ernest P., Conciliator in the United States Department of Labor, Portland, Oregon; Arthur L., Executive Secretary of the Washington Education Association, residing here.

The writer, at Brother Marsh's request, conducted the funeral services. Brother J. A. Badcon, the pastor of Sixty-second Street Church, assisted in the services. Her body was laid to rest in the Crown Hill Cemetery, Seattle, where her children were buried.

W. T. RANDOLPH.

NELLIE NUTE LEAVITT COVINGTON

Nellie Nute Leavitt Covington was born March 21, 1849. Died October 20, 1924. She was married to Rev. Luther J. Covington June 23, 1891.

She had been in uncertain health the past 13 years from heart lesion. Her mind treasured many choice poems and literary gems. She had been abroad and the experience of life made her companionship something to treasure. Her spiritual life was deep and true. No shadow of doubt ever troubled her; and her love of God was the well founded influence in her devoted loyalty to husband, daughter, relatives and friends. She was a great lover.

As a pioneer preacher's wife she counted no experience a sacrifice or hardship. The first parsonage to which she and her husband were appointed was a two-room shed on the steep hill side of South Bend. Did she complain? Never. She won friends in every charge and was a full teammate in gospel service.

When her husband was called to the head of the Washington Children's Home Society she became his assistant and was always glad to do her full share for the children whether on salary or not.

To her friends and relatives she was ever loyal and thoughtful of their interests. To her daughter she was a most considerate and affectionate mother. To her husband she was a most devoted and loving wife, a sympathetic and helpful companion—a love chum.

Her oft expressed wish was granted:

"May there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar."

We miss her yet rejoice in her welcome Home.

GRACE ELIZABETH WEAVER

Grace Elizabeth Weaver, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Weaver, was born in a Methodist parsonage in Alliance, Ohio. She accompanied her parents to Western Washington at the age of four years. She grew up in the atmosphere of a Christian home and in the environment of the church to young womanhood of rare loveliness. Her educational advantages led her through the public schools of Seattle and the University of Washington including post graduate work at the University. For several years she served with great acceptability as a teacher in the public schools. At the time of her death she was preparing to publish a book that would carry the work of her department of economics into the under-privileged homes. Her religious life unfolded in experience that found progressive usefulness of increasing value in the Queen Esther Circle, the Epworth League, the Sunday School, the choir, the Y. W. C. A. and other opportunities. In character and accomplishments her young womanhood was richly and beautifully endowed for a life of rare usefulness. But it was equally well qualified for entrance into the higher activities and transcendent experiences of the eternal home. On May 25, 1925, she was stricken with spinal meningitis. In spite of all that the highest skill and the most tender love could do on the fifth of June, her lovely and loveable spirit slipped away from earth into the congenial atmosphere of heaven. She left us the radiant memory of 28 beautiful years.

E. M. RANDALL.

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

George W. Frame, Superintendent

To present a comprehensive and reliable report of the year's work of the faithful ministers and laymen of the Bellingham district, is a perplexing task. The best part of a report is never written—heart-throbs, motives, high purposes, self-sacrifice of brave souls, spiritual victories and kindly service unheralded and unknown to men—these can never be recorded in cold type. So the mere words of this report will be far from the whole truth.

On the whole, the district has had a good year. Nothing spectacular or iconoclastic which would make headlines for a morning newspaper, but a steady pull toward the kingdom of God in all that makes for righteousness. The pastors have all remained loyally and royally at their posts. Neither death nor serious sickness has darkened a parsonage home, for which we are truly grateful to God.

At the close of the last Conference, Chimacum, Langley, Sequim and Sultan were left to be supplied. Shortly after the close of the Conference J. M. Amundson was secured as supply for Sequim, and has given excellent service. L. F. Smith, a retired member of the Oregon Conference, has been faithfully serving Sultan and Goldbar since last December, and Ira J. McFarland, formerly a member of the Inter-Mountain Conference, has for the past four months been giving most acceptable service to Chimacum. Owing to lack of support we have been compelled to leave Langley without a regular supply. Here is a promising field for some energetic young man full of grace and truth and courage to prove his ministry.

Early in the year an exchange was arranged between Dr. Charles C. MacCaughey of the Centenary-Wilbur church, Portland, and Dr. J. C. Harrison of Garden Street church, Bellingham, to take effect the first Sunday in June. This has proven to be a happy exchange for both. Dr. MacCaughey has already ingratiated himself into the hearts of his people, is preaching to full houses, and his sermons are spoken of in the highest terms of praise. We understand that Dr. Harrison is also having a splendid hearing, and is happy in his work.

In previous reports attention has been called to the difficulties of administration on the Bellingham district, because of its vast territory and its small, scattered rural charges with inadequate salaries, with one hundred and seventy-five churches of other denominations—exclusive of Catholics and "Come-outers"—in the field. Clallam and Jefferson counties, comprising the larger part of the Olympic Peninsula, with an area of about four thousand square miles, and a population of less than twenty thousand, contain four small, struggling Methodist churches, with a total membership of 357. The western slope of the Cascade Mountains presents another problem. Here are Sultan and Goldbar; Darrington and Oso; Hamilton and Lyman, situated in the upper basins of three great rivers, and in the midst of vast tracts of merchantable timber. There are thousands of people living in these regions, but the total membership of the Methodist church in these three charges—and six churches—is 120. Aside from one small Adventist church, we are the only Protestant English speaking church in the Sultan-Goldbar charge, with a population of about 800 in the town of Sultan, and as many more in the parish outside the town, a large majority of whom are American born, yet $600.00 per year is all this struggling church can offer for the support of a pastor. If we could secure eight hundred or a thousand dollars a year missionary money with which to support efficient leadership, within two or three years such charges would be self-supporting. Why does not the Board of Home Missions help us? Are not these loggers in the Bellingham district, in such large numbers, as valuable as loggers in other parts of this conference? An efficient pastor at such a place as Sultan could profitably spend most of his time during the week among the loggers, and could well serve the church on Sundays and one or two other days of the week. In some such way we could obtain proper ministerial leadership for many of these struggling charges.

From a survey of the district it is evident that any unified program must necessarily consist largely of unity of purpose and goals rather than united mass movement. Therefore, with the schedule of the First Quarterly Conference of the year, was sent the following outline program of the work we hoped to accomplish throughout the district:

1. To promote the prayer life of pastors and people, counting this the very heart of our Christian life and work, the neglect of which is the cause of much of our failure.

2. The personal winning of souls to Christ, feeling that to fail here is to fail everywhere, and that ten per cent net gain in church membership should be the minimum result.

3. A thoroughly organized Disciplinary financial plan, including a Local World Service Council, a strong Finance Committee on local expenses, and a thorough Every Member Canvass for both budgets before December 1.

4. A determined attempt to enlist an increasing number of Christian Stewards, realizing that this is fundamental to any adequate financial success.

5. A standard Sunday School on every charge.

6. The placing of a Methodist Church paper in every home.

These goals, set for ourselves, have not in many cases been reached, but advance has been made, and our faces are still set steadfastly toward them. They are absolute essentials, and to ignore or minify them is to court defeat and disappointment.

The building program of the district this year is not so extensive as in previous years. First church, Everett, has made the principal improvement in building, having completed their Sunday School and social hall, adjoining the church building on the East at a cost of over thirteen thousand dollars. Coupeville has erected an addition to their parish house at an expense of about $600.00. The pastor, W. J. Rule, and his Boys' Club are responsible for most of the labor. Lynden has expended $600.00 on a new front entrance to the church and other substantial improvements. Other churches have improved their property in the following amounts: Garden Street, $500; Snohomish, $425; Eureka, Bellingham, $315; Blaine, $280; Fairhaven, $271; Nooksack, Ferndale and Chimacum, $200 each, with several other churches in smaller amounts, aggregating about $1000.00, making a total property improvement of the district of near $18,000.00. The trustees of the Anacortes charge, of which Friday Harbor was made a part last year, have sold the church and parsonage at the latter place, and have used the proceeds to purchase a site for a new church at Anacortes, although they cannot hope to proceed with a building program at present. The good people of Sequim under the aggressive leadership of their pastor, J. M. Amundson, are planning a new church to cost fifteen or twenty thousand dollars which they hope to see materialize before the close of another year. This community is in great need of a new church, and should be assisted by the Board of Home Missions liberally. However, Port Angeles is the outstanding missionary opportunity of the district—and perhaps of the conference. On Easter Sunday this church had in attendance 376 Sunday School pupils crowded into the old ramshackle buildings of a former generation, where a year or two ago 150 would have been a banner attendance. This interest cannot long be maintained without a new building. The membership of the church is not large, though growing, and none of but the most modest means. This city contains about one-half of the population of Jefferson and Clallam counties, and presents an opportunity for Methodism second to none in this Conference. Ten thousand dollars could not be better invested by the Home Mission Board than at this strategic point. The pastor, Erle Howell, has been wise and untiring in his service to this charge, and in the cultivation of the field for this forward move. All the churches on the Olympic Peninsula are in a more hopeful and promising condition than they have been for several years, and this is the time to assist them.

We began the conference year with an effort to promote the work of the church schools. Standardization schools were held at Bellingham and Everett, under the leadership of Dr. Purdy, and were very helpful in arousing interest in Christian education. Our Director of Religious Education is welcomed everywhere on the district, for he proves himself a real helper. The fifty schools of the district have, in general, made good progress in enrollment, better teaching and in organization.

Our young people of the Epworth League held their Annual Convention at Burlington, June 15 to 17, which was well attended, exceedingly helpful, and resulted in conversions and life decisions of a number of the young people. The program was planned by the young people themselves, with an evangelistic purpose, indicating an awakening to the necessity of our Epworthians having, in these trying days, a definite personal Christian experience.

A considerable number of our League members attended the Institute at Epworth Heights, but owing to the conflict in dates with the Ferndale Campmeeting, the attendance was not so large as it would otherwise have been. Those who attended report a profitable and interesting Institute. The Camp Meeting, at which near one hundred young people were in attendance was the best for many years. Dr. Hargett was the leading preacher, and he made a deep impression upon all with his powerful, spiritual preaching. Many conversions and life decisions were evident.

As always evangelism has been stressed throughout the year. Many of the charges have held special evangelistic services, some of which were quite successful. Monroe, Snohomish, Marysville, Oak Harbor, Port Townsend and Sequim report especially helpful meetings. The District Superintendent assisted pastors at Sedro-Woolley and Port Angeles for three weeks, and was rejoiced in seeing some accept Christ as Saviour, and many others take higher ground in Christian experience and service. Some of our churches are using the personal method of evangelism with some success, but we are persuaded that the use of both methods is usually "the more perfect way." The worst method that could be devised is to do nothing toward evangelism. Brother L. C. Shultz has been especially helpful in evangelistic services with other pastors. Churches making substantial gains in membership, or other visible signs of progress, are: Port Angeles, Grace, and First Church, Everett, Sedro-Woolley—under the most adverse conditions—Anacortes, Port Townsend, Burlington, Sequim, Marysville, Snohomish, Blaine, Garden Street, Stanwood, Eureka and Silver Beach, Lynden, Fairhaven, LaConner, Monroe, Mount Vernon and Oak Harbor. Other pastors and charges who have labored as faithfully without an increase in membership or other visible results, have the same reward in the sight of God. If the non-resident and inactive member is not too much in evidence there should be a substantial gain in membership in the district.

During the month of April, in common with the other districts of the conference, meetings for the promotion of the "Every Member Roll Call for World Service," were held at Bellingham and Everett. These meetings were addressed by the four District Superintendents of the Conference on various phases of the World Service program. We feel that they were well worth while in calling the church to a united front, with every member at his post, in this battle for the Kingdom of Christ. We have tried every way we could devise to advance this part of our church program, and the reports will show an increase over last year's contributions.

The last of May the District Conference was held in the beautiful auditorium of the Hughes Memorial Church at Edmonds, Bishop Shepard presiding. A program of great merit was presented by the brethren, which was climaxed by a most stirring address by the Bishop in the evening, bringing us the substance of the May meeting of the Bishops in Washington, D. C.

The district is much indebted to the Ladies Aid Societies. Their financial and social activities are invaluable. In many of the charges they stand ready to fill the breach in church work from the securing of a Cradle Roll recruit for the Sunday School to the carrying of the financial burden of a great church building enterprise. Over thirteen thousand dollars have been gathered and gleaned by these Marthas of the church that the Marys and others might have a place in which to worship the Saviour. May they, themselves, fail not to enter in!

The Women's Missionary Societies—of which Bellingham District can boast of some of the best in the Conference—have also done noble work in behalf of less favored and under-privileged peoples. They have gathered and dispensed near five thousand dollars in their service for others.

The Indian work, still under the superintendency of the Bradshaws, is growing in importance. The Government school at Tulalip, bringing together, as it does, young people from all parts of the state, presents an opportunity for service among a needy people rarely excelled, and Brother and Sister Bradshaw are making the most of it. The Government agent and his staff of workers are in closest sympathy with our work, and are often an encouragement to the workers.

The Deaconess Orphanage Home at Everett has had another successful year. It is conducted by four deaconesses, and they usually have about 50 children under their charge. Miss Effie Johnson, who has with devotion and capability served as Superintendent for a number of years, has resigned on account of ill health, and Miss Lucille Sprengle has been acceptably filling the place until a permanent Superintendent can be found. The Home is doing a great work for the unfortunate children of Snohomish county, and is in favor with the people. A new building is very much needed.

In most of the charges there has been a sincere effort to increase the subscription list of the Pacific Christian Advocate, and we are pleased to report some advance. Everywhere we hear exclamations of delight at the marked improvement of the paper, and especially in the quality of the articles on the devotional and spiritual life. May its popularity increase, even unto a copy in every home.

As to the future, Bishop and brethren, we are looking with great hope to the work of the coming year, if life, health and the presiding Bishop permit us to serve the district. Our needs are exceeding great, but our natural resources are abundant, and Christ is still the Head of the Church and supreme in all worlds. We need surveys, geographical, numerical, financial and spiritual on every charge. We need a new church at Port Angeles, Sequim, Snohomish and Anacortes—and we are going to have them. We need a vast number of tithers, and a much larger amount of offerings to World Service. We will be searching for interested, sympathetic laymen of means who will joyfully make it possible to secure $70,000 to pay the debt we owe the veterans of the Cross who have worn themselves out in the service. We need better schools and better trained ministers and workers. We need a half dozen young men to take charge in some of these languishing fields, and bring them to self support, but our greatest need is GOD in Christ Jesus—and we can have Him. Not more churches, but more power to reach the people, is our greatest need. "Four-fifths of the people have not yet been reached, and of the 20 per cent who are church members more than 25 per cent are non-resident or inactive." Power is our concern; and this is personal.

The matter of the progress of the churches, rural and city, is one of personality far more than machinery. We need hot hearts with our cool heads, or the world and the church will be frozen to immobility in their sin and selfishness. With the passion of early Methodism we need to preach Christ as the only hope for men, individually or collectively; the finality of religious thinking, the Lord of our lives, the Judge of all men; "And here we offer and present unto Thee, O Lord, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy, and lively sacrifice."

We again record our gratitude and appreciation for the continued courtesy, friendship and cooperation of pastors and laity alike. In every church there is a group of laymen, self-sacrificing, loyal and true, with whom it is a joy to labor. If all were like the faithful ones, the kingdoms of this world would soon become the Kingdom of our Lord and Christ. As it is, we count ourselves happy to have this fraternal entrance into these Godly parsonage homes, and to have a part with them in the building of the Kingdom of Christ.

SEATTLE DISTRICT

Byron H. Wilson, Superintendent

The development of the Northwest reads like an Arabian Nights story. A stone has recently been brought from Plymouth Rock and placed on the Pioneer Monument at Alki Beach. The bronze tablet is headed with these words: "From Plymouth to Alki Points." At this ceremony one man participated, 75 years of age, who was a babe in arms when the first settlers landed. It is a marvelous transition from Indian massacres and oxcarts to our great universities and colleges, paved streets and flying machines.

Seattle, the metropolis of this marvelous development, the largest city for its age in existence, with its adjacent communities and thriving villages, is our problem and our opportunity.

One year ago forty men were appointed to the care of the Churches of this District. God has dealt kindly with us all, but little serious illness has visited our ranks or our families. Dr. J. W. Walker, a retired member of the Indiana Conference passed away during the year. Each one, we believe, has given an unblemished account of service for the Eternal Book of Records. In computing the results of their labors and expressing it in figures, we find there has been at least a 10 per cent gain in membership. The preliminary reports indicate a gain in almost every department.

Church Building. Bothell has excavated the ground and raised the subscriptions for a $10,000 addition which they expect to complete early in the new Conference year.

Kent has built Sunday School rooms as a part of their church and expect soon to begin erection of a social hall. The entire cost of their building and improving will approximate $18,000.

Redmond has purchased a new church location and voted the removal of the old church to the new location and the erection of a social hall and Sunday School facilities.

Ronald has completed and dedicated their new church. This is a distinct and remarkable achievement. The church is a beautiful, modern building strategically located on the great Military boulevard. It is certainly destined to be one of our great churches in the future.

Highland Park has also completed and dedicated their new church. It is also strategically located on the new boulevard between Seattle and Tacoma in the midst of a growing population for which it is alone responsible. This building is beautifully designed and architecturally adapted in every way for a modern church program.

University church has $20,000 subscribed and their new location and old church and parsonage as assets to begin their new Temple. They have voted to proceed to build and expect to begin at an early date.

Trinity has a new and beautiful location purchased. They have sold the Gilman Park and Calvary church buildings and have begun the canvass for funds to erect their new church.

Snoqualmie is in the process of erecting a new building. The money is approximately all signed and the church is expected to be ready for dedication early in October of the new Conference year.

Property Improvement. The amount of improvement on churches and parsonages totals $55,000. Bremerton has greatly beautified their auditorium and adjoining rooms to the amount of $2225. Bryn Mawr has purchased a fine lot adjoining the church. Fall City has re-roofed, painted inside and out, and repaired the foundation of their church. Kent has a new pipe organ, a new furnace and a rejuvenated auditorium with a complete new lighting system. Saint Pauls, formerly Twin Lakes, has repainted and relighted their church. Bethel has placed new windows in their building, installed a furnace and completely redressed their auditorium. Tibbetts Memorial has purchased the corner property south of their church, thus giving them the whole block frontage to the West. Woodland Park has purchased a fine new parsonage and Trinity has secured 275 feet frontage on 23rd and 65th streets. This is a most strategic location and ideal for their new building.

Des Moines, Duvall, Renton, Riverton, Silverdale and Traceyton, Asbury, Lakeside, Crown Hill, Grace, Green Lake, Hillman, Madison, Queen Anne, Shaw Memorial, Woodland Park, Rainier Beach and Bothell have all done some commendable work in improving their properties.

Debt Paying. There has been paid on indebtedness approximately $30,000. Twenty-two thousand of this amount has been paid by First Church on their Forward Movement. Bremerton has paid $2090, Woodland Park $1315, Renton $600, University $553, Tibbett $520. Smaller amounts have been paid by Trinity, Queen Anne, Madison, Des Moines and Duvall.

Membership. Our population is not stabilized. Our people are migratory. This comes from our newness as a state, the nature of our industries and rapidly changing conditions. This is growing less and less with each succeeding year. The men who hold the battle line today are as near the hero type as the world's best. It takes red blood and Christian courage in this time as it has always done to be the advance Knight of righteousness and truth.

Paganism is making her inroads on American life, American morals are being encroached upon by continental standards. This is especially true here in this great commercial Puget Sound country, the gateway to the ends of the earth. It is a battle for our pastors to keep their Church records clear and so shepherd the people that they will keep abreast with the rapid influx of population. Had we the space to call each man's name we would have to set down in this report the names of forty heroic souls who have earnestly tried to meet the conditions, be a friend to man and lead their communities into the knowledge of our Lord.

One year ago in council these men pledged themselves to an earnest endeavor to add 10 per cent net gain to the membership of the churches. Our pre-Conference reports indicate that they have succeeded. Adding this increase to last year's 5 per cent, we have a 15 per cent net gain and much of this has come from conversions. The church of today has no greater foe than we find sometimes in her own ranks who claim that evangelism has gone and the church has lost its faith.

Pastoral Labors. The pastor is not a financial agent, he is not a community utility man, he is not a society lion. To all these things he may give impetus and tone by a radiant spirit-filled personality. He is a pastor, representing Jesus Christ to every individual and group. He who thinks he can do this and fail to reach the hearts and homes of his people will awaken to disappointment and failure. Our goal was 1,000 calls by each Pastor. Some succeeded, great has been the results. May God forgive some of our modern teachers who minimize the value of pastoral work.

Intellectual Tone. To know the time and the thought, the science, language and literature of the age in which we live is not only the preacher's tower of safety but it is the prophet's mount of vision. We, in council, decided to try and read at least one standard new book each month. We think most of us have kept this covenant. To assist in this we have kept in the District office a circulating library.

Stewardship. A new day is coming to the church through the avenues of stewardship. It is playing square with God. It will restore the minister's prophetic office. It will give the layman his proper place. It will do away with financial hysteria and give order and dignity to the work of the church. We have done some things to advance this work during the last year but expect to major on it the coming year.

World Service. We are mortified not to report an advance, to acknowledge that for the first time in our experience as pastor or Superintendent we must report no increase and perhaps a small decrease in the Disciplinary Benevolences. We can plead the newness of our country, the poverty of our institutions and the construction period of our inadequate church building, but this is only subterfuge. We dare not plead the poverty of our people. The lack of the proper kind of information and adequate organization are the companion causes of any benevolent decline. We have taken steps during the past year to follow the plans of the World Service Commission and remedy this downward tendency. Our ministers of the District are all friendly to this movement, and, we are certain, have it in their program to co-operate fully during the new year. We have no disposition to complain or find fault with our leaders, but we must say we do not feel that our pastors and churches are all to blame for lack of morale. We have had a vacillating policy from above somewhere.

Family Religion. One of our goals at the beginning of the year was to restore in some way the family worship. To this end we have distributed literature from the District office to the pastors. The pastors, many of them, have made it a part of their evangelism. We believe that a revival of the pastoral function of the ministry is one of the strongest factors from which we may expect results in this important matter. We believe that nothing can compensate for the failure to hear a good pastor's prayer of blessing in each home on his parish at least once a year.

The Training of Children. It has been one of our major endeavors to properly take care of our child life. So long Protestantism has failed in this vital task that it has created an alarming condition. There seems to be a lack of any real consciousness of value and need on the part of parents. It is hard for pastors to secure their co-operation in the religious training of children. We are certain our only hope of recovering from the moral breakdown of society is in the instruction of youth. The Vacation Bible School will help. The District held 18 this year. The Week Day Bible School must come. Many of our pastors have had their classes of religious instruction and preparation for church membership. We believe here lies the greatest opportunity for the real pastor heart to give expression in the church of tomorrow.

Our Institutions. The College of Puget Sound is not within the bounds of our District, but is it any the less ours? We are proud of its growing influence and assure its leaders of our continued loyalty and support.

The Seattle General Hospital is our neglected child. It has developed certain elements of strength from self-reliance but it needs a mother's love and care. Our constant fear is that while Puget Sound Conference is busy and perplexed with many cares this child will become hopelessly alienated from our hearthstone. The hospital is doing first class hospital work and conducting an A grade nurse training school.

Our Deaconess Home has had a good year. Our Northwest Training School has had the best year of its history. The campaign for the new building is having steady progress. The new location has been purchased. The enrollment for the new year has reached its limit, the faculty and standards are better than ever.

The Wesley Foundation is accomplishing many good things. The new building is a great delight to all.

The Deaconess Settlement and the Good Will Industries represent our Christian Churches, giving expression where most needed and in a very effective way. These two institutions have exerted a great influence in Kingdom building this year.

Our Women's Work. The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies and the Ladies Aid Societies have been as usual a great force in material as well as educational ways. Often when despair might prevail our good women save the day. May God's blessing richly reward our wonderful womanhood.

Our Young People. We think the reports will show that our Sunday School and Epworth League work has made gains in all departments and in members, as well as the quality of work done. Our Pastors and Institutional leaders, I am certain, will all join me in giving special thanks to Edgar J. Purdy and Paul H. Ashby for their inspiration and invaluable help in the religious and educational department of our work.

The Pastors and special workers of the Seattle District have all moved together as a well trained army. The District Superintendent has only been one in the councils.

Our greatest joy has been not in these material things that only index in figures and reports. Our friendships, our hunger for the highest culture, our desire to serve our fellow man, our hopes, our aims, our blended prayers—these have acted and reacted and they will live for eternity. May the Good Master of us all say, "Well done."

TACOMA DISTRICT

Andrew Warner, Superintendent

At the close of the second year of administration as District Superintendent of the Tacoma District and the third in the Puget Sound Conference and with great gratitude to our Heavenly Father for His kind providence and his wonderful grace, and with great appreciation of the splendid spirit of cooperation that has been shown by both ministers and laymen, I submit this, my annual report.

In doing so I wish to state that the field covered by the district is most interesting and fruitful for Christian endeavor.

While the first and second generation of pioneers have passed on we are still frontiersmen for God in this district. Frontiers of many sorts are to be found here.

The householder who builds his little shack on the logged off land, clearing small portions for a garden and then larger portions for grain crop, working in the forest and mill to earn money to develop his little home is as much of a pioneer as the farmer of a generation ago, who went west to Illinois and Iowa and there carved out a dwelling place for his family. Of these there are many thousands in the Tacoma District, real pioneers living on a real frontier.

Then we have a great industrial frontier here. The presence of the raw materials out of which unlimited quantity of manufactured products may be made, with the unlimited quantity of the cheapest power in the world, the close proximity to the markets thru the developing means of transportation which brings the markets of the world to our door.

Then there is in Tacoma and the surrounding territory covered by the Tacoma District, a great religious frontier. Thousands of these homes of the frontier farmer have no pastoral care and no religious leadership. Many of these have a religious background developed in the older and more mature communities in the middle west and in the east. But the strangeness of the new land, the difficulties encountered in developing the new home in the forest and on the farm, the remoteness in many cases, has separated them from their earlier religious influences and experiences so that today they are not only sheep without a shepherd but are lost in the wilderness of sin. There are many whole school districts in which there is no religious fellowship, no organization, no service. Thousands of our boys and girls are being taught and trained in our public schools and colleges without any adequate religious training that will give them a religious background for moral life.

In this frontier the church is facing a most unusual opportunity. Here is a society that will speedily attain a world-wide influence, industrially, commercially and politically. The Church of God has the opportunity of permeating this new and growing country with the spirit and ideal of Jesus Christ. The hearts and minds of the people are receptive to the gracious influences of the Gospel.

For promoting the work of the Kingdom in the Tacoma District, while our equipment is altogether inadequate, we have acquired some very valuable property. We have eight stone, brick or brick veneer churches, forty-one frame churches and thirty-three parsonages. The total value is approximately $575,000 with an indebtedness of about $100,000.

Personnel. The most vital element in the promotion of the work of the church, however, is the ministerial personnel. Besides the District Superintendent we have in the district as our staff thirty-seven ministers working full time, nine local preachers giving a portion of their time, twelve retired ministers whose presence has been a blessing in our local churches and in our councils. There have been two changes in the location of the ministers within the year. N. C. Pierce was moved from Shelton to Central Church, Tacoma, and J. H. Avery was moved from Summit to Shelton.

Good health has prevailed generally thruout the parsonage homes, however, a very serious accident in which Mrs. G. F. Pollock was run over by an automobile and very seriously injured brought great concern to the Asbury Church and the whole district during the time that her life hung in the balance. All rejoice with the family over her recovery. Mrs. O. F. Krieger was ill for a portion of the year but is now on the road to recovery. Dr. T. W. Lane, one of the very highly respected and greatly appreciated members of this Conference, has been very ill during the greater portion of the year.

In analyzing the work of the district and its achievements during the year, I shall divide the churches in four groups. First, those in the City which have been able to develop sufficient strength to support the maintenance budget and a reasonable program. Second, those in the City that must still be helped both financially and otherwise in promoting an adequate program of church activities. Third, those outside the City of Tacoma which are self supporting. Fourth, the Mission Churches in this same territory.

The Self-Supporting Churches of Tacoma. In evaluating the achievement of the first group I may say that in the City of Tacoma we have eight self-supporting Churches with a combined full membership of 4136 serving with a program of religious education approximately 4500 people, a large percentage of which are under 25 years of age.

First Church, the oldest and most central of our churches in Tacoma, has enlarged its budget, increased its staff and enlarged its program of service. Dr. H. B. Rhodes, the cultured Christian gentleman, splendid preacher, devoted pastor, who has been greatly appreciated by the ministers of the district as well as by First Church will be missed as he leaves us to become pastor of Trinity Methodist Church of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Mason Church has been greatly enlarging its program during the last few years. It conducts a thoroughly graded and departmentalized program of religious education, social and recreational activities and worship as well as a very extensive program of pastoral care. The success of this program is shown by the large increase of the young people's department of the Church and the splendid financial support of both the local church budget and the World Service program of the Church. During the year $29,000 or practically $40 per capita has been raised for the support of these objects. John G. Law and Harry E. Rarey are associated as pastors of this Church.

Epworth Church has had a great year. It has dedicated one of the most beautiful, attractive and efficiently organized church buildings in the district. Splendid congregations have waited upon the ministry of R. S. Rees who has been the greatly beloved pastor of this Church. $21,000 or over $50 per capita has been raised for all purposes by this Church during the year.

Bethany Church has done a most outstanding piece of work during the year. While its remarkably courageous and versatile pastor, E. J. Huston has given himself with utter abandon to the work of political and civic reform in the City of Tacoma he has led his Church in a most successful building campaign and in the development of a thoroughly all around program of activities. During the year a beautiful, adequate, brick church building, the architect, designer and builder of which is Brother Huston, has been dedicated. Along with this a splendid gymnasium and a fine parsonage have been completed. At the same time the spiritual and education program of the Church have been maintained at a very high degree of efficiency.

Trinity Church, the pastor of which is Dr. G. A. Landen, a statesman, administrator, preacher and one of the greatly beloved members of this conference who for forty years has served as pastor, district superintendent, general church leader of this Northwest, has added to its equipment by the installation of a new furnace, and has made a substantial payment on indebtedness.

St. Paul's Church of which J. F. Long has been the earnest and devoted pastor during the year, has made commendable progress in the matters of finance and the educational and spiritual work of the Church. Brother Long has rendered a very outstanding piece of service through his pastoral care and home visitation having made over three hundred pastoral visits in homes and places of business.

Fern Hill Church has greatly increased its capacity for service through the purchase of the domestic science building of the Fern Hill School which it has remodeled, furnished and decorated at the same time it redecorated the Church building and parsonage throughout. O. M. Graham has been the very highly appreciated pastor of this rapidly growing Church in this growing community.

Asbury Church, located in South Tacoma, has enjoyed a year of progress under the leadership of G. F. Pollock, who served the Church most faithfully in spite of the great stress due to the accident to Mrs. Pollock.

Mission Churches of Tacoma. In addition to these self-supporting churches we have seven Mission Churches with a combined membership of about four hundred serving over one thousand in Sunday School and with a property valued at approximately fifty thousand dollars. Thus making the total membership of the Churches in Tacoma approximately forty-five hundred with a Sunday School enrollment totalling about fifty-five hundred. The strongest of these Mission Churches in the city is the East Sixty-fourth Street Church of which T. A. Graham has been the greatly beloved pastor. His splendid preaching and his pastoral care has greatly developed the interest in the church activity which shows itself in the large number of children and young people seeking the help of the Church through its Sunday School and social activities as well as in its services of worship.

The other Mission Churches of Tacoma we have sought to organize in what we have known as the Tacoma City Parish which has been administered under the direct supervision of the District Superintendent. In this parish P. G. Headly at LeSourd, supplied. Improvement in the property has been made at LeSourd through the addition of a room for the use of the primary department of the Sunday School.

F. C. Peterson, a student in the C. P. S. served very acceptably at Wesley and Dr. S. S. Sulliger whose militant spirit prevents him from settling down in comfort, has built up a congregation that promises to develop into a good church, has supplied at Fircrest where his work is very highly appreciated.

The work at Grace Church has made great progress. O. J. Beadles has proven himself a very worthy leader. His splendid consecration and his sympathetic spirit and fine qualities of leadership have given new courage to a group of discouraged people who are now anxious to put on a much greater program than ever before. A playground has been established, the educational and social program of the Church has been greatly strengthened.

At Central Church, Nelson Pierce has rendered a fine ministry for nine months, during which time the congregations have grown and interest increased.

Brother J. H. Hick has served faithfully at Arlington at which place the contribution for the support of the church increased from nothing to over $700.

It may be of interest to note that in the last ten years while the population of the City of Tacoma has increased forty-seven per cent the membership of the Methodist Churches has increased over sixty per cent and the giving of those same churches has increased about one hundred sixty per cent.

The Self-Supporting Churches Outside of Tacoma. In that section of the Tacoma District outside the City of Tacoma we have seven self-supporting churches, twenty-eight Mission Churches with a combined membership of approximately thirty-five hundred, serving in Sunday School fifty-five hundred. The major portion of those are children and young people.

The self-supporting churches are located largely in the county towns and smaller cities within the district. The largest of these churches is the church at Centralia of which J. M. Canse has been the very popular pastor during the last year. During the year this church has paid the debt on the parsonage, increased its contribution towards World Service, conducted an enlarged program of religious education, served continuously growing congregations of preaching and worship.

At the state capitol O. F. Krieger has rendered very splendid leadership. The parsonage has been remodeled, the church building greatly improved and a continuously growing program of church activities carried on. At Puyallup, C. D. Rarey has been the faithful and aggressive pastor and has lead this church in many kinds of service, one of which is the extension work done throughout the surrounding country. During the entire year services have been conducted at Edgewood and during a portion of the year at other points in the environs of Puyallup.

At Auburn, H. R. Stone has been the pastor for four years. Under his leadership the church has grown in membership, in program of activities and in equipment until it has become one of our stronger churches.

The church at Sumner is located in a growing town of aggressive people who have had faith enough in God and the church to erect a beautiful, commodious church building.

Richard Oates, whose splendid preaching and fine Christian character are highly appreciated by this congregation has been the pastor.

At Eatonville the church property has been improved by the addition of a social hall which will increase the capacity of the church for community service including a program of religious education that shall reach the entire school district. C. L. Walker has been the pastor here for the last two years.

Shelton is located in the heart of an important section. Large lumber interests center in this rapidly growing town. Our church has great responsibility for the extending of the work of the church thru the entire county. Our pastor has interested himself in the more remote communities as well as those near the town. J. H. Avery has been the earnest and loyal pastor of this church.

The Mission Churches Outside of Tacoma. The fourth group of churches includes those located in the smaller towns and open country

We have here twenty-six. They have a combined membership of approximately one hundred. Only two of them have more than one hundred members. Eleven of them have less than fifty each. Notwithstanding this, they are doing a tremendous piece of work. These churches enroll approximately 2500 in the Sunday Schools. An exceedingly large portion of these come from unchurched homes.

In this group of churches some quite remarkable cases of loyalty and devotion on the part of both ministers and laymen may be seen. In some of these cases this devotion has been rewarded by great outward success. In others such has not been the case. Both laymen and ministers have given evidence of the fine metal of the missionary of the cross by giving themselves with utter abandon to the things of the Kingdom which seemed absolutely impossible but which have yielded to the heart of faith and hand of toil.

Let me first mention the case of A. M. Frederick who was one year ago appointed to a field in which there was no parsonage, where there were but twenty-four members of the church that had paid but $203 the former year, who without assurance of missionary money to support him went into Gig Harbor neighborhood, visited in every home into which he carried the optimism of the Gospel and the enthusiasm of the spirit arousing the discouraged souls, rallying the church membership and has been rewarded by seeing many give themselves to God and take up responsibilities of the Christian life. Another frontiersman who has put many of us to shame by his devotion to God and the Church may be found in the person of C. C. James who with his good wife has given himself unreservedly to the Kingdom in that beautiful mountain valley of Randle. On a very meager support, and many times under the most adverse and discouraging circumstances these good people have given themselves to their task. The little church there has followed them and God is rewarding them for their devotion, by an increasing appreciation on the part of the community in which they labor, showing itself not only in words of kindness by increased contributions toward the work has been a portion of their reward. The equipment for service has been increased by the building of a fine first story for use of the educational and social program of the church. Clark Cottrell and his good wife have shown themselves real pioneers as they have gone to three little churches with a combined membership of about seventy-five and have uncomplainingly and hopefully and enthusiastically given themselves to a most difficult field at Algona, Pacific City and Milton. During the year arrangements have been made to purchase the Old Presbyterian Church and repair it and thus increase our capacity to render an increasingly helpful service in this needy community. At Morton, J. W. Reynolds with a very small group of members has given himself to the work of the Kingdom in the rapidly growing town of Morton, where with the continuation of such leadership we will sometime have a strong church in a community that shall be transformed by its influence.

In the parish about Yelm, McKenna, Eureka and Rainier, Brother Earl Hanna, whose health was far from good for a portion of the year, has done a splendid piece of work. Thru the organization of a parish choir, the development of a program of young people's activities, new life and interest are expressing themselves in this field. Plans are under way for an addition to the church building at Yelm which will greatly assist in the educational and social work of the church.

At Parkland Joel Vigus, that veteran missionary of the cross who caught his inspiration from Van Orsdale and Jesus Christ has, during his pastorate there lead in a great building campaign so that he at this Conference leaves the charge with a fine new church all paid for and a field in which the foundation is laid for a splendid achievement.

In the parish which has been organized about Buckley and Wilkeson, which towns are in the heart of a population of about 8000 people with great variety of racial, national and religious background, T. J. Gambill and his good wife and Willard Stanton and his good wife have done a great work which has been bearing fruit but by the continuation of such cultivation will yield more abundant harvest from year to year. As a result of the work in this field, Pete A. Carli, a poor lad in a humble Italian home, received the knowledge of Jesus Christ, gave himself to the work of the Kingdom, became a student of the College of Puget Sound from which he graduated last June, while he served on the staff of the Buckley-Wilkeson parish as home visitor, Sunday School Superintendent and Preacher. He has joined the Conference and has gone east for further preparation for work among the people from which he came. Other results of the splendid work of these good servants of the Master have been abundant and will continue to manifest themselves in human life and community betterment. This work has been made possible thru the splendid work of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, which has supported it with its prayers and contribution of $1,000.00 per year in cooperation with the Board of Home Missions which makes a significant contribution to both building and maintenance.

At Bucoda, J. C. Dorwin has sought in a fine way to establish the Kingdom of Christ in a small mill town. His splendid Christian character has been highly appreciated. Every one is greatly grieved at the fact that his health is such that he must ask for the retired relation at this Conference. W. O. Benadom has had a fine pastorate at Orting where he has lead in the enlargement of the church building. His influence as well as that of his good wife will be felt by those who have been fortunate enough to come in contact with his ministry at Orting.

Cooperating Agencies. Among the cooperating agencies that have been exceedingly helpful in extending the influences of the Kingdom in the Tacoma District must be mentioned the Good Will Industry, conducted under the leadership of H. W. Michener. This industry has brought cheer and hope to the discouraged souls of hundreds of unfortunates and has gathered up the fragments of both material and life and made the material into worthwhile objects and the lives into the Kingdom of God.

The Tacoma Community House owned, managed and supported by the Woman's Home Missionary Society under the fine supervision of F. C. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, is rendering great service in the section of Tacoma in which it stands.

The achievement of the College of Puget Sound under the far-seeing leadership of Dr. E. H. Todd, one of the highly respected and greatly honored members of this Conference, should bring a thrill of satisfaction to every Methodist in this section. Not only the material achievements in buildings and endowment should be objects of pride, but the fine faculty, the splendid student body, the program of spiritual training and leadership should make us take courage and go forward to greater achievements along this line. This college is destined to be one of the great forces for the promotion of the Kingdom in this section. In this connection I wish to make mention of splendid contribution of the College in loaning its faculty for general promotion work of the churches. R. L. Sprague, the field secretary, meets with great favor wherever he goes.

Special mention should be made of the work of J. Edgar Purdy, director of religious education of the Conference, whose splendid leadership is transforming the educational program of the church and making it most vital is being greatly appreciated throughout the whole district. The Standard Training Schools, the intensive efficiency conferences which he is conducting, as well as every one of his many kinds of helpfulness are proving highly successful.

In conclusion I want to say that before anyone says there is no more frontier or concludes that the church is a failing concern or writes a book about empty churches he should visit the churches of the Tacoma District. One visit to the churches, with the District Superintendent, would convince the most adverse critic that there is no basis in fact for any of these conclusions but that the church is today rendering an outstanding piece of service in community leadership, in character building and in personal salvation. Only Eternity will reveal the splendid results of the fine consecration of both laymen and ministers. With an earnest prayer that the joy of the Lord may be the strength of all His faithful servants on this District, I submit this report.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

J. T. McQueen, Superintendent

With a deep sense of dependence upon God the Father, and Jesus Christ my Saviour and Master whom I serve and whose I am, and to the Holy Spirit who has been my Guide and Comforter, I give humble thanks at this time.

While the routine and details have been similar to those of other years, yet there has been a great variety of new experiences, and new problems. I want here to acknowledge the joy that has come to me through contact and cooperation with the faithful pastors and their wives; their joys, sorrows, successes and failures have been mine, and we can truly say, "we share our mutual woes, our mutual burdens bear, and often for each other, falls the sympathizing tear."

The health in the parsonage homes has, with a few exceptions, been good. Early in the year, Brother and Sister LaViolette were both seriously poisoned by food of some sort, and but for the quick action of a physician, might have died. Sister Harding of East Hoquiam, was confined to the hospital for several days by a serious illness. Brother Geoghegan of Hoquiam First Church was in the hospital for some weeks for an operation. All are quite recovered, for which we give thanks. Charges left at the last session of our Conference, to be supplied, were soon furnished by our pastors.

Brother S. V. Warren, our pastor of Castle Rock, was sent to Hyder, Alaska, in July to take the place of Brother Hatton, who resigned his pastorate to go to Seward to become the Superintendent of Jesse Lee Home for the Woman's Home Missionary Society. Brother Warren is happy in his new work.

Brother T. P. Graham, a supernumerary member of the Inter-mountain Conference, was secured for our church at Seward, Alaska, and the Cook Inlet country. Brother Graham travels over a territory larger than the entire Puget Sound Conference and has the distinction of being the first minister to broadcast a sermon in, or from Alaska. Mrs. Graham had to come out this summer for a goitre operation, from which she made rapid recovery, and is back on the field.

Brother George W. Cooper has been the pastor at Juneau, where he has carried on a program of religious education and made some improvements on the church property.

Rev. C. M. VanMarter has just closed his tenth year as pastor at Ketchikan, and is still popular. Brother Van is not a kicker, but a sticker. The church and parsonage property have been greatly improved during his ministry—$1,000 this year. Our great need for the field in Alaska is young men who are capable and consecrated and willing to work hard. Nome is one of our Federated Churches and is not an easy church to furnish with the right kind of a pastor.

I have tried to give special attention to and emphasize all the interests of the church, and the Kingdom, on the district this year. I shall not try in this report to present statistics. Statistics are uncertain quantities until after they have passed through the hands of the statistician.

For convenience of administration the district is divided into five groups of charges.

The Grays Harbor Group consists of nine charges.

Hoquiam First Church has made advance in several departments in spite of the pastor's enforced absence at the time of his illness. Brother Geoghegan has succeeded in making himself so popular in his district, that the citizens have expressed their appreciation by nominating him as a candidate to represent their district in the legislature.

Simpson Avenue offers material as well as spiritual proof of advancement this year in the way of a new six-room parsonage with an estimated value of $2,800.00. Brother Harding has shown himself a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. Very much credit is also due to the faithful and loyal membership of the church.

Aberdeen, under the able leadership of Rev. J. R. Sasnett, Miss Bessie Daws and E. A. Hart, with a thoroughly efficient official board, has had a varied program the past year. All departments of the church are well organized. Sunday School, Epworth League, Ladies Aid and the Missionary Societies are all on a sound working basis. Brother Hart is in charge of the Finnish work and is rendering faithful service. After months of most careful planning and work a program of advance has been adopted and work started on a $39,000.00 project, which includes, correcting the acoustics, a pipe-organ, decorations, alterations of the Sunday School rooms, and a Community Hall on the South Side.

Cosmopolis has had both spiritual and material growth under the faithful pastor, Rev. F. A. Ecker. They report all claims paid a month before Conference. Enough said.

The motto at Montesano is proof of the success of the year's work: "Everybody Works." I know of nothing that is surer of bringing success than work, then a little more work. Try it. I recommend it to all preachers and laymen who feel that subtle, tiresome, lazy feeling creeping over them.

Miss Williams is the prophetess of the Satsop Valley and is making full proof of her ministry.

Elma is not as grimy as the name of the pastor might indicate, for Brother Grimes has been spreading sunshine in the hearts and homes of the community and is very much in favor with his people.

The Malone-Porter charges have been served the past year by Rev. D. E. Carter, one of the logger missionaries. A neat little church was dedicated at Malone early in the year. Our Brother Ecker, who was stationed at Elma and Malone the previous year is responsible for the erection of this building, which was not quite ready for dedication before last Conference. The building is worth $3,600.00

McCleary is a lumber manufacturing town, 100 per cent. Rev. R. A. Gailey has been holding down the pastorate for two years, and has the pleasure of seeing a new modern church erected and dedicated free of debt, March 21st, valued at $20,000.00. If you are contemplating building a church, see the McCleary church, first.

Brother W. B. Lamb, our pastor at Oakville, has kept up his reputation as a builder. A large Sunday School and Social Hall has been added to the old church, more than doubling its capacity. The cost has been about $1600.00. This will give Oakville a fine chance to departmentalize its Sunday School.

The Willapa and Lower Columbia River Group has five charges. Brother H. Albright has done what some of his people thought was impossible, in building a beautiful, comfortable and strictly modern parsonage, at Chinook. Now he is undertaking the same task at Ocean Park, and it looks like he will succeed, unless some one stops him.

South Bend parish includes South Bend, Bay Center, Knappton, Naselle and way points. Brother Parcel should be called the providing elder of that district for he is the only one who is providing religious instruction and comfort in those scattered settlements. We need more such Parcells as R. B. in this Conference; may his tribe increase. Much needed improvements have been made at South Bend, and all departments of the church show signs of a healthy growth. This charge has the distinction of reaching the highest point of per capita giving in Methodism. They believe in it and work at it.

Raymond has had an eventful year. Brother William Park has fought a good fight, finished his job and now the time of his departure is at hand. During the past year a modern plant has been built, for carrying on a program of worship and religious education. Time and space forbids a description of this beautiful church, which was dedicated on May 23rd, and is a fitting monument of the labor of Brother and Sister Park and the faithful laymen of Raymond. Estimated value, $45,000.00.

Lebam charge is a four point circuit, consisting of Lebam, Menlo, East Raymond and Willapa. Rev. Claude Groth and his new wife have done fine work here, and as they go East to finish college work our prayers are with them, and we shall hope to soon have them back on the Coast to do service for our church.

Wallville is a 100 per cent lumber town with some 100 per cent Methodists living there. Brother F. L. Lowther is the fortunate pastor.

The Chehalis Group: Chehalis, the county seat of Lewis county, is the head of this group, and is surrounded by a large and prosperous rural population. Our church occupies a strategic center, and we should develop a fine parish here, one of the finest in the Puget Sound Conference. Dr. Randall has been the pastor and in spite of an automobile accident, which laid him up for several weeks and the continued ill health of Sister Randall, he has succeeded in increasing the membership of the church 13 per cent, and reducing the debt in the two years of his pastorate $6,000.00.

Like Deborah of old, Mrs. A. D. Newell has been guarding the interests of the Kingdom at Napavine.

It is said that you cannot keep an Irishman down, and this was tried at Winlock about two years ago when a bridge fell on Brother C. H. Cowdy. Though badly smashed, he came up smiling, and continues to smile—and fight. Many said, "Cowdy you cannot do it, it cannot be done." But he did it, and on September the 6th, after extensive repairs and additions, the church was re-dedicated, former District Superintendent Andrew Warner preaching the dedicatory sermon, and raising more than enough money to pay all bills. The cost of the improvements are estimated at $3,500.00. Winlock now has a decidedly worshipful appearing church, with a well arranged platform, chancel and pulpit. But Brother Cowdy does not want all the praise for this work, for a live and consecrated official board was back of him in the enterprise.

Castle Rock has had a new experience this year; their pastor and wife were taken out in the middle of the year and sent to Hyder, Alaska, and Brother Hazleton of Ostrander has been dividing his time between his regular charge and Castle Rock, very satisfactorily for all concerned.

Kelso is one of the wonders of growth, having an increase of growth of 800 per cent in the past ten years. The pity is that our church has not grown in proportion with the growth of the town. I believe that Kelso offers the greatest opportunity for an outstanding piece of work of any charge in the Conference. Rev. M. L. Sanders has been the pastor the past year.

Kalama has had a series of misfortunes this year. Two mills have burned leaving a great number of people out of employment, making it impossible for the pastor, Brother Cowley, to carry out plans for the improvement of the church property.

Clarke County Group. Brother Beatty's family were in quarantine for some weeks because of the daughter, Margaret, having a serious case of diptheria. The pastor had to spend much of his time in the church as he was "quarantined out" of his home. So, like Samuel, he spent his time waiting upon the Lord, and the time was not lost. Ridgefield and Sara have had a good year.

Now, we come to the Salmon Creek-LaCenter charge, and what shall we say about the man Wilder. He is a parable that needs careful study. Three preaching points scattered over 25 miles apart, a vegetable and flower garden that is undoubtedly the best in the Conference. He has taken $5.00 per member for World Service, and all claims were paid in full two weeks before Conference. "Brother Wilder lives in his house by the side of the road, and is a friend to man."

Mrs. Porter is as popular as ever with the people of Orchards, who are asking for her return.

Yacolt has been supplied this year by a young man from Portland, Brother W. W. Mills, who has given good service. This is a logged-out camp, the people are fast moving away, and few are left to carry on the work. It looks like we will soon have to close up our work there.

East Mill Plain continues on the up-grade and it looks to us like Brother Place is placed in the right place.

East Vancouver and Felida were combined this year and Brother B. G. Clemans is the pastor. Felida has had a good year, all claims met with an increase. Some new methods must be tried at East Vancouver this coming year. This is a growing community and we must strengthen our hold upon it.

First Church, Vancouver, has had a splendid year of progress under the leadership of Brother F. A. LaViolette. The Fourth Quarterly Conference report showed a marked gain along all lines. Our Brother LaViolette has not been all he should have desired physically, but in spite of that he has with few exceptions filled his pulpit every Sunday; he is a strong, earnest preacher of the old Gospel, and a good increase in membership is the result.

Camas is in a class all by itself. A large industrial problem confronts the church there. Brother C. E. Todd is handling the situation like the general that he is. Besides looking after the spiritual and social end of the church he has donned his overalls, and done a man's work at the building of the parsonage. One of the best in the Conference. It is a safe estimate to value it at $5,000.00, and could not be built for that on a contract.

Washougal is one of our desirable rural churches. Here we have an adequate church and parsonage with no debt, and a fine congregation of spiritual people.

East Group—Stevenson-Carson, Rev. J. C. Lawrence and Miss Anna Lawrence in charge. Not many pastors have as their assistant a daughter, licensed and a local preacher. Stevenson and Skamania county charge is being well served by these two competent people. Miss Lawrence is carrying on a program of religious education and recreation over the county and while our hopes have not all been realized at Stevenson in the matter of the troublesome debt, yet our brother has been a faithful and true pastor. We are anxiously awaiting for a representative of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension to come and help put on a financial campaign, in an effort to save our property.

White Salmon and Husom: One of the charges we inherited with the change of Conference boundaries. Brother R. C. Young and his able wife, is the preacher in charge. They are proving the value of team work. Appleton-Lyle has this year been supplied by Brother Robert Brymer.

Goldendale lies on the eastern horizon of the district. Every new day comes from the direction of Goldendale. Brother D. A. Storey has had a successful year and the church has progressed.

Just a few words in general, by groups. Grays Harbor and Willapa Harbor furnish the lumber for the district. Chehalis group the milk and dairy products, also chickens and eggs. Clarke county furnishes the prunes, and Washougal the woolen goods for our clothing. White Salmon and Appleton the apples. Goldendale the wheat for the bread, and Alaska the fish, and the gold to buy whatever else we may lack. Come on into the Vancouver District. What more do you want?

Evangelism.—The evangelistic note has been sounded on all the charges of the district. A two weeks camp meeting was conducted at the Clarke County camp grounds with Dr. S. A. Danford as the evangelist. Dr. Danford is a powerful preacher and safe in his methods.

Epworth Leagues.—An Epworth League Institute was held at Ocean Park with a much larger attendance than we had dared hope for—117 registered delegates. We are for a larger and better institute next year. The Epworth Leagues of the district are taking on new life as a result of the institute.

Sunday Schools.—Dr. J. Edgar Purdy has been on the district and has conducted six Standard Training Schools, and as a result the Sabbath Schools of the district have shown a healthy growth. Dr. Purdy is a master at his work, and is always welcome.

College of Puget Sound—We have given special attention to the College of Puget Sound. Quite a number have been in attendance the past year and we expect more to go each succeeding year. Dr. Todd, R. L. Sprague, and any others who are working for "our college" are welcome in the Vancouver District any time.

Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies.—These societies are well organized throughout the district and as usual will show a gain this year. One of the ambitions of this District Superintendent is to see a Missionary Society of some sort, organized on every charge within the bounds of his district.

The Ladies Aid Societies.—The reports of the Ladies' Aid Societies would certainly make a very interesting contribution to the Pacific Christian Advocate. The earnings of these societies range all the way from about $250 to over $2,000.00.

The Pacific Christian Advocate.—I have tried to emphasize the importance of the Advocate and urged all our official members at least to subscribe for it. The Pacific Christian Advocate is one of the best religious papers on the Pacific Coast, if not the very best. Dr. Mills, deserves great praise for the efficient manner in which he is handling the paper; it is the religious duty of every Methodist family to have it in their home. Stay at home one day, and take the money you would spend for gas and tires, and subscribe for the Pacific Christian Advocate.

Loggers and Lumbermans Activities.—Rev. R. C. Hartley, superintendent, with Rev. H. E. Greening and Rev. D. E. Carter. These men have an almost impossible task of reaching the homeless and unchurched men. However, "Paul planteth, and Apollos watereth, but God giveth the increase." Eternity alone can reveal the extent of the harvest. These men are working under the supervision of the Department of Evangelism for the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. Theirs is a purely Missionary work.

World Service.—Every charge on the district except two accepted an advance over last year, and put on the every member canvass. I have urged our pastors and people to make use of all World Service literature, in order to become informed as to what the church is doing and what are its needs. It is no wonder that some of the charges are falling down on World Service giving. "Thy people perish for lack of knowledge."

Buildings, Improvements and Debt. Paying.—Our building and improvement program has been very satisfactory this year. Three new churches have been dedicated, one at Malone, one at McCleary and another at Raymond. Four parsonages have been completed and another under course of construction. They are located as follows: Hyder, Alaska; Chinook, East Hoquiam and Camas. Extensive improvements have been made at South Bend, East Raymond, Willapa, Oakville, Winlock, Goldendale and a few other points, totaling for building and improvements, approximately $90,000.00 with an indebtedness of only about $10,000. Seven thousand one hundred dollars of indebtedness has been paid and only $350.00 Church Extension money used.

It may be that I have omitted something that I should have said, or failed to recognize some brother in his labor for the church, but if so it is a sin of omission and not an intentional slight, and I pray that the just God may overrule all mistakes, and make of us all vessels fit for His use.

Reports of Boards and Standing Committees

(The following reports were duly adopted by the Puget Sound Annual Conference in its business sessions and represent the official action of that body.)

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Methodism has ever been endowed with love for Christian Education and has ever sought to give definite expression to her faith and foster institutions for the purpose.

College of Puget Sound. Our college at Tacoma has made a splendid record of achievement during the past year. These increasing successes portend the day of vastly greater things. We rejoice in a student body already reaching well over the four hundred mark in enrollment. In finances we report that all debts have been paid and over a hundred thousand collected from the General Board of Education. Almost $700,000 has been placed in the invested endowment fund. We are glad to note the increasing advance in both numbers and quality of the faculty. For all of this we gladly express to the President and Trustees our confidence and appreciation. We urge our people to increasing benevolence to this institution to provide adequate buildings and maintenance for our college.

Northwest Training School. A very successful year marks the work of this splendid training school for young women. Twelve were graduated this year and already eight of these are in active training in the school for nurses.

In finances the entire budget was raised and for the building about $35,000 has been raised toward a total of about $80,000. We most earnestly commend this school to the good will and support of all our people in the Northwest.

Kimball School of Theology. We congratulate this school on securing for its presidency our own John Martin Canse. With the policy of this institution definitely settled and the selection of its president we most heartily commend it to the generosity and prayerful support of our people. May it go forward to furnish leadership to the church for the coming years.

Wesley Foundation. Wesley Foundation, located at 42nd Ave. and 15th Ave. N. E. in Seattle has a great opportunity for service. Hundreds of our young people receive comfort, encouragement and direction from this important institution under direction of our brother, Stanley G. Logan. The finances have not reached the mark nor the support been adequate to the measure of service it is expected to render. More must be done and the pastors must cooperate if our program at this place is maintained. We also urge the pastors to establish contacts between prospective students and the Director.

General Board of Education. We wish to record our approval of the reorganization of the educational interests of our great connection. We pray for it an ever increasing interest and support from all our people. We urge the observance of Children's Day and the taking of a collection for the building up of the Loan Fund of the church.

Nominations. We submit to this conference for their election the following nominations:

College of Puget Sound—Term expiring 1928: E. H. Todd in place of J. M. Canse, resigned. Term expiring 1929: B. F. Brooks, J. T. McQueen, Alfred Lister, Wm L. McCormick, Henry G. Shair, Jas. T. Newbegin, S. S. Sulliger and Horace Whitacre. For Visitors: Charles McCaughey, J. R. Sasnett, P. H. Ashby.

Wesley Foundation—Term expiring 1928: Charles W. McCaughey in place of J. C. Harrison. Term expiring 1929: P. H. Ashby, J. Ralph Magee, A. H. Hooton, Will D. Pratt.

F A. LaVIOLETTE, Chairman.

J. RALPH MAGEE, Secretary.

WESLEY FOUNDATION.

The year just closed has witnessed very great improvement in the equipment of Wesley Foundation for serving the students at the University of Washington. Wesley House was moved to the 42nd Street corner of the property, opposite the campus entrance, enlarged by the addition of other houses and greatly improved. The property upon which Wesley House is now located, four sightly lots, formerly owned by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, has been deeded to the Wesley Foundation.

We now have at the State University a denominational headquarters with which we are prepared to serve not only our own young people, but to influence and inspire other students on the campus. We also have the campus prestige that gives us, just now, the opportunity to exert a most far-reaching influence in the name of Christ and Methodism, upon those who will be in positions of leadership tomorrow. Our sincere regret is, that although our askings are very small in proportion to our opportunity, the support of the work from within this Conference has been and still is so very inadequate that we are unable to operate at anything like our capacity and that students are coming and going without receiving the help they should have from our church organization. During the past three years our receipts from Puget Sound Conference for current expenses have been a little less than half of what our trustees designated as a minimum amount for the budget from this Conference. The total receipts during the past year from Bellingham, Tacoma and Vancouver Districts combined is exactly $900 although at last Conference by vote we endorsed the idea of raising $20,000. More than half the churches of the Conference have never contributed anything although Wesley Foundation came into existence four years ago by the action of this Conference. Have we a right to ask how this lack of support should be construed?

This fall the University expects 6700 students. One in every eight will be a Methodist by membership or preference. In addition to former students returning, 250 Methodist boys and girls will enter as Freshmen this Fall Quarter. The question before us is can Puget Sound Methodism afford to give them, and others, Christian leadership and guidance? We should be helping many students besides those of our constituency. Many without church affiliation really desire spiritual help and guidance.

In the interest of extreme economy we expect to reduce our budget by the elimination of the office of Field Secretary in order that out of every dollar given to Wesley Foundation practically 100 cents can be actually available for Christian work among the students.

Until the cooperative plan initiated at this Conference for financing our institutions actually becomes operative, we are left in a desperate situation unless the pastors and churches take this institution to heart and give real co-operation. As your servant, representing your institution I ask you to adopt the following resolution:

RESOLVED that we, the members of the Puget Sound Conference, to meet this emergency, will endeavor to lead our charges to assist Wesley Foundation in one of three ways:

- 1st—By presenting and raising an amount as one of the benevolences; or
- 2nd—By including Wesley Foundation in our current budget; or
- 3rd—By appointing a special Wesley Foundation Committee within the charge who will assume local responsibility for securing support.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF CHURCH SCHOOLS.

The Executive Secretary made the following summary of the work with which he had been associated during the year.

- 15 Standard Training Schools, offering 51 courses, with an enrollment of 870.
- 12 Local Efficiency Institutes.
- 140 Local Conferences and Rallies, with a combined attendance of about 3,453.

3 Religious surveys, covering a total population of about 27,500. He had preached 70 times, with an approximate attendance of 7,857. He had participated in 61 meetings of a miscellaneous character, where the attendance aggregated 4,236.

The total attendance upon these meetings, not including the Standard Training Schools, had aggregated more than 15,000.

He had participated in three summer institutes, including the Y. M. C. A. Conference at Seabeck teaching a total of five classes with a combined enrollment of 168.

The Treasurer had submitted the following financial report for the year:

Received during the year:

From Collections at Re. Ed. Conf.....	32.68

-----------------------	----------

Bills Payable:

Total .....	$ 109.96
Deficit .....	$ 45.99

*These items contain amounts paid for printing and expenses in connection with the Standard Training Schools and represent the subsidy the Board has made for this work.

We request your careful consideration and endorsement of the following recommendations:

1. We request that the apportionment for the support of our work be the same as last year, i. e., an apportionment to each Sunday School in the Conference of an amount equal to five cents per member enrolled, not including the Cradle Roll and Home Departments. In this connection we strongly urge that the Conference shall authorize the Sunday Schools to remit their rally day collections to us, to be applied upon the foregoing apportionments.

Permit us to stress the importance of observing Rally Day and Rally Week. This occasion can be made a fruitful means for stimulating Sunday School attendance and morale early in the fall, making for a much improved year's work.

2. We recommend that the significant series of Standard Training Schools that have been planned shall be given an important place in our program this year. Each church can well afford to emphasize Christian Education by setting aside one week for the training of the Sunday School workers.

3. The following schools, having qualified, are adjudged "Standard Sunday Schools, 1926": Des Moines; Bethany, Tacoma; Asbury, Tacoma; First Church, Seattle; Garden Street, Bellingham; Mason, Tacoma; Port Angeles, Mount Vernon; Grace, Tacoma; Winlock; Sedro-Woolley; South Bend; Walville; Tracyton; Ferndale.

The Standard Chart for 1927 will be issued early in the year. We recommend that each pastor bring the matter to the attention of his Sunday School Board early, and place before it the challenge involved in the plan.

4. We recommend that all Sunday School reports to the Annual Conference, except financial, shall correspond with the Public School year, or the period from September 1 to May 31. We further recommend that the disciplinary provision, provided for in the Annual Conference Report blanks, shall be followed in the preparation of these reports.

Let us not overlook the importance of making provision for proper equipment for Sunday School work, in our building plans. Mr. Purdy when requested, is glad to help work out floor space requirements, and other data.

6. Our Sunday School records are seldom properly kept. Boys and girls have great Kingdom values. We strongly recommend that this matter be given most careful attention. Mr. Purdy has some helpful suggestions which he will be pleased to pass on to pastors and Sunday School Boards for the asking.

7. We request authority to amend the Constitution of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools so that our official title shall hereafter be "The Conference Board of Church Schools."

8. The development of Week-Day Religious Instruction is one of the most important trends in the field of Christian Education. Many states, including Oregon, already have in operation significant programs of this character. The plan is that, upon written request of the parents, children may be dismissed from attendance upon Public School, for Religious Instruction for periods of from one to three hours per week.

In view of the time limitations placed upon the Sunday School, it is advisable that every wise step shall be taken looking toward week-day religious instruction. This involves legislation permitting release of time from the Public Schools.

We believe that the chief obstacle to this development in Washington is the lack of adequate information. Our legislators, and our citizens generally, do not realize the important contribution that religious instruction must make in producing good citizenship and strong character.

Therefore, we most earnestly request that our pastors and leaders shall inform themselves upon the subject, and that under the leadership of the Conference Board of Church Schools, we join other denominations in a state-wide program of education, looking toward an adequate presentation of the matter to the State Legislature two years hence. To this end, we recommend that from the pulpit, on civic occasions, and in the press, we avail ourselves of every opportunity for informing the public concerning this important matter.

ANDREW WARNER, Chairman.

ROY L. SPRAGUE, Secretary.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

In accord with the instructions of the Trustee Board of the Conference Claimants Commission given shortly after last Annual Conference, your Executive Secretary has used every means at his disposal to publicize the coming CAMPAIGN OF APPRECIATION of those who have finished their active work for this Conference.

Sunday services, morning, evening and often afternoon, have been addressed on this subject. The pastors have kindly opened the pulpits for this presentation. Several others will have to be visited after Conference. The attention during these addresses and the questions very generally asked after the services, have shown that our laity are very interested in this matter.

Beside the Sunday services, the Seattle and Tacoma Preachers Meeting, the various District Meetings, including Group Meeting, have been attended and our plans presented before the brethren in attendance. Thus, both public and private occasions were used to present the claims, the obligations and the needs of our retired brethren and the widows and orphans. No collections or subscriptions were taken by the request of the Board of Trustees. Their thought, as expressed, was better to fully publicize and give information this year.

The office has taken up the good work begun by Dr. Baker and have carefully sought to collect in the amounts subscribed during his tenure of office. There have been several deaths of subscribers. Several others have been providentially prevented from further payments. Yet we have received in a total of $747.67 on these subscriptions. Many of these are Estate Notes, some with and some without interest, and necessarily the principal will not be collectable until sometime in the future.

By the death of a Mr. J. J. Jensen at Aberdeen, we became sole owner of an old fashioned house and lot at Aberdeen, Wash. Dr. Baker had secured the deed for this but it was not in our possession until after the decease of the brother mentioned. That property is now for sale and a buyer is in view. As soon as this Conference, through its corporate Conference Claimants Commission organization authorize the sale at this session, we can close the deal.

Another piece of property consisting of house and lot at Burton, Vashon Island, likewise deeded to us while Dr. Baker was Secretary, has been rented for a small sum and will be continued thus for another year.

Family and constituency lists from all our charges have been requested and quite a large number of the brethren have responded. We are still waiting these lists from several of the pastors, however. Four fold lists of these are already prepared as far as possible, in view of the coming campaign. Subscription cards, master list and all other essentials are in process of preparation and will be ready before the time needed. We have prepared two tracts for distribution. A few hundred of each are off the press and as many more as we need will be ready shortly after the close of the Conference. Publicity matter in the Pacific Christian Advocate for a comprehensive statement that will be needed have also been arranged with Dr. E. L. Mills. Some articles have already appeared; others will come in rotation from now until the Campaign of Appreciation is over.

We close the year in full confidence that if it is the will of God that this be carried on, and it seems to us that it is, success will crown our efforts, "If God is for us, who can be against us."

GEO. F. HOPKINS, Executive Secretary.

Seattle General Hospital

On Front Street, now First Avenue, Seattle, in 1893 the Seattle General Hospital began its service for Seattle and the State in a small building with a capacity of 20 beds. It was later moved to a building near the present Deaconess Training School and since 1899 has been at its present location. It was operated under the Seattle Deaconess Home Association from 1899 until July 1924, when it was transferred to a Board of Trustees organized by the Puget Sound Conference.

During the 26 years of operation since 1899 nearly 80,000 patients have been served by the hospital with no discrimination as to native or foreign, rich or poor, resident or non-resident, white or black—all have been served alike. Owing to lack of space, for a number of years the demand for service has exceeded the Hospital's ability to serve.

The first full year under the new plan of having a business manager has proved the wisdom of this step. From 1923 till 1925 the Hospital ran behind financially. Then in 1925 the so-called "campaign" left an additional indebtedness of $20,500. But in spite of all this the hospital is now on a paying basis and as the efficient manager, J. W. Efaw says, "We are slowly working out from under the indebtedness."

The following from the manager's report will show the situation:

Total assets, building, site, furniture, instruments, etc.....	$235,322.53
Total liabilities, 1st and 2nd mortgages, bills payable, etc...	181,262.69

Net worth, June 1, 1926 .....	$ 54,059.53
Net worth, Jan. 1, 1926 .....	49,580.69

Net gain .....	$ 4,479.25
----------------	-------------

Since June 1, the net worth has increased about $2,000 making the net gain some $6,479.

The following from the report will show the hospital's contribution to the community's welfare:

September 1st, 1925 to September 1st, 1926—

Number of patients .....	3,519
Births .....	461
Deaths .....	132
Daily Average .....	109.1
Daily Average (exclusive of nursery).....	96.2
Operative cases .....	1,758
Bed capacity .....	104

PUGET SOUND CONFERENCE

Earnings .....	$235,737.95
Cost of operations .....	212,625.58
Cash income .....	227,488.35
Earnings surplus over operating .....	23,112.37
Income surplus over operating .....	14,862.77
Income for free bed work .....	1,081.35
Free bed work done .....	967.05
Free work done on part pay accounts .....	10,950.60
Losses from bad accounts .....	7,072.15
Total free, part free and losses .....	18,989.80

The Nurse Training School in connection with the Hospital has graduated over 400 nurses and the school under the fine direction of the Hospital Superintendent, Miss Evelyn Hall, is second to no such school in the land.

Again we wish to express our appreciation for the devoted services of the Superintendent, Miss Evelyn Hall, who for 26 years has been lifting the ideals of hospital work in Seattle and the Northwest to the highest levels. Also we commend the wise and efficient management of Mr. J. W. Efaw.

The names of the Trustees confirmed by the Conference are found under II-a of Conference Boards and Commissions.

Everett Deaconess Children Home—Two years ago the Deaconess Children Home of Everett, valued at $25,000, was deeded to our General Deaconess Board, and has operated under said board up till now. The Corresponding Secretary for Hospitals, Homes and Deaconess Work, Dr. N. E. Davis, now recommends that the Home be turned over to the Puget Sound Conference. The Board of Trustees of the Home join in asking the Conference to accept the property. Your Board of Hospitals and Homes share Dr. Davis' views, and recommends that there be formed a corporation which shall operate and hold this Deaconess Children's Home in trust for the Conference.

The Trustees shall be elected as said corporation shall designate from year to year. For your election we submit the following as a committee to create the proposed corporation: R. J. Reid, W. H. Leech, E. P. McFall, Mrs. John Beatty and Wm. Park

We note with regret that the Superintendent, Miss Effie Dell Johnson, who has served so faithfully and efficiently for the past few years is now compelled to leave on account of ill health. On the other hand, we are delighted that the home is to be under the capable superintendency of Miss Lucille Sprengle, former housemother in the home.

The following are the Trustees of the Deaconess Children Home to be confirmed by the Conference:

For the three-year term—Rev. R. J. Reid, G. H. Wilson, Mrs. E. P. McFall, Mrs. B. H. Vollans, Mrs. Clyde Walton, Mrs. F. T. Hardwick, Mrs. Tob McDonald

For the two-year term—Mrs. J. F. Beatty, Mrs. R. P. Christenson, Mrs. H. R. Willis, Mrs. Meta Henderson, Mrs. C. W. Miley, Mrs. O. A. Rumbaugh, Mr. Harry Landsdown.

For the one-year term—Mr. J. A. Myers, Mrs. L. H. Regua, Mrs. Clarence Parker, Mrs. Tom Robinson, Mrs. S. A. Bostwick, Mrs. F. R. French, Mrs. O. W. Mintzer.

We recommend that every church in the Conference set aside one service early in the Autumn when an appeal will be made, and an offering be taken, of fruit, vegetables, canned fruit and other such things as our hospital and homes can use.

CHAS. A. BOWEN, Chairmen,
O. A. QUALL, Secretary.

CONFERENCE STEWARDS

In view of the increasing demands upon the funds of this board and the difficulty of making adjustments adequate to all needs and claims presented; it is the sense of this Board that wherever the annuitants are in a position financially to relinquish their claims they be requested to do so.

Be It Resolved Therefore: That any annuitant who is employed and in receipt of a salary equivalent to or more than the average salary of this Conference namely $1500.00 that he be urged to relinquish his claim to said annuity.

Be It Also Resolved: That the basis for apportionment for the ensuing year be twelve and one-half per cent ( $12\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) of preacher's salary including house rent and that no charge pay less than 75c per member and none more than \$1.75 per member.

Be It Also Resolved: That Mrs. Wilnot Whitfield be allowed a grant from the Necessitous Fund as per the action of last year, recorded on page 113 of last year's minutes.

Be It Further Resolved: That whenever changes are made in the boundaries of charges, the superintendents and pastors involved shall make amicable readjustment which shall not be less in total than the total apportioned by the board, and shall report same to the Secretary of this Board for his approval before giving out the amounts involved to the various Quarterly Conferences.

WM. H. LEECH, Chairman.

H. W. MICHENER, Secretary.

AUDITING COMMITTEE

THIS CERTIFIES that the accounts and records of the Conference Treasurer have been checked by an expert accountant and found to be correct, and we have accepted her report. We have examined also the accounts and records of the Conference Secretary, the Treasurer of the Conference Board of Trustees, the Treasurer of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools and the accounts of the expenditures of Missionary moneys by District Superintendents Frame, Wilson, Warner and McQueen and have found them correct.

We respectfully recommend that next year's Nominating Committee name next year's Auditing Committee from the Tacoma District, that they may have opportunity to audit the accounts of the Treasurer before the next session of Conference.

A. W. BROWN.

F. R. GILLETT.

TACOMA GOODWILL INDUSTRIES.

This work under the superintendency of Rev. H. W. Michener has shown great growth. During the fiscal year of 1925, $16,220.43 was paid in wages to 545 different people, 17 of whom only worked more than nine months—52 are on the payroll at the present time.

Seven more lots, making 9 altogether, have just been purchased on which it is expected to erect a 3-story concrete building. There is also a start on an endowment fund.

The morning chapel services are real heart-searching gospel meetings. Two deaconesses are working with the Goodwill. It is expected that soon another minister with training in this line of work will assist. Besides these there is a Baptist minister, a Congregational minister and a Dunkard minister connected with the work. A very fine Christian spirit pervades the whole institution. The institution has the goodwill of the city.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION

Change in Membership.—We request that the name of Harlan Stone be substituted for that of Eileen French as a member of this commission.

We urge that every member of this Annual Conference secure a membership in the Methodist Federation for Social Service. This does not involve necessarily, an endorsement of the entire program but it will benefit the organization in the carrying on of its work and it will result in bringing the literature covering its field of activity into the hands of our ministers.

There are three issues which will come before the Legislature of this State during the coming session, namely, the Child Labor Amendment, the Old Age Pension Bill which was vetoed at the last session by Governor Hartley after it had received a substantial vote in both the House and Senate, and the Clayton Bill, a measure presented by the American Federation of Labor, passed by Congress and twice upheld on the basis of its constitutionality by the United States Supreme Court, the major consideration of which is that Labor is not a Commodity.

Since these measures are so vitally related to the welfare of the Home and the Spiritual as well as the Physical Welfare of the people, we believe that they should receive the support of the State Legislature and we so request.

J. HERBERT GEOGHEGAN, President.

PAUL F. GREEN, Secretary.

TEMPERANCE, PROHIBITION AND PUBLIC MORALS

We are pleased to have had with us Dr. Clarence True Wilson, Secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, and wish to commend him for the fine work his Board has done. We are also glad for the note of optimism so apparent throughout his address to us.

We trust the time may soon come when the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment may be taken out of the hands of the Treasury Department and placed where its enforcement may be more readily accomplished.

Meanwhile we call upon all our pastors to preach on temperance at frequent intervals, this year particularly, to urge their people to register and vote, to support only those candidates who are avowedly dry, and to give their active moral support and cooperation to those officers when elected.

We deplore the widespread and growing use of narcotics and urge that no effort be spared to safeguard our youth against the ravages of this insidious form of destruction. To this end we earnestly appeal to the Superintendents of our Sunday School Temperance Societies to give special attention to the spread of temperance information among our children and youth, not overlooking the valuable printed information provided by our Board of Sunday Schools.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Puget Sound Conference of the Methodist Church in regular session assembled, hereby commend the Anti-Saloon League of Washington for its achievements the past year, and pledge our full cooperation in carrying out its program in this state.

W. T. RANDOLPH,

M. L. SANDERS,

PUBLICATIONS

We wish to recommend our Advocate family, with special emphasis on our own Pacific Christian Advocate, which is being so ably edited. We urge that its circulation be pushed throughout this Conference until it has reached at least the ten per cent goal.

We rejoice in the wonderful success that has attended our excellent Sunday School literature and note with gratitude the increasing quantities being used by not only our own schools, but that other denominations are also using the same materials to supply their schools. Nevertheless, we would urge our editors to listen thoughtfully to the earnest questions and words of caution coming from men and women concerning the use of such expressions which disturb the spiritual sensibilities of some of our people, that we urge the editors to bring every comment into accord with a constructive and positive interpretation of the Bible.

We commend our Book Concern for their splendid publications, and urge our people to buy, as far as possible, their books and supplies through them.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolutions presented by W. T. Randolph:

WHEREAS, It is possible to inaugurate a plan that will enable our great church to reach a circulation of the Advocates that will insure periodicals as attractive and profitable as any magazine in the country. The plan is as follows: With each pledge made for the support of the local church a subscription to the Advocate is included; it being understood that only one subscription is intended for each home. These subscriptions to be paid quarterly by the church treasurer direct to the Book Concern. It being further understood that non-payment of pledges will automatically terminate the subscription to the paper. Be it therefore

RESOLVED, That, we, the members of the Puget Sound Conference assembled at Bellingham, Washington, September 20th, 1926, do hereby adopt the aforementioned plan as proposed by W. T. Randolph, Director of the Seattle Methodist Parish, wherein this idea is now in use, namely, of placing, in concurrence with the subscriber, a subscription to the Pacific Christian Advocate with each pledge made for the support of the local budget.

Unanimously adopted and heartily endorsed by the presiding officer, Bishop A. W. Leonard.

F. L. BALDWIN, Chairman.

W. T. BEATTY, Secretary.

COURSES OF STUDY

WHEREAS, the Rev. Dr. Allan McRossie, Secretary of the General Conference Commission on Courses of Study has given material assistance to the several boards of examiners of the Portland Area in carrying on the Summer School for undergraduates held at Salem, Oregon, in June, 1926, be it

RESOLVED, That we express our hearty thanks for such generous aid and request that it be continued the coming year.

RESOLVED, further, that we request the General Board through its Secretary to add to the course of study some book which will give an adequate outlook on the present and future possible international relations of the nations of the earth and America's responsibility in this field.

E. M. HILL.

E. H. TODD.

WASHINGTON CHILDRENS' HOME SOCIETY

We commend the splendid work of the Washington Childrens' Home Society. A humane, Christianlike organization who care for the neglected, abandoned, abused and dependent children of the state. Its standards are high, its Christian purpose in the selection of Christian homes for the placement of children, we approve and welcome their workers to our pulpits and would especially recommend that all Union Thanksgiving offerings be taken for this altruistic work.

OCEAN PARK INSTITUTE

Your commission appointed at the last session of this Conference submit the following report:

Your commission organized with F. A. LaViolette, chairman, J. C. Armstrong, vice-president; R. B. Parcel, secretary and A. S. Cory, treasurer. Rev. J. T. McQueen and Ernest Rhodes were elected to fill vacancies caused by resignation.

On July 12th to 18th an Institute was held at Ocean Park, Wash., with Rev. J. T. McQueen as Dean and the following members of the faculty: J. D. McCormick, F. A. LaViolette, E. H. Todd, J. Edgar Purdy, Hugh B. Fouke, C. I. Andrews, R. B. Parcel, J. H. Geoghegan, S. S. Sulliger, G. W. Frame and Mrs. Roy B. Parcel.

The attendance reached 117 of registered students. All expenses were paid. A wonderful spirit of co-operation and evangelism prevailed during the entire gathering. Thirty-two certificates were granted. We most heartily recommend that this Institute be continued.

We recommend the continued appointment of this commission and nominate the following persons:

COMMISSION ON COOPERATING INSTITUTIONS

Your special committee on coordination of the financial appeal of the Conference institutions begs leave to suggest the following action:

1. That a commission be chosen to be known as the Commission on Cooperating Institutions. This commission shall be composed of one layman and one minister from each district, and a chairman at large to be appointed by the cabinet in cabinet session; also two representatives from each of the cooperating institutions chosen by their respective boards. The District Superintendents to be ex-officio members.

2. That power be given to this commission to employ an executive secretary for the commission when a sufficient number of co-operative boards have voted to participate, and prorate the expense.

3. That the commission be given authority to determine for this year whether it be wise to present a simultaneous campaign or individual institute action, expenses to be prorated to the institutions.

4. That the commission present to the next Annual Conference recommendations for better coordination of all the Methodist institutions seeking funds from our Churches.

5. That the members of the Commission appointed by the Bishop and District Superintendents act as the budget committee to review the askings of the institutions and present their findings and recommendations to the Conference for action.

5. That for this year the following askings be approved:

SPECIAL RESOLUTION

We, the members of Garden Street Methodist Episcopal Church, feel that we have been greatly honored in the opportunity to serve as hosts to the Puget Sound Annual Conference; we have had the privilege of forming new acquaintances and renewing old friendships with the ministers and we have been delighted with their friendliness and expressions of appreciation of such hospitality as we are able to offer.

We have been greatly edified and enriched by the excellent addresses on the various phases of the work of the church.

We have enjoyed the Conference sessions and the wonderfully pleasing personality of Bishop Leonard as he presided.

We have had our hearts thrilled by the manifestation of the power of God both at home and in foreign fields.

As a result of all this, we look to the future with renewed hope, inspiration and energy for the development and vitalization of the work of the church in this community.

For all this—

IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED by the Official Board of Garden Street Methodist Church that we express to Bishop Leonard, his Cabinet and the members of the Puget Sound Conference, our deep and sincere gratitude.

We invite the Conference to an early return, and we wish for every member the most successful year of his ministerial career thus far and pray that God's richest blessing may be with you all.

WILL D. PRATT.

WILLIAM H. SELLECK

Brother Selleck began his ministry in the Northwest Iowa Conference, being admitted on trial and appointed a missionary to South Dakota and stationed at Milbank. This in 1883. When the Dakota Conference was organized in 1885, he became a charter member and served pastorates in Pierre and Aberdeen, the latter being one of unusual success. He was transferred to the Columbia River Conference in 1890 serving first as assistant pastor in First Church, Spokane, then as pastor at Sprague, Wallace, Idaho, and Pendleton, Oregon. In 1897 he was transferred to the Puget Sound Conference and stationed at Grace Church, Seattle. From there he went to Alaska, as Superintendent of Missions and after this service he transferred to the Oregon Conference serving a pastorate at Sunnyside, Portland, then a pastorate for five years of unusual success at the capital, First Church, Salem. From here he was transferred to the Columbia River and stationed at Yakima in 1910, then at The Dalles in 1913. He was appointed Conference Evangelist and served thus for one year, when he was again transferred to this Conference and appointed to Bethany, Tacoma. Again feeling the call to evangelistic work he was appointed to be Conference Evangelist in 1917. Taking the supernumerary relation in 1920 he was placed on the retired list in 1924. His was a ministry of fervid evangelism. He was a great student of the Word and a very faithful preacher of the truth. In prayer he was a man of unusual eloquence and power and had the rare faculty of lifting his congregation in prayer before the throne of blessing. Elijah like in his ministry he had little patience with the varied "isms" of the day. He was a devoted lover of his church. Methodism to him was a very precious agency for spreading scriptural holiness throughout the land. In his loyalties he was ever unimpeachable. As a preacher of the Word he had the unusual faculty of clothing the commonplace with attractive beauty and his hearers were always mightily attracted to Christ by his preaching. In his fellowship with his brethren in the Conference he faithfully followed the mandate of the Word by "in honor preferring others." He was ever at his best when the altars were filled with seekers for pardon. Outstanding pastorates like Aberdeen, S. D., Grace Church Seattle, Salem, Ore., will testify with many others to the efficient warfare of this "good soldier" of Jesus Christ.

He went home to be with God from his home in San Diego, California.

F. A. LAVIOLETTE.

MRS. IDA O. WHITFIELD

Mrs. Ida O. Whitfield, widow of Rev. A. J. Whitfield, for years a member of this Conference, passed to her reward January 12th, 1926, aged 67 years, five months and one day.

She was married to Brother Whitfield at Ferndale, Washington, September 22, 1898, and shared with him pastorates at Ferndale, South Park (Seattle), Blaine, Kent, Haven Church (Seattle). The two years following were spent in California, where with her husband she experienced the horrors of the earthquake that devastated San Francisco and adjacent territory. The earthquake experience sent them back to Puget Sound and to a successful pastorate at Lynden, from which place they entered the retired relation and made their home, first at North Bellingham, on a small farm, then, the work of the farm proving too hard for them, they bought a home at Geneva, on Lake Whatcom, where they spent their last days in peace and comfort.

Sister Whitfield was a good wife and mother, a faithful Christian, and a loyal friend. She is now reunited to her husband, who preceded her by ten years.

Her earthly remains lie by his side in beautiful Bay View cemetery, overlooking the City of Bellingham.

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

George W. Frame, Superintendent

It is with no ordinary feeling of gratitude and concern that I come to you with my sixth and final report of the labors of the loyal pastors and laymen of the Bellingham District; grateful for the abounding goodness of our Heavenly Father in preserving the lives and health of pastors and families; and concern, not so much as to the figures of the statistical reports, but whether we have been faithful stewards of the manifold grace of God.

"For when the one Great Scorer comes
To write against your name,
We writes not that you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

The year, like its predecessors, has been more or less eventful, and filled with labor and rewards, trial and recompense.

The district divides itself naturally into three general divisions or groups of charges—those on the Olympic Peninsula, comprising Port Townsend, Port Angeles, Sequim and Chimacum; the Island group, with charges at Oak Harbor, Coupeville, Langley and Lopez, and the Mainland group in Snohomish, Skagit and Whatcom counties. This latter group of charges are practically all situated in the four great river valleys, which run from the Cascade mountains to the sea, comprising the great farm belt north of King county. On the Snohomish river we have Sultan and Goldbar, Monroe, Snohomish and Everett. On the Stillaguamish we have Darrington, Oso, Arlington and Stanwood. On the Skagit river are situated Hamilton, Lyman, Sedro-Woolley, Burlington and Mount Vernon; while in the valley of the Nooksack are Nooksack, Lynden and Ferndale.

Here is a vast territory of untold material resources. The problem of the church is to prevent the people from making this wealth their goal, and to lead them to transmute it by proper use into eternal spiritual values.

We have been sorely pressed during the year to provide pastors for some of these places. Coupeville, left to be supplied at the last Conference, has been served very acceptably by O. W. Mintzer, a former member of this Conference. Sultan and Langley have had irregular service, as we could obtain supplies.

While it is hazardous to mention the work of any one man of the splendid group on the Bellingham District without naming every other man in particular, I shall, as in other years, not attempt to characterize the work of each in detail.

While no new churches or parsonages have been erected on the Bellingham District this year, many substantial improvements of church property have been made, the paying of indebtedness on buildings recently completed is going forward, and over $60,000 in good subscriptions has been made for new church buildings at Port Angeles, Sequim and Arlington. Port Angeles, one of the most promising charges on the district, is moving steadily forward under the guiding hand of the pastor, Brother Erle Howell. Thirty-six thousand dollars, on their proposed $50,000 dollar church, has been subscribed, and but for the delay in financing the project the building would be in process of erection at this time. Sequim, greatly in need of a new building, has accomplished under the leadership of the pastor, J. M. Amundson, what seemed almost impossible, in securing subscriptions to the amount of $17,000 on a plant to cost $20,000. They hope to begin work on this early in the spring. The church at Arlington is warming up. At the close of one of Brother Riesner's burning sermons, a few months ago, the building was discovered on fire. One cannot accuse this pastor of preaching without heat—though we have not learned the subject of his sermon that morning. At any rate the building was greatly damaged and the judgment of the church official and many of the business men of the town was that this is the time to build anew instead of repairing the old building. They now have over $8,000 subscribed on a new $15,000 fireproof structure, which they expect to begin at an early date.

Eureka has added two rooms to their parsonage at an expense of $500, and now have an adequate and comfortable home for the pastor. Hamilton and Snohomish have completely renovated their church properties—inside and out—at a cost of $500 each. Everett, Mount Vernon, Nooksack and Sedro-Woolley have improved their property to the amount of $300 each, and many other churches, which I will not take time to mention here, have beautified and improved their buildings in amounts ranging from $50 to $250 each. All properties are insured, and most of them are kept in respectable condition. The debt on church property of the district last year was $27,755. I have not the figures for this year, but it will be reduced somewhat.

In sermon and quarterly conference alike we have emphasized the importance of centering our Christian efforts around the young life of the church. The work of the Epworth League and the church schools has been stressed continuously. Early in the year three Standard Teacher Training Schools were conducted, at Bellingham, Everett and Mount Vernon, with excellent results. These were directed by our efficient Director of Education, J. Edgar Purdy, who also rendered much other valuable service with the young people of the district. At least five Vacation Bible Schools were conducted this year which were both popular and profitable. The school at Port Angeles is perhaps making the best progress of any on the district. Brother Howell is doing an outstanding piece of work here.

A most excellent District Epworth League convention was held in Snohomish in June, a mid-winter meeting in December and two county sub-district meetings in Skagit and Whatcom counties. A number of Epworthians attended the Redondo Institute, and were pleased with their experience. They are now canvassing the question of an institute in the Bellingham District. If the Ferndale Camp could be obtained for this purpose it would make a desirable place. The number of Leagues and the membership remain about the same as last year.

Our evangelistic program was greatly interfered with by the endowment campaign for the retired preachers. For five weeks, through the very best portion of the year for evangelism, the pastors and superintendent gave themselves almost wholly to this worthy enterprise. Subscriptions to the amount of $43,000 were secured, and, all things considered, the district led the conference. At the close of the campaign several of the churches attempted to hold special revival services, but they did not prove fruitful in membership. We fear there was a failure to unite personal evangelism with the special evangelistic service. This happy combination of public meetings with personal work, impelled by the spirit, is the method for which the Kingdom waits.

Monroe, Nooksack, Lynden, Garden Street, Darrington, Oak Harbor, Port Townsend, Snohomish, Stanwood and Wiser Lake held profitable meetings; Garden Street and Monroe being most successful in recruiting members. Dr. MacCaughey was his own evangelist in a two weeks' campaign of special Pre-Easter services. He proved himself an efficient evangelist, and the people gave him a good hearing. The results in church membership of the whole pre-Easter campaign was about 140. One hundred fifty-three have been added to the church rolls this year. The Sunday congregations are the largest in the history of the church and the virile preaching of Dr. MacCaughey is a large factor in drawing them. A unanimous request is made for his return for another year.

Monroe, largely as a result of special meetings by Rev. Wayne Phelps, evangelist, received nearly 40 members.

First Church, Everett, without special meetings, has had many additions to its membership, and Dr. Reid in closing his sixth year of a most efficient pastorate, is as much beloved by the church and congregation as he has ever been.

The membership of Grace Church, Everett, has had a substantial increase and Richard Decker, the popular pastor and thoughtful, capable preacher, deserves great credit for his faithful service in a difficult field. He is sowing seed that will bring a rich harvest.

Despite all our efforts in evangelism, if pre-Conference reports means anything, the membership of the district will not be increased this year, for the reason that many of the pastors felt that this "was the set time in Zion" to use the pruning hook, to perform a surgical operation, run a lawn mower through the record or have a house cleaning—whichever figure you wish to use, for it seems some used all of them.

Garden Street and First Church, Everett, are both "cleaning house" this year, with a decrease in membership from last year of 169 at Garden Street, and 106 at Everett. Other small churches are cutting their membership nearly one-third. If this is performed strictly according to the Discipline we have no objections. It may be a precursor of a healthy growth, but it should be uniform throughout the Conference. One thing is certain; church membership is becoming entirely too cheap these days.

World Service contributions are still on the toboggan. Last year the Bellingham District had the distinction of starting the curve upward to the amount of $800 over the previous year, but we fear we have "fallen from grace." The first six months we surpassed the giving of last year. Then came the time for the first payment on the Conference Claimants' Endowment, and the decrease began. "Goals" and "slumps" mean nothing to one who is wanting in the missionary spirit, and this can never be created by external facts or pictures of the world's needs. It comes only from an actual fellowship with Christ in spirit and life.

The women of the District, like charity, never fail. The Ladies' Aids have raised and dispensed over $16,000. Every church subscription they make is paid long before it is due. No wonder the old bachelor Paul exclaimed: "Help those good women who labored with me in the Gospel!"

The ten Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies and the nine Woman's Home Missionary Societies of the District are the missionary educators of the church, and are an essential factor in keeping the missionary spirit alive. They dispense thousands of dollars every year to the under-privileged women of our own and other lands.

Missionary work among the Indians of the District continues to prosper under the superintendency of B. V. Bradshaw and his capable wife. The Board of Home Missions now has the Indian work of the District entirely under its supervision. The District was highly honored by the presence for two days of the new secretary of the Board of Home Missions, Dr. Kohlstedt. By the kindness of Dr. Warner—who furnished the Dodge car—he was driven over the district viewing the Indian work and the needy mission fields. The route led us through Edmonds-on-the-Sound, Arlington, Mt. Vernon, Anacortes, Coupeville, Port Townsend, Sequim, Port Angeles and Lake Crescent and the return by the way of Hood's canal and Olympia. This is the first time a General Secretary has ever deigned to look over the promising fields of the Bellingham District. The Doctor will never forget the size and the outstanding opportunities of this vast territory. He was amazed and we were pleased.

The Deaconess Children's Home in Everett has had a trying year, but the Lord has proved "a refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." In October an epidemic of diphtheria, sprinkled with mumps and influenza, broke out and continued until the following February. By good nursing only one death occurred, the first in eight years. Then came the fire in April and damaged the building, but the insurance was their good angel here. Miss Bertha Enley came as the new superintendent last October, and has proven herself a very capable leader. She has just been called to the East on account of her father's death.

An exceptionally helpful District Conference met at Burlington May 31-June 1 which was presided over by the Bishop, who had just returned from the Bishops' meeting, and gave us information and inspiration as to the Evangelistic program which is to have the right of way during the year to come. His sermon at the evening session was greatly appreciated by all. Dr. Mills was also on the program and gave us a great address on "The Minister As World Citizen," and Rev. J. Edgar Prudy addressed us most helpfully on "Our Young People." Some excellent papers and addresses, also, were given by our own District pastors.

In passing the responsibilities and privileges of the office to another standard bearer, we are glad to note some growth and advancement in the District during the past six years. The figures I shall use do not include the present year:

There has been an advance in pastoral support of over $5,000, and in total ministerial support the sum of $7,500. If my brother pastors do not put the scalpel too deep into the records this year there will be a gain of about 1,000 in church membership—about 20 per cent—and 450 increase in Sunday School pupils.

Conference Benevolences have increased from $7,600 to $12,000. Support for the retired veterans from $3,484, to $5,534. Five new churches have been erected at a cost of $65,000, with good subscriptions of over $60,000 for new churches, while the present indebtedness is only $1,600 more than it was six years ago.

Two new parsonages have been built, and one purchased, at a total cost of $10,000, making a total increase in property values for the five years of $80,000. If these figures seem small to you who live in the great cities, remember, that of the 34 pastors of the district there are twelve who receive as salary $1,200 or less, including missionary money; and ten others whose salaries do not exceed $1,500 each.

The Pacific Christian Advocate was never in better favor on the District, and if pastors will call the attention of their members to some of the fine articles and editorials in the paper, subscription lists can be much increased.

And now a word in closing as to the primary need of the rural church. We have had much of surveys and programs and methods—and they are essential—but the great need for the country-side parish—and perhaps the city also—is vital preaching. Not great, not scholastic preaching, but preaching that will meet the issues, and not avoid them, of life and death. The people are much confused over the questions of sin and redemption. They are lost in their thinking, their feeling, their willing. Pageants, programs and pictures cannot bring them back. They must hear the voice of a prophet of God. Nothing can save them from the materialism of the day but the voice of the true prophet of God. They must see Jesus. Like Peter, they must know Him as the redeeming Son of God; not revealed to them by flesh and blood, but the supernatural revelation of God himself.

Bishop, I am exceedingly glad for the privilege I have had of walking in the paths on the District trod by the old heroes—LeSourd, Whitfield, Joslyn, Harrington and some who are living still, whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose. I desire, also, to record my appreciation of the men with whom I have been permitted to labor, and to express my gratitude for their friendships and that of their families, and for the hospitality of their homes. I am a better man because of the six years I have been with these self-sacrificing men and their families, laymen and pastors alike, on the Bellingham District. They have been patient and courteous and kind, and I say now to my successor that to be treated as they have treated me will make you rejoice forever.

SEATTLE DISTRICT

Byron H. Wilson, Superintendent

We give you this report as a by-product of the churches and ministers of our District. Their real work is computed only in God's great counting house.

One year ago the Bishop called the names of those who were to go. By Faith they obeyed, not knowing of the future. They looked for friends and churches to welcome them and were not disappointed.

A. G. Bennett and Bremerton Church have enjoyed the fifth fruitful year together. Unique, many-sided and strategic is our work there. They have reduced the debt, increased the membership, given a helping hand to the sailor lads from everywhere and built the Kingdom in such a way as to make their future secure.

The clear-toned J. H. Beall has given his first year to Bothell. It has been a good start on a promising pastorate. This charge has a complex problem. It's one foot is in the city and the other in the country. They expect soon to proceed with their new church building.

Bryn Mawr, one of Lake Washington's view residential centers, so small and yet so important. To nurture it a task and to neglect it a crime. It has given open-handed support to the causes of the Church, and has added to its property. There is a faithful little band of workers. J. Homer Magee was its student pastor this year. The people regret to lose him as he goes to Boston School of Theology.

Colby, a little beach community across the Sound, in the woods. Only our Church serves them. This year they finished paying for an acre plot of ground they have added for future development. J. H. Bird has given them pastoral oversight.

Our honored, trusted and beloved W. H. Leech has cared for our potential Des Moines. The great highways, an expanding city and the cooling waters of the Sound make this one of our most important fields to hold and develop.

Duvall is in its transition from a mill town to a country village. Its apportionments are all met. Earl McAbee has served them for two years. We give thanks for the recovery of Mrs. McAbee from a severe hospital experience.

Fall City has the same traditions and relation to the work as Duvall. Our Church alone is responsible for its religious activities. B. W. Rinehart is closing his fourth and best year. The apportionments have been well cared for, the church thoroughly repaired and rejuvenated during the year.

Kennydale is another Lake Washington view village. We have the only Church located there, small but important. It has enjoyed the best year of its history under A. W. Luce, a retired member of the Columbia River Conference.

Three years of real progress and constructive work characterizes the ministry of Harry E. Gardner at Kent. They have acquired property, repaired the Church, increased their giving, gained in membership, purchased a new pipe organ and are planning a new social hall.

Port Orchard, the staid old seaport county seat, will some day fail to recognize itself. Beautiful for situation and easy of access by two ferry systems, W. M. Richards has won the respect of all as supply pastor for the last two years.

Ralph Brown began an auspicious pastorate at Redmond, but was released in the spring to take a charge and attend Drew Theological Seminary. W. H. Baker supplied most of the time until Conference. The old Church has been relocated, a new addition is being built at an approximate cost of $12,000. They report 27 net gain in membership and all claims met in full.

October 2nd Renton will celebrate the raising of its $2,800 mortgage. The parsonage has been renovated and preparations are being made to repair the Church building. G. R. Abbott builds with a steady hand. Soon Renton will be one of our strongest churches.

Riverton is at the south gate of the city. Its location is ideal. It is the only church serving a good community. Patience and care will soon establish a strong church in this growing section. E. L. Wolff has supplied for his second year.

Ronald is near the north gate on the great military highway boulevard. Its location is ideal. It has a loyal people. A. W. Brown has had a good first year as pastor. Here also our church is responsible for the whole community. We have an adequate new church and are well entrenched for the future.

For the first time in its history Silverdale has awakened and proposed a forward movement. A. Sage has been its pastor, with Mrs. Sage, a local preacher, as a real co-worker. W. C. Sage is a retired member of the Montana Conference.

Snoqualmie is thoroughly appreciating the pastorate of T. A. Graham and the comforts of their new church completed and dedicated this year. All items of support are in full and the pastor's salary advanced $200.

Bethel is one of our inside suburban group of churches. It has a limited field, but a loyal group of workers. They have enjoyed the pastorate of A. H. Lathrop during the year. They report most claims in full, with an increase in membership.

Crown Hill, located in a vigorously growing section, faces cheerfully its problems incident to expansion and preparation for the future.

F. R. Gillett has cheered the people with his fruitful and painstaking administration. Their reports are encouraging.

Our pastor-host, E. M. Hill, has given his third year of untiring and enthusiastic service to this great Green Lake section. Sacrificial service has been rendered by this loyal people in liquidating a $12,000 debt. They have also repaired and beautified the church. They are laying comprehensive plans for advance during the new year.

Wm. C. Bowman has served his third year at Highland Park. He expects to leave soon after Conference to take up his studies at Garrett Biblical Institute. It is an unusual feat for a student pastor to build a new church and win at the same time his Phi Beta Kappa key in a great State University. Highland Park is strategically located and furnishes all the religious activities for the large new residential section.

Rainier Beach is within the city and is one of Lake Washington's view residential sections. Large development activities are taking place. Our church is well located and promises to be a great church in the future. This has been a good year. There is a reported increase in membership and World Service. E. W. Erickson is the faithful pastor.

Saint Paul is a small church but stands ready to give church accommodations to this section that is in the line of the northward movement of the city. R. A. Partee has served the congregation well as student pastor for three years. He is leaving this month for Garrett to complete his scholastic preparation.

Tibbitts Memorial advanced its salary $400 this year. All claims have been met in full. The church has been repaired to the amount of $1,000. We are confidently expecting to see one of the great churches of the Northwest in this potential field in the near future. C. C. Curry is the pastor.

Woodland Park is another well located growing church in a developing residential section. It has paid some of its old debt, added $2,000 in improvement, increased its membership and served its community in a very efficient way. This church is alive with activity. F. L. Pedersen is the alert pastor.

Grace Church is teeming with new life. The swan song that was once popular has given place to Saint Gertrude. Their salary has been raised $200. Their claims well cared for, with gain in World Service and membership. At a pre-Conference community dinner they had 260 present. Eight thousand dollars was subscribed as initial to a new church enterprise. E. R. Attebery is the pastor.

Queen Anne cheerfully and optimistically follows the leadership of James E. Milligan as pastor. They have thoroughly overhauled their church and greatly enlarged its capacity, spending in all $12,600. The membership has increased. Most of the financial claims are met in full. This church ministers to a great residential section and to a faithful people.

University Church, now to be known as University Temple, has completed the first unit of its new building. This is located on a beautiful tract of ground purchased by the Centenary funds of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, contiguous to the University campus. The new temple is a rich design of art and beauty. The pastor and people are to be highly congratulated. The temple will take its place as one of the mecca spots of our great city to all searchers for beauty of architecture. It should mean much to the Protestant people to have the way piloted in this great city for real temples of worship. The church has had a good gain in membership and has met all of its obligations to other causes. We all give thanks for the recovery of both Dr. and Mrs. Crowther from their serious illness during the year.

Trinity Church has made progress during the year in every way. They report a good increase in membership and most claims in full. They have sold the three church buildings formerly occupied by the congregations before the union. They have paid for their beautiful location and have approximately $70,000 in sight to begin the new church. J. W. Caughlin moves with resolute precision, followed by a faithful congregation. Some day this great growing section will be proud of one of Methodism's greatest churches.

First Church is our only real downtown church. It is one of Methodism's strongest and best. Their forward movement has been a great success. A growing sentiment prevails for the building of a new educational plant. The membership has increased and all departments of the church have prospered. The pastor, J. Ralph Magee, has served his sixth year and is greatly beloved by his people and the city.

We now enter a group of churches that can be designated as old residential or semi-downtown. Here has always been the city problem and church tragedy. The old members begin to move out to the new sections, which leaves remaining members ill at ease and fearful. The Church fails to assimilate the newcomers who do not feel at home and assume no obligation for the church. A financial problem arises with it all. The church buildings grow old; the preachers fight shy of these centers. The Home Board cannot reinforce them, and soon they are deserted, with their thousands of folks, just those the church should serve.

Asbury, rich in tradition and faith, is yet a great church, but the battle is on, the problem must be solved. They have done the heroic this year. J. M. Adams has done much of the kind of work that will help to solve the problem.

Haven, now North Broadway, is rather an exaggerated example of the above description. This year death and fatal illness have claimed its toll from among those who have been its strong financial support. Ray R. Martin has labored night and day. A heroic work has been done as the reports will show, but the condition remains to puzzle us for solution.

Madison, loyal and faithful, fighting for its life. The increasing commercial zone and alien population try the faith of pastor and people. A less consecrated membership would despair, but not the Madison group. W. M. Dews is an ecclesiastical U. S. Grant. His incessant toil and loving service hold the fort.

Wesley is an industrial mission belonging to the Seattle District Union. We minister to a band of 100 or more children and have a few faithful laborers. There is a sparse population and constantly receding. J. M. Weaver has given careful and patient service to it and Shaw Memorial, an industrial residential community, where the future is problematic. This has been the best year of many for these small churches.

Hillman, a small church and a big problem, has held its own. They have a Sunday School of 100 and some faithful folk. Its future depends upon the city's growth and trend of development. J. D. Bird has cared for it during the year.

At Lakeside and Deaconess Settlement we are doing community service work in a real way. E. A. Gray, a student pastor, who recently left for Drew, has given pastoral supervision. Five deaconesses are at work under the Deaconess Home Association. We could give a great story here but must conserve the time. We are erecting a new community building for the Deaconess Settlement costing approximately $15,000. The location is ideal. J. H. Berringer has been rendering faithful service in this enterprise.

Our Filipino Mission, an innovation! Our hand offered just slightly to hundreds of our own. This is going to develop, we feel that God is in it. We cannot neglect these hundreds of boys from one of our own provinces where we have sent missionaries to carry the Gospel. T. W. Bundy is serving these people and at the same time serving as pastor to our Japanese group of young people who demand the Gospel in English. This is a growing and profitable service.

This closes our toll of churches and our pastor leaders. It is only a glance at a moving picture. The joy, sorrow, pathos, grief and sometimes tragedy in it all cannot be seen. The story of the local church and its pastor is only a part of the whole. The connectional interests of the Kingdom are quite as important and each pastor is an integral part.

At our last Conference we voted a campaign for raising $350,000 for retired ministers. This broke into the heart of our evangelistic season and took days of the writer's time as Conference Chairman. The ministers were perplexed at the obstacles met, but loyal, and our District subscribed $53,287 as its share.

Our last conference also voted to have a great Conference-wide Laymen's Council, and designated the writer as chairman. This came in the first months of the new Conference year, and made great draughts on the time of superintendent and ministers. Our compensation was adequate in one of the largest and best of these great gatherings ever held in our Methodism. At a grand rally in October over 2,000 of our members of the District gathered in First Church to hear Bishop Birney tell his story. Our educational and evangelistic work has made good progress in the churches. Paul H. Ashby has been a real help to the pastors and superintendent in this field. We have had 28 daily Vacation Bible Schools; three schools of Religious Training; one school for Daily Vacation Bible School teachers. Our work of personal evangelism has taken told upon many people and charges.

J. Edgar Purdy is a constant joy to us all in his ardent labors. He is making a great educational impact on our Sunday Schools. Paul F. Green is giving efficient service in the educational work of University Church. W. T. Randolph has been constant in his work at Trinity and for the parish churches of the District, rendering efficient service in raising every budget in full and at the same time has raised money to repair the churches, thus relieving the Missionary Society of its usual burden in this direction.

Our pastors and people have a growing loyalty for our Conference-wide institutions, the College of Puget Sound and Kimball School of Theology. We believe in them profoundly.

In our District we have the hospital with its great call and need. A plan must be found some way to give it better support.

This has been Stanley G. Logan's best year in the Wesley Foundation. It is certainly a great field of service. We have an increasing appreciation of the character of work to be done and the need of such a school as our Northwest Training School. It had eight fine girls to graduate this year. Its students are doing efficient work among the churches of the District. We now have money in sight to clear the new home in Ballard of debt and to pay the remaining debt on the old home. We hope to begin our new building this coming year.

We feel under personal obligations to Bishop Shepard for his fine brotherly spirit and leadership. Also to our peers in the District Superintendency.

The pre-Conference reports seem to show a gain of over $1,000 in pastors' salaries and of approximately 400 in membership. We have paid $80,896 for buildings and improvements, and $11,000 on old indebtedness. We have raised for all purposes in the District over $325,000.

In the Seattle District there are no sinecures. We live not in an atmosphere of spiritual triumph or material wealth. We have great good spiritual people in our churches. We have a new city spreading itself like a green bay tree tried to the limit as it endeavors to assimilate an influx of people from everywhere.

It is very important that we get the eastern-minded section of our church to properly understand our need and relation to the whole future development of the Kingdom. It is essential that we secure a pastorate for our churches that is as good as the best, and that we give our institution a place of importance and a respectable appearance. Our old church buildings must be made adequate for our present day task.

Last, we must be evangelistic. God forbid that we should develop a ministry of education and financial specialists and lose the art of winning men to our Lord Christ. We are pledging ourselves to the work of saving men and raising the spiritual level of our churches this coming year by the help of God.

TACOMA DISTRICT

I take pleasure in reporting to you, Bishop Shepard, at the close of your second quadrennium in the Portland Area. You have taken us into your heart; you have shared our joys and sorrows; you have intelligently and earnestly faced our problems with us. We thank you for your leadership. We will not forget your kindness and sympathy.

One year ago Bishop Leonard assigned the men of this District to posts of responsibility in the very frontier of the advancing Kingdom. Some of them have been subject to great hardship, resulting from the fact that their posts were located so far out that they found little sympathy and support. While some have been in the larger centers, they had problems great enough to challenge the faith and courage of the most heroic. Without exception these men have been faithful and have toiled earnestly and sacrificially.

Clark Cottrell unified diversities at Algona, purchased the Presbyterian Church, improving the property both there and at Pacific.

William Park and his good wife have been rewarded for their earnest effort by observing a deepening of the spiritual life and a continued church loyalty on the part of their people at Auburn.

T. J. Gambill and Mrs. Gambill of Wilkeson have given a good account of their stewardship by extending the boundaries of the parish to include the new towns of Carbonado and Fairfax, at each of which they have rendered valuable service. Their multitudinous ministry in that large parish has been without reservation.

C. A. Bowen found a splendid congregation at Centralia, which has rallied about his energetic leadership in meeting every responsibility given this fine church, increasing 73 per cent in its contribution to benevolences.

C. L. Walker serves a large parish with very diverse needs in the town of Eatonville. He ministers to the logging camps and to agricultural communities adjacent to the town. With Mrs. Walker he has done a very commendable piece of work among three hundred Japanese in the town.

J. W. Reynolds, one of our most scholarly men, has preached the gospel earnestly and sincerely in the frontier town of Morton where he has found a challenge for all his ability.

O. F. Krieger, our pastor at Olympia, has contributed valuably to the Kingdom's extension by the splendid service of worship that he has conducted and his uniformly high grade of preaching in the pulpit of that important church at the Capital of the State.

C. H. Cowdy, abundant in initiative, has conducted a service of worship that would grace any church in the District, and his faithful pastoral and pulpit ministry is most highly appreciated in the town of Orting.

H. R. Stone has rallied the religious forces of Methodism in Puyallup. Splendid congregations have constantly waited upon his ministry.

J. H. Avery, besides the ordinary work of a pastorate in a growing town, has succeeded in raising money to pay most all the indebtedness against the Shelton church; the remaining portion is provided for in good subscriptions.

G. F. Pollock has served to extend the Kingdom in South Tacoma, with its Northern Pacific shops, and growing business section. In the homes of hundreds of these people he has sought earnestly to establish a program of religious life.

E. J. Huston, besides his enviable record in law enforcement, has promoted a seven-day-a-week church program which makes use of the splendid plant dedicated one year ago. Bethany church has a program of religious education which perhaps cannot be excelled in the city of Tacoma, unless it be by Mason Church, to which it is a close second.

H. E. Bashor has met with a very gratifying response to his fine, cordial and painstaking leadership at Central Church.

H. W. Michener's work makes this Conference proud to have him in its membership. He has created the Goodwill Industry in Tacoma, which offers work to cast-outs and handicapped, who make over cast-offs in the form of old clothes and old furniture, who in turn earns a material compensation, augmented by the spiritual element gained from their surroundings of Christian hope and cheer. Brother Michener is very ably assisted by H. A. Wann who has supplied the pulpit at Grace Church, in addition to his work in the Goodwill Industries.

G. C. Poolton has preached highly appreciated sermons at East Sixty-fourth Street Church, and has rendered a very valuable ministry in the section of the city where his church is located.

L. M. Grigsby, who last year transferred to this Conference from the Nebraska Conference, is a preacher of rare ability. His deep spiritual life, and his earnest gospel message is destined to make possible a great pastorate in the First Church in Tacoma. He was ill in health a portion of the year, but returns from his vacation vigorous and hopeful for a splendid future.

R. S. Rees, the genial and devoted pastor of Epworth Church, is building to make the future of that great Church greater than the past of which it is justly proud. There is great promise of success.

J. G. Law, a master organizer and promoter, and an indomitable worker, has lead Mason Church in the development of a program of religious education, social service and pastoral care, worthy of the great church of which he has been pastor.

J. F. Long has led the District in his program of pastoral visitation. He has made 1,250 pastoral calls this year.

E. W. D. Hanna has served faithfully and successfully an important country parish at Yelm. Plans are made for the erection of a splendid addition to the church with equipment for a real program of religious education, as well as a social program. Twenty-five hundred dollars is already subscribed for the building.

The Bible says young men shall see visions. By this test E. H. Todd is a real vigorous youth. Though the great prophecies he made in the past that we should be able to erect a commodious, well-supported college of the highest standards in Tacoma, have been fulfilled, these achievements are but the beginnings of the great things which he forsees for Christian Education in connection with the College of Puget Sound.

R. L. Sprague has been a vigorous promotion agent for the college, publicizing its splendid work throughout the Conference, and in addition thereto, in the name of the college and the church, has supported other worth-while causes, such as the Conference Board of Sunday Schools and the Conference Claimants campaign.

J. Edgar Purdy is a host in himself. He is doing invaluable work in promoting the cause of religious education in our midst. Everywhere the people respect him and follow his leadership.

F. C. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson are loved and respected by a large multitude of people who live in the neighborhood of the Tacoma Community House where their lives are being invested in the Kingdom of God.

Of the four undergraduate deacons who are this year asking to be graduated from the Conference course of study, and ordained Elders, Owen J. Beadles has invested youth and enthusiasm in the McKinley Hill section of Tacoma, to which the Trinity Church has responded with a high degree of appreciation; Olin M. Graham has furnished the leadership which has injected hope and courage into the church at Sumner; Nelson Pierce has done very acceptable work at Fern Hill; C. C. James, who has given four years of earnest, sacrificial ministry at Randle has been able to see as a part of the result, a much improved church building completed this year, a greatly enlarged program of church activities and a community greatly influenced for the good as the result of his ministry; Forrest D. Tibbitts who was received into full membership of this Conference last year, has done a splendid year's work at Parkland. This young man has been fortunate indeed, for he has secured the hand and heart of one of the fine young ladies of Western Washington. Marjorie Burroughs of Chehalis, to whom he was married by Dr. E. M. Randall on the evening of September 3rd.

Of the five young men on trial in this Conference and connected with the Tacoma District this year, Willard E. Stanton was moved from Buckley to LeSourd Church in Tacoma where he has been very valuable and has done very acceptable work; Harry Rarey was able assistant at Mason Church; Harold Nelson and Pete Carli were attending Schools, and Frank Williston, who, because of the situation in China was unable to become a missionary there as he had planned when he united with the Conference on trial, asked to be discontinued.

Besides these, we have had the assistance of three of the retired ministers of the Conference, whose grace and ability we have capitalized by having them supply, Dr. S. S. Sulliger at Fircrest for a portion of the year and F. L. Baldwin at Summit View, Horace Williston in Puyallup Valley. A. M. Herd who had the supernumerary relation served very acceptably at Vashon. Five local preachers have taken the responsibility for pastorates and have been helpful in their work of promotion; Mrs. A. D. Newell supplied at Wesley Church in Ruston; J. H. Hicks at Arlington in Tacoma, W. S. Garner at Bucoda, Mrs. L. M. Wilhelm at Tumwater and A. M. Frederick at Gig Harbor.

This year several of the ministers have suffered from serious illness. Brother Frederick was seriously injured in an automobile accident from which he has recovered. Brother Hicks and Mrs. Newell and Mrs. William Park were ill for several weeks. The angel of death visited the home of Brother Brokaw and left him without the companion of many years. Brother J. F. Long and R. L. Sprague were called upon to lay to rest the bodies of their mothers who departed this life within the year. However, three homes were gladdened by the angel of life, bringing a baby daughter to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin M. Graham and another to that of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stone and a third to that of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Rarey.

For the constantly enlarging program of church activities our churches are recognizing the need of improved equipment. Several of the churches have made improvements in property this year. Among these are Algona-Pacific, Auburn, Randle, LeSourd, Wesley, East Sixty-fourth, and Asbury. Fifteen of the churches are paying indebtedness formerly incurred in improvement of the property. No less than $15,000 will be paid on indebtedness this year.

During the last ten years the church has been making commendable gain in membership. There are now approximately 8,000 full members of the church in the District. The possibility of continued growth is clearly shown when one notes that in our Sunday Schools alone there are 5,000 others who are not yet united with the church formally and in the homes from which these children come are 5,000 others not in the membership of the church, but large numbers of whom are susceptible to the influences of the church. It would seem that a reasonable amount of attention to the most important work of evangelism would result in greatly augmenting the membership of the church and in increasing its influence for the spread of the Kingdom.

While the responsibility for increasing the membership of the churches is very great, there is urgent necessity for giving major attention to the deepening of the spiritual life of those who are already members. Our churches are discovering methods that succeed. Some churches are continuing the special revival meetings for longer periods of time. More are conducting intensive campaigns of shorter duration, joining the plan of home visitation with that of public services. In one case four of our pastors united for a campaign of two Sundays and the week days intervening for an intensive program in each of the four churches of which they were pastor, with very favorable results. Most of our churches are taking advantage of the special interest being shown in religion on the part of the whole community at the Easter period by using that period for special efforts in the interest of deepening of the spiritual life.

Our frequent custom of assuming that those who have been enrolled in the membership should have already attained such depths of Christian experience that no special care and cultivation is needed by them and that they merit criticism, rather than sympathy and care, is of questionable value. One is almost shocked at the frequency with which official boards and even pastors ask to have these names stricken from the list. Cultivation will bring many of these into the deeper Christian experience and life. Many are wanting the leadership and inspiration of the church in establishing customs of religious worship and instruction in the home, the encouragement and sympathy and fellowship that will lead to church loyalty, and inspire to Christian living and the practice of winning others.

In our efforts at the extension of the Kingdom and the Church, one of the very greatly neglected sections is the rural frontier. In the city where our people live close together, we have a church of some description with a resident pastor to approximately every 1,500 people, whereas in the country, where the people are more scattered, ministers are not nearly so frequent. Living in the villages and open country sections of Pierce county, there are 12,535 children of school age. Among these are only fifteen full time resident ministers, or one to approximately 3,000 people. There are 38 school districts, 15 of which have two or more teachers, without pastoral service of any sort.

Among the families of loggers and lumbermen, Rev. D. E. Carter, under direction of Rev. R. C. Hartley, superintendent of work among Loggers and Lumbermen in the Puget Sound Conference, is doing a splendid piece of work among the families of loggers and lumbermen, who in addition to their work in the camps and mills are developing homes on the logged-off land sections of Mason county. Brother Carter, through the services which he conducts in these neighborhoods and through visitation in the homes, is laying the foundation for Christian character, Christian churches and Christian communities.

Several magazine articles, declaring that there is a great waste of missionary funds in denominational competition in this frontier work have recently appeared. This is not true of the Tacoma District. There is practically no competition in this rural frontier. Of the fifteen resident ministers in this work of Pierce county, nine are Methodist, and the others maintain the finest spirit of cooperation.

The attitude of cooperation is well illustrated in the action of the Presbyterian Church at Algona, where that church has been organized for more than fifteen years. It became evident that the church working force in the neighborhood could do more for the spread of the Kingdom if all were organized in one body. Through the influence of Rev. W. C. Gunn, the extension director of the Seattle Presbytery, the Presbyterians sold their church building to us for the amount their Board of Church Extension had donated to its building without interest, and disorganized the congregation, advising that the members unite with the Methodist Church.

Statistics show that the city does not rear enough children to supply the demands of its industry and commerce, but must constantly draw upon the rural section for her population. While the child trained in the rural home and school and given the cultural, moral and spiritual benefits have great influence in the city in the future as in the past, the city must do most to save herself. Spiritual values must be appreciated in a city.

The only check that will save the city from the destruction which comes from an exclusive rush after material things is the ameliorating, redemptive influences of the gospel of Jesus Christ as expressed in the Church of God, which by its teachings, its fellowship, for the worship of God, its program of human helpfulness will plant in the hearts and minds of the young of the city the idealism of Christianity, instead of the sordid materialism of industry and commerce where Christianity is not known.

Acting upon this religious education conviction, we are giving great attention to the teaching and training of the children, using the best courses of study yet offered for the religious training of children. We are training teachers and ministers to conduct schools second to none for the accomplishment of this purpose. Through the splendid effort of J. E. Purdy, our Conference Director of Religious Education, better quality of educational work as well as larger quantity is being done constantly. This year, in addition to our regular Sunday School work, nine vacation schools, enrolling 1,200 children have been conducted from two to four weeks.

The contribution of the churches to World Service will not show the most commendable advance. However, I think it will not show as much slump as in former years. There was a slight decrease for the year ending May 31. The contribution to Wesley Foundation will be materially increased, due largely to the good cultivation by Brother Logan, the director of that foundation. There will be the largest contribution toward Kimball School of Theology in its history. Some of the churches have made contributions toward the Northwest Training School, but not nearly all of them.

Though the committee on Education will make its report on the College of Puget Sound, I cannot refrain from making mention in this connection of its splendid influence on cultural and spiritual development of the city and its surrounding country. Its splendid equipment, its strong faculty, its fine body of young people should make it not only the pride of the city of Tacoma, but the Puget Sound Conference, the faith and sacrifice of whose members has made this splendid institution possible.

Our churches are increasingly loyal to the support of local church enterprises. Approximately $125,000 has been contributed for this purpose. They are also increasing in their contribution to missionary agencies. The contribution to Wesley Foundation will be materially increased due largely to the good cultivation of S. G. Logan, the director of the foundation. Kimball School will receive greatly increased support. Some of the churches are supporting the Northwest Training School; $44,000 has been subscribed to the Conference Claimants Fund. The contribution toward the World Service agencies showed a slight increase for the fiscal year ending May 31. Over $40,000 has been contributed for benevolent purposes.

George F. Hopkins has devoted himself with utter abandon to the interest of the retired preachers. The success of the campaign of appreciation is largely the result of his untiring effort.

Both the ministers and the laymen of the District are happy to be associated with the ministers and laymen of other sections of the Conference, seeking to make this mighty section worthy of the great pioneers who laid the foundation of our Methodism in this great Northwest and of our Christ who gave to this world salvation and hope of all that is good.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

J. T. McQueen, District Superintendent

Of all the men that were given to me at the last session of the Conference, I have lost none. The general health of the pastors and their families has been good; the angel of death has not visited any of the parsonage homes, and no severe sickness has been experienced. Complimentary mention could be made of every man, but time and space forbids. I shall not deal with statistics, but will briefly outline the activities of the various organizations and department of the Church work in general upon the District. There have been increases and decreases; successes and failures; forward movements and backward steps. Revival meetings have been held in almost every charge, and many souls have been saved and brought into the Church and into the Kingdom. The Ocean Park Institute was characterized by definite Evangelistic appeals and many Life Service decisions were made; while I was deprived of the privilege of attending the Institute, I am made to rejoice with those who were in charge and contributed to its success. Dr. E. H. Todd was the very able and inspiring dean this year. A larger and better Institute is the slogan for Ocean Park next year.

The Lackamas Camp Meeting was a decided success this summer. Dr. E. J. Purdy and Roy Sprague were on the grounds from the very beginning to the finish and were instrumental in the success of the meeting. There were a number of conversions, baptisms and accessions to the Church.

From all indications, the Sunday Schools of the District will show an increase in enrollment and average attendance. Dr. Purdy has given much inspiration to the schools he has visited and in the Standard Training Schools that he has conducted throughout the District. Better buildings and better equipment is the crying need in most of the charges. Vancouver, Hoquiam, Kelso and Kalama need new buildings. Kelso has plans already under way and Vancouver has committees appointed looking forward to ways and means for the launching of a great centenary building project.

Reference has been made already to the Ocean Park Epworth League Institute and its success. The inspiration of this gathering has been carried back to the local chapters and our young people are seeing the dawn of a new and brighter day for the Epworth League. There is an increased demand for a more efficient leadership among the young people, and a desire on their part to fall in line.

It had hoped to have some kind of a Missionary Society in every charge on the District. However, at present, there are sixteen charges that have neither the Home or Foreign Missionary Societies. I think every Sunday School is organized into a Missionary Society and giving collections regularly once a month. These societies are doing much to stimulate missionary intelligence throughout the District.

The Ladies' Aid Societies, as usual, are making a good report this year, paying debts, making improvements and aiding the pastors in visiting. If the Ladies' Aid Societies should abandon their work, it would be disastrous to the work of the Church and the Kingdom. Last year the earnings of the Aid Societies on the Vancouver District was approximately $19,000. It looks like this year would total up to last year or more.

World Service is the most discouraging and heart-breaking report of the Vancouver District this year. My last report from the Chicago office shows a slump below last year's report of $2,162.00 on apportionment. However, at the present writings, I have receipts including special gifts totaling $6,641, which will make as good a showing as last year. However, Bishop Shepard and pastors of the Vancouver District, this does not relieve me of the sting of failure to make advancement over last year's giving. I could offer many excuses for this failure, chief of which I think is the campaign of appreciation, though I am still wholeheartedly in sympathy with the campaign. Permit me to say on behalf of the men of the District, that the campaign of appreciation was pushed to the limit by every man on every charge. A number of the charges reached the full quota.

The interests of the College have been looked after and all subscribers urged to pay as much as possible on their subscriptions. The matter has been brought to the attention of all the charges. Dr. Todd and Roy Sprague have visited many of the charges on the District this year in the interest of the College of Puget Sound.

The interests and claims of the Kimball School have been emphasized on the District, but the responses have not been what they should have been. We believe in the school and believe that Dr. J. M. Canse is the right man for the head of the institution.

The Northwest Training School has had the careful attention of the District superintendent, pastors and people.

The Wesley Foundation and the work that it is doing under the efficient leadership of Brother Logan has been emphasized and the quotas distributed to the charges of the District.

I have made inquiry as to the circulation of the Pacific Christian Advocate and urged our people to subscribe. Many new subscriptions have been sent in this year all the way from Goldendale to Alaska.

The work of the Loggers and Lumbermens Activities that is sponsored by the Board of Home Missions within the bounds of our Conference is a big task. It has its discouragements but the three Methodist preachers, who have its supervision, find many compensations in the opportunity this work affords to meet and influence for good and God, these great men of the woods. The real record for this particular work of necessity, is hard to give, but Heaven will reveal its true worth.

Special mention should be made of the Alaska work. Bishop Shepard, Dr. R. E. Smith of Spokane and myself left Vancouver, B. C., on June 17th to make a survey of our work in Alaska. Hyder was our first stop. We found Brother and Sister Warren, our pastor and wife, very happy and contented in their work. Hyder is a small community, but important as a port of entry into one of the richest mineral districts in the whole northland, if not in the world. Our membership is small, but loyal and appreciative. Like in all other mining centers the population is transient; therefore it is difficult to build up a permanent membership. Brother Warren with his adaptability as a community fixer, has the respect of the entire community. Sister Warren is an able leader among the women and children of the town.

Our next stop, after an eventful voyage of 18 hours, except, that our good Bishop wore all the splinters off the two by four upon which he tried to sleep, was Ketchikan. Brother M. L. Sanders is our pastor and is just closing his first year on the field. Ketchikan is our best point in Alaska. We have here a good and well equipped Church and parsonage property. Our Church is well organized and is doing well in caring for the spiritual and social interests of the community. Brother and Sister Sanders and members of the Church gave Bishop Shepard and party a fine reception and we think the visit to Ketchikan will be of permanent value.

Juneau is the capital city and is showing some signs of improvement in the past two or three years. Brother R. A. Gailey and his good wife are in charge of the work here. They have a very difficult undertaking, but are showing themselves equal to the task. They are slowly but steadily gaining ground and making friends for the Church. Our stay in Juneau was short but pleasant and profitable.

Our next landing was at Seward. Here we have two churches, the Seward Community Methodist Church in the town of Seward. Rev. T. P. Graham is our pastor. Brother Graham has been with this Church for two years. He and his wife are making a good team. I think it can be truthfully said that Brother Graham is serving the largest parish in the world. He comes next to Wesley, who said: "The world is my parish." It is no boy's job to travel over that field, in all kinds of weather, and by all kinds of transportation. It takes from ten days to two weeks to make the round trip. Mrs. Graham holds the fort while her husband is away. This Church has the only resident pastor in the town. Brother Graham has frequent calls for all kinds of service. We are sure our visit to this community was profitable in more ways than one. While there our pastor made a challenge to one of the merchants, that if he would donate the paint, he knew of a Bishop and two District Superintendents who would paint the church and parsonage. The challenge was called, the paint furnished and the aforesaid Bishop and District Superintendents donned the overalls and the way that paint went on was not slow. We left our marks behind us as evidence of our interest in the Seward community.

Jesse Lee is our newest organization. It was while we were at Seward that we visited the Jesse Lee Mission, which is under the care of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. Our reception there was royal and will never be forgotten. A very impressive program was planned by Mrs. Annie Hobbs Woodcock and Mrs. McQueen, national officers of the society and members of the staff. Bishop Shepard took a very prominent part in the exercises, which included the organization of the Jesse Lee Church. The Bishop baptized seventy-eight children and received 120 into the church. A Board of Trustees and Stewards and other official members were appointed. Dr. R. E. Smith and myself gave a week's instruction to the new members and on the following Sunday a communion service was conducted by the Bishop. We are very proud of this new-born but rapidly developing babe. Brother Charles T. Hatten, who is Superintendent of the Jesse Lee Home, was officially appointed by Bishop Shepard as the pastor of the Jesse Lee Methodist Church of Seward, Alaska. Much more might be said about this event but time forbids.

Nome is our farthest outpost. Nearly 3,000 miles from Seattle, and frather west of San Francisco than San Francisco is west of Boston. Nome is a slowly dying proposition. In the early days of the gold rush Nome had a population of 20,000 people. Now, the summer population is about 2,000, but the winter population is 500 or 600. Brother R. Z. Newton, who has recently come from the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, went in with us on this trip and is the very acceptable and optimistic pastor of the Nome Federated Church. (Methodist and Congregationalist). Bishop Shepard said to me one day, while on the trip: "If that young man does nothing else but smile, he will win." It seems too bad to put such promising young people into such an unpromising field; but, somebody must minister to those hungry, needy souls, and the best is none too good. Our work has suffered in Alaska for the need of just such fine competent consecrated workers. I ask on behalf of the workers in Alaska, that you pray for them often. They need your prayers and sympathy; they are far away, and will greatly miss the fellowship of their fellow ministers.

I wish to thank the good heavenly Father for His mercies to myself and family during this year.

Reports of Boards and Standing Committees

---

(The following reports were duly adopted by the Puget Sound Annual Conference in its business session and represent the official action of that body).

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Methodism has always believed in illumined minds as well as warmed hearts, and therefore makes large place in her life for those institutions which further Christian education.

College of Puget Sound. Our college, under the inspiring leadership of President Edward H. Todd, continues to register an almost embarrassing growth in student enrollment. The question of faculty and physical equipment presents a serious problem. We commend the President and Trustees for the policy of expanding only as visible resources warrant, and urge the rigid adherence to that policy. We desire to record the fixed purpose of this Annual Conference to maintain the control of our College and so direct its affairs in the social and religious life of our students, that the highest and finest traditions and practices of our Methodism shall be maintained. Therefore, we recommend first that the faculty and students give themselves to the preparation of a recreational course to train them for a social leadership, according to our best standards and providing them with proper social expression. Second, that the committee on religious work of the Board of Trustees are earnestly requested, in conjunction with the administration and with the resident pastors, to develop a program of evangelism and religious persuasion that will provide an increasingly spiritual atmosphere, vitally influencing students in all their cultural training.

Northwest Training School. The report of the Superintendent, Miss Ruth A. Fogle, shows a very healthful and satisfactory condition of this important institution. During the year eight young women have been graduated, and the attendance and spiritual tone of the student body indicate the continued blessing of God upon the school. The budget of expenses for the school totals $13,391, settlement work not included, all of which has been paid. We approve the determination of this institution to keep its expenses within its income. We commend it to the Methodism of the Northwest for liberal support. The diversified forms of Christian service that are opening to women in the Church, call for consecration and preparation on the part of larger numbers of young women. Young women looking toward Christian service will find here opportunities in training and preparation.

Kimball School of Theology. The first year's administration of President John M. Canse has achieved all that we could hope for, and we are gratified at the excellent morale existing among faculty and students. We appreciate the devout Evangelism and scholarship so happily combined, and heartily recommend the school to our young men seeking training and to all our members for their generous support.

The Wesley Foundation. We rejoice that each year our Wesley Foundation at the University of Washington is making progress, and that its importance is coming to be more fully recognized. We highly appreciate the devoted leadership of the director, Stanley G. Logan, and his untiring service in behalf of our young people. The university has 7,000 students, 1,000 of whom are from Methodist homes or Methodist Sunday Schools. For the Christian nurture of these, we have a real responsibility. It is gratifying to note that young people are going forth with their lives enriched through the ministrations of the Wesley Foundation and that so many are entering full-time Christian service. We note with satisfaction that a majority of the charges of the Conference are recognizing their financial responsibility and are contributing toward the budget and that the support is much better than during any former year. The amount asked is modest compared with the needs and opportunities. We heartily commend the institution to our people for more generous support than it has ever received.

General Board of Education. Last year we recorded our approval of the reorganization of the educational interest of the Church. We are glad to note increased efficiency and a better adaptation of the needs of our growing educational program. A more universal observance of Children's Day and the stressing of the collection for the Student Loan Fund is the important duty of every pastor. We urge proper answer to this call.

Nomination. We submit to this Conference for their election the following nominations:

College of Puget Sound—Term expires 1930: Harvey E. Warren, Tacoma; Dr. C. W. Knudson, Seattle; Rev. Andrew Warner, Tacoma; Dix H. Rowland, Tacoma; George Schofield, Tacoma; Dr. E. A. Rich, Tacoma; Rev. L. M. Grigsby, Tacoma; Howard A. Dent, Seattle; Bishop Wm. O. Shepard, Portland, Ore. Columbia River Conference—John Isenhardt, Wenatchee; Rev. C. E. Miller, Moscow. Elected by alumni—Rev. John Long, Tacoma.

Kimball School of Theology—F. A. Hazeltine, Rev. J. Ralph Magee.

Wesley Foundation—Term expiring 1930: Rev. J. E. Milligan, P. M. Snider, Dix H. Rowland.

Conference Board of Education—The following are nominated to fill vacancies: Term expiring 1928, Will D. Pratt of Bellingham; term expiring 1929, Prof. Worth McClure of Seattle; term expiring 1930, Rev. Andrew Warner, Rev. Richard Decker, Prof. Roy C. Glass of Raymond, Thomas Swayze of Tacoma.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF CHURCH SCHOOLS

The following Sunday Schools of the Conference have qualified for Certification as Standard Sunday Schools, 1927:

Port Townsend; Madison Street, Seattle; Kent; Centralia; Winlock; First, Everett; Mason, Tacoma; University, Seattle; Bethany, Tacoma; Summit View, Tacoma; First, Seattle; Asbury, Tacoma; Garden Street, Bellingham; Sumner; Woodland Park, Seattle.

Week-Day Religious Education. The development of the Week-Day Religious Education program has not been encouraging. At the recent session of the state legislature the denominations presented a confused attitude on the proposition, due largely to the fact that we had not gotten together. The Puget Sound Conference made its position clear in the resolution which we adopted a year ago. Before the State Legislature shall convene again representatives of the denominations in the State should get together and work out a unified basis of procedure. The initiative should probably be taken by the Councils of Religious Education of Washington. We recommend that the following memorial shall be presented to these councils:

WHEREAS the time has come for the denominational bodies of the State of Washington to develop a uniform policy in the matter of Week-Day Religious Educational legislation,

AND WHEREAS it is our belief that a unified program can be agreed upon when representatives of the various denominations of the state get together for discussion and mutual understanding,

AND WHEREAS, the Councils of Religious Education of Eastern and Western Washington are the logical agencies for bringing the denominational groups together for this important purpose,

THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Puget Sound Conference request the Councils of Religious Education of the State of Washington to invite representatives of the denominational groups in the state, and other interested agencies, to a meeting or a series of meetings for the purpose of developing a united approach to the problem of Week-Day Religious Education legislation,

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that we authorize the Conference Board of Church Schools to act for us in the designation of our representatives for this meeting, and in carrying out the provisions of this resolution.

In the meantime we should at once begin providing additional religious training for our children. Just as fast as possible we ought develop week-day schools which meet one or two days each week, immediately after public school hours. The experiment of Rev. J. M. Weaver in this field is to be commended. There is no reason why this plan should not become practically universal. In our judgment, we cannot devote our time to more fruitful efforts than in teaching children the things of God, Christian conduct and religious attitudes. One hour each week in Sunday School, however carefully organized and administered, is not an adequate amount of time for this imperative need.

Leadership Training. Consecration, winsomeness and preparation are the three cardinal requisites to good Sunday School teaching. We urge the continued hearty cooperation of all pastors in promoting the preparation and training of our Sunday School workers. The promotion of Standard Training Schools will continue to occupy an important place in our service to the Conference.

The autumn series of Standard Training Schools is scheduled as follows: Seattle, October 23-28; Auburn, October 16-21; Vancouver, October 30-November 4; Tacoma, November 6-11; Snohomish November 27-December 2; Centralia, November 13-18; Raymond, December 4-9.

Local Church Service. With the exception of the Standard Training Schools, Mr. Purdy's service is directly with the local churches and Sunday Schools by means of local Efficiency Institutes and Workers' Conference. His services are available without charge, for any assistance which he can render the local schools. The Efficiency Institute lasts from three to five days, the Workers' Conference may include one or more sessions. He desires so to arrange his schedule as to include as many of these local institutes and conferences as possible. Any pastor or Sunday School group desiring his services will do well to write him early for a date.

Information Service. We urge upon our pastors and Sunday School workers the importance of observing Rally Day and Rally Week. Coming immediately after the opening of the public schools, the Rally season can be made very fruitful as a time of ingathering and recruiting. When properly observed, Rally Day and Rally Week will bring the Sunday School attendance up to normal much earlier in the Conference year.

The Department of Church Schools has issued exceptionally fine literature and programs. Let us make Rally Day unanimous this year.

Evangelism. The objective of Christian Education is Evangelistic, getting boys, girls and young people into right relationships with God. Through the years, the Conference Board of Church Schools has been emphasizing the evangelistic opportunity and responsibility of the Sunday School. Therefore, we shall be very happy to align our program with that of the rest of the Conference in promoting an intensive Evangelistic Campaign this year.

We need to employ Godly care and Christly skill in our evangelistic program for children. Unplanned, impromptu or last minute methods of winning children to Jesus will prove disastrous and destructive. Only by careful preparation, much prayer and a continuous program of Evangelism which begins far in advance of days of decision, may we expect to build stable foundations for Christian living and Christian experience.

Mr. Purdy has developed an effective plan for Sunday School Evangelism which has been employed with good results in many churches in the Conference. He also carries in stock a complete list of very useful free literature on Child Evangelism which is available to pastors and workers.

A Methodist Assembly.....We suggest to the Annual Conference that we conduct an all-Methodist Assembly at Epworth Heights, continuing for ten days immediately following the Epworth Heights Epworth League Institute next summer. Tentatively, the proposal is as follows: Mornings, devoted to class periods, including advanced courses for pastors and Sunday School workers, Bible study, family religion, etc.; the afternoons to be devoted to rest, recreation and special features; and in the evenings, significant evangelistic services, featuring one of the outstanding evangelistic preachers of Methodism.

The plan contemplates the inclusion of the best features of a camp meeting, an assembly and a summer school. Should this proposal meet with the approval of the Conference, we shall begin developing plans and program at once, and will undertake to promote an enterprise which will be creditable to Methodism and render good service in developing the spiritual life of our people.

Finance. We ask your continued financial support. We again request that this support be apportioned to the Sunday Schools of the Conference on the basis of five cents per member, not including the Cradle Roll or Home Department. We further request that the Rally Day Offerings be sent to the Treasurer of the Conference Board of Church Schools, to be applied toward this apportionment. We have made suitable arrangements with the Chicago office to this effect.

The Conference Director of Religious Education. The Board wishes to express to Brother Purdy its sincere appreciation of the earnest, efficient service he has rendered during the past year, and respectfully requests the Bishop and Cabinet to continue him in his present relation for the ensuing year.

To Dr. M. J. Trenery and the Department of Church Schools of the Board of Education, we also express our appreciation in giving us the services of Brother Purdy and for all the cooperation given to our Conference by his office.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

Your Conference Claimants Executive Secretary begs leave to make this, his second annual report:

It has been a year of exceedingly hard and trying work. The Campaign of Appreciation was thoroughly organized, and on the whole, worked very smoothly. It is with satisfaction that we can report that the Board of Pensions and Relief have considered our organization one of the very best and have requested that we send them a detailed description of it that they may use part or all of it in other Conference campaigns, to which we complied.

The results of the campaign are not as great as we had hoped, notwithstanding the total does amount to $184,791.28. These amounts cover in every instance bona fide subscriptions, leaving the field open in our Conference for future gathering in of the so-called indirect subscriptions, namely Annuity Bonds, Deeds, Wills and Estate Notes, together with direct subscriptions that we are sure can be garnered in due time. There are 3,709 subscriptions.

It will be necessary for all members of this Conference to continue to pull steadily together until our end is finally reached. We will need every dollar that can be subscribed and collected in. The new plan, if adopted by our next General Conference, will in no way lessen our needs. If the Puget Sound Conference decides to commute a part or all of its present membership with the Board of Pensions and Relief, we will need to not only complete our total of $350,000, but greatly enlarge this sum. Will every pastor of this Conference seek to find any who can aid in any way to augment our subscription list.

The Commission on August 24th carried the following motion: "That all pastors in the Puget Sound Conference be requested to open their pulpits as opportunity affords for the Executive Secretary to speak to their people in the interests of this fund." By complying with this motion, your Executive Secretary will be able to get in touch with your people. There are likely on every charge some persons or persons who will help increase these funds.

We are glad to report also that the collections on the first payment have been quite satisfactory, also that all indebtedness to the last penny has been met to date, that permanent investments are being made by a very conservative and discreet committee consisting of three members of the Conference Claimants Commission and three who are not members.

By the action of the Commission, the public accounting firm of Busch & Webb have gone thoroughly over the books of the Executive Secretary, Treasurer and Secretary of the Commission and their report is now in the hands of the Conference Auditing Committee. We simply add that they found everything to the penny as correctly entered.

We wish at this time to express our great thanks to all the brethren who aided so materially in our Campaign of Appreciation. We record also in this public manner our gratitude to the Great Father above for His sustaining strength, grace and helpfulness in this campaign for our retired brethren.

GEO. F. HOPKINS, Executive Secretary.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

In spite of varied difficulties the Deaconess work of the Conference is active and expanding in each department. The Deaconess Children's Home at Everett, as well as the Settlement and Northwest Training School in Seattle, are each in urgent need of new buildings.

The Deaconess Children's Home at Everett hopes in the near future to be able to erect the safe, modern home they so greatly need.

The Deaconess Settlement was obliged last November to give up the halls where for years its work has been carried on, but has managed to hold its work together through the year. Now, foundations are being laid for the new building, which is expected to be ready for use December first.

Progress is being made in raising money for the new Training School building. It is confidently expected that a year from now will find the school housed in its new quarters.

The Goodwill Work in Tacoma in which two of our deaconesses are assisting is developing in a very gratifying way. We submit the following annual report:

EVANGELISM

At the urgent and prayerful request of the Board of Bishops the Cabinet of the Portland Area has placed in our hands a very comprehensive and challenging program setting forth an area-wide revival of spiritual emphasis in the church. These plans suggest the utilization of every evangelistic approach, including Personal Evangelism, Revival Evangelism, Educational Evangelism, Pastoral Evangelism, etc., and summoning us to secure for all members and friends of the church a knowledge of God, of His forgiveness and grace, through personal experience and that this experience shall express itself (1) In Home Religion; (2) In Church Loyalty; (3) In Christian Living; (4) In Winning Others to Christ.

Your committee has studied these plans most carefully. We feel that they may be followed as a guide in a great spiritual advance which will arouse our church and bring many into the Kingdom. Therefore, we make the following recommendations:

1. That Spiritual Emphasis shall have right of way in our Church program during the next Conference year.

2. That we bring ourselves and our laymen face to face with the imperative need for a rekindling of spiritual zeal in our own lives and in the life of the church.

3. That we most heartily approve the suggested program for a Conference-wide Spiritual Emphasis Campaign, and that we request our District Superintendents to call District meetings early in the Conference year for the purpose of (a) Rededicating and reconsecrating of ourselves to God; (b) Studying together the plans and organizing and adapting it to our various situations.

4. That we develop and utilize to the fullest extent the evangelistic possibilities of worship, of pastoral ministry, lay visitation, the prayer meeting, the Sunday School, the ladies organizations, the Epworth League, World Service and every other agency and activity of the Church.

J. EDGAR PURDY

CHAS. W. MacCAUGHEY

CONFERENCE BENEVOLENCES

We recommend that the total of $14,000 be apportioned to the churches for the Northwest Training School. This is $4,000 less than last year, but is approved by leaders of the school.

We recommend that the Wesley Foundation asking be fixed at $10,000, the same as last year.

We favor the placing of the needs of The Kimball School of Theology at $1,500 from this Conference.

The College of Puget Sound has asked for $10,000 for operating expenses. We recognize the need of the college, but do not see how we can accede to their request in the face of the giving of the Conference last year. We recommend that the college asking not be apportioned, but that the officials be allowed to seek the sum of $5,000 for their work, provided that solicitation shall not take from any charge a sum larger than the pro rata share of the above amount if divided on the World Service basis.

We believe it advisable for each institution to send out its own apportionments, but they must adhere to the World Service basis in the division.

J. RALPH MAGEE, Chairman.

P. H. RAYMOND.

CONFERENCE EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Conference Epworth League has to report that the past year has been spent in drawing up a constitution for a Conference-wide program of League work, in which the work of the local chapters, the District cabinets and the Conference organization could be correlated. A constitutional convention called by the Conference League adopted the proposed constitution.

The Conference Cabinet has also set forth, and is developing, a comprehensive program for the local chapters, which will be placed in the hands of the local chapters and their pastors in the near future. We earnestly solicit the hearty cooperation of the pastors in vitalizing this program and making it effective in a forward movement of Epworth League work in this Conference.

The Conference League announces the election of the following young people to represent it in membership on the Conference League Institute Commission, terms to expire in 1930: Miss Ruth Thurman, Miss Clara Kelly, Mr. Fred Hardin and Mr. John Caughlin.

The Conference Epworth League wishes to express its appreciation for the fine cooperation of the Conference Board of Church Schools in supplying invaluable secretarial assistance and in sharing with us the leadership of Brother J. Edgar Purdy. We respectfully request the Bishop and his Cabinet to reappoint him as Executive Secretary of the Conference Epworth League.

E. RAYMOND ATTEBERY, President.

OCEAN PARK EPWORTH LEAGUE INSTITUTE COMMISSION

We wish to record our gratitude for the increasing interest of Southwest Methodism in this institute. We were fortunate in securing the leadership of Dr. Todd of the College of Puget Sound who served as dean of the school. The finances were taken care of and expenses met with a comfortable balance in our treasury. The spirit of devotion and study was of the highest order. We most heartily invite the support of the whole Conference to this ideal place of meeting.

We recommend that the institute be continued and nominate as a commission the following: Ministers—C. D. Rarey, J. T. McQueen, R. C. Young, T. J. Gambill, Harry Allen. Laymen—W. C. Mumaw, Earnest Hawthorn, E. D. Lampka, L. C. Vaughn, John W. Todd.

F. A. LAVIOLETTE, President
ROY PARCEL, Secretary.

AUDITING COMMITTEE

The Auditing Committee wishes to certify that the accounts and records of the Conference Treasurer and the Conference Claimants Commission have been audited by public accountants and found to be correct. The records of the Preachers' Aid and Permanent Fund Society, including the Pearson Account; the record of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools; the records of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Conference Board of Stewards, and the accounts and expenditures of Missionary moneys by the District Superintendents Frame, Warner, Wilson and McQueen have been examined and found to be correct.

We hereby recommend that next year's committee be enlarged, owing to the increase of the duties expected of said committee.

GEO. F. POLLOCK.

TACOMA GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

During the fiscal year of 1926 there was paid out to 792 different workers the sum of $20,959.42. Contracts were made in different ways with several thousand people and jobs were secured for hundreds. There are 65 on the payroll now which means that 150 are drawing their daily support from the Goodwill.

The first six months of 1927 showed an increase of 54 per cent over the corresponding time last year. Plans are under way for the erection of a new building 100x120, three stories high, to be of concrete. Dr. Hancher's organization has been secured to take charge of the campaign which will end July 3, 1928.

But the great future of the Goodwill, and that for which it exists above all else, is to give spiritual help to the thousands that are coming to its doors. Many are asking for that help which only a minister can give, and I have become the pastor of a great unchurched number that are being pointed steadily to the Christ and to his church. The work is truly a tremendous work and we crave the prayers of all that we may not fail in living the Christ life before these people, many of whom come to use prejudiced against the church.

We have an able staff of Christian workers, even the truck drivers must be Christian to hold their jobs, and the joy of service is the great compensation.

H. W. MICHENER, Superintendent.

TEMPERANCE AND REFORM

We recommend with pride and confidence our Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals for its efficient and loyal services in the cause of national and world prohibition and its forceful pronouncements on other moral issues. Dr. Clarence True Wilson and his staff are worthy of praise and we assure them of our prayers.

We are encouraged by the prospect of having the Prohibition Enforcement Bureau under Civil Service and urge that this be done at the earliest possible time and we call on our government to put on a more rigid program of enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and that the law be enforced without regard to financial, social or political status.

We reaffirm our faith in the Eighteenth Amendment and rededicate ourselves to the unfinished task of the annihilation of the liquor traffic. We pledge our support to all enforcement officers who are honestly endeavoring to enforce the prohibition law. We prayerfully request all law enforcement officers to guard against the use of unfit and irresponsible prohibition agents in securing evidence and unnecessary drinking among agents. We plead for more adequate sentences for law violators on the part of our courts.

We assure the Anti-Saloon League and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Washington of our sympathy and help in their programs. However, we urge great care to be taken to avoid entanglement with any political group that may put policies ahead of enforcement, and we further urge greater sympathy and co-operation with local enforcement committees in the several cities and counties.

We express confidence in all of our churches and pastors in carrying on a vigorous program of temperance education in our Sunday Schools and pulpits.

We pledge our hearty cooperation with the governments of all nations and all interested civic bodies in a world-wide endeavor to solve the pernicious narcotic problem.

E. J. HUSTON, Chairman.

O. F. KREIGER, Secretary.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION AND COMMITTEE

We believe that there is a wide spread reluctance on the part of Christian people to squarely face and adequately cope with the major sins against human life, such as war, race hatred and industrial injustice.

Our church, through the General Conference resolutions has repeatedly stated what should be the attitude of the church toward these important matters and has set forth high Christian ideals.

We therefore call upon our preachers to study these official pronouncements and press them upon the attention of our people by reading them in their pulpits and preaching with a flaming passion upon these principles which we believe express the mind of Christ and are solvents for the peculiar problems of our day.

We believe that the program of the Kingdom contemplates not alone the saving of the person, but the salvation of society. These two ends are so intimately related that one cannot be released without the other.

We further believe that the reluctance to face the major sins of our time will continue, and that the church will continue to grow more worldly, and that there will be no real revival of religion until these matters are dealt with more definitely, intelligently and earnestly from our pulpits.

This Conference has in years past endorsed the work of the Washington Children's Home Society. We still believe in this fine work and recommend that as in years past Thanksgiving offerings be given to this worthy cause.

We are eternally and emphatically opposed to any and all exploitation of the childhood of the world by industry. We heartily favor the early passage of any legislation that will cure the ill.

We are sympathetic with the sentiment that is moving towards a minimum salary for ministers, that every minister of our church may have the privilege of working for the Master without the stress of extreme financial pressure.

We believe that there is no place in the church of Jesus Christ for the so-called race superiority complex.

We greatly deprecate those attempts to humiliate peoples of darker color who live within the borders of our country.

We feel that the immigration laws which discriminate against peoples for racial reasons are not in harmony with the spirit of Christianity.

We request that the Committee on Arrangements for the Annual Conference program for the next annual Conference provide that one evening be set aside for an anniversary program under the direction of the Board of Temperance and Moral Reform in conjunction with the Social Service Commission.

Believing in the pronouncements of our Church concerning the futility of war as a means of settling international disputes we offer the following resolution:

Outlawry of War

We hold that a major task for the ministry of our day is that of Christianizing the mind of America in its outlook upon war. The official declaration of church by the resolution of the General Conference of 1924, Discipline, Paragraph 572, says: "War is not inevitable. It is the supreme enemy of mankind. Its futility is beyond question. Its continuance is the suicide of civilization. We are determined to outlaw the whole war system. We set ourselves to create the conditions of peace, Selfish nationalism, economic imperialism and militarism must cease. The world is now open for a crusade of peace. War weary nations are eagerly waiting. America should lead the way. The nation and the church can do now what they may never, never be able to do again."

We concur in these ideals, expressed by the General Conference, and believe that war must be outlawed and declared a crime by international agreements.

Therefore, we especially call attention to the resolution of Senator Borah, announcing and defining the desire of the United State to abandon the war system in favor of a system of world law, first introduced into the Senate in February, 1923, and still before that body.

We commend it to the study of our preachers and our people as a direct frontal attack upon the institution of war by the united will of the nations without involving any nation in any political entanglement or military commitment whatsoever.

We believe the passing of this resolution by the national legislature would create an opportunity for the nations to declare their attitude toward war, such an opportunity they have never had; and it would center the attention of the world in a very effective way upon this problem, and that in and during such consideration, the Christian ministry and the Christian church will find its greatest opportunity to express the mind of Christ on this supremely important matter.

OLIN M. GRAHAM, Chairman
OWEN J. BEADLES, Secretary, Committee.

PAUL F. GREEN, Secretary,
Commission

LOGGING CAMP WORK

The camp work this year has made good progress. Have visited six new camps and have included them in our itinerary.

Have found a happy and satisfying response to the labors of all our men working among the loggers. The call of "come again" is being more frequently sounded.

The Schafers Bros. camps were again included in our program and are being regularly visited. Mr. Albert Schafer made every arrangement notifying the foreman at each camp of my coming and asking that every courtesy within their power be extended to me. The consequence was that I was graciously received and had good audiences at every subsequent visit.

Also twice visited the camp of the Northwestern Logging Company out on the North River and had good receptions each time. Our local pastor at Aberdeen, the Rev. J. R. Sasnett, accompanied me and rendered valuable service in addition to being introduced to this kind of Christian service.

Brother H. E. Greening at Raymond, Washington, has been as busy as ever in his large and interesting field. His report will show encouraging progress and he should be continued in his present station. He has intrenched himself in the hearts of the loggers in his territory and has gained the well wishes and support of all classes of people for the work the Department of Evangelism is doing through our church.

Rev. D. E. Carter is beginning to see the fruits of his labors during the past two years. He is making contacts which will be valuable to our church in the days to come. Brother Carter is a busy man and is held in growing favor by the loggers in the camps which he visits. He also finds that the efforts expended in recent years to reach the lumberjacks have not been in vain as many interesting observations have been made to him by loggers who have come in contact with our program. He should be retained in his present capacity.

Personally I have visited and preached in thirteen different camps since my last report. From Trap Creek on Willapa Harbor in Pacific County to the Upper Satsop River in Mason County these camps are scattered. Have preached in most of these camps many times and have found a good hearing.

Have discovered this one thing—that a real Christian message presented in a straightforward way is more appreciated than a lecture or a sob-sister sermon. Of course, a musical program is always enjoyed to the full.

My own plan is to preach to the men after the meeting has been announced at supper time. The men assemble at the sound of the gong and file into the dining room. In one camp I visited this summer, the foreman, who was present at the service told me that every available man in camp attended the meeting. I may say, in passing, that this is the first time it ever happened in my experience.

Hospitals—Have made some fine friendships with men while confined to the hospitals through injuries received in camp. Being in camp when the men have met with accident I have followed them to the hospital and have had the high privilege of ministering to them in the name of Christ and His Church.

Have seen the eyes of these suffering men aglow with gratitude as I have turned over to them their meager belongings which I had gathered together in the bunkhouse at the camp and brought or sent to them. Have witnessed the smiles which have come to their faces as I have handed them a belated check which I had received from the foreman back in the woods. Above all I have seen their eyes fill with tears as with choked voices they have thanked me for such services.

Have made over 600 visits to the men in the hospitals the past year. Have distributed magazines and books to them. Bouquets have been given to some of the more seriously injured and the flowers were prized beyond words. In other ways help has been given all of which has been gratefully received.

Thrift—Have emphasized with good results the duty of the loggers to save some of their earnings. Many of them have talked with me about it and I have advised and directed them in this important matter. There is a growing tendency on the part of the workers to save and thrift is more common in the camps than formerly. The program of our Church has had a great deal to do in bringing this to pass.

As there is an office established in Aberdeen by the logging operators of the Grays Harbor country to see to the adjusting of the Industrial Insurance claims of every injured logger, my duties along that line are merely advisory.

The outlook for a full program the coming year is excellent. We expect the camps to be running full crews by fall, and we are planning some new camp work to be included in our program.

With gratitude to God for His unfailing goodness this report is herewith respectfully submitted.

ROBT. C. HARTLEY.

ALBERT ATWOOD

I have the unusual privilege of presenting a life record written almost entirely as an autobiography. Dr. Albert Atwood, at the request of his daughter, prepared the following statement some four years prior to his death:

"My grandfather's name was Anthony Atwood. He was born at Cape Cod, Mass. His father, it is claimed, came to America on the Mayflower. Anthony Atwood emigrated at New Jersey about the year 1798 and settled in Burlington County near Tuckerton. Here my father, Samuel Snow Atwood, was born June 9, 1799. Here this writer was born October 27, 1832. Here he spent his boyhood days working on the farm in summer and going to school in winter. At the age of 20 he taught school one term, and used the funds thus secured, in paying tuition fees and other expenses incident to attendance at Charlottesville College, Schoharie County, New York. From the time I was 12 years old until I left home to attend college, I was always busy, either with work on the farm, or with my books and papers, studying history, geography, grammar, arithmetic, etc. Writing also on literary, temperance and religious subjects, often until 11 and 12 o'clock at night. I kept books and papers, ink, etc., in a box, and when I was not using it, it was locked up and the key was in my pocket. I taught school two terms in Barnegat after leaving Charlottesville.

"Was received into the New Jersey Conference in 1858 and stationed in the following charges: Tom's River, Palmyra, Lumberton, Gloucester Cricuit, Englishtown, Haddonfield, Cape May and Smith's Landing.

"Transferred to the Oregon Conference in 1874, and stationed in the following charges: Seattle, Olympia, Eugene City, Presiding Elder Puget Sound District, Stanwood, Houghton.

"Was married to Amanda J. Robinson May 3, 1860.

"Suggested the formation, the name and the natural lines that should form the boundary of the Puget Sound Conference; secured the action of the Oregon Conference in the case, and wrote to the General Conference on Conference Boundaries in behalf of this interest, with the result that the Puget Sound Conference was organized in 1884 and I became one of its charter members.

"I was ordained Deacon by Bishop Morris in 1860, and ordained Elder by Bishop Jones in 1862.

"In the supervision of the work of the Puget Sound District 1879-80-81-82, my estimate is that I traveled in the four years not less than 16,000 miles; by steamboats and other water craft 8,000 miles, by railroad 4,000 and on foot 4,000.

"I have written three books of a historical character: 'The History of Methodism in Cape Island, New Jersey,' 'Glimpses in Pioneer Life on Puget Sound,' and 'The Conquerors.'

"The last of the books, 'The Conquerors,' has required much research in Washington, D. C., and in Boston, Mass., and in New York, embracing newspaper files from 1833 to 1844, and missionary records, etc.

(Signed)

"ALBERT ATWOOD."

Unlike Moses, according to many people, Dr. Atwood, did not write the story of his own death. Dr. Atwood passed away October 7, 1926.

Had he lived until October 27th he would have been 94 years of age. His wife had preceded him to the heavenly country by 15 years. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Tillie Stallman, Mrs. A. W. Hoppock, and one son, D. S. Atwood, all of Seattle.

Dr. Atwood was a hardy pioneer of this great Puget Sound country. His name must ever be held to the fore in this Conference as one of its charter members.

EDWIN LINCOLN HUGHES

Edwin Lincoln Hughes was born in Delaware, Ohio, June 3, 1862, and died at his home in Napavine, Washington, September 14, 1927, the date of the opening session of the Puget Sound Conference, of which he was a retired member.

The funeral was held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Centralia, Wash., Sunday, September 18, the writer conducting the service. A large number of friends from the charges where he had served in his ministry attended the funeral and the floral display was beautiful covering the chancel and platform. Interment was in the cemetery north of Centralia.

In the Journal of the Puget Sound Conference for 1886, in the report of the Olympia District, A. J. Hanson, Presiding Elder, is the following:

"Lewis River Circuit. On this extended field, G. G. Ferguson has just completed his third year. Shortly after Conference, Edwin L. Hughes, a local preacher from Delaware, Ohio, a young man of good abilities and excellent spirit, was put on the work as assistant pastor, and rendered excellent service." In that same report, under the head of Cowlitz Circuit, it reads: "Since the middle of June, Brother Hughes, late assistant on the Lewis River work, has been in charge, and matters have assumed a better shape." At this Conference session the name of E. L. Hughes appears in the list of those admitted on trial and he was appointed to the Cowlitz Circuit. Besides these two large Circuits, Brother Hughes served as pastor at Kelso, South Prairie, Skamokawa, Willapa, Castle Rock, Pe Ell, Pioneer, Winlock, Oakville, Satsop and Toledo. With the exception of one year, he served all his ministry within the bounds of the Vancouver District and much of that time on charges that were developed from the two Circuits he served the first year of his ministry.

On May 1, 1889, Brother Hughes was united in marriage with Lettie Davolt, at Kelso, Washington. To this union was born eleven children, eight of whom are still living. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lettie Davolt Hughes; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Martin and Lettie Hughes, of Napavine, and six sons, Roy and Bowman of Centralia, Ernest, Earl and William of Napavine and Clarence, who resides in San Antonio, Texas; also 21 grandchildren. Two sisters reside in Ohio.

MRS. ANNA TAPPAN OSBORN

Mrs. Anna Tappan Osborn was born near Liberty, Indiana, on October 26, 1859, she resided there until she was 24, when she came west with her sister, Mrs. Jean deRoulhac and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wesley Tappan. Mrs. Osborn's parents purchased a tract of farm land at Manchester, where she lived until her marriage in 1886 to the Rev. George R. Osborn, a Methodist Episcopal minister of Bellingham, Wash. The Rev. Mr. Osborn and Mrs. Osborn lived in the Whatcom city several years. When her husband's health failed, Mrs. Osborn returned with him to Manchester. He died there on October 26, 1892.

Besides his wife, he was survived by three children, Wilbur R., now president of the Harbor Dredging Company of Aberdeen, Wash.; George R., president of the Pioneer Towboat Company, Seattle, and Mrs. Ralph D. (Lois) Casey, wife of a member of the University of Oregon faculty.

Mrs. Osborn was a woman of optimistic Christian outlook. Before her marriage, she had become a leader in the church affairs of her community. While still living with her parents in Manchester, she filed on a homestead on Long Lake, Kitsap County, and lived on the lake tract for a time in the then "wilderness," an example of her courage and pioneer spirit.

In 1898, Mrs. Osborn and her three children removed from Manchester to Seattle. She affiliated first with the Grace Methodist Church in the Rainier Heights district, and later became a member of the First Methodist Church. She was a former vice president of the Kitsap County W. C. T. U. and throughout her later life retained her interest in this organization.

Mrs. Osborn came of an old New England and Abolitionist family, the Tappans. Members of this family were distinguished at various times in business, in educational effort, in the church and in humanitarian work and reform.

MRS WILMOT WHITFIELD

Eva M. Ross was born of sturdy Scotch parents, March 21, 1853, in Ohio, and died in Los Angeles, October 24, 1926. She was married to Norman D. Peck in Ohio in 1874. To them three children were born, Ethel Lewis and Raymond Peck, and Arthur Peck deceased.

After her husband's death she came to California where she experienced the San Francisco earthquake and fire. Later she moved to Los Angeles where she met and married Dr. Whitfield March 21, 1909, and though this marriage took place after his retirement she was a true helpmate to him as he worked on as supply pastor for a few years more. Lovingly and faithfully did she minister to and comfort that man of God during his last weeks of sickness and loneliness. She was a very rare woman with a sweet Christian spirit and has entered into her rest and reward.

"There is no death—the stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's diadem
They shine forevermore."

—Mrs. Robt. C. Glass.

MRS. VIOLA L. KERN

Viola L. Conner was born at Bascobell, Wisconsin, July 11, 1861. When three years of age her parents moved to Nebraska, where she was converted, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church when 14 years of age.

On December 25, 1860, she was united in marriage to J. W. Kern, and in 1899 they came to the State of Washington; residing first at Bothell and Issaquah. In 1900 they moved to Mount Vernon, where Brother Kern had been appointed pastor.

Sister Kern was the mother of six children, three of whom died in infancy, and one, a son, Francis, who had grown to manhood, passed away in 1920. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Combs; one son, Coy R. Kern, and seven grandchildren. Her mother Mrs. Martha Conner, over 90 years of age is living in Nebraska.

Our sister had an active and interesting life. She was a woman of strong convictions, and intense in her emotions. She could not understand indifference in Christian life. Her joy was in the revival meetings. Here she felt perfectly at home. She was mighty in prayer and had the evidence of many answered petitions. To assist a seeking sinner at the altars of the church to believe through to victory was her supreme delight, but she was ever alert to lend a helping hand to any in poverty or distress; always interested in people in every walk of life, and uncompromisingly standing for the things she had determined was for the welfare of society. To talk of the things of God and His Kingdom was almost a passion with her, and she felt highly honored and delighted when she was granted a local preacher's license on the last charge which they served. She was a lover of her home and family and was ever trying to beautify it.

Among the charges in which she labored side by side with her husband were Mount Vernon, Burlington, LaConner, Lynden, Arlington and Sultan.

Her departure on March 25, 1927, was as sudden as a flash of light. It was simply a translation from earth to Heaven while talking to her daughter and bending over to fondle the flowers which she loved so well. Although she had been suffering from heart trouble for several years, the Grim Reaper was wholly unexpected at that time.

The funeral services were held in the Baptist Church at LaConner, it being larger than the Methodist Church, and it was filled to overflowing with sympathizing friends. The District Superintendent had charge and was assisted by P. H. Raymond, E. J. Bates, Richard Oates and B. V. Bradshaw.

On a most beautiful Sunday afternoon, as the western sun was turning all nature to gold, we laid her body to rest in the LaConner cemetery, and turning to our homes realized anew how "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the spirit that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

—George W. Frame.

MARY LEAH BROKAW

Mary Leah Smith was born near Ellijay, Ga., November 14, 1858. Here she spent her childhood, during those awful years of the Civil war and the sad years that followed. Her mother died in 1863, leaving her father with six little children, three boys older than herself, and a girl and baby boy younger. She joined the Methodist Episcopal church when she was 15 years old. On December 5, 1878, she was joined in marriage to Rev. S. P. Brokaw, Rev. B. M. Hippp, a dear friend of both bride and groom, performing the ceremony. She shared with her husband the experiences of a humble pastor's home; four years in Georgia, seven and one-half in South Dakota, and fifteen in Washington. Since then she has been Brother Brokaw's comfort and stay in the retired relation. Two children were born to them in Georgia, two in South Dakota, and one in Washington. Sister Brokaw leaves to mourn her home-going her beloved husband; one son, S. E. Brokaw of Seattle; two daughters, Mrs. B. H. Hamm and Mrs. M. F. Lawler of Auburn; one sister, Mrs. J. W. Souther of Varnell, Ga., and five grandchildren and numerous relatives.

Sister Brokaw attended Sunday School and Church service Sunday morning, May 1, 1927, and enjoyed the services. At 8 o'clock that same evening after only one hour's warning, while the church bells were ringing for the evening service, she passed to her heavenly home.

The funeral service was held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Auburn, Wash., and the pastor, Rev. William Park, was in charge. The following ministerial brethren were present: Rev. Roy L. Sprague, Rev. F. S. Pearson, Dr. Andrew Warner, Dr. B. F. Brooks, Dr. G. L. Cuddy, Rev. C. S. Revell. Dr. Warner read the Scripture lesson, Dr.

Brooks offered prayer, Dr. Cuddy read the obituary, Rev. Park delivered the address and Rev. Revell pronounced the benediction. Many kind friends brought beautiful flowers. The body was laid to rest in Mountain View cemetery there to wait the glorious resurrection morn.

—Wm. Park.

MRS LOYD L. BURK

Hazel Faye Miller was born at Guthrie, Okla., September 20, 1894. Later moved with her parents to Boynton where she resided until the death of her father in August, 1914. The family then moved to Mount Vernon, Iowa, where she, with her sister attended Cornell college. In 1918 she came to Tacoma where she attended the College of Puget Sound. One June 20, 1920, she was married to Rev. Loyd L. Burk, who was then missionary pastor at Wilkeson, Washington. To this union were born three children, all living.

Mrs. Burk was dedicated by her mother to the service of the Lord when a baby. She joined the church as a child and the passion of her life was service for her Master. It was in His service that she found her chief joy outside of her home and her babies.

She was a loving wife, a true sister, and a devoted mother. She served her husband on the following charges: Morton, Summit View, Kalama and Garfield, Washington, and Rathdrum, Idaho. Her health began to fail during September, 1926, but with a cheerful courageous spirit, she never complained. She was taken seriously sick on October 27, and passed away at the Deaconess Hospital Tuesday, November 9th, charging her loved ones to care for her babies, she went triumphantly home to be with the heavenly Father.

To her, her home was the house of God. Its door were open to all who needed its sympathy and cheer. Her spirit which was determined by the presence of Christ within permeated the home and was a blessing to all who came within the circle of its influence. The people of the charges her husband served as pastor respected her and loved her for her loyalty and devotion.

She leaves to survive her loss, her husband, two sons, James Russel, Lyman Milard, one daughter, Greta Elizabeth, three brothers and a sister. Her husband and the older children will rise up to call her blessed, and God gives her a crown that shall never be taken away,

—Andrew Warner.

JOHN STANLEY ANDREWS

Brother John Stanley Andrews was born in Canada near Winnipeg, October 6th, 1871, where he resided till he was 20 years of age. After a few years' residence in Minneapolis he became a citizen of Chicago. While here he graduated from the Chicago University. During his university days he was married to Miss Grace Bushnell who was also a student of the same university. They were united in marriage in 1904 by our own Bishop Shepard, who was then pastor of one of our Chicago churches. To this union was given a son, Stanley Bushnell, now a young man of 23. Brother Andrews' wife died in 1907 and Bishop Shepard assisted in the funeral services.

Brother Andrews was graduated with honors, receiving the degree of B. D., and has ever since been engaged in the Master's work. He preached first in Morrison, Ill., for the Baptist church.

After about three years' pastorate here he came west, where he preached for several churches. In September, 1926, he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was appointed as a supply pastor at Hillman. He served but about three months and was taken quite ill, from which he never recovered. He did splendid work for the church. He did a fine piece of service for a Men's Bible class for several years for the Y. M. C. A.

He was at one time the president of the Press club. He had rare literary genius.

In 1916 he was married to Miss Ruth Anglin, a returned missionary from China, who had been on the field for five years. To this union was given a daughter, Margaret, now five years of age.

Brother Andrews had been in rather poor health for some time and went to the hospital for two minor operations, but was not able to survive the shock. On December 16th he passed triumphantly to His Heavenly Home with praise to his Saviour. He is survived by his companion and the two children. His funeral services were held by an old friend, the Rev. Frank Heath, assisted by the writer.

— W. T. Randolph.

WALTER H. THOMAS

Walter H. Thomas was born April 15, 1855, at Boston, Mass. He was converted January 19, 1881, at Mandovie, Wis., and on November 8, 1882, was married to Mary A. Brown, the daughter of a parsonage home of that city.

Brother Thomas, while not an ordained minister, found his joy in actively relating himself to the work of the Kingdom. For many years before coming west he served as associate pastor. Since coming to Washington he served as pastor at Kirkland for a few months, Crown Hill, Seattle, four years; Shelton, three years and Pacific and Algonia, one year.

He loved the church and supported it every way possible. He fell sick in early winter but was not confined to his bed or to his home. Seeming strong at times, yet a little exertion exhausted him. On the evening of March 31 we had taken an hour's ride together and with pleasure he anticipated assisting with communion service but two days later. We left his home at 10 o'clock to receive the word but little more than two hours later that he had passed away.

He walked with God and he was not for God took him.

Sister Thomas survives her husband. Her trust is manifest in her fortitude and serenity. There are also left to mourn his passing, one son, Walter Lyman Thomas, and one daughter, Mrs. Mabel E. Richards, both of Seattle.

—John H. Avery.

INASMUCH as the territory known as the Pacific Northwest comprises a large portion of the territory of the United States, and

INASMUCH as it is by natural boundaries, as well as by traditions and resources an empire in itself; and,

INASMUCH as it has by its former great development and growth given assurance of the fulfillment of the prophecies of our great educators, statesmen and leaders of present day thought, that it will play a tremendous part in directing the future destinies of the Pacific Era, and giving our country its influence in the development of the Pacific Basin, and

Inasmuch as it would be almost impossible for this great section of our country to be served adequately by any official organ published outside of its boundaries, and further,

INASMUCH as it is almost certain that at our present rate of development it will be imperative to establish an official Advocate in this section in the future, and

INASMUCH as there is an imperative need for the proper kind of literature to supply the need of our people in this day of cheap adventure of publishers of all kinds of erroneous doctrines and theories, therefore

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to assist our Book Concern and our beloved and esteemed editor, Dr. Edward Laird Mills, in increasing its subscription list;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we adopt as our goal the placing of at least one Pacific Christian Advocate in the home of every official member of the church; also to secure a subscription list of at least fifty per cent of our membership.

BELLINGHAM DISTRICT

Robert J. Reid, Superintendent

I confess to the possession just now of varied emotions as I present this my first report of the Bellingham District. I wish to express the appreciation to our Heavenly Father for a year of almost uninterrupted work, only two Quarterly Conferences had to be postponed because of a slight attack of what might have developed into Flu, but I flew first and escaped. The association with the pastors and their homes, has been a delight and the unfailing courtesy has been shown the green District Superintendent and several successful efforts have been made to help him solve some of his problems.

The ranks of the preachers, as announced at the last conference, were broken in the death of Rev. W. H. Pascoe, a retired member of Montana Conference, who was supplying at Stanwood. On Saturday evening, May 5th, he went home to God. Two days before his death the District Superintendent visited him in the hospital and prayed that the Peace of God might bathe his soul, at the close of the moments in prayer he said in a voice feeble but positive, "Brother Reid, His Peace fills my soul now, praise His adorable name."

Many of the charges have held special services with varying but good results. However, the chief results of these meetings are not registered in conversions and accessions to the church. Bellingham churches were united in a campaign under "Bob" Jones as leader for the month of November. The outstanding result was in creating an atmosphere of unity among the Christian people of the city. The Christian forces of the city came to know each other and to love each other, but for net gain to the church membership, the results were meager as far as our churches were concerned.

Darrington had a helpful meeting where the pastor was assisted by Brother Shultz of Snohomish.

At Oak Harbor and Sequim Rev. Wm. Hughes, a minister of the M. E. Church South, assisted the pastors and at Sequim over 20 were received into membership.

At Acme, the pastor, Brother Lowther, held a good meeting. Brother Seely lead his people at LaConner. At Coupeville, Dr. J. W. Mahood assisted the pastor, Rev. O. W. Mintzer, in a two weeks' series while at Port Townsend, Brother Hixson was assisted by Mrs. H. C. Smith and the neighboring pastors.

Our own Conference Evangelist, Brother Cox, held a fine meeting at Chimacum, where a splendid group of young people were brought into the church. I had the privilege of being in the meeting at Chimacum for a few services. Brother Cox is a real preacher of the word and won the respect and confidence of all outside the church who heard him.

The pastor at Sedro-Woolley, Brother Dunlap, was assisted in a very gracious meeting by Brother Rust.

Brother A. W. Smith of Hamilton and Lyman held meetings at both places on the charge.

Last Conference our missionaries to the Indians, Rev. and Mrs. Bradshaw, moved their headquarters from the Nooksack Mission to the Government School for the Indians at Tulalip. Here are the children from all the reservations of the Northwest and to reach them we had to follow them. The missionaries' coming to Tulalip was resented by the Catholic people so much so that it was almost impossible to keep a roof over their heads, for the Indians from whom they rented, found they needed their houses shortly after the missionaries moved in and so they were compelled to move out and on.

By the help of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension we have secured 2½ acres, most beautifully located overlooking Tulalip Bay and close to the school. Have cleared about 50 to 100 feet, have built a neat little house which ultimately will be the garage but will be used as a home for our missionaries until we can build a parsonage. We must dig a well and secure some furniture, but we are grateful for the place to house our faithful workers to these government wards.

During the year a fine Epworth League has been organized at the School, and on Easter Sunday a score or more of these boys and girls were baptized and joined the church. The Government officers are recognizing the fine type of work Brother and Sister Bradshaw are doing.

While our missionaries are living at Tulalip they are in no way neglecting the work at Nooksack nor at La Conner Mission. It is doubtful if this conference senses the important work of Brother and Sister Bradshaw. They are the friends of these Indian wards, helping them in sickness and teaching them housekeeping and sanitation.

At Garden Street, Bellingham, two notable anniversary celebrations have been held, both Silver Anniversaries. January 6th was recognized by the church in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Chas. W. MacCaughey.

At the suggestion of Brother and Sister MacCaughey, personal gifts were tabooed but friends were asked to bring silver offerings to apply on new chimes for the organ. This was carried out in a perfectly magnificent way. Friends from all over the Northwest, where these good people have served, some from Middlewest and Eastern cities as well as from Ottawa, Canada, sent in their greetings and on Easter Sunday the chimes were dedicated in a most suitable manner.

The second was the 25th anniversary of the entering of Brother MacCaughey into the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the Columbia River Conference. Altogether Bellingham Garden Street has had a year of genuine growth and interest and at the last Quarterly Conference a unanimous invitation was presented for the return of the MacCaughey's.

Our church at Avon has been beautified within and without; the Ladies' Aid Society have painted and calcimined the church, putting in new lights. It is one of the most beautiful country churches on the district. Three hundred dollars was expended.

At Sedro-Woolley improvements to the amount of $800.00 have been made on the church and parsonage property. A new furnace was installed, the church reroofed and the entire church beautified within until now our people worship in a beautiful sanctuary. Had it not been for the generalship of the pastor those improvements would have cost at least $1000.00.

In recognition of the fine service of the pastor the salary was increased $100.00.

Darrington, a little mountain town at the head of the Stillaguamish River, at the foot of White Horse Mountain, has had a most poorly located church for years in a grove away from the town, but under the wholesome leadership of Paul Campbell, centrally located lots have been purchased and the church moved to the new site. It is planned to build two wings for social and educational purposes and when completed will be adequate to serve the growing demands of the little town. Brother Campbell is coming up for admission on trial in this Conference and will not disappoint our expectations in him.

At Mt. Vernon and Monroe, improvements have been made on the parsonages that were needed and in these our Ladies' Aid Societies have shown their invaluable services.

Births: Four of the parsonage homes have been enriched by the coming of precious little ones; October 17th, 1927, Alice Mae McFarland came to the Chimacum parsonage; October 5th, 1927, Philip Stanley Quall, to the Fairhaven parsonage; December 12th, 1927, Audrey Ann Black to the Anacortes parsonage; July 31st, 1928, Arthur Dwight Campbell, to the Darrington parsonage.

Deaconess Children's Home: For eighteen years this institution has served in a most sacrificial way the orphan and part orphan children of Snohomish County and too much praise cannot be given these splendid Deaconesses in mothering and training a generation of children.

On March 17th, 1928, this home was transferred from the Board of Hospitals and Homes to the Board of Trustees of the Conference of Puget Sound. The demand upon the Home were beyond the ability to respond. The Home was crowded and many had to be refused help. Last fall diphtheria broke out; one death occurred. One of our florists took a spray of flowers to lay on the casket. He had never before seen such care as was given there with all too meagre resources. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club of Everett—result—a new Chevrolet truck was given by the Club to replace the old worn-out Ford for a Christmas present.

But the old frame building that has served for the eighteen years was inadequate. New quarters must be had. Then was shown the real values of Service Clubs enthusiasm when hitched up to a worthy enterprise. Representatives of the various Clubs, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Exchange, Gyro, Active, surveyed the work of the Home and April 17th, late, two hundred men put on a city canvas for $40,000.00 to purchase more ground and erect suitable buildings to properly care for these dependent little ones. While the goal in money was not reached, $32,600.00 were raised and we have secured nearly a city block almost directly across the street from the old site and a new Home will be erected to accommodate properly about one hundred children. When completed the property will be worth $50,000.00 and is held in fee simple by the Trustees of this Conference.

This could not have been done but for the high type of work done by the Superintendent, Mrs. Enley, and her deaconess helpers, the intelligent loyalty of the Board of Managers of the Home, the pastors of our two churches. Dr. F. A. LaViolette and R. Decker have given unstintingly of time and energy in this fine achievement.

Some weeks before Easter a little eight-year-old girl lay sick one Sunday morning listening over the radio to the sermon by the pastor of the First Church, Seattle. The pastor spoke of child conversion and said that at the age of seven he united with the church and gave public confession of his love for and devotion of his Savior, Jesus Christ. A little girl was also baptized and received into First Church that morning. Our little invalid called her mother and with deep emotion asked if she might not be baptized and join the church on Easter morning if she were well enough to attend the service. When her pastor called on her a day or two later she told him about her decision and said she would be in his probationer's class after Easter. Easter morning she united with the Avon Church.

We have three church building projects on the district. At Arlington, where two years ago our church was partially destroyed by fire, we have begun the building and have the concrete work of the basement completed. The church would have been completed this conference could our pledges have been collected, but then here we have an accentuated example of the strain upon our churches in the transition from logging industry to dairy, poultry and farming. This is what we are up against in Arlington, but our people must have help from the home Board.

At Sequim, a subscription of $18,000.00 was taken over a year ago but it is not easy to collect and we have not yet begun the construction.

At Port Angeles, our need is most pressing. We have outgrown our buildings and our Sunday School, one of the best in the district, has secured rooms outside our church. We have been more successful in collecting our subscriptions and with the help promised by the Board of Home Missions, we hope to dedicate early in the next Conference year.

July 2-8, the most recent addition to the Institute family of the Pacific was at Discovery Bay on the Olympic Peninsula. The place is beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole district. The farm, forty acres, on which the Institute was held is the property of the First Church in Port Townsend, a bequest by a pioneer resident, and the church is endeavoring to use it as requested for Educational purposes. One hundred and two were registered and we expect to have many more next year.

Saturday night of the Institute week will never be forgotten by many of our Institututors. Thirty-two of our young people stepped into the inner circle about the camp fire, some in reconsecration of their lives to Christ, while others there began "the adventurous way with Jesus Christ."

Two old churches have been sold and the money received placed in the hands of the Conference Board of Trustees: One at Belfast, near Sedro-Woolley, for $50.00 and the old Laurel Church, north of Bellingham for $400.00—$100.00 of which has been paid, the balance in three yearly payments of $100.00 and interest on deferred payments.

Early in the year, January 29th to February 6th, we had the splendid service of Dr. Robert Gornall, of the World Service Office in Chicago. A series of four rallies was held, to which all the preachers but four came; several bringing with them representative laymen. In these rallies our efficient Director of Religious Education, J. Edgar Purdy, shared time. I hope the Report of the Treasurer may reflect a favorable result of the meetings, yet I know there will be a decrease in the World Service is giving in many charges, while a few will show a slight increase over what was paid last year.

Standard Training Schools, under the leadership of Brother Purdy were held in Everett and Snohomish.

The church at Sumas, decided some nine years ago to become what they termed "A Federated Church," using our church and parsonage and looking to us for their preaching. Sumas is a small town on the Canadian border and it was thought that by a change of name, some might come to the church who otherwise were of no help while it was a Methodist Church. After these years of being known as a Federated Church, January 5th, 1928 under the leadership of Brother D. Stanley McGuire, the official board decided to come back to the Methodist Church for through the years it has been growing weaker and next year will have to be cared for by our pastor at Nooksack. It may be so that there are some bright and shining examples of Federated Churches, but they are not on the Bellingham District.

Our church at Monroe reported, in the minutes, a debt of $7,300.00. This has been reduced by $1,453, and the trustees under the leadership of the pastor, Brother E. J. Bates, went out to secure $4,000 of new pledges. The Board of Missions granted a loan of $1,000 from the Opportunity Fund to our people in Monroe. With the new pledges obtained, our church in Monroe will meet the balance of the debt on the beautiful new church without its being a burden.

Grace Church, Everett, has a beautiful property worth $20,000 and but $1,600 debt.

Garden Street, Bellingham, has reduced their debt this year $1,000 so that there is now standing against that property but $3,000.

The W. F. M. S. and W. H. M. S. have eleven organizations on the district with extension memberships in seven other churches. To aid in this work the District Superintendent has been advising the Ladies' Aid Societies in the churches where neither of the Missionary Societies are, to read the chapter of the books used by the Societies and it is a pleasure to report that the advice has been taken, with results that in the near future, it is expected that some new Women's Missionary Societies will be established in all or most of the churches.

I cannot close this report, marked by omissions of much that might be said concerning the work of the district, without paying my tribute of honor and respect to the heroic souls that have laid well the foundations of a Great Christian Empire on the Bellingham District. Some of these noble souls have been called to their reward but their names are a rich heritage to us all: Ford, Sulliger, Harrington, Whitfield, LeSourd, Landen, Canse, Frame—who through hardships when no paved roads were laid and only poor boat service over sometimes troubled waters found the hardy settlers in the mountains and plains or on the Islands of Puget Sound, or on the upper Peninsula—these men command our highest esteem for their fidelity to a mighty undertaking. They did their work seeing it only through the eyes of faith. To us has been committed by them, the task of building a church in, and saving one of the most favored portions in all our fair United States, and by His Grace we will not fail them nor Him.

SEATTLE DISTRICT

Byron H. Wilson, Superintendent

We sing in our souls when we work if we know our work to be good. Through all the year over and above everything else there has been music like unto:

"Since from His bounty I receive,
Such proofs of love divine;
Had I a thousand hearts to give,
Lord, they should all be thine!"

Has there been illness? Yes, but the lives of all the pastors and their families have been spared, for which we give thanks. Have there been hardships and disappointments? Yes, many. The financial problem has been much in evidence even more than usual. Money, money, everywhere, but small amounts to the church. World Service, in spite of its strong and ardent friends who have helped us in its defense, has, we fear, suffered. We have had Board representatives, Bishops, special programs and literature galore. In spite of all it is sometimes almost friendless in many of our churches. Often it goes into the budget and gets out only in small parts.

It is a problem why occasionally men and women who conduct their own business in perfect form act like mere children in their management of the important business of the church.

Often times the church services and the Church School are sadly neglected by the people who pray: "Thy Kingdom come" and fret about the youth of this generation for which they themselves are responsible.

Our ministers are inadequately supported. None get too much and some far too little. We cannot blame our laity alone for this. Our ministers have been altogether too slow in leading out for systematic giving and for a thorough development of the idea of stewardship.

Have there been victories? Yes! For which we are humbly thankful.

We rejoice in our promised recruits to the ministry. We have six choice young men, two in each of three of our Seminaries. All of them are university graduates. We have two asking for admission this year, and two who expect to work as local preachers this year and knock at the door of our conference next year. It is a sign of life if we can furnish our own recruits and have them as good as the best.

No minister on the district has failed to receive every dollar of his salary, and no ministerial claim has been reported delinquent. This is our third year for this record in the district, and we believe it quite unusual.

Each year of the four we have served has marked a substantial increase in ministerial support. At least five of our charges will go forward in this regard next year, with only one taking a backward step, and that because it is imperative to do so.

There has been a spirit of church building improvement with a desire for better equipment for the program of education. Outstanding is the new building of the first unit for the Deaconess Settlement representing about $18,000. The new church at Redmond, costing approximately $18,000, has been dedicated.

Bothell has rebuilt and added to the church plant to the amount of approximately $8,000. Grace Church has purchased one-half block with large buildings at a cost of $10,500, in a splendid location, preparatory to selling the old church site and building a new chapel. This is a great move and a desired victory for our city Methodism. It enables the congregation to care for a Church School of 600 scholars.

Trinity is still conducting their financial campaign for a new building. They have secured over $80,000 and are expecting to break ground soon. Fall City has voted to sell its present site, buy five lots, including corner, across the street, move its old building and add to it so as to accommodate a growing Church-school. They have increased their salary so as to support a minister full time. This is very much like the dead being raised to life.

Most commendable improvement projects have been carried out at Edmonds, Kenndale, Renton, Ashbury, Crown Hill, First, Hillman, Lakeside, Madison, Shaw, Woodland Park, Silverdale-Tracyton. At some of the charges we should bear in mind that $500 in improvement is equal to many thousand in some other places.

The women with their consecration, devotion to duty, loyalty to the work, are a constant inspiration. The Ladies' Aid Society and the two missionary societies will report work equal to any year of their history.

Our young people give us hope. The District Cabinet of the League is a right arm to the District Superintendent in many ways. We feel that their work has been of great value this year.

The younger men of the district have started an organization auxiliary to the Seattle District Union. They are calling it The Men of Modern Methodism. Their objective is to have an organization of some kind in every charge on the district. They are expecting to plan the time of E. Dow Bancroft when he visits the district in the interest of stewardship. They will also try to marshal the man-power in our Union Evangelistic Campaign in February, 1929.

We are not discouraged with our institutions; neither are we satisfied. As before stated, the community center has made a bold forward step. The Northwest Training School and Deaconess Home Association has had as good a year as ever before. The graduating class was an honor to the school. They are out of debt on both the old and new properties. These properties are increasing in value quite rapidly. They have some $10,000 in good subscriptions, but feel they are not yet justified in starting the new building.

The hospital has continued to hold its own, pay off some indebtedness and maintain its high standards of service. Here is where we need a Moses to lead us on.

The District Methodist Union has functioned more effectively than ever before and has had the loyal support of the pastors and churches.

The religious educational and evangelistic work has been well carried on. We can report 17 daily vacation Bible schools and two week-day schools, with a total enrollment of 1459.

The Catherine Blaine Home and Kindergarten, the Filipino work and the Japanese Young People's work are quite encouraging. The Home is contemplating a new building contiguous to the Japanese Church, with educational facilities for the church school. The Home Board is contemplating the purchase of the Catherine Blaine Home for Filipino activities. This will firmly establish our Oriental work in Seattle.

Our Goodwill Industries is not only making great progress, but is a strong bond of union between the denominational forces of the city.

All of this is only a peep into a section of our Northwest called the Seattle District, composed of 19 rural and small-town and village churches where we feel at home because of the first sixteen years of our ministry and all of our boyhood days. The other 22 charges are located in a great metropolis with almost all the problems of any great modern city. Here we feel at home because of 16 years working at the cities' tremendous problems under the appointment of the church.

In this district we have almost the usual number of problems incident to a rural superintendency, along with the multiplied problems of a great, new, rapidly developing city. The development of new churches, the relocating of some, the development of the old established churches to meet the modern need; the down-town problem, the semi-down-town problem, the residential, the industrial, the polyglot with the purely foreign and wholly missionary problems; all these along with the intricate problems of denominational cooperation and institutional affiliations that naturally arise, present problems in statesmanship which we believe are quite equal to those found in any business realm, either religious or secular.

If you desire the names of those responsible for what has been accomplished you will find them recorded in the minutes of our conference for 1927 in the appointments for the Seattle District. Each man has filed his place with honor. The devoted, patient companions of these men have borne their full part of the responsibilities and should share equally in the honors.

It looks as though we would report a membership gain about the average of the gain made each year for the last four. Numbers of people are in transit from place to place and an appalling laxity exists in keeping up their membership. Our membership now numbers well over the 10,000 mark.

We are glad to report that it is our earnest belief that there are many names in Seattle District which have not defiled their garments; and that they shall walk with Him in white, for they are worthy.

TACOMA DISTRICT

Andrew Warner, Superintendent

With gratitude to Almighty God for His kind Providence through which we have been kept during the year, and for His abundant Grace manifest to us in so many ways, I submit this—my eleventh annual report as District Superintendent in this Northwest. During this time I have served on three districts and sought to assist in the promotion of the Kingdom through approximately 200 churches. This is my fourth report as superintendent of the Tacoma District. In former reports I have analyzed the situation as to types of work and specific charges in some detail. Today I shall not attempt anything of that sort, but do desire to state a few of the problems connected with the advancement of our work in this section, and call attention to our method of promotion, making mention of some of the agencies through which we are working and express my faith for the future.

I wish first to mention our ministerial leadership. In their quadrennial address the Bishops called the attention of the church to the fact that the pastor is the immediate interpreter of our message, pointing out the importance of loyalty to the basic principles of our faith. The thirty-seven pastors in the district are as well trained for their work and are as efficient in it as a like number of men in any other profession in this section. Twenty-nine have had a college training; eleven have had post college training; others have been trained by practical experience in a way that has given them an adequate understanding of their work and an ability to perform it.

In this section our people have a very greatly diversified background of religious training and experience. In many communities it has been impossible to find enough people trained in the same denomination to have a church of any strength. In thirty-nine of the neighborhoods of this district there is but one church which must give to all the people whatever their denominational preference, all the opportunity for religious fellowship they have. In seventeen of these communities the responsibility falls upon our church. I wish to report that in practically all of these cases the responsibility is being well met. Our pastors seek to give to all in the community such assistance, leadership and direction, as will meet the needs of all these people without reference to their denominational background.

In my humble judgment, this method is vastly superior to the method frequently insisted upon by some, by which in these neighborhoods they seek to establish community churches. However, some of our churches are not convinced of this and still insist on the organization of independent community churches, or federated churches, which usually tend strongly toward independent churches. This I think, should be discouraged and a conference commission in harmony with the authorization of the general conference formed to assist in the solution of this problem.

While it is true that it may be difficult to develop into churchmen who are loyal to all the traditions and interests of a denomination in which they were not trained and especially those who were taught to be rather suspicious of the denomination which has a church which is located in their community, and upon which they are dependent for religious fellowship, it can be done. This is attested by the fact that in many of our churches some of our finest and most loyal members have been trained in other denominations, and in churches where those who were trained in Methodist churches are made dependent on churches of other denominations, these people become loyal churchmen in the denomination, with which such churches are connected.

One year ago 984 non-resident, inactive members were reported in this district. In my last annual report I called attention to a critical attitude toward these which expressed itself in a desire to eliminate from the church the names of those who were at least temporarily inactive from the rolls of the church. I am glad to report a more hopeful attitude which I see developing. Church membership committees whose duties it is to assist the pastor to create interest on the part of these inactive ones, have been appointed in practically all our churches and many of these have been rendering valuable assistance.

Increasingly the churches are augmenting their membership from the teaching and training agencies of the church. A large percentage of those coming into the church fellowship, are being received from the Sunday School. With the proper training and care, these have great possibility for the church and the kingdom. Increasingly the pastors are giving themselves to personal leadership of classes where children and adults are being prepared for church membership. Perhaps the most successful of these, were the classes conducted at Centralia where the pastor was able to secure the cooperation of both parents and children in a fine way. A splendid class of 70 of well trained children and adults were received into the church.

A number of our churches are following as well as preceding this special preparation for church membership by a program of worship and activity as well as one of teaching, based upon the needs of the children and youth—Departmental worship as well as graded instruction, is being introduced in a number of our churches. Four of the churches are conducting Junior Congregations for worship and instruction. About ten of these conducted vacation church schools in which 100 children were taught and trained for the kingdom.

For several years there has been some complaint made by both the pastors and the Church officers because they have found that the teaching program of the church was not resulting in bringing about that deeper personal experience of religion that the children and youth of an earlier generation received as a result of the usual program of Church activity. However, it seems to me that some of the more recent plans offer hope for the changing of this situation and bringing about of as vital a religious experience for our own young people as that received by children and young people of a former generation. For instance, the Epworth League Institute conducted at Epworth Heights, in which one hundred and fifty young people of the Tacoma District gathered with a like number of young people from the Seattle District, and spent one week together being instructed in the principles of Christian living, and directed in their method of finding God, and were led in a masterful way to a deeper personal experience and larger hope in the Christian life.

The Church that fails to get its young people to attend this meeting where the program is built upon spiritual needs of youth, is failing to use one of the best agencies for the spiritual development of the young people of its constituency.

There is in Tacoma another agency that has shown great capacity for religious development of youth. I refer to the College of Puget Sound, in which forty-four of the members of this conference have received all or a portion of their college training. Fifteen of the missionaries of our church, including Rev. Marmaduke Dodsworth who will address this conference, have had a portion of their training here. Besides these, hundreds of others have studied the arts and sciences in the atmosphere of religion, and have gone out to live upright Christian lives as laymen.

Let me say further that the members of the faculty of this college have rendered great service in the work of the local churches of the city and conference. Most of these are active in the local churches of the city, many teaching in Sunday Schools and serving on the official boards of the city. The president, not only by the service on boards and committees in the conference, but in his ministry to the churches, and Dr. R. L. Sprague, who is the efficient treasurer of this conference and has brought to our churches, wherever he has gone, a fine spiritual message, have both made worthwhile contributions to our work in the churches.

During the period that I have been superintendent of this district the college has rendered unprecedented services and made great advance; it has expended on the campus about $7,000. The conference was thrilled two years ago when the General Education Board made a challenge to the college, offering to give $250,000 under conditions that we have undertaken to meet. To avail ourselves of this sum there must be raised $400,000 between now and June 1, 1930. A loyal support of this splendid institution by this conference will make it an outstanding educational and spiritual center of the Northwest. Consummation of this challenge is June 1, 1930. Between now and then, about $400,000 must be collected. This conference should give itself without reservation to this task and assist in building a great spiritual and intellectual center of this section.

The Conference Claimants Commission, whose office is in Tacoma under the efficient direction of Dr. G. F. Hopkins, has raised about $30,000 this year. Rev. J. Edgar Purdy, who continues his most excellent leadership in the work of religious education, has helped every remote community as well as the churches at the center by his wise leadership and excellent council. The Goodwill Industries of Tacoma are rendering an untold service to the unfortunate and handicapped. The work has been so successful and has grown so rapidly that a new building is imperative. Rev. H. W. Michener, the able superintendent, hopes to be able to begin this within the next year.

While many of our churches are small we are convinced that much better results can be secured where the working force is carefully organized so that the influence of each may be capitalized in making the strength of the group in accomplishing a common objective. This year we have given great care to this matter so that now nearly all the charges have an organization, at least on paper, which is based upon the plan authorized by the last general conference which we think is quite superior to the old plan. The quarterly conference and new annual church meeting created by the general conference have been used for this purpose.

It is true that there are great problems facing us in the promotion of religion in this new and rapidly developing section. Sometimes for brief moments when we have apparently failed to accomplish some immediate objective that we held very dear, we have been somewhat discouraged. But these experiences have lasted but for a moment. Nearly all the time we have been able to see the great goal somewhere ahead of us. We have felt the spirit of the heroic pioneers who have gone before us; at our side as well as going on before us we have felt the presence of the greatest Frontiersman of all ages. He has always called us to go forward, and he still calls us on. Ours is no retreating army. Our laymen and ministers are hearing the call. We shall go upward and possess the land

With a conviction that this section of America is destined to have a great place in the growing civilization of tomorrow and that the church of God has the capacity for the determining of the elements that shall make whatever civilization there is the best possible, with faith in God and the people called Methodist, I submit this report and desire to have some place, however humble it may be, in the advancing march of Christianity in the world and in this Northwest.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT

J. T. McQueen, Superintendent

The experiences of the past year have not been so different from other years as to require special mention; it might all be summed up in these few brief words: "Thus endeth another year of service for the Kingdom.

Worthy mention could be made of every man and every charge, but I will not take time nor space in this report. I will attempt no comparisons with previous years, but will make some general statements.

I have just returned from a visit to the Alaska charges accompanying Dr. Kolstedt and their friends. I am glad to have had some one directly from the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension visit the Alaska field and get first hand information. I shall be pleased to have Dr. Kolstedt give his reaction and state his observations regarding the Alaska situation, when he has opportunity to speak before the Conference.

On the whole the Alaska charges are not in a prosperous condition owing to the fact that there has been a steady decrease in population in Alaska since the war. Our churches are scarcely holding their own. It would be misleading to speak of BIG opportunities for the Church in Alaska, unless spoken in terms of geography. However, there is great need of the very best service the Church can give to those widely scattered communities.

Our greatest need for Alaska is the type of men who are efficient, willing and consecrated to the point of sacrifice for Kingdom service in a real Mission field. "Who will go for us." Will some one say "Here am I, send me." I need two men just at this time, one for Ketchikan and one for Seward. We are doing work in five centers in Alaska: Hyder, Juneau, Ketchikan, Nome and Seward.

The Vancouver District has forty-three pastors, including Alaska. A fine bunch of faithful, hard working men, with as faithful wives and helpful, as could be expected with such husbands as they have to work with, and children as well trained and well behaved as could be expected, considering the parents they have to live with.

Revivals have been held on almost all of the charges and conversions and accessions to the Church in most instances. The net increase or loss will be reported by the statistician. The Spiritual emphasis program has been constantly held before the congregations. The Sunday Schools and Young Peoples' Societies have shown increased interest throughout the District. The Ocean Park Institute (Epworth League) was the finest in spirit, personnel and work done that we have ever held since its organization.

The Lackamas Camp-meeting was not as largely attended as formerly but the spiritual interest was good and all participating churches were benefited thereby.

The Ladies' Aids and Missionary Societies will make good reports this year.

Building and improvements: Our Church at Kalama was destroyed by fire in March; eighteen hundred dollars was received from insurance and plans for a new building are now complete. The work of construction will begin immediately after Conference. A new and better location has been secured and a more modern plant will be in use by Christmas time. Brother A. M. Herd has been the faithful pastor on the job.

Our pastor and people at Kelso are happy over the prospect of soon worshipping in their new church. Here we will have a $50,000 building, thoroughly modern in every department. We expect to have the building completed by November. Our pastor, Dr. C. D. Rarey is giving himself in a sacrificial manner to the task. Dr. J. Wesley Miller of the Hancher Organization gave us most efficient and satisfactory service in putting over the financial canvas for this project.

Montesano is now in the midst of a parsonage building project which, when finished will cost $5,000 and will be one of the best in the Conference. Our building projects for the year will total about $70,000.

World Service: Dear Bishop and Brethern, I hesitate to make this part of my report. I much prefer telling you of successes and increases, but, here is failure and that too in the face of the fact that we are so dependent upon our Board of Home Missions for maintenance and new work.

In traveling for several weeks with Dr. Kolstedt, I have had opportunity to get a great deal of first hand information regarding the World Service situation. It is heart breaking and I confess with shame that the failure of the Vancouver District has contributed its share in making it necessary to cut down on maintenance and Extension funds for the coming year. Brethren, let us try to remedy this, or quit asking the Board for help. I sincerely hope that there is not a Pastor on the Vancouver District that has not faithfully presented to, and urged upon his people, to do their utmost, by giving necessary information from the pulpit and in the homes. Brethren, remember this, if any charge on the District does not report something for World Service it means that the pastor has not made a contribution.

The general health of the parsonage homes has been good. No deaths, no serious illnesses nor accidents have occurred this year. A fine brand new baby boy has come to bless and cheer the hearts of our pastor and wife, Rev. R. Z. Newton, at Nome, Alaska. Carl Raymond is the young man's name and we pray God's blessing upon him and his dear parents in that far frontier.

Our pastor at Oakville has "taken unto himself a wife" and we will have an opportunity at this conference session to welcome her into this greatest and best of friendships. Thrice welcome, Mrs. Burk.

All the interests of the Conference have had their share of attention. Dr. Hopkins has given considerable time to the interests of the Conference Claimants matters during the year. The College of Puget Sound has been represented by Dr. Todd and Dr. Sprague. Wesley Foundation, Northwest Training School and Kimball School of Theology have been represented on almost every charge of the District. Dr. Purdy has given unstintingly of himself and his time to the cause of Religious Education, as far as his large field of activity will permit. For all these causes we give thanks, and extend our gratitude to these representatives of our Church.

The Outlook for the coming year is brighter than it has been for the past three or four years. We hope to rehabilitate some of our abandoned charges within the bounds of the District and to organize two new Sunday Schools during the ensuing year.

This District extends a hearty welcome to our Bishop Lowe; we pledge you our most loyal support, Bishop Lowe; we hope you may be able to visit every charge on the District before your administration shall terminate. With best wishes and prayers for the growth and success of the Portland area, we are sincerely yours for service, Pastors and Superintendent.

---

(The following reports were duly adopted by the Puget Sound Annual Conference in its business session and represent the official action of that body).

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Methodism's traditional emphasis upon the fact that trained minds and clean hearts, should have fellowship together never needed a larger emphasis than the demand of the present day. Any sacrifice or service that will contribute to the unity of culture of mind and heart is worthily bestowed.

College of Puget Sound. Our college continues to be embarrassed by success. Increased enrollment of students demands an increase in faculty, physical equipment, buildings. No sooner is our fine new Science Hall completed than the demand for additional housing facilities arise. There is great pressure upon the management and friends of the college at this point. We reiterate our commendation of last year approving the policy of the President and trustees in refusing to expand beyond the visible resources. And yet, commending them for their splendid service, as members of this annual conference we should be alive to the stress which circumstances and success have laid upon them. Having this in mind we call your attention to one of these pressing needs of vital importance.

In the fall of 1921 this conference authorized the college to raise and collect a sum of $750,000. This amount to be raised by June 1st, 1930. Should we succeed in the venture and our property was entirely free of debt the Rockefeller Foundation agreed to contribute the sum of $250,000 thus completing an endowment of one million. The conditions have not yet been met. We therefore hereby authorize our college officials to employ such help as may be needed to solicit and collect the moneys needed to meet the requirements of the Foundation. Victories are won at the end of the race. If we are to win this race and complete a record of unfailing success and win an outstanding victory for Christian Education, every pastor and layman must render sympathy and give the most enthusiastic and wholehearted co-operation.

At the meeting of your committee held during the year a committee was appointed to thoroughly investigate the matter of religious life and work of our institution. We are happy to report a most favorable condition. The Department of Religious Education has an enrollment of over one hundred. Emphasis is laid upon a clear personal experience, a proper understanding of the Holy Scriptures and upon a real fellowship with Jesus Christ. Organizations to further these purposes are found in the Christian Service League, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., the Morning Meditation Hour and upon personal conference with faculty members. A number of deputation teams are organized to go out to the various charges and co-operate with our Epworth Leagues. The department is prepared to matriculate a limited number of students leading to the degree of Master of Arts.

Wesley Foundation. In the world of education, our church's responsibilities are found in not only providing education under Christian influences but also in providing Christian influences for Methodist students attending state institutions. One thousand and more of these are found at the University of Washington. Our director, Stanley G. Logan, and his most estimable wife are at great personal sacrifice and under serious handicaps seeking to serve our conference in this most important field. In finance only 90 of our 140 charges seem to have paid any attention to the apportionments ordered last year for the support of Wesley House. By a heroic spirit of determination the administration has sacrificed in order to make both ends meet. Wisdom demands that our valuable investments in Wesley House should be used in a larger and more beneficial measure. This can only be possible by the fullest co-operation. Social rooms, study rooms, conference rooms and chapel are here to be freely used by this great student body. By group meetings, by luncheon clubs, by personal conferences the spirit of truth and Jesus Christ is being spread abroad in the hearts of your youth. Here anew and today let us positively affirm our purpose to support this important arm of all our churches.

Northwest Training School. This has been a real hard year financially for this important adjunct of our work. In a total budget of $13,669 we face a deficit of an additional amount of $1,900. This runs parallel to the other interests of the church that report a decrease. This must be corrected in a greater generosity and sacrificial giving on the part of our people. Thirteen young women were graduated last year. A missionary spirit prevails the hearts of the student body and faculty. One has gone to Malacca and another to the Philippines and the rest have been hungrily received by the earnest workers of the kingdom. With the insistent demand for more trained workers the church should in prayer and sacrifice, match consecrated dollars with the consecrated lives of our young women. Most heartily and prayerfully we commend the work of Miss Fogle, the superintendent, and her faculty to all our members in this Northwest.

Kimball School of Theology. Our official visitor, Rev. C. E. Todd, reports to us that "Dr. John Canse, the president, is held in high esteem. The faculty is equal to that found in similar schools and that they are making real sacrifice to make Kimball a success. * * * that our young men should be encouraged to consider years of training at this school." Your committee most earnestly endorses and approves this report. We recommend this institution to the well deserved beneficence of all Methodists, everywhere. We nominate F. A. LaViolette and C. D. Rarey to be visitors to the Kimball School of Theology.

General Board of Education. Neither the ridicule of extremists on one hand nor the sophistry of non-mystical groups on the other should swerve us from the faith that a sanctified heart and consecrated mind can be the priceless possession of every soul. Let us work and labor together for a trained intellect ruled by an indwelling Christ. Our General Board is giving great service to the church in a field of multiplied demands and varied effort. Children's Day should be used and the funds consecrated to the continued extension of our work.

F. A. LaVIOLETTE, President.

RAYMOND REES, Secretary.

CONFERENCE COMMISSION ON RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Mr. Purdy has in no wise diminished his interest in or service to Western Washington since the merger with the Columbia River Conference. During the year he has preached from many pulpits, conducted scores of worker's conferences, put on nine Standard Training Schools, with a combined enrollment of 772, and 324 Credit Students, and he has vigorously promoted the Vacation Church School program. There were held, in this Conference, during the past season, 41 Vacation Church Schools with a total enrollment of 4,199. In addition he has actively participated in the Conference Epworth League program, assisting in all three of the Summer Institutes, helping in Mid-winter Institutes, conventions, rallies, etc., etc. When to this is added his activities in Eastern Washington, we get some concept of the busy man he has been.

We ask approval of the Annual Conference for the following program:

An intensive campaign for Larger and Better Church Schools throughout Washington and Northern Idaho. The average attendance in the Sunday Schools of the Puget Sound Conference last year was 21,148. The total enrollment was 39,594. By well directed, concerted effort, there should be significant increases in both enrollment and average attendance. In co-operation with the District Superintendent, the Director is planning a series of group meetings throughout the Conference, which pastors and Sunday School workers will be invited to attend.

A consistent effort toward Church School betterment along the following lines:

1. Practical leadership training, to the end that our workers shall receive training in the method and objective of our task.

2. Local Institutes for a study and solution of local Church School problems. Time in these Institutes will be spent on a study of the special problems of individual Church Schools. Such will extend from three days to one week.

3. Workers' Conferences, i. e., One Day or one session conferences with Sunday School Boards and other groups for instruction and inspiration.

4. Daily Vacation Church Schools. Lack of an adequate amount of time to which to develop Christian attitudes and habits is one of the greatest handicaps with which we are confronted. Vacation time offers a golden opportunity for this work. We ought to promote the development of Vacation Schools with increased vigor.

5. Evangelism. Rightly understood, Religious Education is an exceedingly fruitful means of evangelism. Special days should be used, but ought invariably be preceded by months of careful preparation. Our workers must be brought to conceive their tasks as being continuously evangelistic. Day by day, as the child matures, he should be developed toward the stature of Christ.

6. Church Membership. Boys and girls should be encouraged to join the Church. Having joined, our responsibility becomes greater. We keenly feel the need for bringing young people into the Church, and the need that the Church shall prove a fruitful soil in which they may develop sturdy Christian character.

7. The Epworth League. The Conference of Religious Education will be happy to co-operate most heartily with the Epworth League of the conference in developing an aggressive program for our young people, as provided by the legislation of the recent General Conference.

8. Seminar in Religious Education. It is proposed to hold another Seminar in Religious Education next season. We desire to make its courses available to as many workers as facilities will permit.

Mr. Purdy's services, and the services of this Board, are at the free disposal of pastors and Churches, as far as limits of time will permit. All information service, covering the field of Sunday School and Epworth League work, is maintained. Those desiring personal or informational service should write to Mr. Purdy.

Finance. The Board of Education, Chicago, pays the salary of our Director of Religious Education, but the two conferences which he serves must supply him with a working budget. His travel expense will be heavy. His correspondence and informational service to the pastors and superintendents of 343 Sunday Schools require the assistance of a part time secretary. A modest office headquarters is required. There will be the travel expense of those whom, from time to time, he will call to his assistance in the leadership training and local institute programs. The bi-conference budget for these purposes will be approximately as follows: Part time secretary, $500; postage and supplies, $500; Standard Training Schools, $600; office rent and telephone $200; field expense $700. Total $2,500.

The Columbia River Conference will assume $1,000 of this budget. We request this conference to assume $1,500. We request the continuation of authority to apportion this amount to the Sunday Schools of the Conference, on the basis of five cents per person enrolled in the Sunday Schools, not including the Cradle Roll or Home Department. We earnestly urge that these apportionments be paid early in the Conference year, as, in most cases, it will be easier to do so at this season, and we shall have very heavy expense in launching our program for the new year.

Reorganization. In view of the General Conference Legislation, and the recent reorganization of the Board of Education, we submit for your approval the following resolution:

"The work of stimulating, devolving and promoting Religious Education throughout the bounds of the Puget Sound Conference, including the Sunday Schools, Week-day Church Schools, Daily Vacation Church Schools, the Epworth League, and many other agencies dealing with Religious Education in the local Church, shall be committed to a Commission, hereafter to be known as the 'Puget Sound Conference Commission on Religious Education in the Local Church.' This Commission shall be composed of sixteen members, including the District Superintendents. Twelve members shall be elected by the Annual Conference, upon nomination of the Commission, for a term of three years, one third of the number to be elected annually.

"The Commission thus established shall supersede the former Conference Board of Church Schools. It is authorized to interrelate its work and program with that of the Columbia River Conference, for the purpose of promoting a state-wide and Northern Idaho program of Religious Education."

We recommend the continuance of Mr. Purdy, and that he be appointed Conference Director of Religious Education.

The Puget Sound Conference Board of Church Schools.

THE CONFERENCE EPWORTH LEAGUE

This is the first year of Conference League work under the new constitution designed, submitted, and adopted for the purpose of securing a more closely integrated work program among the several League agencies—Central Office, Conference Organization, District Cabinets, and local chapters—with the central aim in view that every league chapter in this jurisdiction might experience a rebirth of religious life and health. Notwithstanding the difficulty encountered by the Conference organization in explaining who it was to the individual leagues, due to the fact that it has been impossible for the Executive Secretary, the President, or members of the cabinet, to visit personally all the leagues, the Conference League is happy to report a successful year.

Last September at our Constitutional Convention held at the Annual Conference in Green Lake Church, Seattle, the young people adopted the Standardized Efficiency Program submitted by the Conference League, and have spent the past year in wholesome rivalry in competition for its three trophies. The cabinet has been gratified over the fact that fifty-five chapters have throughout the year sent in quarterly reports at the times specified to the Executive Secretary, inviting the day of judgment to all upon their deeds. From the leagues which have co-operated in this program there has been unanimous witness to the benefit derived from it through increased interest and religious health among the young people. The Standardized Program has been revised in the interest of simplicity and clarity for this year.

In order to promote the Efficiency Contest and to promote the general health of the local chapter, the Conference Cabinet created and published four issues of The Accelerator, which has gone quarterly to every local chapter member in this area, bearing the League news and stimulating the chapter on to greater service for Christ. The first three issues were printed, the fourth was mimeographed. The expense of the printed numbers was met almost entirely by advertising, each issue affording forty dollars worth of advertising space, which was always sold. The Accelerator was enthusiastically received and will therefore be continued this year in some form.

The finances comprise the only embarrassing feature of the year's work. At the beginning of the year the Conference Cabinet assessed the local chapters ten cents a member per annum which would have been sufficient to meet our moderate budget of three hundred dollars for the year, had every league paid its dues. The natural law of shrinkage cut us down to one half of that amount. This year's budget, the same in size as last year's asking, has been apportioned to the four districts and will be assessed against the local chapters by the District presidents meeting in conference with the Finance Committee of the Conference Cabinet.

The Annual meeting of the Conference League held at Epworth Heights on August 19 elected the following young people to membership on the Conference League Institute Commission, terms to expire in 1931: Mr. Oscar Eklund, Mr. John Chenoweth, Miss Ruth Long, and Mrs. George W. Martin.

Again the Conference League gratefully acknowledges the invaluable assistance given to it by the Conference Board of Church Schools in extending to it the use of its secretarial staff and office, and in sharing for another year the able and devoted leadership of Brother J. Edgar Purdy. By unanimous action of our members we graciously request the Bishop and his Cabinet to reappoint him Executive Secretary of the Conference League.

E. RAYMOND ATTEBERY, President.

CONFERENCE EPWORTH LEAGUE INSTITUTE COMMISSION

A committee, consisting of J. Edgar Purdy, chairman, Byron H. Wilson, J. T. McQueen, Olin M. Graham, Harry L. Allen, C. D. Rarey, Andrew Warner, Roy B. Parcel and Robert J. Reid, appointed by the Three Institute Commissions, have prepared the following resolution for submission to the Annual Conference Session for consideration and approval:

"The Puget Sound Conference Epworth League Institute Commission, shall be composed of twenty-nine members, twelve to be elected by the Conference Epworth League, and the four district superintendents and the Executive Secretary of the Conference Epworth League.

"Election to membership shall be for a period of three years, one third to be elected annually.

"The present membership of the Institute Commission shall continue unaffected by this legislation.

"Those members elected by the Annual Conference shall be placed in nomination by the Institute Commission.

"The Institute Commission shall have an annual meeting prior to December 1st, each year. Additional meetings may be called as necessity arises. It shall elect a president, vice-president, secretary, and such other officers as may be needed.

"The Institute Commission shall fix the dates, select the sites, develop and correlate the programs as far as practicable, elect the deans upon nomination of the respective institute committees, elect a publicity committee composed of one representative from each Institute Committee, and generally promote the total Institute program of the Conference.

"The Institute Commission shall divide itself into three Institute Committees:

1. The Ocean Park Institute Committee. 2. The Epworth Heights Institute Committee. 3. The Discovery Bay Institute committee. The executive secretary of the Conference League shall be an ex-officio member of each of these committees.

"The Institute Commission may increase the membership of an Institute Committee by adding an equal number of young people and adults.

"Each Institute Committee shall elect a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer. Also the Institute Committees shall be responsible for the selection of the respective Institute Managers, Registrars, Superintendents of grounds, Leaders of Women, etc.

"Each Institute Committee shall be responsible for financing, local management, and the conduct of their respective Institutes."

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS COMMISSION

We herewith make our third annual report as Executive Secretary of the Puget Sound Conference Claimants Commission. It has been a year of progress in all various aspects of our work. We have several new subscribers during the year. Collections have been made on a generally successful basis. We found a general depression with many men out of employment part or all of the time. This, of course, has affected the totals.

The total income for the year has been $31,971.82. Since the Campaign of Appreciation, the Investment Committee have placed in permanent interest bearing securities, $45,130.83. We have also a small amount that draws 2% on the monthly balance in the bank, which is being added to constantly till such time as it can be placed in a permanent investment. During the year, through the settlement of an estate, we came into possession of nineteen shares of stock issued on a building in Seattle, the income of which will not come to us till some time in the future. By the terms of the will, this amount of interest goes annually to a retired deaconess during her life time.

We understand that an indefinite sum has been written into a will that will sometime come to our Commission, and possibly others. Also one of our subscriptions taken during the campaign has been converted into a much larger sum in an estate note, the same by the suggestion of the party concerned bearing 5% interest, making it like an added investment. We have collected also through the proper channels subscriptions and estate notes made by parties now deceased. Sometimes these are not at all easy of collection, and unless the claims are presented in a certain legal length of time, are outlawed. If every pastor will at once notify your Executive Secretary of any subscriber's death, we will do everything possible, as we have done previously, to collect the amount subscribed through the heirs of the estate.

Your Executive Secretary has gone to various charges on all Sundays possible and presented the work of the Commission and then preached a sermon. Thus many subscriptions have been held that would likely have lapsed, misunderstandings have been satisfactorily explained, collections made and new points of contact been established. Special emphasis has thus been given to estate notes, wills, deeds, and annuity bonds. These latter should become a growing aid to our funds. We were not able to write these till we could assure parties of a regular annual income. We now can do this very easily. There should be prospects on nearly every charge that by a still hunt of the Executive Secretary, together with the pastor and District Superintendent, will largely increase our total funds from such sources. There are some that are already being cultivated with these ends in view.

There are a number of delinquent subscribers on our Campaign of Appreciation. Many of these have written to or spoken to us in regard to the reasons for not paying promptly. Others have possibly neglected to send in as the statements reached them. It will require the personal visit of the Executive Secretary to collect many of these. Amongst these are some of our best givers to some of our other funds, as well as to the local expenses of their charges. We hope that every member of the Conference that is a subscriber to our funds will set a good example by paying as promptly as possible.

Every member of this Conference from now on has a greater interest in this fund being completed than ever before. Under the action of the recent General Conference, every member of the Conference from January 1, 1929, has the years of service counted in the Puget Sound Conference. This will be under the 1908 plan, plus the more recent modifications. This will continue indefinitely till such time as a Conference wishes to, and has funds for, a commutation with the Board of Pensions and Relief in Chicago, or provides some other means of properly caring for all past years of service of its members.

At the Annual Meeting of your Conference Claimants Commission, they recommended that we request the Puget Sound Conference to authorize through congregations and pastors the opening of all pulpits in the Conference for a service conducted by your Executive Secretary for the furtherance of the work of this Commission.

Many questions are asked your Executive Secretary by those members of the Conference who are also members of the Preachers' Aid, about the funds of this organizations. By the action several years ago of the Preachers' Aid, it was merged as far as the executive work was concerned, with the Conference Claimants Commission, the officers of one being the officers of the other, but the two organizations are kept entirely distinct in regard to moneys received and disbursed, with separate sets of books kept by both Treasurer and Secretary. Annually the revenue received from the investments of the Preachers' Aid is given to the present retired preachers or widows who are the proper beneficiaries of that fund. No new members have been added either by transfer or by admittance to the Conference since this arrangement was entered into. Eventually, in years to come these funds will become a part of the Conference Claimants amounts, but not until every one who is now or will be a beneficiary has passed to the great beyond. The only other way to meet legal requirements in this will be for every member and beneficiary, present and prospective, to surrender their claims to be merged with the other fund. At present of course, this is out of the question.

In accordance with the orders of your Conference Claimants Commission at its annual meeting, the books of the Treasurer, Secretary and Executive Secretary were audited by Busch and Webb, Public Accountants, and were found to be correct in each instance.

Again your Executive Secretary wishes to express thus publicly his appreciation of the cooperation of preachers and laymen in the Conference. We thank God and take courage.

GEO. F. HOPKINS, Executive Secretary.

CONFERENCE BENEVOLENCES

After careful consideration of the askings of the institutions herein named, your committee on Conference Benevolences recommends that the following amounts be apportioned to the charges of the Conference:

The Northwest Training School .....	$14,000.00
Wesley Foundation .....	10,000.00
Kimball School of Theology .....	2,000.00

We further recommend that these apportionments be sent to the pastors as early as possible, enabling them to include the items in the local budgets.

J. RALPH MAGEE, Chairman.

P. H. RAYMOND, Secretary.

HOSPITALS, HOMES AND DEACONESS WORK

The Seattle General Hospital has had a successful year notwithstanding increased competition in the city, due to the improved facilities of other hospitals. Free work was done to the extent of over $7,000, in addition to involuntary charity to the amount of over $6,000. The net assets of the hospital now amount to $76,184.00. During the past year the new building for the Seattle Deaconess Settlement was erected at a cost of $17,000. The increased facilities thus afforded have made possible a very great increase in the scope and efficiency of the Settlement, especially among the boys and girls of the community. This year the enrollment of children and young people in the various organizations connected with this work, amounted to 535. There are five deaconesses engaged in this work.

The Deaconess Children's Home at Everett has cared for 604 children during the year or a monthly average of 50. Eight children have been placed in homes or for adoption. Calls numbering 5441 have been made by the deaconesses connected with the Home. The Service Clubs of Everett have become interested in this splendid work, and through their assistance a campaign was put on this year for a new location and building. A site has been purchased opposite the present location, and this year there will be erected a $50,000 fire proof modern brick building, capable of housing 90 children. We desire to mention the fine progress being made by the Northwest Deaconess Training School of Seattle, report of which will be made by the Committee on Education.

CHARLES W. MacCAUGHEY,
GEO. W. FRAME.

CONFERENCE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Your Conference Historical Society, like Israel in Egypt, is called upon to make bricks without straw. There is much that should be done, but there are no funds with which to work. Biographies and photographs should be gathered; photographs of the early and later Churches and parsonages, of our new educational buildings, hospitals, homes, etc., should be gathered and mounted.

An outline history of the Conference and of the various charges should be prepared up to date, and with this a sketch of the services of the prominent laymen, who have made the Churches what they are.

A good start in this work was made by Brother Leech at the time of the A. Y. P. Exposition and the material is stowed away at the State Historical Society building in this city. It should be put on exhibition, and that can only be done when we can secure the cases in which to display them.

Doctor Atwood's volume, "Glimpses of Life on Puget Sound," is a valuable contribution to our material.

The action taken yesterday, looking to union with the Columbia River Conference, makes this work urgent. The history of the Puget Sound Conference has been a glorious record and we cannot afford to let it go unrecorded. Your Society therefore appeals to you for a subscription to the membership fund, that the work may go forward.

B. F. BROOKS.

BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

As Secretary of the Puget Sound Conference Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, I herewith present a statement of the receipts from the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension which have been disbursed within this Conference. CHAS. A. ROBBINS, Secretary.

COMMITTEE ON EVANGELISM

To do the work of an Evangelist is the commission of every Pastor, and the supreme task of the Church. To this task in its broadest sense the Church is summoned as never before. Skepticism, various forms of agnosticism and spiritual lethargy, are rampant. There is the age-long need for a quickening of the spirit. We recommend to the Pastors and the Churches of this Conference that Evangelism occupy a place of first importance in our work through the coming year.

Our Evangelistic approach must be as varied as human need. Some will be quickened by means of revival effort. To many, visitation campaigns will be our best means of approach. Always there are the white fields of childhood, awaiting the educational approach. In Pastoral visitation, and on every occasion, our supreme motive should be to get folk into a right relationship with God.

After all, means and method are secondary. The important thing is to produce and develop Christian experience and Christ-like living. The contagion of Christ-like personality is one of the most effective means of winning others.

We suggest that every agency and instrumentality of the Church be tested and appraised in the light of its results in producing the mind of Christ.

We commend the work of our own Conference Evangelist, Reverend W. E. Cox. We suggest that those planning visitation campaigns confer with Reverend Paul H. Ashby, whose notable achievements on the Seattle District have demonstrated the splendid results that may be achieved by this means. We urge the development of continuous Evangelism in our Sunday Schools as advocated by Reverend J. Edgar Purdy. The Church is not dependent upon one method, but should utilize every available means for relating men, women and children to the Kingdom of God.

J. EDGAR PURDY,
A. O. QUALL.

PUBLICATIONS AND LITERATURE

We note with gratification the increasing popularity, position and power of the Pacific Christian Advocate, so ably edited by our own Doctor Mills and rejoice with him in the achievements of the past and pledge our hearty support in the future.

We wish to undergird the timely suggestions made by Doctor J. H. Race in a resolution ably supported by Secretary Hartley and adopted by the Conference proposing that the Pastors of the Conference seek to increase the subscription list of the Advocate fifty per cent (50%) and place a copy of the same in the hands of every official member of the Church.

We would suggest that the Pastors be diligent in drawing attention to the most important articles in the Advocate to Church members. We are happy to note that the Editor has arranged to publish monthly, articles from our beloved Bishop. We shall look forward to these pungent messages of spiritual power and intellectual attitudes with a degree of expectancy. We are happy to know that the editor is seeking to give to the Advocate a more profound spiritual content.

We recognize the Methodist Book Concern not only as the oldest and largest publishing house in America, but also that it commands the intellectual fruitage of the world's best authors and educational leaders. Believing that Methodism's youth should capitalize more fully upon this mine of literary wealth, we recommend that some arrangement be made whereby a progressive list of books complement with the psychological unfolding of youth be published monthly in our Advocate and that the Pastors encourage an active participation on the part of youth in this suggested course of reading. We would recommend that this list of readings be printed in local newspapers and Church bulletins, and believe this suggestion to be economically and ethically sound.

We recommend the Methodist Review to the Pastors of the Conference and appreciate the encouraging remarks made by the Bishop in behalf of this publication.

We are indeed gratified with the encouraging spiritual, educational and intellectual content of the new Church School literature, graded lessons and Sunday School periodicals. We hail with satisfaction the fact that more than seven denominations value sufficiently high the spiritual and educational quality of this literature as to utilize it for their own educational purposes.

We would further suggest that the Pastors of the Conference purchase all their books through the Book Company; although it may not publish the books that you desire to read, yet by placing your order with the Methodist Book Concern you enable her to secure a commission which the individual purchaser is not able to get. In this way we help increase the size of the Annual Check from the Book Concern to the Puget Sound Conference.

TACOMA GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

There has been a steady growth in all lines in the Tacoma Goodwill. 1927 showed an increase of $4,093 paid in relief wages over 1926. $25,-052.00 being paid in 1927. 1928 will show about the same increase.

We have people from every race and many nationalities. We have had people who had been doctors, lawyers, heads of large businesses, capitalists, preachers, teachers, as well as manual laborers of every kind. The church has held out a helping hand to all through the Goodwill and has then preached Christ to them. Nine hundred people worked at the Goodwill last year, and 408 more were helped to jobs outside. Only 19 stayed all year.

The woman's prayer meeting at 7:30 in the morning, attended by about 25 women every Wednesday, has been a blessing to many. The 8:30 chapel service has been a real devotional meeting where decisions have been made for Christ.

Six delinquent boys and girls have been assisted. One hundred seventy-five calls on sick have been made. There have been 2,000 office interviews, five funerals were taken care of, a few free meals and beds were provided, but 500 hungry men and women worked for meals at the Goodwill.

We have two clubs of girls and one of boys, a total enrollment of 63, gathered from the community, most of whom do not attend Sunday School at all. These are being taught each week by consecrated Christian women.

The year has been an intensely busy year but one of the most blessed years of my ministry. When I was appointed to Central Church where I organized the Goodwill Industries, I found so much poverty and suffering in certain sections that I thought if I had a few thousand dollars I could do so much good, so I prayed for money and the Lord has let me pay out to the poor and needy through the Goodwill Industries over $104,500.00. He has let me handle of His money over $200,000. It has not made me the richer in this world's goods, but it has blessed a great many. It has brought hope and comfort to several thousand. Some would have been suicides, many would have gone down in despair, many are in the kingdom. "Lord, if I may, I'll serve another day."

H. W. MICHENER, Superintendent.

TEMPERANCE AND REFORM

Convinced that Christ has raised up His church to make righteousness supreme in human life, we recognize the present hour as one which will test to the utmost the ability of the church to adjust itself to the needs of men. Many issues facing our nation at this time are of such profound moral and spiritual import that we believe Christian men cannot keep silent.

Among the great moral principles we are now called upon to face are world peace, public morals, and prohibition.

We wish to commend Secretary Kellogg of the State Department, for his tactful leadership in promoting world peace by securing the signatures of many of our sister nations to a compact looking to the day when war shall be no more.

We highly approve the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, in the dynamic leadership of Dr. Clarence True Wilson in calling the attention of the church to the evil and pernicious practices in stage, silver screen and printed page. The efficiency of the work of Dr. Wilson is evidenced in the attack upon him and the church by the forces of evil whose purposes have been thwarted by the success of his activities.

We deeply resent the statements and implications, from whatsoever source, that all our present day evils are due to prohibition. We reaffirm the historic statement of Methodism that "the liquor traffic cannot be legalized without sin." Inasmuch as eminent authorities bear evidence to the certain hygienic, economic, social and moral benefits of the eighteenth amendment, we wish to express our unqualified conviction that Prohibition has succeeded beyond a peradventure of doubt and to assert the further faith that eradication is the only successful method of dealing with the law defying liquor traffic.

We wish to express our confidence in Mr. Roy C. Lyle, Prohibition Administrator of the Twentieth District, and to announce our gratification that this man has received a permanent appointment to this position under the Civil Service Commission.

We further desire to express our confidence in the Anti-Saloon League and especially for the wise leadership of Mr. B. N. Hicks, superintendent of this league for the State of Washington. This organization has rendered invaluable service in securing, compiling and distributing reliable information on all subjects relating to prohibition and the furthering of this cause.

We, the members of the Puget Sound Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, pledge ourselves to a loyal support of our government in all steps it may take in promoting peace among the nations of the world, to our board of temperance and moral reform in its activities in driving out the entrenched forces of evil wherever found in our national life. Especially do we accept the challenge which has been thrown in the teeth of the church of Christ by one, Alfred E. Smith, democratic candidate for the presidency of this great republic. We feel that as loyal followers of our Lord we cannot remain silent in the face of the challenge thrown down when this man repudiated the platform of his party, refusing to be governed by its pledges to the American people, and declaring for a program of destruction of the moral victories of clean minded citizenship.

We will by word and deed endeavor to acquaint our people with the gravity of the present situation and seek to point the way to moral victory by impressing upon them the dangers of partisanship in the face of a great moral need. We will urgently combat the evils of insidious propaganda by keeping the truth clearly before the people. We will not allow the danger of being called "narrow minded, bigoted and intolerant" to interfere with our clear duty to resist the attempts of political charlatans to foist the liquor traffic again upon our people. We are willing to take the risk of being accused of bringing the church into politics in order that we may save the nation from the evils threatening the country under the guise of "liberal minded and tolerant" political forces. We refuse to be turned aside from the paths of righteousness because the enemies of moral reforms have injected this moral issue into the present political campaign.

We will not cease to urge upon our people the need of arousing themselves from the state of lethargy which has alarmingly settled upon so many since the enactment of the eighteenth amendment. We will, by proclamation of the truth from our pulpits, by instruction through the Church School, by urging upon our people the necessity of registration and voting, and by all other available means, seek to secure an expression of the conviction of Christian people on the question of prohibition, at the polls in November. It must be decided once and for all that this nation is pledged to the cause of righteousness. We must rebuke the shameful cowardice of the contemptible forces which seek to intimidate the people into voting against their honest convictions.

We recommend the Sunday before the general election in November to be recognized as "good citizenship day" and to be utilized for the purpose of strengthening the faith of our people in the cause of righteousness in order that the battle may be won in the name of our victorious Lord.

W. M. DEWS, Chairman.
E. HOWELL, Secretary.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION AND COMMITTEE

The following resolutions as reported by the Commission were accepted by the Conference:

WHEREAS several movements are being launched which have for their purpose the securing of the liberation of the Centralia Armistice Day Prisoners now in our state penitentiary at Walla Walla.

We, therefore, respectfully urge this Conference to appoint a committee to make a thorough and impartial investigation of the alleged crimes of these men and their convictions in order that we may have complete, reliable and unbiased information on all matters relating thereto, and report to the next session of our Annual Conference.

We further ask that the investigating body be appointed by a combined committee composed of the Cabinet and three members from the Social Service Commission, and we recommend that the investigating body avail themselves of the cooperation of the Methodist Federation of Social Service, the Social Service Commission of the Federated Council of Churches, and any other organization that may help us to come to a wise conclusion.

Whereas the recently proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been defeated through the failure of several States to ratify this proposed amendment,

Whereas Child Labor with its concomitant evils has measurably increased since the defeat of this Constitutional Amendment,

BE IT RESOLVED that we call our State Legislature to again submit such Constitutional Amendment to the State for ratification, in order that the curse of exploiting the minds, bodies and morals of children may be effectively abolished from within our National Domain.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of our Social Service Commission be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to both the Houses of our State Legislature.

It is increasingly evident throughout the State of Washington that the Minimum Wage Law for Women, and the Eight Hour Law for men are being constantly violated.

There is also evidence that there is need for revision in the law and administration of the Workman's Industrial Insurance Code, and in the practice of the Workman's Hospital Contract System, and we urge upon the Church the importance of using its influence and strength to bring about reforms in these respective fields.

We urge upon the Legislature to pass such measures as will provide for a Children's Code Commission in this State.

We approve of a pension for indigent poor in cases where it would be a more human method of charitable relief than the poor farm method. We urge sympathetic consideration of our people toward the effort to secure the passage of an Old Age Pension Bill by our State Legislature.

WORLD PEACE

We rejoice in the rising tide of peace which has been the outstanding feature of the past year. On August 27th in Paris, fifteen sovereign nations, followed later by others, agreed that "the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts, of whatever nature, or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

We trust that the demand of the Russian Government that renunciation of war be accompanied by some significant reduction of armament, may be the further fruitage of these negotiations as an evidence of good faith.

On the face of it, the treaty was signed without qualifications. In the words of Mr. Briand, "war is renounced unreservedly as an instrument of national policy . . . . It is by mutual accord truly and regularly outlawed."

Nevertheless, we regard with apprehension the existence of certain verbal understandings and diplomatic interpretations which may go far toward nullifying its significance. Sir Austin Chamberlain, in the British House of Commons, affirmed that the treaty is not to "prejudice Great Britain's freedom of action" in "certain regions, the welfare and integrity of which constitute a special and vital interest for the empire's peace and safety." He declared that "the proposal is a recognition of the horror of war, and the fact that war is a thing only to be had recourse to as a last resort."

But the treaty says nothing about the horror of war; it is a pledge to renounce war. War is not to be "a last resort"; it is to have no place whatever. The treaty says nothing about the "special and vital interest of anybody's empire; it specifies that "all disputes and conflicts of whatever nature, or of whatever origin they may be "shall be subject to the mandates of wisdom and not the mutilations of war. We therefore call upon the United States Senate to make this fact clear to the world in ratifying the treaty.

We urge upon our churches a continuance of the educational program against this supreme enemy of mankind. War is no more destroyed than is the liquor traffic. No treaty of itself will prevent war. Only the will of an enlightened world, expressing itself through open courts and councils of adjudication can be effective for permanent peace. We therefore urge the creation of an international code of laws of peace, the organization of the World Court with jurisdiction, and some such international council as may be necessary to formulate international laws.

The Christian world must be convicted not only as to the horror of war, but the futility and wickedness of it. Regarding this sum and scum of all villanies, we must emblazon across the sky of our world, in letters of fire that shall lighten its darkness, the reasoned verdict of the Christian conscience—

"War Cannot Be Legalized Without Sin."

In the sickening centuries of the past the mutual slaughter of Christians, orthodox against heretic and heretic against orthodox, has, according to the historian, Buckley, numbered 140,000,000 souls. There has been no greater hindrance to the gospel of the Galilean than the attempt to achieve divine ends by diabolical means.

"To wade through slaughter to a throne,
And shut the gates of Mercy on mankind."

There is no greater obstacle to the absolute destruction of the machinery of Wars in our own day than the hesitations, reservations, and qualifications of Christian Leaders and their followers. They worship their National God; bedeck preparedness for war in the garments of patriotism, and, like the soldiers at the foot of the Cross, array the Christ in a General's cloak, the defender of innocent nations.

Lloyd George has truly said: "If there are any more wars, the churches will be to blame, and they may then as well go out of business." Certain it is, that the 700,000 ministers of the Gospel of Christ in Europe and America hold the issue of periodic war or permanent peace in their own grasp.

The Treaty of Paris is no stronger than the significance of it in our own hearts. We cannot answer for the other 700,000 ministers of the Cross. But for ourselves we write the treaty on our hearts this day, and vow that, "The settlement or solution of all disputes and conflicts, of whatever nature, or of whatever origin, they may be, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

To the attainment of this goal of the bleeding ages, and in fulfillment of our pledge of honor made to those who lie in Flander's fields where poppies grow, we pledge this day, our lives, our property, and our sacred honor.—J. E. Crowther.

J. HERBERT GEOGHEGAN, President
Social Service Commission.

ROBERT BRUMBLAY, President
Social Service Committee.

J. W. REYNOLDS, Secretary

We, your auditing committee, respectfully report that the books and accounts of the Conference Treasurer and the Conference Claimants Commission, Preachers' Aid and Permanent Fund Society have been audited by public accountants and found to be correct.

The records of the Preachers' Aid and Permanent Fund Society, including the Pearson Account, the record of the Conference Board of Sunday Schools, the records of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Conference Board of Stewards, Conference Board of Trustees, and the accounts and expenditures of Missionary moneys by the District Superintendents, Warner, Wilson, McQueen and Reid have been examined and found to be correct.

GEO. F. POLLOCK.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the members of the Puget Sound Annual Conference met in annual session in Epworth Methodist Church would express our appreciation in highest note of song. Praise God for the Methodist Conference. The genius of historic Methodism of the passing years has found new and modern expression this week and draws from our hearts a glad 'amen.'

"The World is my Parish" has been written definitely into our thinking. World Service has received timely and intelligent emphasis by Bishop Titus Lowe, Dr. E. D. Kohlstedt, Dr. W. S. Bovard and Dr. John H. Race.

We wish to express our gratitude to the Methodists of Tacoma, who have made our stay joyous and happy. To Brother and Sister Rees, the Board of Trustees and the members of this beautiful Church we are grateful for that environment in which we found it easy to attend Conference. The social hours in the Church parlors will long be remembered.

The work of the Statistician and Treasurer has been made easier by the use of adding machines loaned by the Burroughs Adding Machine Company of this city as a service kindly rendered to our Conference.

Miss Hanks of the Conference Board of Church Schools and Mrs. G. L. Chester of Epworth Church furnished stenographic help which has made the work of the Conference and of individuals less burdensome.

We appreciate the splendid service of the newspapers of this city—"The News-Tribune" and "The Ledger" have rendered.

Bishop Titus Lowe, LL. D., has found a place not only in our Area, but also in our hearts. His judicial attitude of mind, his clear judgment and kindness of heart characterizes him as a Brother of Christ. To him as our leader we pledge utmost co-operation in all tasks of the Church.

C. C. CURRY.

MEMOIRS

THOMAS W. LANE

The Rev. Thomas W. Lane, D. D., served, with marked success, leading charges and important church positions in the East Ohio Conference as well as in the Puget Sound, Oregon and Columbia River Conferences. He opened his ministry in Puget Sound Conference as pastor of the First Church, Tacoma, and closed his active ministerial work in the signally successful pastorate at Puyallup. Fine record.

September, 1924, Dr. Lane was granted the retired relation by the Puget Sound Annual Conference, in session at Bremerton. He moved to Tacoma and, in his newly built home, commenced what all fully expected to be a number of years of fellowship with his many friends. But sickness came before very long and after many months of suffering, on December 27, 1927, he exchanged his Tacoma home for the one God had prepared for him in the City of Gold.

The life history of a man like Thomas W. Lane could not be stated by chronologizing the important church positions he served. Three times he was a delegate to the General Conference.

Dr. Lane was not only a Christian man; he was a genial, cultured Christian gentleman. While he successfully served in a number of important positions in the Methodist Episcopal Church, he placed the stamp of his beautiful Christ-like character upon thousands of young people whose pastor he never was, but who came under the charm of his attractive personality at Epworth League Institutes and other religious and educational gatherings.

I do not care so much for a multiplicity of laudatory adjectives, but I find it difficult to adequately word-paint the character of this servant of God and lover of men without the use of such adjectives.

Dr. Lane was physically and mentally robust, but not rude; he had an open mind, but ever refused to make a filter out of his mind through which to pass religious freakery, under the guise of being broad-minded; he was broadminded in the reception and entertainment of any truth, old or new, but discriminating enough to keep noxious religious fads outside the inner thought-temple of his soul; he was human but never crude; he was tolerant and sympathetic, but not weak; he sought to win men who had sinned, but never condoned the sin; he was trustful, but not foolish; he was firm, but not harsh nor cruel; if I might state in one compound word, his dominant characteristic, that word would be "gentle-firmness," which is not only a rare and beautiful character trait, but the greatest power on earth. For "gentle-firmness" was the one marked and dominant character trait of Jesus Christ.

I congratulate Sister Lane and her family on as rich a heritage as ever a man left to wife and children of blessed years of Christian warfare and victory.

I consider it one of the most delightful privileges of my life to place on memory's White Temple these words: "Thomas W. Lane; Christian Gentleman."

HARRY HAYES WALKINTON

Our esteemed brother Harry Hayes Walkinton, who a year ago attended and was one with us in quiet devotion in our Annual Conference, and had been a member of Puget Sound Annual Conference for 36 years, bade us his mortal goodbye last May the fifth, and passed on to his Lord's welcome, at the venerable age of 87 years.

Born in England, Lincolnshire, January 21, 1841, he lived in that sturdy and industrious land during childhood; served in the British army in youth; was converted to Christ and made a local preacher by our Wesleyan brethren in young manhood.

At the end of our Civil War period he migrated to Philadelphia.

He married Josephine Bowers on Dec. 21, 1876, a faithful wife, now sorrowfully surviving him after more than a half-century of peaceful wedlock, mutually sharing life's weal and woe.

The year 1877 found the Walkinton's in Ypsilanti, Mich.; later in Aberdeen, S. D., ultimately coming to Washington and settling in Centralia, where the Call of the Gospel ministry found response in his heart, and he entered the fellowship of Methodist Preachers in 1892—being admitted on trial and appointed to the Fremont M. E. Church, on the north side of Seattle. The year 1893-94 he served Snoqualmie charge; 1894-95 Sydney (now Port Orchard) and Bethel; 1895-96 the new town of Auburn, then called Slaughter. The next year while pastor on Lopez Island he broke down in health, and from 1898 to 1902 he was enrolled as a "Supernumerary."

In 1899 Brother and Sister Walkinton settled in the new Navy Yard town of Bremerton, where they maintained their residence for 28 years. In 1903 Brother Walkinton retired from the Effective to the Retired relation in Puget Sound Annual Conference. He engaged in business, was one of the county commissioners of Kitsap County, highly esteemed by neighbors and citizens generally, always taking his place in the fellowship and work of the local church. He was a charter member of Bremerton M. E. Church, a member of the Board of Trustees when our first church was built there 25 years ago last December, and continuously serving as a trustee until his death. He was considerate, kind, and always prayerful in his heart and fellowship with his pastors, leaving a memory of sweet fragrance with these brethren.

Mrs. Ethel Stevens, of Seattle, became a daughter in Brother Walkinton's home by adoption when a little girl, and upon her he showered generous and constant affection.

Funeral services were held in our Bremerton church, May 7th, last, with evidences of marked and popular respect. Ministers taking part in the solemn but hopeful services were: Paul Ashby, Roy Sprague, the Rev. Wm. J. Clifford of the Presbyterian Church; George F. Hopkins, B. F. Brooks, Chaplain Leroy N. Taylor of the U. S. Navy, and the pastor, A. G. Bennett. Interment was made in Seattle.

Brother Walkinton was of quiet demeanor, of firm faith in the power of God and the love of God, loyal to his pastors, a lover of the Church and Kingdom of Christ, ready to live and die, believing his life and soul were in Divine Care, trusting his loved ones to the Loving Providence that he himself had proved to be adequate and enduring throughout his own life of four-score years. His pastors' testimony is a word of Love for this elderly brother; who lived for the Lord and died in the Lord, with the silver sunshine of years on his head, and Eternity in his heart, "going on" to realms more perfect than we dare to dream.

MATTHEW H. MARVIN

Henry H. Marvin was born in Manchester, England, August 23rd, 1863, and died at Seattle, Washington, September 6, 1928. At the age of 19 he came to the United States and settled at Dallas, Texas, where he worked for a short time, later moving to California, from which place he moved to the State of Washington, making his home near Spokane. Here he was connected with the Cheney Methodist Church which had the honor of granting him a local preacher's license and thus launching him on his notable career as a minister of Christ.

At this time he was recommended for admission on trial in the Columbia River Annual Conference with which he was in good standing until the time of his death.

He served as pastor at Cheney, Rockford, Latah, Pullman, Spokane and Ellensburg. In 1898 he was appointed Superintendent of the Walla Walla District and served four years. He then served Walla Walla, Waitsburg, Pullman and Sunnyside. For one year he was financial secretary of the Deaconess Hospital. In 1922 because of physical disability he was granted the Retired relation.

During the years of his retirement he was active in all movements that had for their purpose the betterment of human kind. He was the champion of the unfortunate and the oppressed and his chief goal was the practical application of the teachings of Jesus in every department of life.

In the industrial world he was ever striving for the betterment of working conditions among the great company of toilers with whom he was an adviser and close friend. Especially was he the sponsor of legislation for the improvement of conditions for working girls in this state. Ever and always his great heart beat in sympathy for those whose opportunities to achieve the more abundant life had been circumscribed and limited.

For a number of years he served on the Industrial Welfare Commission under Governor Lister. For three years he was Chaplain of the Moran School for Boys.

Shortly after entering the ministry Dr. Marvin was united in marriage to Agnes Tregoning, who labored side by side with her husband until her death in 1919. After the death of Mrs. Marvin he made his home with his niece, Mrs. Alice Miller, who constantly cared for him during the various periods of illness until his passing.

Dr. Marvin belonged in an especial sense to Portland Area Methodism. He was too big a man to be confined to the limits of one Conference. He profoundly influenced thousands of young people in institutions and assemblies. His writings have inspired numbers of folk to higher living. In the Puget Sound as in other Conferences his name was a household word.

His mind was a treasure house of fine and exquisite things. He was a poet and a prophet. He was a militant idealist ever contending for right and justice everywhere. Blake in his poem "Jerusalem" expresses the aspirations of his longing soul in the following lines:

"Bring me my bow of burning gold,
Bring me my arrows of desire,
Bring me my spear, ye clouds unfold,
Bring me my chariot of fire.

I shall not cease from mental strife,
Nor shall my sword sleep in my hand,
'Till we have built Jerusalem
In this our fair and pleasant land."

His passing came just as this great hearted man would have wished. He was busy writing an article championing the cause of Labor when the stroke came which finally resulted in death. For a few days he lingered and at midnight he slipped his moorings and with 'no moaning of the bar' he sailed out in sublime confidence to 'meet his Pilot face to face.'

JAMES A. BADCON

The Rev. James A. Badcon, for more than fifty-five years a Methodist minister, died at his home, 5046 Twentieth Avenue Northeast, Seattle, Wash., at 1:45 Wednesday afternoon, December 28, 1927, at the age of nearly eighty years.

The Rev. Mr. Badcon was born February 1, 1848, at Millington, England. In 1867 at the age of nineteen, was was married to Miss Miriam Trenchard of Wellington, England. Of this union five children were born: Anna, the first child, who died at the age of thirteen months; Clayton S., who passed away at Bayard, Nebraska, in 1917; and three surviving sons: Arthur L. of Seattle, Dr. Sidney W. of Ogden, Utah, and Edward A. of San Francisco.

The Rev. Mr. Badcon came to the United States in 1872 and has followed the ministry almost continuously since. From Ohio, where he had his first pastorate in this country, he moved to Nebraska where the family experienced all the vicissitudes of pioneer homesteading while he traveled as a circuit minister. His wife, Miriam, passed away in McCook, Nebraska, in 1888, having lived thirty-one years as his devoted helpmate.

In 1900 he was married to Miss Lillie May Faith of Chester, Nebraska. Of this union one child was born, a son, Hugh, who died in infancy.

For twenty-five years the Rev. Mr. Badcon was assisted in his work in Nebraska, in Montana, and later in Washington, by this faithful wife, who died in Seattle August 3, 1924. Two years ago, on August 11, 1925 he was married to Mrs. Jennie Dow of Seattle, who is left his widow. He has been a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge for fifty years.

Something over twenty years ago Brother Badcon transferred to the Montana Conference and was stationed at Sheridan. Following his pastorate at Sheridan he was appointed to Livingstone and after a successful pastorate there he took the supernumerary relation and moved to Seattle. After a couple of years he took the retired relation but continued to supply churches in and near Seattle until August, 1927, when he reached the age of 79. I knew Brother Badcon as a fellow conference member for a number of years and can testify to the high esteem in which he was held by his brethren and to his careful nature and kindly spirit.

The funeral service was held in Seattle on Tuesday, January 3rd, 1928, at 2:00 p. m., Dr. James E. Crowther being in charge. The Scriptures were read by Rev. W. H. Baker, and prayer was offered by Rev. W. T. Randolph. The service was attended by many of his brethren of the ministry, and by a large company of his friends of the laity. Dr. Crowther delivered a message of appreciation and consolation.

WILLIAM HOWARD PASCOE

William Howard Pascoe was born in Liskeard, Cornwall, England, August 27, 1866, and passed away in Seattle, Washington, at 10 p. m., May 5, 1928.

Upon reaching the age of 21 years he began to preach, being a local preacher in the Wesleyan Church. In 1889 he went to Cockermonth in the north of England where he engaged in what is called in this country "city missionary work." Here he labored for about three years.

In 1892 he came to the United States and went to St. Louis, Mo. Here he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and supplied charges from 1892 to 1901.

On October 11, 1897, he was united in marriage to Miss Susie Rowse of Probus, Cornwall, England. To this union were born two children, Madeline, now Mrs. E. Ernest Kobelt of Seattle, Washington, and Kenneth, who died in youth.

In 1902 he joined the Montana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was a member at the time of his death. He served East Helena and Phillipsburg. Then he went to Evanston, Illinois, and attended Garrett Biblical Institute for three years, serving the Erie Street Church in Chicago during that time. Upon his return to Montana he served Grace Church, Butte. For health reasons he transferred to North Dakota in 1910 and was stationed at Bottineau and at Pembina. Then he returned to Montana and served Unity Church, Butte, Sidney and Oakes Street, Helena, and Trinity, Butte.

On account of the health of Mrs. Pascoe he took the supernumerary relation and came to Seattle where he became pastor of the Crown Hill and Bethel churches in 1922. For two more years he served the Crown Hill Church alone. In 1925 he was appointed to the Stanwood charge and served it until his death. The text for the last sermon that he preached to his people was from Psa. 55:6, "O that I had the wings of a dove, that I might fly away and be at rest!"

For several months he has been failing in health and strength. The church at Stanwood gave him leave of absence that he might come to Seattle for expert medical attention and treatment. An operation was performed, but to no avail. On the evening of May 5, 1928, the Heavenly Father released him from his suffering and took him home.

The funeral service was held at Bonney-Watson's parlors on Tuesday, May 8, at 2 P. M. The Rev. Frank R. Gillett, pastor of the Crown Hill Church, was in charge, and was assisted by Dr. J. E. Crowther of the University Temple, Rev. A. H. Lathrop of Bethel Church, Rev. J. E. Milligan of the Queen Anne Church and Rev. F. L. Pedersen of the Woodlawn Park Church. Six Methodist ministers of Seattle were pallbearers. He was laid in his last earthly resting place in the Washelli Cemetery.

Brother Pascoe was, in every sense of the word, a gentleman. He was gentle in his spirit. His voice was never heard in strident debate or unbrotherly criticism. He was refined in his tastes, appreciative of the cultural values of life. His very appearance was that of a gentleman, always immaculate, yet not fastidious or self-conscious.

In his early life he sat at the feet of the great masters of pulpit power in the old country. It was a great advantage. Not that he became a great preacher; but it saved him from ever stooping to the cheap and tawdry in his pulpit ministry. He knew the proprieties of his calling, and was ever a credit to the Christian ministry.

His experience as a local preacher was a fine preparation for the larger ministry of later years. He never lost the glow of that early evangelism. He had known some of the old generation of Methodists and the mantle of their passionate devotion had fallen upon him.

Brother Pascoe was a good minister of Jesus Christ. He loved his Saviour with undivided devotion, and gave himself to his high calling with unstinted application. To the very last he was eagerly planning to devote his waning strength to the furtherance of the Gospel.

His passing was not unlike that of Valiant-For-The-Truth who, when he came down to the river exclaimed: "My sword I give to him that shall succeed me in my pilgrimage, and my courage and skill to him that can get it. My marks and scars I carry with me, to be a witness for me that I have fought his battles who now will be my rewarder. So he passed over, and all the trumpets sounded for him on the other side."
